

A. K. OF L. DELEGATE TALKS

What Thomas Neashan Says About the Cleveland Convention.

COLONEL BURNHAM'S CHANGE.

An Army Officer Drowned—A 7-Year Old Warrent—Postoffice Matters—Rail Notes—Police and Court Local.

The Cleveland Convention.

Thomas Neashan, chairman of the general western executive committee of the Knights of Labor, and George Miller, a prominent western member of that order, arrived in the city yesterday on their way to Denver.

Mr. Neashan, who was seen this morning by a reporter for the BEE, was emphatic in saying that the reports published in the newspapers concerning the troubles in the order were more than exaggerated.

"That there is such an organization we don't deny. But that its members ever have attempted or ever will attempt to gain control of the principal offices of the order is too ridiculous for a moment's consideration."

"The order of the Knights of Labor," said Mr. Neashan, in answering another question of the interviewer, "was in more flourishing condition than it is at present. There are 1,000,000 men in the order, and another 1,000,000 are willing to become members."
