Among the Deaf Mutes. The commencement exercises of the Deaf and Dumb institute yesterday afternoon were attended by about two hundred people, most of them from the city. The programme rendered was a thoroughly interesting one to all and a novel one to many. It consisted of class exercises by the scholars, well calculated to show the advancement which they have made in the different branches of instruction. The affair took place in the cosy little chapel in the main building of the institute.

The salutatory or opening address wasmade by Ernest Clark, a young man, who has learned to talk English quite fluently through the new oral method. He acquitted himself admirably. The rest of the programme was as fol lows:

The third exercise was particularly interesting, consisting of an exhibition of the manner in which the power of speech was developed in the deaf and dumb. The method is known as the oral method and has been very successfully taught at the institute by Miss Otic Plum, who appears to have a special aptitude for that sort of work. The pupils are taught to read different words from the lips of their teachers, and then by reproducing these same motions of the lips, to reproduce the words. As the scholars become more advanced, they are given whole sentences to pronounce, and finally, with practice, their proficiency amounts to a complete mastery of the language the use of which nature had at first denied them. All this was very prettily illustrated in the class exercise by the lustrated in the class exercise by the pupils named above.

Another interesting feature of the pro gramme was the aural exercises by the aural class. This branch of instruction is clearly akin to that named above. ese pupils are taught to hear instead of to talk. In order that a pupil may be eligible to this class, he or she must possess certain germs of the power of hearing which may, for one reason or another, have been for years latent. The object of the system is to develop these germs of hearing. This is accomplished by means of various instruments and a system of drilling and practice which involves infinite pains. All the members of the class exhibited proficiency, many of them remarkably so.

The second part of the programme

consisted of singing and pantomime exer-cises. The singing was led by one or two of the teachers, and the dear mutes 'signed" it at the same time. One of the most laughable things on the programme was the pantomime, "The Fiery Ordeal," by one of the deaf mute professors, F. L. This represented the career of a youth who was given to stealing hay from his neighbor. His thieving career was suddenly brought to a close by the latter, who laid in wait for the robber, and caught him carrying off a huge bundle of hay on his back. The owner then tiptoed up to the retreating thief and set the hundle of hay on fire. For several moments the un-fortunate youth had a vigorous taste of that land in which Henry Ward Beecher believeth not. All this was clearly and wonderfully shown in the pantomimic gestures of Professor Reed. Similar exercises by his classes illustrated the marvellous degree of proficiency in the communication of ideas by gesture and expression which may be be attained by little deaf and dumb pupils. The exhibition by Miss Louisa Dixon especially fine. The exercises were brought to a close by the recitation in the sign language of the "Lord's Prayer" by a class of girls, and a short intelligibly delivered valedictory address by Ella Cornish.

One feature of the curriculum this year

instruction in drawing given by Miss M. L. Divine. The results of the year's work were spread out on the walls in the shape of drawings and water color paintings by her pupils. The drawings in some cases showed remarkable pro-ficiency and artistic skill in the treatment of the various subjects. This branch of the curriculum under the efficient direction of Miss Divine, who is a thorough art student herself, has developed into something of great importance. Her classes include every scholar in the institution

During the year just closed the insti-stution has come into possession of a fine collection of stuffed birds, or animals which were put up by Professor F. J. Brazee, an experienced taxedermist now connected with the institution. The collection is enclosed in a handsome giass and walnut case made by some of the pupils of the institution, during their leisure moments.

COMPASS AND SQUARE. The Grand Lodge of Nebraska Masons

in Session In Omaha. The new hall of the Freemasons of last night. The occasion was signalized

Omaha, corner Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue, was formally dedicated by the presence of the grand lecturer of the grand lodge of Nebraska. There was present a large number of members, many of whom were admitted to the third degree.

The building recently added to what has heretofore been known as Freemasons' hall, contains a large number of which are to be devoted exclusively to tract. Adopted.

TALKING WITHOUT WORDS, the uses of the order. The principal of these is the new ball in question. It is 50x65 feet with a ceiling 20 feet in height. The latter and the walls are connected by a graceful cornice, which renders invaluable assistance to the acoustic properties of the chamber. In acoustic properties of the chamber. In connection with the hall is an ample gailery which will afford accommodations to two or three hundred members. The entrance is approached through a series of coat and ante-rooms about eight in number. The outermost of these opens upon a corridor leading to the old lodge room, which will be used as heretofore by a unmber of the local lodges. Almost opposite the new lodge room is the quet hall, 30x60 feet. This is divided into two parts bp a corinthean arch supported by beautiful columns. Adjoining this on the south side is a large fire proof the Mysons, as also the beautiful satin banner presented some time ago to Mount Calvary commandary, K. T., No. 1, by Mr. L. H. Korty of this city. Here also are stored a number of the beautiful uniforms of the knights. On the floor below is another vault of the same dibelow is another vault of the same di-mensions, in which are stored proceed-ings of grand lodges in all parts of the world, some of them dating back a hundred years. The officers in the im-mediate ricinity of the original lodge room remain nearly as they had blen before, the only change being that which brought them into connection with the newer parts of the building.

To-day the grand lodge of this state will meet in the new lodge room, and transact the business of the order which devolves upon it. It will consist of delegates from all the state lodges, each one being entitled to send three representatives, though in some instances more than this number of Masons will more than this number of Masons will come from some of the lodges.

During this session the officers of the grand lodge will be elected. This will probably be done on Thursday, The officers now in position, are as follows:

There are now 150 lodges in the state. with a membership of about 7,000. teen of these were chartered at the last grand lodge meeting, and during the past year twelve more lodges have been organized. Some of these will receive their charters at this meeting.

The delegates will commence to arrive this morning. They will be received by committees appointed for that purpose and shown to hotels, the leading ones of which have offered a reduction in rates to all delegates.

The meeting of the grand lodge will be made memorable by the laying of the corner stone of the new chamber of commerce, the work of which will be per formed by Justice Reese, of Wahoo, who is grand master of the order in this state. The ceremony will take place on next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. It is expected that all the Masons in the city will be present on that occasion. The following call will explain itself: call will explain itself: Attention, Sir Knights—You are requested to meet at Freemasons' hall on next Thursday, 17th inst., to act as escort to the grand lodge of Nebraska A. F. & A. M. on the occasion of laying the cor-ner stone of the new chamber of commerce. By order of your commander, GUSTAVE ANDERSON.

THE "MENDOTA CARPENTER." Mr. P. W. Wilcox's Address on Organization of the Working Classes.

Mr. P. W. Wilcox, familiarly known as the "Mendota carpenter," delivered a very interesting address last evening in the carpenter's hall. There was a very fair attendance.

Among other things the speaker said that everything that is produced must be produced by the industry of the laboring classes, and he thought it was about time that the producers took steps to see that they got their fair share of the fruits of their industry. He was no anarchist or socialist; with him the law of this land stood supreme above everything. They must not forget that it was the workingmen who really made the laws, and if the laws are found to be wrong they should go to work and see that they are repealed and that others are made that will do justice to all men.

He could not understand why a bricklayer should receive $5.00 for nine hours' work and a carpenter only receive $2.50, except that the latter were not well organized. He strongly urged upon them the necessity of effecting a strong organization. They must organize and then look to redress for their wrongs through the ballot lock. When once the workingmen of this country had become unified in one grand organization for self protection they could wrest from the soulless corporations the millions of dollars worth of property they had stolen from the people and make them divide up, so that the producer should get, his, fair show, which would enable him to maintain himself and family in a respectable manner. Not with dynamite, nor with socialism, but with the power of the law, governed and controlled by an honest and conservative people, will control the destinies of this vast nation in peace and harmony until the flag of our country shall really, and, in fact, waive over the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Mr. Wilcox's remarks were listened to with marked attention, and at the close he was greeted with a vote of thanks and enthusiastic applause. Several other gentlemen briefly addressed the meeting on the subject of organization of the working classes. In Mr. Estelle's Behalf. OMAHA, June 15 .- To the Editor of the BEE .- A recent issue of your paper contains a serious reflection on the official conduct of District Attorney Estelle in the trial of the cause of the people vs. Mons. Coogan. The statement of the BEE, in substance, is, if I am not mistaken, that the acquittal of the prisoner in that case was due to the shiftless mode of proceed-are of the district attorney. I am convinced that your criticism wa made under a complete misconception of the facts, and that you would not wilfully do an injustice to the gentieman I have been for many days, and was hen, acting as official stenographer of the court in which the trial in question was had, have myself defended and prosecuted criminal actions while practicing as an attorney, and am, of course known to you as a newspaper man. may, therefore, consider me not alto-gether incompetent to speak on the subject of your criticism. So far, then, from Mr. Estelle having been guilty of any negligence or remissings in the trial of the Coogan case, his fault, if any, was one if any, was zeal. He made of over zeal. He made the mistake of seeking most earnestly a conviction where if was quite plain that, must have been an acquittal. He tried the case closely, utilizing every particle of cyndence he had in the most effective manner; but his own witnesses were often compelled to make admissions which were fatal to his case.

Anyone who, like me, has observed closely the course of the district attorney for some months past, must, I respect fully submit, be convinced that in him the county of Douglas has a conscientions, laborious and capable public pros-

LOGAN WILL COME. Black Jack Will Visit Crete on July Fifth.

To the Editor of the BEE: Noticing in some of the papars that there was a doubt about General Logan being at Crete on July 5, of this year, I have to say that the matter of getting him here has been left entirely with Rev. Robert Nourse, of Washington, D. C., and old friend and pastor of General and Mrs. Logan. Nourse will also be present and give his celebrated Lecture on "John and Jhonathan." About a month ago Dr. store in the city, and it is a veritable par-adise for pretty things of the latest and most approved designs. During the past Dunning and Mr. Nourse wrote me that they had seen Logan, who, with Mrs. Logan, would come to Crete. I have had considerable correspondence with them, and no doubt has been cast upon this. Senator Plumb of Kansas has also secured Senaadvertised almost his entire stock at about half price to reduce the size. His store is of easy access and his lady clerks under-stand the business so well that it is a picasfrimb of Kansas has also secured Scha-tor Logan for Ottawa, Kansas, for July 3, and he comes from there to Crete. After seeing the notice in the Journal of last Saturday I telegraphed to Rev. Robert Nourse, asking him to see Logan and let me know. To-day I got the following letter from him:

OFFICE OF THE PUBLIC OPINION, WASH-INGTON, D. C., June 12, 1886.—My Dear Mr. Foos: I have just come from Gen-eral Logan's. I think he and Mrs. Logan will come. If so, the general assures me it will be a purely personal matter. * Yours, ROBERT NOURSE. There are some other things in the let-SLOW AND SPIRITLESS DAY.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 15 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE. J-WHEAT.-Wheat opened this norning at exactly the same figures it did yesterday-74c for July. The feeling, however, was rather heavy, owing to the continu-ance of better crop conditions in the west, and after advancing a fraction it settled beow the opening price. Corn was a little lower, owing to the large receipts, while provisions were steady. It is a dull, dragging market. Nobody evidently wanted to buy much, while at one time there was little pressure to sell. There were some cable advices which reported quite serious damages to the French crop. Field Lindley had word from Antwerp that some uncasiness existed there as to the crop prospects owing to the bad weather. The tone of the trade, though, was weak, and July sold down to 78%c, but without any especial trade occurring. From this point some advance was made, but it was made in a spiritless sort of way. Outside orders were limited. Considerable wheat has been changed over to August in the past few days, and if there have been hopes in any quarter that a squeeze might occur in July, they seem to be dismissed. July opened at 74c, advanced to 744c. dropped to 784c, and closed at 73%c.

Provisions—Provisions were fairly active on speculative account, but the market was weaker. Prices kept within a narrow range weaker. Prices kept within a narrow range and closed at inside figures, showing a reduction of 5c on mess pork and lard, and 2½c on snort ribs. Mess pork for July sold at $8.82½ down to $8.72½, and closed at $8.72½; August closed at $8.82½. Lard for July sold at $6.07½@6.10, and closed at $6.07½; August closed at $6.15. closed at $6.15.

at $6.073400.10, and closed at $6.073, Acquest closed at $6.15.

AFTERNOON BOARD—The afternoon markets started out quite featureless and slow at 75½c for July wheat, but later eased off ¼c. Only a moderate trade was done in anything. The final close was: Wheat easier; 72¼c June; 73¼@73¾c July; 74½@74¼c August. Corn easier; 34½c June; 35¼c June; 27¾c July; 96¼c August. Oats Easier; 27¾c June; 27¾c July; 98.65 July; $8.72¾c July; $8.75 August. Lard steady.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, June 15,-[Special Telegram to the Bre.]-Cattle-The general market was active and prices steady on anything that suited the dressed beef and shipping trade. Fat cattle were scarce. The bulk of receipts were made up of grassy natives and Texans. All suitable fat cattle were closed out early and at prices that were entirely satisfactory, medium shipping and dressed beef steers selling largely within a range of $5.00@5,50; distillery stock, sales of 1200 to 1300-lb steers, at $5.30@5.40 and culls at $4.90; bulls, $3.65@3.85, and cows, $4.25@4.50. About one-third of the arrivals were Texans. Nearly one hundred cars of grassers are selling around about $3,00@3.25, and corn-fed, $4.00@4.85. Shipping steers, 1350 to 1500 lbs, Taking quality into consideration, I am selling LUMBER cheaper than any yard-intown. My new office, 9th and Douglas $5,20@5,60: 1200 to 1350 lbs, $4.85@5.35; 950 to 1200 lbs, $4.85@5.00.

Hogs-Trade was active and prices averaged fully 5c higher than Monday, but about the same as a week ago. The best mixed sold at $4.173@4.20, and heavy $4.25@4.30. Light sorts were neglected and the range was from $4.10 to $4.30. Receipts continue unprecedented for June, and from the present indications the number for the month will reach the highest for ten years. The quality and the highest for ten years. The quality and feeding was never better and the general health of the swine of the country is excellent, the animals now arriving showing that in their appearance and action the morality is light as compared with this time last year.
