

THE RECORD OF A BUSY DAY.

The News Grist of the City Collected For the Bee Readers.

THE CUT RATE WAR CONTINUES.

Death of Barney Shannon—The Police Court Grist—District Court Notes—Personal Paragraphs.

Railroad Cuts.

No further cuts had been in the fares to the east. The St. Paul, as already mentioned, has reduced the rate to three dollars, without rebate, between this point and Chicago, to meet the Rock Island, and the Northwestern was following suit.

The St. Paul people are rather elated over the extra train they have put on between this place and Chicago, and now fly the announcement of two trains daily. Tickets from Chicago to Omaha are selling at the rate one dollar and some people think that the rate will be reached in the fare between Omaha and Chicago before the war ceases.

NOTES AND PERSONALS. Conductor Freebress, chief of the local division of the conductors Brotherhood, has been granted a leave of absence of thirty days, and will spend the time in Michigan.

Leslie McLaughlin, one of the oldest and most popular engineers on the Washburn road, was married yesterday at Council Bluffs, to Miss Rose Roberts, for a long time back one of N. B. Falconer's most accomplished clerks. They are at 2 o'clock, over the Washburn route to St. Louis.

The train over the Omaha & Republican Valley branch of the Union Pacific main line was unable to make connection at Valley yesterday with the Grand Island train. The delay was occasioned by the washout on the first-named line near Osceola.

There was no change in the Chicago rate war yesterday. Passenger agents predict that the rates will tumble to $1 before hostilities cease.

Mr. L. H. Kory has gone to the meeting of telegraph superintendents in St. Paul.

Last evening Col. Clowry, of Chicago, general superintendent of the Western Union, arrived in the city with M. C. Bristow, superintendent of construction. They came in the special car "Puck."

President Elijah Smith, of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, passed through Omaha Tuesday morning en route to Portland, where the annual election of the company is soon to take place.

Work was commenced yesterday on the new Belt Line depot at Walnut hill. The work will be pushed forward rapidly, and when completed will be an ornament to the "hill."

BARNEY IS DEAD.

Death of Mr. B. Shannon Yesterday

Barney Shannon died yesterday at about seven o'clock after an illness of but two days. He was prostrated two evenings ago by a sudden attack of debility, which finally resulted in his death at the time mentioned.

There are few men in this city who are more known to fame than Barney Shannon. He has been for twelve years back a character whose name has been upon almost every tongue. To this popularity, his inherent ironical, unique aggressiveness and desire for notoriety contributed. In the display of these peculiarities, he found ample field in the council of the city, in days not far in the past when the money was a thing fearfully and wonderfully made up. There, he served two terms, and though it may not be said that he did exciting great things, he achieved the proud distinction of being known as the "flowery-tongued orator of the third." He was, in a sense, the ideal councilman of the many of his constituents, especially when a slight comment was put upon the back would instinctively suggest to the generous representative a call of all hands to the bar. Mr. Shannon was an Irishman, without education. He first labored in the coal fields of Pennsylvania. He went thence to Philadelphia, where he labored and became the proudest member of the Hibernian lodge, a fire company which dated its organization in revolutionary times. Relics of this in the shape of an emerald jacket and a papier mache hat emblazoned with a golden harp and eagle, Mr. Shannon delighted to attract Omahans to his days of public rejoicing. The history of Nebraska says that he raised companies I and F of the Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania infantry, and assumed the lieutenantcy of Company "A" and was honorably discharged in 1864. Sixteen years ago, he came to Omaha, opened a saloon on the corner of Tenth and Dodge streets, removing thence to the corner of Tenth and Capitol avenue, where his remains now lie. He immediately joined old Engine Company Number 2, where his energy, good fellowship and rugged endurance soon raised him to the position of president. The members of this company and all old members of the volunteer fire department are requested to meet at Number 2 engine house Friday morning to attend the funeral of Barney Shannon. He leaves a family of four persons well supplied with means.

POLICE COURT.

The Grist of Cases Disposed of by Judge Stenhouse.

A very notable feature of the police court proceedings yesterday was the very large per cent of men who had been robbed. Henry Rebbie, a man from the interior of the state, had landed here yesterday with $300, determined to have a good time. He had it, but it cost him $50. He fell in with a crowd of toughs who robbed him of every nickel he possessed, leaving him only an old jack-knife. He was released for trial tomorrow, but was released yesterday. Another man, with the daisy name of John Doe, had likewise been robbed of $10 and he was released. John Donsel, Owen O'Connell and John Fisher were fined $5 and costs for disturbance of the peace.

Two negroes, Frank Smith and Frank Hafford, were arraigned for enticing an old man named Thomas Morley into Cole's saloon Tuesday, and attempting to rob him. Both negroes fastened the crime, and each attempted to fasten the responsibility on the other. The judge sentenced them to three months in the county jail, the first fifteen and the last fifteen days on bread and water.

Blanche Wellington and Flora Aubrey, two disorderly women, arrested yesterday for raising a disturbance on the street by foul-mouthed language and indecent actions, were fined $25 and costs each.

Michael McVanigan had been captured by the police for creating a row in a house of ill-fame and a revolver had been found in his possession. He was fined $10 and costs. During the trial a bit of evidence turned up which may furnish Marshal Cummings a pointer. One of the girls of the house—a new-comer in town—swore that McVanigan had called for a bottle of beer for which he refused to pay.

"Oh, then," asked the judge, "the landlady of your house does sell beer?"

"Certainly she does," replied the girl, unaware that she was "letting the cat out of the bag."

"This is something the marshal would like to know," commented the judge as he entered up the sentence against the prisoner.

District Court.

Judge Wakeley is hearing the case of Ettison vs. Miller, sheriff.

Blackburn, Gottlieb Jansson and Will W. McBride.

The South Omaha Land Syndicate sold from May 1st to June 5th $85,625.00 worth of South Omaha lots and they are still going. Advertising in the Bee is the immediate cause of their rapid sale.

Bound to Build. Articles of incorporation of the Park Building association were filed yesterday with the county clerk. Omaha is to be the place of doing business, which shall be the purchase and sale of real estate. The stock is placed at $100,000, payable in installments of $25 per month. The annual meeting of the association shall be held on the first Wednesday in July, and the stockholders are Sidney Smith, Thos. W. Reed, J. E. Weyoff, El. McDonald, T. W. Blackburn, Gottlieb Jansson and Will W. McBride.

Wanted a Warrant. A young book agent came in to police court and wanted to file a complaint against a certain publishing firm for grand larceny. He said that he had been soliciting for a family bible and his book contained orders, the commission on which would amount to $65. This book was seized by the firm on account of a $2 debt, and they refused to give it up. Judge Steinberg held that this did not constitute larceny and refused to issue the warrant.

Hatcher, Gadd & Co., the real estate dealers in the Millard block, have erected a large and handsome sign in front of their office which far surpasses anything of the kind in the city.

Mutes Homeward Bound. Professor Gillespie, of the deaf and dumb institute, was busy yesterday among all the trains at depot, shipping about 100 of his mute scholars to their various homes after their year's study. The activity which some of them displayed with their fingers and faces in a mid-way reminded them of the fun a host of full-figured voice-equipped youngsters just free from school would have indulged in under the circumstances.

The Sioux City route line will commence running its Council Bluffs and Spirit Lake service Saturday, June 19th, running daily thereafter, leaving Council Bluffs at 6:25 p. m., arriving at Hotel Orleans, Spirit Lake, at 7:40 a. m. Leaving Spirit Lake daily at 7 p. m., arriving at Council Bluffs at 9:35 a. m. The sleeping car fare each way per double berth $1.50. Transit ticket rate, Council Bluffs to Spirit Lake, $9.00.

Army Notes. General Wheaton, of the Second infantry, assigned to Fort Omaha, writes, in regard to his new station, that he would rather come to Omaha than any place in the United States. The boys will have to look out for the Second, as some of their companies will come here with 100 for figure of merit in target practice.

Wanted—A situation as pressman. Best of references. Address G 59, Bee office.

Runaway and Overturning. Fred Smith, a roof painter and a young friend, whose name could not be learned, went out driving yesterday, passed under the Seventh street viaduct when a train passing above frightened the horse. The buggy was overturned and Smith dragged a block along the street, receiving very painful injuries. The buggy was badly damaged.

Shakespeare Interpreters. The Alsberg-Morrison company, which play here on next Friday and Saturday matinee and evening, passed through the city yesterday to Council Bluffs after playing Tuesday night at Lincoln to a large house. Their repertoire here will be "Measure for Measure" and "Cymbeline," both magnificent pieces which bear the stamp of Shakespeare's genius.

Opelt's Hotel, Lincoln, Neb., opened March 15th, first class in every respect.

The June Rise. The "June Rise" of the Missouri is practically ended, so Signal Service Observer Polinek thinks. The highest stage reached was 12.9 feet. Up to Sunday the river has been for several days falling. On Sunday a slight rise took place which continued a day or so. This, however, has now ceased, and it is probable that the river will rise no more.

Summer Opera. The Grand Opera company open a season of opera here on the 21st instant, which is to continue for two weeks. The repertoire is an extensive one, comprising all the operas known here and others which have never been sung in Omaha. The prices are popular and with this fine company will attract large audiences. They are 25, 35 and 50 cents.

A Souvenir Oane. Professor Gillespie, of the state institute for the deaf and dumb, situated northwest of this city, closes this season's class with a pretty and useful souvenir of his work. It is an ebony case with gold mountings, beautifully chased and inscribed. It is the gift of the teachers and the pupils of the institution, who selected the anniversary of his birth upon which to make the presentation. The speech of the occasion was made by ex-Senator Saunders, and is said to have been both felicitous and appropriate.

Seven Buildings. Messrs. Herman Kountze and J. A. Field and Contractor Johnson are having plans drawn up for a row of seven brick stores to be erected on St. Mary's avenue between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, adjoining the "Battle of Gettysburg" building. The structures will be three stories in height, and will present a frontage of 170 feet. The first floor will be used for stores, the second and third for flats. Architect Voss is now at work upon the plans.

A Small Blaze. A fire this morning at 6:15 o'clock destroyed a bed and a few other household goods belonging to M. Peller Mason street between Tenth and Eleventh streets. The damage was about $15.

LARGEST IN THE WORLD.

In the department of baking powder and flavoring extracts the PRICE BAKING POWDER CO. of Chicago and St. Louis is the largest in the world. Hundreds of tons of crystals of cream of tartar, direct from the grape vineyards of France, are annually used by DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER, and the entire product of a large Mexican grower of vanilla beans is consumed every year in DR. PRICE'S EXTRACT OF VANILLA. This immense business is accounted for by the purity and excellence of their productions.

No better proof of the superiority of DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER could be offered than that it is recommended for use in every family by the following State and National Chemists:
