The New Superintendent.

Professor G. L. Wyckoff, who has been elected by the board of trustees of the Iowa Deaf and Dumb institution to succeed Superintendent Hammond, has been an instructor in the institution for the past three years, previous to which time he was for ten years connected with the Kansas institution, the last two years as superintendent, which place he lost through a political charge, and he was last year requested to go back to the Kansas institution. He is spoken of by those who are intimately acquainted with him in the highest terms, and it is understood, is a remarkably executive ability. He is a citizen of Council Bluffs in every sense of the term, having a residence of his own on Tenth avenue, east of Third street.

The present corps of instructors here to be re-elected and will no doubt remain.

LEMEN-AID NEEDS SUGARING.

The Manager Deeds the Property to the Trustees and They Threaten to Resign.

A COUNCIL BLUFFS COUNTESS.

The Carnival of Authors—The Coffman Case Slowly Progressing—The New Superintendent of the D. & D. Institute.

Ring Down the Curtain.

The investigation of the affairs of the Christian Home has come to a close, and there remains nothing but the finding of the trustees. The fact has been fully developed that it has been a private institution owned and controlled by Mr. Lemen, who has all the property, the association being in possession of nothing of real value, and having no power to remove Mr. Lemen, or interfere with his work. He has been really responsible to no religious or charitable organization, and therefore it was for the public to determine whether it wanted to continue to support him in his efforts to build up a private institution, into which the public money goes, but over which the public has no control. The condition and management of the Home have been fully shown up by many witnesses whose statements on other matters at least would be readily received. So far as the finding of the trustees, so-called, are concerned, it will have little effect upon the public either way. The evidence has been given so fully that each is able to judge for himself as to what the Christian Home is. The board as a board has shown itself quite willing to give the public a full account of the facts of the matter, and Mr. Lemen cannot certainly claim that he has not been given every advantage. The Bee having been so fully in contact with the matter, it has performed its duty simply in acquainting the public with the evidence, and it has faith in the good judgment of that public.

Extra Attraction.

The managers have engaged the German-American band for a promenade concert as an additional attraction at the carnival to-night.

Mayor Chapman Dying.

The sad news spread throughout the city last night that John W. Chapman, the mayor of the city, was in a dying condition. Such an announcement came with little surprise to most of his friends, as his condition for months has been an almost daily fight for life. His wonderful nerve power has, however, kept him up and about much of the time, but his feeble condition and his frequent confinement at the bedside, showed that the end was not far off. It has been some weeks since he has been able to get out of the house for any length of time. His trouble is cancer of the stomach, with other complications of the digestive system. Last night he was conscious, and realized the approaching end. His physicians thought he might last until morning, but hardly many hours longer. His brothers, one from Plattsmouth, Neb., and the other from Norton, Kansas, were in attendance, with the family. The announcement of the mayor's condition has caused much sorrow throughout the city. In view of his condition the city council held no session last evening.

That Door-Spring.

Detroit Free Press: He slid quietly into a Jefferson avenue hardware store yesterday afternoon, unrolled a paper on the counter, and as he did so he held up a patent door-spring he said:

"I buy him two days ago, and I like to exchange him for a whetstone. And I like to see what the matter is."

"Well, I can't make him fit on my screen door."

"Why, that's the easiest thing in the world. See here: This end screws on the door, and that end on the casing;—"

"I tried him dot havy, and he doan' work."

"When it is on you take this metal pin and turn the spring. See the holes there?"

"I doan' dot vhay, and my screen door flies open."

"You turned the wrong way."

"I turns him safety way. Sometimes der door vvas wide open, and all der flies in Michigan go in, and sometimes he vvas shut oop so tight I can't get in my own house. I begin on him in der morning, and I doan' leave off till night, but he won't work right."

"That's curious. What tools did you have?"

"I use a hammer and screw-driver and cold-chisel and saw and auger and spring bar and lots of more, but he doan' spring for me. My wife works at him, too, and my hired man he lose half a day, and I vvas discouraged. I guess I trade him for a whetstone."

"Well, I'll exchange with you, but I'm sure I can show you how to adjust it."

"I guess you're right. You can't spare mooch time with machinery. If I get a whetstone I'll go and screw him on my own turn him around. Dere vvas no pins or ratchets in his stomach. He vvas all right both ends oop. Maybe he doan' keep out flies, but he makes no trouble for me."

The exchange was made, and the man went away light-hearted, calling back from the door:

"I can make oout a whetstone all right, and I vvas obliged mit you. A whetstone vvas oop only one vhay."
