THE BLUFFS COUNCIL. The Inaugural of the New Mayor and a Tribute to the Late One.

At the special meeting of the city council last evening Mayor J. F. Evans, taking the chair, gave his | inaugural as follows:

Gentleman of the Conneil: I thank you for the honor you have conferred by electing me mayor of the city. I took the official oath and enter upon the duties required of me with reductance. Knowing that my private business draws so heavily upon my time that I cannot give the attention required without great sacrifice. I know that every member of this council gives his time in watching the interest of this city so faithfully at the expense of his private business, hence I feel that I, cannot refuse to do my part when called upon. The painful circumstances which made it your duty to elect a mayor, has caused deep sorrow in every household throughout out the city, and every citizen sustained an irreparable loss in the death of Mayor Chapman. The policy haid down by him and the appointments he made to official positions have given such general satisfac-tion that I feel it my duty to continue the same until circumstances require a change. Having been absent from the city so much during the past two years, I do not feel sufficiently posted about her wants to make any recommendations. Having known personally each member of this council so long, having watched how successfully you have con-ducted your business in this city, and knowing how largely each of you are in-terested in her real estate and her commerce, assures me and every citizen that the city interests will be well protected, and, gentlemen, I will take pleasure in rendering you all the assistance in my power and in presiding over your deliberations.

The committee appointed to prepare resolutions upon the death of Hon. John W. Chapman reported the following, which was adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Divine Providence to remeve from our midst the Hon. John W. Chapman, late mayor of Council Bluffs, and we, his official associates, have assembled to express our estimate of his character as an official, a citizen, anda as man; therefore be it Resolved, That the recent death of John W. Chapman, in the prime of life, is cause for sorrow to all who knew him. and to the citizens of Council Bluffs, and to the state at large, a public misfortune; as an officer, quick in his perceptions of the right, and steadfast in his maintenance, firm and impartial in his official actions; as a citizen, public spirited and enterprising; as an editor and writer, elear, concise, forcible and con-yincing; as a public speaker, logical and impressive; as a colleague, watchful and far seeing; as a man, social and warm hearted, charitable and benevolent, and among men noted for his geniality and courteousness.

Resolved, That we are aware that there are private sorrows attending the rending of the near and tender ties upon which it is not our province to intrude, except to tender to the family and afflicted relatives of the deceased our sincere condolence, and assure them that they have our warmest sympathy in their affliction, and be it further Resolved, That to perpetuate our es-teem for him, and as a testimony of our L KIRSCHT & CO., respect for his memory, and our grief for his loss, that these resolutions be spread in full upon the records of the city, and Jobbers of Staple and Fancy Groceries. Did They Steal the Team? On Monday morning two men, Charles Keplinger and Charles Searborough, hired a team at Weatherbee's livery stable, saying they were going out about four miles in the country to see about some houses which they heard were to be painted, and as they were house painters they desired to get the job. As they are quite well known here, having lived here some time, no suspicion was aroused of anything wrong until the day and night passed and they did not return. Mr. Weatherbee, not hearing anything from hem, concluded yesterday that they must have stolen the team, and so the search was begun, and word sent in different di-rections. The officers traced a team and two men answering the description quite a distance on the Glenwood road, and this has confirmed the belief that they have run the team off. As they have never been known for any crookedness before, it is difficult for their acquaint-ances to believe that they have been guilty of stealing the horses.

Ring Out Ye Merry Bells.

At 8 o'clock last evening at the resi dence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Oliver, 331 Park ayenue, their daughter, Miss Olive Blanche, was united in marraige to Warner L. Welsh by the Rev. W. J. Harsha, of the Presbyterian church, Omaha. The home was brilliantly lighted and decorated with cut flowers, smilax vines, etc., and presented an attractive appearance.

They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Maude K. Oliver, and Mr. F- G. B. Woodruff, of Omaha, an intimate friend of the groom. The bridal party entered the east parlor, while Miss Bes sie Anderson, of Glenwood, Is., played Mendlessohn's wedding march on the piano, and after taking their positions in the bay window in the west parlor, were pronounced man and wife. The ceremony being performed with a ring.

The bride's gown was of cream white sur an silk and brocaded surah, trimmed with lace, en train, elbow sleeves and square cut corsage with veil tulle, fes tooned with white rose buds. She tooned with white rose buds. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds, and wore a corsage bouquet of the same kind. She also carried a plain, but handsome fan, inlaid with pearls and Rhine stones, a gift from her mother. The bridesmaid's costume was of India linan, handsomely embroidered, demitrain, with trimmings of pink surah. She had a corsage bouquet of pink rose-

The gown of Miss Bessie Anderson, who played the march, was of pale blue surah silk and plush, with pearl passe, menterie en train, elbow sleeves and square corsage, and a corsage bouquet of Marechal Niell roses.
