total amount found on them was $9.49. Several were singled out as having been concerned in the murderous onslaught on Price, and they were charged with assault with intent to kill. Concerns of the City. The city council met last night, in accordance with adjournment. The city attorney was instructed to contract with the water works company to lower the water main on Broadway near the bridge, the main being above the bottom of Indian creek.

Mr. Price was able to be about yesterday, but he wears the marks of the encounter, and his head is a sore one. The tramp whom he shot in the arm was suffering considerable pain yesterday, and it will be some time before he will be able to be out. It is quite certain that Price also shot one of the gang in the leg, as one of the crowd shouted out, calling Price all sorts of names for shooting his "pard" in the leg, and one was seen to go off holding to his leg and limping. While Price was partly down, and the crowd was using him as a foot ball, he kept shouting and some one kicked his wrist, causing him to drop the gun, when one of the fellows got it. The police have not been able to find the one who got the gun, and perhaps it was thrown away. There were two or three prominent participants in the affair who have not been found yet. The tramps seek to justify their conduct by saying they were simply resting in the shade, and were about to drink a pint of beer when Price came up, kicked over the barrel and began clearing them out. The facts appear as stated in yesterday's Bee, that Price simply ordered them to go away, when their drunken fury they all jumped at him, evidently determined to beat him badly, if not kill him.

The Merkel-Hatcher Entertainment. There was a very large audience gathered at the Temple hall last evening at the Merkel-Hatcher musical and elocutionary entertainment. A more enthusiastic audience is seldom seen here, and in the matter of encores there was a demand on the part of the audience which really exceeded good taste, but which was perhaps pardonable on account of the excellence of the several numbers, and the popularity of the participants.

Confiscated liquor was placed in wagons and four loads were put into a vacant building under lock and key. Two saloon men named Hill and These then got out writs of replevin, issued for their share of the liquor, and filed a bond of only $50. The sheriff took the papers and proceeded to the building where the liquor had been stored. After breaking the lock and forcing his way into the building all the liquor was taken out and run off into Shelby county. Such is the claim. It is stated that things will be made quite lively now for Deputy Sheriff Cool and that he will be prosecuted. The prohibitionists have raised $1,000 cash with which to carry on the case, and they say they are determined to have every saloon closed and kept closed.

Many Dollars for One. A stranger in the city, an elderly traveling man from the east, was at Bechtel's yesterday, and in making change showed Jerry Meyers an odd coin, which he had accidentally received in change a few days ago. It was a silver dollar bearing the date 1804. Jerry offered him $10 for it, but some bystander who examined the coin declared it was a rare one, and was probably worth a good deal more money. The stranger seemed surprised to find that it was worth any such money, and concluded not to take $10 for it, thinking it better to investigate a little before parting with it. He then got nosed about among some of those posted in numismatics that he had a rare dollar, and soon there were several hunting him up. Henry Wagner, who has the finest and largest collection of coins in the city, finally purchased the silver dollar for the sum of $100. Such an amount for one silver piece seems to be fabulous, but it is claimed that the lists sent out by firms dealing in rare coins place the value from $500 up. Mr. Wagner expects to keep the rare dollar on exhibition here for a few weeks and then send it to New York, where he expects to sell it for several hundred dollars. It is claimed that there are only four or five of these silver dollars of 1804 known to be in existence. One is at the Philadelphia mint, another at the San Francisco mint, and one in the possession of Scott & Co., of New York.

Swenning and wife, all prominent persons of Panama, were put off the Milwaukee train one day last week, and they are now going to bring suit against the company, unless their attorney, Charles Mackenzie, through damages are paid at once by the company. It is claimed that they had taken advantage of the cut rates and sent to Council Bluffs and purchased tickets to Chicago, which were sent to the agent at Panama, and handed them by him to be used on the train they arrived on. They boarded said train but the conductor refused to take the tickets because the parties did not get on at Council Bluffs, and put them off at the next station.
