Railroad travel for the past few days has been very large on account of both the $3 rate to Chicago and the Fourth of July excursion rates.

The rental of pews and sittings at the Congregational church the other evening reached about $1,700, and there are a number of regular attendants and members who wers not present to complete their arrangements. The tadies of the Episcopal church will give a sociable on Monday evening on Dr. Macrae's lawn. There is a spacious platform for dancing, and refreshments and cooling drinks will be supplied. Admission to the grounds, 10 cents. The first lot of the 1,360 gons of tea and silk, which arrived on the Steamer Gaellie in San Francisco on June 27, was received in this city yesterday and went east over the Rock Island route. The balance will arrive to-day and to-morrow. Rev. G. W. Crofts returned from his eastern trip Friday night and officiated at the Congregational church as usual, yesterday. In the morning he preached a sermon appropriate to the day, his subject being "Our Country." There seems to be nothing to the story about a stranger being robbed in an outhouse and for which two men were ar-rested. The stranger had been on a spree here, and had spent about $100, and when sobered up knew nothing of any

Laura A. McFadden, the little daughter of Wall McFadden, entertained about thirty of her little friends in a happy manner at home. Little Miss Laura was born on the Fourth of July, and hence her sixth birthday was very appropriately observed by a double celebration, patriotic and personal. Dave Rice, who disappeared from here some months ago, has turned up again here, with a red ribbon tied in his buttonhas reformed, and says that whisky, which has been the cause of all his troubles, will not have a chance to get him down again. It is hoped the good resolution will be kept, for when sober he is a good pressman and printer.

Missouri Valley's new paper, The Society Record, made its first appearance Saturday. It is, as its name implies, devoted mainly to social happenings, with a pleasing variety of fireside reading. It is an attractive-looking sheet, and in the hands of L. Ballou and N Welch, as editors and publishers, will doubtless become a favorite visitor to

Saturday afternoon and evening there was quite a gathering of friends and neighbors at the residence of J. E. Harkness, on First avenue. The spacious lawn was filled with a merry company, and games, refreshments and good cheer abounded. In the evening there was a fine showing of fireworks, and little folks, as well as the older ones, were all

A number of the young folks drove down to Cut-off lake Saturday evening and had a merry time there. Few realize what a charming pienic ground and boat-ing place this is. The beach is sandy and the lake is large and beautiful. With some improvements, this could be made one of the most delightful resorts in this vicinity. Already there are a number of boats, one little steamer, and other accommodations for those who desire fun in a rural retreat.

There has been some talk of electing Rev. Dr. McCreary, of Broadway Methodist church, as president of Simpson college, at Indianola. The reverend gentle man has declined to consider any such proposition favorably, on account of the church work here demanding his time. The trustees last week held their annual meeting and decided not to elect a president this year, but to place Prof. Hamil-ton in charge, he being vice president. Perhaps by another year Rev. Dr. Mc-Creary's work here will be in such shape that he can see his way clear to accept such a position, if offered. It looks as if this was the hope entertained by the trustees. They can well afford to wait if they could thus secure such a scholarly

One tall, slim young man, on Broadway, Saturday, was determined to show that his nerves were as of iron, and when a big cannon cracker was lighted and placed near where he was standing, he refused to be moved by it. As he stood watching and waiting, he evidently secretly thought he had better be a little braced for the coming explosion and he leaned up against a peanut roaster in a graceful, nonchalant manner, but about the time the big cracker did its worst the hot peanut roaster began to singe through his light coat and he made a jump. He managed to capsize the roaster, peanuts, charcoal, straw hat, tall young man, big cracker, small boy watching, stray dog, et al., went into the gutter in a badly mixed up heap. Next Fourth the young man will move on, and not seek to estab-lish a reputation for nerves of steel.

The Danish Picnic. Yesterday the Danish Brotherhood had a large picule about three miles out of the city. There was a large delegation over from Omaha, and the bands and banners added to the holiday appearance of the street parade. The 'busses and carriages were kept busy carrying out the crowd, and by the middle of the afternoon there was a big gathering of merry

A Fourth Accident.

A son of Eugene Mottaz, aged about seven years, was badly injured by fireworks Saturday, his face being burned, and both eyes so injured that there is doubt as to whether he will recover their full sight again. They are both badly swollen and closed, and the result of the injuries can hardly be determined.

A Slight Scorch. The fire department was called out yesterday forenoon about 10 o'clock, the blaze being in a small residence on lower Third street. The flames were put out by buckets before the department reached the place. Damage nominal. Supposed

DETAILS OF THE CELEBRATION

Only One Biaze and That a Little One -Few Accidents-The Doings of the Police-A Bloody Lunatic.

A Day of the Knights.

The celebration on Saturday under the auspices of the Knights of Labor was a happy and successful one. The knights merit much praise for the enterprise shown in assuming the financial responsibility, and exerting themselves so zealonsly to secure for Council Bluffs a worthy observance of the day. It is to be regretted, and is a just cause for criticism, that there was not a more hearty support given the knights, and a more enthusiastic and general co-operation, but still there was a celebration which reflected credit to the city and to them. This was the first time that the knights have made any public appearance here, and it was a surprise to many to see 200 of them in line, being composed also of such an excellent class of citizens. It will be an additional surprise to many to learn, also, that not over half of the knights were in the parade. Some were called away by other duties, and various causes are stated which does away with any seeming reflection upon the loyalty of the members to the order. The Ch eago & Rock Island employes, as well as the Chicago & Northwestern, were not able to leave their work and join in the parade. The G. A. R. went to Glenwood, which took away some of the members. The employes of the Kansas City and the Chicago & Burlington railhad a gathering of their own. The Good Templars went to Crescent. Thus various other arrangements interfered Despite these facts, the celebration here was a great success

The eigarmakers' union and the printers' union joined in the parade here. The fire department also turned out in holiday attire. There were a goodly number of advertising wagons, some very ingeniously and attractively arranged, and a large number of officials and citizens who joined the procession. Captain D. J. O'Neil served acceptably as marshal of the day, with Colonel E. J. Abbott and George Hunter as assistants. The German American band furnished excellent music. At Bayliss park there was a large gathering of citizens. Judge Aylesworth called the assemblage to order. Rev. Dr. Cooley offered an appropriate prayer. Miss May Davenport read the declaration of independence, and although it has been given in public so many times, yet it seemed to have fresh meaning as read by her. She read it very clearly and with wonderful expression. At the close of the reading Colonel Daily presented her with a beautiful bouquet in behalf of the Knights of Labor. Kev. T. J. Mackey, who is recognized as such a firm friend of the wage worker, was very appropriately chosen as one of the speakers of the day. His address was an excellent one, and characterized as usual by boldness, graceful diction and strength of thought. Dr. Lewis, of Omaha, also gave an excellent address, which called forth much enthusiasm. Mr. C. Vincent, of Tabor, was on the programme for an address, but for some unknown reason he was not present. The exercises closed with the benediction by Rev. Dr. Cooley. In the evening there was a display of fireworks from the stand at the corner of Broadway and Fourth street. It was one of the finest and most varied of any ever given here. The streets were thronged as some of the n elaborate pieces were fired the crowds would give such enthusiastic cheers that heir voices could be heard for many

The ball given in Temple hall was largely attended. It was a fitting closing to a day into which so much pleasure had been crowded. The arrangements all moved off smoothly, and showed that the knights are not only good planners but no less able to execute.

The knights assumed an expense of about $500 in order to thus furnish the city with a celebration. Many citizens responded liberally to the call for co-operation, and to them the knights request the BEE to express their thanks. While the thanks of the knights are doubtiess thus due to many, yet the city is a whole is under obligations to the knights for their patriotic enterprise. In the afternoon a committee of the knights, consisting of Messrs. Gleason, Reed and McPeek, waited upon Rev. Mr Mackey and presented him with a beau-tiful basket of flowers, a very handsome

All About Avoca.

Avoca, Ia., July 4, -- Our celebration here yesterday was all that could be expected, the people commencing to congregate early, and by 10 o'clock the streets were thronged. The procession formed at the south end and passed up street, headed by the Avoca band. The carriage containing the speaker, Jacob Sims, of Council Bluffs, in company with Mayor Diederich, J. T. Hazen and Fremont Benjamin followed. The four-horse wagon, handsomely decorated and driven by a fair representation of Uncle Sam, in the person of D. M. Briggs, with thirty-eight little girls representing the states, was next in the line, followed by the Avoca colored jubilee singers, who favored the listeners with some of their best salestions as they passed. All other best selections as they passed. All other conveyances then falling in line repaired to the grounds, which were nicely ar ranged. Hon. E. A Donsig ney, as master of ceremonies, introduced the speaker, who ably addressed the people. At the conclusion of his address dinner was announced. The programme was followed to the letter, and Avoca can justly be proud of her

Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock a fire was noticed southwest of town about a mile and a half, which proved to be a dwelling owned by S. Caldwell, of Avoca, and occupied by W. W. Ritchie, the fire having caught from a defective flue. Mr. Ritchie succeeded in saving the household goods that was down stairs, but the wearing apparel of both he and his wife was burned, as was the building; no insur-

Enforcement of the law and saloon ele-ment have had quite a battle which re-sulted in the closing of the saloons. Some of them, however, have again opened their doors but claim to sell only temper-ance drinks. The information was filed by Thomas Hardie a brother-in-law of the late Heller, whose death he attributes to the saloons. He is very determined in their prosecution and has ample friends at his disposal for that purpose.

F. G. Hetzel's new hardware store is nearing completion. It is a decided improvement to Main street and Avoca as well. The dimensions are 100 feet deep and 19 feet in the clear. We are sadly in need of more men like Mr. Hetzel, who are not afraid to invest, thereby improving our town.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in our midst last Saturday evening, (a case of too well and not wisely enough), by J. T. Hazea, justice of the peace. The uniring energy and zeal manifested by Constable Harrington in the hunting down and bringing forward the recream lover, and pointing out his duties, and only ceasing his ardnors labor upon the consumpation of the tle which made them one, is deserving of special mention.

Mrs. E. D. Hoopes entertained "the enchre" Friday evening in honor of Mrs. E. W. Davis, of Minneapolis, who is E. W. Davis, of Minneapolis, who is visiting Avoca friends. There were present Mr and Mrs. E. A. Consigny, Mrs. E. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. B. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Voss, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Police Pointers.

A man on Main street near Seventh ayenue attracted a crowd Saturday night by his shouts for "help, police," etc. He was found to be bleeding from several wounds in the head and his right arm was also injured somewhat. He claimed that three men pitched on to him with the evident purpose of robbing him, but as he had no money they got none. He got as severe a thrashing, however, as if he had had wealth to give up in return. It was learned that the assault, or drunken row, or whatever it was, occurred on Sixth avenue near Seventh street, and that the assailants carried the wounded man to Main street, and leaning him up against the brick wall of a building, left him there. He gave his name as Jerry

A tramp, giving his name as Charles Patten, was found near the Northwestern depot Sunday night, with one foot mashed. He was taken to police headquarters and Dr. Laey called in to attend to the injuries, which are not of a serious nature. William Eyler, the night watchman of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy yards, found two tonghs in a box car Saturday night, and tried to handle them, but they came for him with coupling pins, and he had to call to his assistance the night watchman in the Milwaukee & St. Paul vards. The two fellows were marched to police headquarters, where they gave the names of William Ryan and Thomas Schilley. They will have a hearing to-

George Ira, a boy only thirteen years old was found by the police in a beastly state of intoxication. It seems that he got into this condition by carrying drinks for a woman named Jessie White, living on Broadway. A warrant has been sued for her arrest. It seems that she is the same woman who caused another boy to get drunk, a son of a well known citizen, one night last week. She evidently has a passion for getting boys drunk, and it is nightime that she was brought to a realization that this is an offense which the people of Council Biuffs will not allow to pass by unheeded.

Fleeced by tHack Drivers On Saturday two young men from the country came to town to see the celebration. They were accompanied by a young lady who received their combined attention and gracefully accepted little favors, such as peanuts, soda, popcorn, etc. Everything went along nicely, however, until they engaged a hack to drive them to the transfer, when, upon arrival, the hack driver requested the modest sum of $6 for the ride. They thought the charge somewhat exhorbitant, but as it was the "day we celebrate," they prowas the "day we celebrate," they pro-duced the required amount and the hack was rapidly driven in a circuitous route to the upper end of the city and placed in the stables, the hack driver taking a lay-off for the balance of the day thinking himself quite wealthy.

After making some few inquiries as to hack rates, the two young men, who were about twenty years of age each, con-cluded they would notify the police, who hunted high and low, but the back driver was not to be found.

The driver of another back "eaught on to" the two young men and offered his services as detective. He was accepted, and after several hours, returned to the young men, explained that for his ser-vices as detective they were indebted to him in the sum of $3 and handed them $1.50, leaving $1.50 with the back driver who took them to the transfer, thus allowing him the regular 50 cents apiece fare to the transfer.

They evidently thought that about as well they could do, getting off with only $4.59 out of pocket, and taking the hack-driver-detective's advice in the matter, returned by the evening train to their Crazed and Bleeding.

On Friday last a young fellow from Omaha secured employment at the stables at the driving park, and seemed apparently to be all right. In the night he got up, however, and seizing a hatchet began in a wild, crazy manner smashing the doors and howling. The men had quite a tussle with him, and finally got him tied with ropes. He managed to escape towards morning, and came up town. He entered Dr. Bellinger's office on Broad-way, his head bleeding from a severe way, his head obeding from a severe wound on the top, which had swollen greatly, showing he had somewhere been dealt a terrible blow. He said he was the night before sleeping in a barn with a lot of men, about two miles from the city, and that they tried to rob him of what little money he had, and when he tried to prevent them one of them hit him over the head with a revolver. His narration of further details showed that the man was erazy. The wound was dressed and he was taken to the county jail. He went along quietly until he came to the cell door, when he became furious, and it required three men to put him in. Since he has been in the jail he has been part of the time very wild, tearing the bandages off his wounded head, destroying the bedding, and making trace noise. There has been some doubt felt as to whether the man's present condition is due to the wound, or whether he was crazed before. The wound is a bad one, and while it is thought he will recover, yet his chances are not of the best. He gives his name as Miller Walters, and says his mother recently moved here from Hillsboro, Ill., as she informed him by letter. He says he has two brothers, James and Scott, but does not know where they are.

No Bluffing the Bluffs. On Saturday, at Red Oak, the Mueller Music company's nine of this city crossed bats with the Red Oaks for the second time this season.

Red Oak was crowded with people from the surrounding country to see the celebration and quite a large audience witnessed the base ball game.

Red Oak people were confident of their nine being victorious, as they had won the first match and in consequence offered odds as high as $25 to $15 against the Council Bluffs boys before the game began. The Red Oaks had secured a pitcher and catcher from Washington, la., who was to "paralyze" the Mueller nine, for which, it is said, they were each to receive $50. But whether they reseived the money or not is not stated as the Mueller Music company nine returned to this city victorious on a score of 10 to 8.

fought The game was a hard one, it being hip and tuck from the very beginning and both clubs made a creditable showing. Strock caught ad-mirably for the Biuffs nine and redeemed bimself. He was hit by the ball and completely knocked out, but after a delay of some ilfteen minutes, amid much cheering he took up his position and the game went on. The game was virtually won by Al. Noble, an employe in the BEE job rooms, by a three-base nit over third base, which sent three men home, himself getting to third and afterward coming in.

The Red Oak's backers kept quet after the game opened and did not offer to bet, even refusing an even bet of $100 just as the game started.

White and His Billy.

Two men giving their names as Thomas Davis and James Campbell were drunk and raising too much noise even for the Fourth, and Deputy Marshal White and Officer Beswick took them in charge. Officer Unthank coming along. White turned his prisoner over to him and was going to ride up in his dog cart, leaving the two policemen to walk the prisoners up. As the two officers and the prisoners started off, two of their friends tried to take Campbell away from the officers. Deputy Marshal White interfered, and remonstrated, so the two were allowed to march on. The two friends, Frank Kain and George Hammock then turned on White and proposed to get sweet revenge out of him They came near accomphshing their purpose. White got two or three hard knocks before he got his billy into action, and then he got a kick which knocked the billy out of his band. He recovered it, however, and in getting in his work knocked Hammock down, cutting his head in two places, one requiring several stitches by the surgeon, the cut being about two inches long. Hammock concluded to go along without further trouble, and Kain skipped out. He was found yesterday and the two will have to answer the charge of assaulting an officer.

Tabor Collège Commencement. To the Editor of the BEE: Everything conspired to make commencement at Tabor college a success. The weather was the most delightful of June days. From the beginning to the end nothing marred the harmony. The exercises of the students showed a grasp of thought and training reflecting great credit both upon themselves and their teachers. A large number from the towns about and from a distance gathered to listen to the oratory and draw inspiration from the occasion. The graduates numbered
