swelling is gone. She has suffered intensely with it. A tender couple from Macedonia were wandering about the city yesterday try-ing to find some way to get married despite the fact that they could get no license, being under age. The youthful lovers afforded rauch amusement by their innocent ways, but had to start back home without accomplishing the purpose of their mission to Council Biuffs.

The need of a city hospital becomes more apparent daily. The move to secure such an instruction should be started at once. As an instance of how such a place is needed attention is called to the case of young Walter, whose condition is critical, and yet the best place in which he can be kept is the county jail. A short time ago a blacksmith died at the city jail. He was cared for as well as pos-sible under the circumstances, but he could not receive the attention which a man in his condition needed. He and his friends had abundant means to pay all bills, but there was no suitable place in which to care for him.

A traveling man telephoned over from Omaha yesterday, inviting his customers here to go over there and see his samples. It seems that if a traveling man does not care enough for his Council Bluffs trade to bring his samples here, and show them up at one of the Council Bluffs hotels, he does not think enough of the trade to have it. One of the Broadway merchants was told by a traveling man the other day that he wanted him to hurry up with his order as he wanted to get over to Omaha in time for dinner. The hurried Omana in time for dinner. salesman was told he needn't wait, as there were enough salesmen who were willing to stay in Council Bluffs long enough to supply the trade. Some of these traveling men wonder why they do not sell more goods in this city. It is no wonder at all. Council Bluffs merchants look on their money as being as good as the money of other merchants, and the city as equal to other cities. Such salesmen as think differenty should begin to fall over themselves.

The Stolen Team. Chief Matthews yesterday received a telegram from Chillicothe, Mo., stating that Mr. Weatherbee had there found and arrested the two young men who run off with a team belonging to his stables. The two young men were painters, Charles Kaplinger and Charles Scarborough, who represented that they wanted to go only four or five miles out into the country, to see about getting a job of painting some houses they had heard about. Instead of doing so they run the team off and sold it. The horses have been found and the two young men ar rested. Mr. Weatherbee telegraphed that they would be tried there, but Chief Matthews thought better to have them brought back, and so answered.

Where's the Smelling Committee. A man who was out hunting the other day had the curiosity to visit the pest house, which has been in disuse for a long time. He says there is a stench there which is unbearable even to the casual visitor, who does not inspect closely. It seems that the pest house must be in a terribly fifthy condition, or that there is some cause for investigation. It is hinted that possibly some tramp, not knowing the character of the has wandered in there and died, and that the stench arises from that cause. The matter should be investicause. The matter should be investi-gated, and if the house smells so horribly on account of mere filth, it should be

A Horrible Experience.

Yesterday a carload of wool arrived at the transfer from the west. On being opened two men were found to be lying inside, one in an insensible condition, the other too weak to stand. Investigation showed that the men were suffering from hunger and lack of water. They were two eigar makers, who went west some time ago when there were several excursion parties started from the east to till up the eigar factories which had been employing non-union and Chinese labor. They had a desire to return east, but not having the means to do so they sought to get a ride in this car. They said they helped load the wool into the car, and then hid themselves in the car, expecting that in a short time they could get out again. They supplied themselves with two bottles of water and some bread, but as the car was locked, they could not get out to replenish their store of provisions. They had been locked in the car nearly a week, and they had been un-able to attract the attention of anybody to their condition They finally getting so weak that they could hardly make any noise, even if there had been anybody near enough to hear Their condition was horrible. an alarm. They had become very weak, and their thirst was so terrible that they sought to relieve it by drinking their own water. Their food was gone and they had no nourishment of any sort. The railway men took them in charge and gave them nour-ishment, and drink in limited quantities, not daring to allow them to help themselves. The two men were taken down to the lake to be bathed, and they had to be held by main force to keep them from drinking such quantities as would have killed them. The men were speedily revived and able to be put on an eastern train. They had as frightful a journey as often falls to the experience of mortals, and the wonder is that they did not die. They will doubtless be backward about riding in locked box cars, especially if the ears are loaded with wool, and the time is during the heated term

The Missiohary Meeting. The convention in the interest of the mission work has caused a large number of persons to graner here, and the meetings held in Broadway Methodist church have been largely attended. The programme announced for yesterday was in the main carried out as published. There was considerable enthusiasm manifest, despite the heat which proves so enervating to sinners, but which does not seem to have a like effect on the Methodist brethren who believe so thoroughly in a "red-hot religion." Chaplain Mc-Cabe and Rey. William Butler, two of the most eminent missionary workers of the Methodist church, are in attendance at all the sessions, and add much to the

Yesterday a lunch dinner was served by the ladies of the church, and about one hundred participated. After the repast an hour or more was spent in pleasint social enjoyment.

In the evening Chaplain McCabe de livered an eloquent and characteristic address. He is one of the most enter-taining speakers in the Methodist dethe days when by his voice he so cheered the boys in blue.

The missionary convention will con tinue its sessions at the same place today. Rev. Dr. Butter, who has been engaged in missionary work in India and Mexico, will speak at 10 o'clock this morning. Addresses by other delegates on topics of interest will follow.

In the afternoon the Ladies' Foreign Missionary society will hold an anniver-sary meeting. Addresses will be delivered by la Dr. Butler. ed by lady delegates, and also by

In the evening Chaplain McCabe will deliver another address. The opportunity of hearing so eloquent and distinguished a divine should be improved so far as possible by all. He is well worth hearing on any topic, but on the themes in connection with his work he is peculiarly eloquent and enthusiastic. He has been wisely selected as one of the general secretaries of the missionary society of the M. E. church.

A Queerly Broken Leg. Mr. Charles Peregoy, father of J. W. Peregoy, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Peregoy, also of Baltimore, have been visiting here for about three weeks. Yesterday the old gentlemen, with Mrs. Peregoy and child and Mrs. George H. Ferguson, were out for a drive, when they met with an accident which gave them all a narrow escape from serious consequences. While riding along near Foster's greenhouse, and out on the Sapp drive, some boys came suddenly out from the roadside, bearing some brush upon their backs. The horse was startled, and jumping suddenly, overturaed the carriage, throwing the party out. The children and ladies escaped with some bruises and scratches. Mr. Peregoy, besides some bruses and slight cuts, had one leg broken, an injury from which he would not probably recover, being advanced in years, were it not for the fact that the broken leg was an artificial one which the mechanic can mend sooner than the doctor. The horse, as the jump was made, fell down, otherwise the accident would doubtless have been more serious, for had he run, dragging the carriage, the occupants could not have escaped thus easily,

A Model House, In view of the peculiar management of the Home of the Friendless of this city it is interesting to note the difference as compared with the home at Leavenworth, Kan., as shown by the Home Record of that place, a recent copy of which has fallen into the BEE office. The officers are all women, and there is an advisory board of five men. The reports of donations are given in full, and all other facts of interest to the public, and the monthly report shows the number admitted and the number dismissed, with the net number at the home on the date of the report It appears that they find places for the inmates of the home so fast as possible instead of refusing to allow children to be adopted into private families, as is the case with the so-called institution here. The policy seems to be to have women take charge of the children, instead of of one man, and there is a regular laso clation, in fact, instead of a formal one on paper for the sake of misleading the public. There has been about twenty thousand dollars put in buildings, and at the last report there were but thirty three persons in the home. Since the organi-zation of the home about three thousand persons have been assisted, and 800 desti-tute or friendless children cared for.

News From Still Bates. The fate of Still Bates, who so many years lived in Council Bluffs, has sad interest for all here. For the nurder of his wife he has been sentenced to be hung on the 26th of August, at Richmond, Ind. There has been much sympathy aroused for him in that community, despite the horrible manner in which he butchered his wife, this sympathy arising from the terrible fate which awaits him, it being the first hanging in that section of the country, and also from the impression which prevails quite commonly that he was insane when he committed the deed. It is said that he is the recipient daily of boquets and other tokens from those, especially ladies, who are carried away with sentiment and sympathy, and that many ladies are calling upon him in jail. He is being made so much of a hero by some as to cause a reaction against him, and many are becoming disgusted at the attention being paid him. There are many Quakers who object to having any hanging event mar the record of their section of the state, and a petition with 3,500 signers has been presented to the governor asking that the sentence be commuted. The impression is quite prevalent that the governor will not interfere with the execution of the sen-tence, and that there will be no com-

A happy company of young gentlemen of wealth and culture are just preparing to start out from this city in wagons for a leisurely trip through the wild west. The party came here by rail and have litted out here for the rest of the trip. They are Professor Ciement A. Herschel, a fine musician of Cincinnati: Charles H. Bowen, Jos B. Doty, Harry MacKnight, Arthur MacKnight, of New York; Arthur C. MacKnight, of New York, the original "boy orator," who is now a well known elecationist, and who is taking the trip for his health; Watter Chandler, of Milwaukee; Frank Spencer, of New York; Ferd Bonker, of Milwankee. They bought here seven horses, two Schuttler wagons, tents, etc., the outfit being one of the finest to be had. The party has provided itself with every possible com-fort and convenience, and are bent on a jolly time. It is their intention to go as far as Denver by easy stages, and then sell their outfit, returning by train. They are at present camping in Palmer's grove, and are to stay a day or two longer. They have formed several pleasant acquaintances here, and are certainly pleasant gentlemen to meet. They are roughing it, but they will doubtless get as much or more enjoyment from such a trip than if they adopted more modern ways of speedy travel.

The Saloons Must be Regulated. The saloons have been having it their own way of late During the time that the late mayor was in sufficient health to look after the details of the city government, the orders to close the saloons at night and on Sundays were quite generally carried out. During his illness, and the interim caused by his death, there has been little attention paid to the matter, and all have become rather lax. With the election of a mayor and the re sumption of business again attention has peen directed to this matter, and the saloons have now been ordered to be closed at 11 o'clock every night. The saloonists have not been paying the required license, either, and they are to be brought to the front on this matter also. So long as the saloons are allowed to run it is thought to be no more than right that they should pay a license, and should promptly obey such police regulations as seem to be for the best interests of the community. Mayor Evans will take up the policy out lined by his lamented predecessor and there will be no letting down.

The Rechristened Lake.

What is known as Cut Off lake, about two miles and a half south of the city, has been renamed Manhattan Beach. It is becoming a very popular resort with the people of Council Bluffs. Every evening there are parties driving down there, and indulging in boating and bathing. The beach is sandy and the slope of the bed of the lake an easy and safe one for bathers. Last evening there were two parties of about fifteen each, one headed by George Thompson, who chartered the steamboat, and the other party of about the same number led by W. H. Wakefield, who took the row boats. A sail boat, a little steamer and numerous row boats are on the lake, and various improvements are being planned. E. L. Squire, Ira Odell and G. M. Washburn are planning on building a bathing house at once and it is quite probable that a small hotel will be built soon.

Flattering Prospects. A Dakota farmer recently called at the office of the local paper.

'How are crops looking out in your neighborhood?" asked the editor.

"Poor, very poor." "What's the matter with the wheat?" "Oh, fust it was dry weather and then it was too wet and the other day a hail storm hit it. I don't count on more'n : quarter of a crop.

How are other things?" "Purty poor. Flax am't doin' much, the frost took all the corn and the hogs have et up pertaters."
"Well, that is bad-I am very sorry to hear it.

The farmer went out and the editor grasped a pencil and wrote:
"We received a pleasant call from Farmer Snoozenberry, of Wayback township, Wednesday afternoon, Mr. S. brought very flattering reports of the crops and was particularly enthulastic about the wheat which he says is actually booming. He remarked that he would not be afraid to guarantee every man in his township at least thirty bushels to the acre. We would challenge any other section of the territory to make as good a showing as this. He was very earnest in what he said on the subject and comm meated his enthusiasm to everyone. Conseil Bluffe Improvements At the meeting of the city council last night the city engineer was instructed to advertise for bids for construction of all incompleted sidewalks ordered by the souncil May 4, and prior thereto. The committee on printing was authorized to look into the question of discribut-

ing the same among the papers. The matter of the street railway on upper Broadway was brought up, Super-intendent Burns, of the Union Pacific, being present.

Mr. Burns stated that he had conferred with Mr. Dorrance and Mr. Calloway in regard to laying the steel railway track to its legal terminus at the Babbat place. and they were willing to do what was right. The time set by the council was not sufficient to allow of the getting of the material. If time was given the com-pany would comply with the request, George F. Wright, as attorney for the company, expressed the same idea, and requested that ninety days time be given.

The company was willing to agree to construct said track within that time. The proposition was accepted, the nmety days to be from July 9, and the company agreeing to lay its track and pay for its share of the paying.

The paying on lower Broadway having settled under the street railway track on account of the sewer not being properly tamped, the Street Car company proposed to bear the expense of raising their tracks if the city would pay for the taking up and replacing of the pavement. Agreed to.

Green street was abandoned from Front street east, Mr. Geise accepting it as the frontage of his property, making him liable to improvement assessments hereafter.

The Saloon Keepers' acsociation presented a request that the mayor's order that saloons be closed at 11 o'clock be reconsidered.

The mayor stated that the ordinance fixed that hour for closing, and as a sworn officer he proposed to have the law enforced, unless the council repealed the ordinance.

Alderman Shugart explained that it had been generally conceded to let the saloons run until 12 o'clock, though no action had been taken to that effect.

The mayor said he would amend the order so as to have them close at 12 o'clock if the council so wished, but while he was acting as mayor the saloons must be closed by midnight and closed on Sundays.

No formal action was taken, but informally it was decided that the saloons must close by 12 o'clock, 'it being 11 o'clock until it was 12."

A resolution was offered providing for paying Broadway from the Methodist church to Oak street, and that from Frank street to Oak, the paying to be only thirty foot with Alderman Shugart amended by limit-ing the city's expenditure on paving and improving the creek to $2,000.

The amendment was lost. The limit was then put at $2,500 and the resolution thus amended was passed.

The paying of all the other streets advertised, except Bangroff, was then let to emitn.

The council then adjourned until this evening at 7 o clock, for the purpose of completing the contract.

A Superior Jury.

The following jury has been drawn in the superior court: A. T. Whittlesey, F. M. Williams, J.W. Morse, Geo. A. Jacobs, L. Swearinger, N. E. Tyson, Geo. Fairman, James Mithen Thomas Pilling. The first case to be tried, by them will probably be that of Mynster & Lindt against J. W. Anderson, a claim for attorney

RED MEN ARE FOREIGNERS.

The Queer Complications That May Come from This Decision.

Washington Letter: A decision has been rendered by the supreme court of the district of Columbia which will at tract considerable attention, as it de termines a long-disputed point involving the relation of the government to the Indians. In 1883 congress passed an act appropriating $300,000 to pay an old claim of the Cherokee Indians against the government. Chief Bushyhead is alleged to have paid $225,(0) of this sum to W. A. Phillips and other lobbyists who se-cured the passage of the bill. An indict-ment was found against Phillips and others for defrauding the Cherokee Indians of this amount of money, and the case came to trial yesterday. brief argument the court granted a motion of the defense to quash the indict ment on the ground that the Cherokea Indians, against whom the offense was illeged to have been committed, are a foreign nation; that the offense was not a violation of the laws of the United States and the court had no jurisdiction.

This decision has been the subject of much talk at the capitol to-day, and is indorsed by the most prominent lawyers in both houses of congress, who hold that so long as the United States government makes treaties with Indian tribes they cannot be regarded in any other light than as independent, foreign nations. But it is suggested that many perplexing questions may arise out of this decision, one of which is whether a reservation, recognized by treaty as the property of a foreign nation, is subject to jurisdiction of the United States. At the present session of congress several bills have been passed granting rights of way to railway companies through the various Indian reservations, and congress has been very generous in this respect to several companies that want to run lines through the territory of these same Cherokees who are pronounced a foreign nation. Any one who cares to test the validity of these acts can make the railroad companies consider-able trouble, as under the decision of the court congress has no more authority to vote a right of way through the Cherokee nation than through India or Persia. The government may acquire lands of the In-dians by treaty, but cannot give railway companies or others rights upon them.

Senator Dawes, the chairman of the committee on Indian affairs, said to-day that this decision was no surprise to him Our relations with the Indians were anomalous and ridiculous. When we fed them they were the wards of the nation; when we made treaties with them they were foreign powers, and when we wanted their lands they were without rights, like the bears and buffaloes. The only way to settle the question was to pass a law dissolving tribal relations and declaring the Indians citizens of the
