

SIXTEENTH YEAR.

HIS PLAN OF SELF-DEFENSE.

Laborers Urges Filibustering Tactics by the Irish in the Commons.

COERCION MUST BE PREVENTED.

De Lesseps and His Panama Company Lose the French Public's Confidence—Boulangier's Military Organic Law—Foreign News.

Laborers' Scheme of Defense.

LONDON, July 14.—[Special to the Bee.]—Last week I called Mr. Laborer's plan of self-defense—his objections in the commons—specifically to the plan to-day, saying: "Were I an Irishman not one vote would I give in favor of justice being done to Englishmen until Englishmen were prepared to do justice to Irishmen. The only thing necessary will be that each of the eighty-six Irish members take but little interest in the affairs of the nation."

FILIBUSTERING TACTICS.

We must do our best to render it impossible for any government to govern so long as Ireland's wrongs be not remedied. Whenever coercion, the government power, is adopted, let every vote be challenged and proceeded by discussion. Provided that the radicals act cordially with the Irish, I defy any procedure rules, framed by the minority of men, to render it possible for the parliamentary machine to work until justice be done."

BOULANGIER'S BILL.

The Organic Military Measure a Great Political Act.

PARIS, July 13.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to the Bee.]—It is interesting to know what impression has been created in Germany by General Boulanger's organic law. Nothing could attract so much attention as a bill which, in the present state of affairs, when the situation is still somewhat strained and in the present state of mutual observation existing in both countries.

WHAT GERMANY IMAGINES.

Germany imagines that she is directly aimed at by all military measures discussed in the Reichstag. It is interesting to know what impression has been created in Germany by General Boulanger's organic law. Nothing could attract so much attention as a bill which, in the present state of affairs, when the situation is still somewhat strained and in the present state of mutual observation existing in both countries.

THE GERMAN STRIFE.

In a vital point, that since the last war anything has occurred in France which has so stirred up public opinion in Germany. A German diplomatist who knows his country said to me, "The Boulangier bill is for us, in the present state of our relations with the republic, a matter of great importance. It is, perhaps, the commencement of a new order of things."

NEW ORDER OF THINGS.

In speaking thus this person gave expression to an idea which, although as yet a little wavering, is taking root in the minds of the masses, and it will not be long before it will be the basis of a new order of things. The following is the form which will soon be given to the idea by public opinion and which has already been produced in the Ux Gazette de l'Allemagne and Du Nord Ux:

THE PANAMA COMPANY.

De Lesseps Loses the Public Confidence in His Scheme.

PARIS, July 13.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to the Bee.]—By the publication of the minutes of the entire proceedings and correspondence of the Panama bill committee, no little light is thrown on the real situation of the affairs of the Panama company. It certainly looks as though a mortal blow may be struck at the company by the report of Boulangier's prediction being realized, that it would end in the most disastrous manner.

GIORGIAN FINANCIAL DISASTER.

since the days of the John Law Mississippi bubble. Friday last, as was cable, M. De Lesseps resigned the presidency of the committee. He has already resigned the bill authorizing a literary loan, on the ground that the company did not choose to put up with the good pleasure of the committee and remain in suspense so three long months. The next morning all the papers, which have made a business of supporting the Panama company from the start, came out violently attacking and threatening the committee.

FOR CUPABLE NEGLECT.

of duty and even worse. "The committee," they said, "does not scruple to leave the Panama market a prey to stock jobbing during three months. The bondholders and shareholders, who are at the same time electors, will assuredly look to the way in which these deputies have looked after their interests when the proper time comes."

NO DOUBT, HOWEVER, THE COMMITTEE WAS ACTING WITH A HIGH SENSE OF ITS GREAT RESPONSIBILITY.

The promoters of the canal seem to have expected to find the members of the committee so many puppets. In their hands. Fortunately for the public, the French government were men who had some real grit in their composition. They properly determined to learn something. In their report of the 14th inst., they requested the Panama company to produce for inspection certain documents, including the deed of concession by the Columbian government and six contracts, which, according to De Lesseps and Dingler, comprise all the works necessary to complete the canal.

A LITTLE OVERSIGHT.

The deed of concession was a deed, but De Lesseps neglected, for good reasons known to himself, to send the contracts required. Three days later the committee, being without the contracts, wrote again to De Lesseps for them, requesting that a balance sheet of the company to the end of June be prepared for examination.

DE LESSEPS PAID NO ATTENTION TO THIS, BUT SIMPLY REPLIED THAT HE HAD WITHDRAWN THE REQUEST FOR PERMISSION TO ISSUE A LOTTERY LOAN, AND AT THE SAME TIME SENT A CIRCULAR AROUND TO THE SHAREHOLDERS DECLARING THAT HE INTENDED TO ISSUE AN ORDINARY LOAN, WITHOUT PRICE PREMIUMS, FOR THE SAME AMOUNT—500,000,000 FRANCES.

THE COMMITTEE'S DEGREASONS.

The committee immediately held a final meeting, the minutes of which they placed on record; first, as to De Lesseps not having enabled them (pour des motifs qui ne leur appartiennent pas de rechercher) to report on the bill; second, that it was not a fact that they had any desire to adjourn the report until next session; and, third, that if the bill had been presented so late it was not their fault, but rather that of the French government, which had only laid the bill on the table on the 14th of June last, although the Panama company had made the request

IT'S NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS.

Morrison Replies to Hiscock's Leading Question in Boss Tweed's Style.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE SURPLUS.

The House Discusses the Resolution to Apply the Excess to Paying the Debt—Other Congressional Doings.

House.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—[Special to the Bee.]—Mr. Lowry of Indiana, on the committee on expenditures in the treasury department, reported back the resolution calling for information from the secretary of the treasury as to the reason for the failure to investigate the charges of fraud against R. D. Lancaster, the present surveyor of the port of St. Louis.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

HOUSE.

Mr. Governor of Missouri, said that so far as Lancaster was concerned he had at all times courted the fullest investigation, and the judgment of the people of St. Louis was that the officer had been guilty of no intentional fraud.

THE PIOUS PROHIBITIONISTS.

Beer Carnage at Tecumseh Results in the Arrest of Many Citizens.

AN INDIGNANT MAYOR'S ACTION.

Death of an Esteemed Resident of Kearney—A Wife Beater Sentenced—Additional Crop Reports—Nebraska News.

Tecumseh's Wild Revel.

TECUMSEH, Neb., July 13.—[Special to the Bee.]—Tecumseh has been all upside down for three or four days last past, and all because of prohibition. The saloons were voted out at the last city election, under the Sisson law, and many citizens who indulge their appetite and wish to keep cool have been securing beer by the case. The custom grew to such proportions that prohibition was falling to prohibit, and the temperance council, in its narrow wisdom, passed an ordinance called "the gallon law."

The provisions of this ordinance make it unlawful for any person to have in his possession, at any one time, over one gallon of beer, liquor, etc. A large number of the good citizens concluded that this was carrying the question too far into Africa, and proposed to celebrate the birthday of an ordinance so pressing and vital so virtuous. Accordingly a wagon with a hayrack for a bed, drawn by four horses, was occupied by the brass band, two large wagons filled with citizens, three buggies and a half-dozen horsemen formed a procession and, in the darkness of the night, marched proudly and grandly through the streets and avenues of the painfully pious town.

TECUMSEH'S WILD REVEL.

The long and solemn procession drew up to the mayor's residence, stopped, and the festive revels were indulged in to the accompaniment of a most solemn and sad that the dogs in the immediate neighborhood fairly howled. Before the mayor's home a monument, in the shape of beer bottles—needless to say empty beer bottles—was left standing for the morning sun to kiss. At 12 o'clock the crowd dispersed, the music ceased, and Sunday dawned.

Monday morning the mayor (W. C. Jolly), swore out warrants for the arrest of some fifty persons, among whom were our best and most prominent citizens. Thirty-two warrants have been read up to this evening, and the police are busy with the crowd of curious citizens gathered at the court house to-day to hear the testimony in the case of the alleged rioting.

DEATH OF AN ESTEEMED RESIDENT OF KEARNEY.

KEARNEY, Neb., July 13.—[Special to the Bee.]—A deep gloom was cast over the whole city to-day over the receipt of a telegram from Danville, N. Y., announcing the death of Dr. C. T. Dilline. For the past year he has been falling, and getting no relief but concluding that a trip to his old home at Danville, N. Y., would help him; but getting there, he never recovered any. This morning at 1 o'clock he breathed his last, passing off quietly. After taking a thorough medical course in both this country and Europe, he came to Kearney in 1874 with a wife and child. He was a professional career all before him. He soon proved to be an eminent physician, and his professional services were in great demand. By close attention to business he had accumulated a goodly estate. He was just ready to retire to his home in Danville, N. Y., when he was called to this world. He was buried in the city and will be interred in the city.

NEBRASKA CITY REJOICES.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., July 13.—[Special to the Bee.]—This has been an eventful day for Nebraska City, in which the barnacle was laid on the shelf by his honor, Mayor Larsh, aided by some of the largest taxpayers in the city. In short the waterworks was carried by a vote of 600 in favor and 49 against it. Our city is jubilant over the result. To our efficient mayor, Dr. Larsh, is due much of the credit, standing as he has against many obstacles sent out by the opposite side. To-night our city is lighted up with bonfires in honor of our plucky mayor and the result.

REACHED THEIR QUARTERS.

FORT RICHMOND, Neb., July 13.—[Special to the Bee.]—Company I, Second Infantry, Cavalry, after a long and weary march, reached their quarters to-day. The men were tired and disheveled from the train within a stone's throw of their quarters. The new company takes the place of Company C, Fourth Infantry, which left last week for Idaho. Lieutenant Colonel Fletcher will command the post and will probably superintend its rebuilding.

FATAL FOOLING WITH A PISTOL.

FRIEND, Neb., July 13.—[Special to the Bee.]—About 6 o'clock last evening, as James Bruska was toying with a thirty-two caliber Smith & Wesson's revolver, he was accidentally discharged. The ball took effect about one-half inch under the left eye. Dr. Watson was immediately called, but at this writing is unable to locate the ball. Bruska has a young wife, a Bohemian, about twenty-five years old. His chance for recovery is doubtful.

A WIFE BEATER SENTENCED.

FRIEND, Neb., July 13.—[Special to the Bee.]—Yesterday Ferdinand Arndt, a German, was fined $50 and costs, and committed to jail for thirty days, for beating his wife, who has not been living with him for some time, with an iron hoop, and striking her with a chair, and depriving her of her food and giving her $1,000 in his appearance at court.

THE WITNESS WOULDN'T ANSWER.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—Edward Dammen, a witness before the grand jury which is investigating the charges of bribery and corruption, recently preferred against certain members of the house of delegates, was committed to jail this afternoon for refusing to respond to certain questions, the correct answers to which, it is understood, would be most damaging to the cases of the delegates.

THE TANNERS GO OUT.

BOSTON, Mass., July 13.—The great strike or lock-out in tanneries and currying shops at Peabody and Salem was fully inaugurated to-day. In accordance with a vote of 90 per cent of the labor at their meeting last evening the men refused to go to work in the shops where a notice of the executive committee had been posted. The order affects 3,500 men, who are now idle.

THE CONGO COUNTRY.

BRUSKEL, July 13.—Henry M. Stanley has arrived here. France and the Congo state will submit their disputes concerning the Congo frontier surges to the arbitration of Switzerland.

ANOTHER FRENCH EXPULSION.

PARIS, July 13.—The entire French cabinet agreed to the decree expelling the Duke d'Annamite from France.

IOWA'S AUDITOR ACQUITTED.

The Brown Impeachment Trial Results in Favor of the Accused.

A CLOSE CALL ON SOME COUNTS.

Brown to be Reinstated To-day—Murderer Trout Captured in Dakota—A Little Wreck—Other Iowa News.

The Trial Ended.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 13.—The entire day was spent in taking a final vote on the impeachment of Auditor Brown. There were thirty counts to the indictment, and the roll of the entire senate was called on each. The votes for conviction ranged from one to fifteen on the different counts. Three times there were fifteen senators who voted guilty. These were on the articles charging Brown with refusing to give up his office when suspended by the governor and continuing to act as auditor and for his approval of Actuary Vail's claim for the examination of the Iowa insurance companies. Altogether twenty-one different persons voted for conviction. Of these thirteen were republicans and eight were democrats. There not being two-thirds of fifty senators voting guilty, Brown was acquitted and will probably be reinstated to-morrow. The trial has lasted eight weeks and cost about thirty thousand dollars.

MURDERER TROUT HOOKED.

STOXT CITY, Ia., July 13.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Trout, the murderer of Ed. S. Hatch, was caught to-day at Pakwaga, Dak. City Marshal Chamberlain, of Dakota, telegraphed here early to-day that he thought he had Trout, and asked for a good description of him. This was at once sent. Trout was making his way to a friend near Pakwaga. He wore a blue blouse and was close shaven. Sheriff McDonald left here yesterday, he having learned that the fugitive was in that section, and no doubt has his man already and will bring him back to court. This news brought the cold-blooded murderer fresh in the public mind again, and a very real feeling of relief is beginning to be exhibited.

A DUBUQUE ATTORNEY IN TROUBLE.

DUBUQUE, Ia., July 13.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—O. W. Rogers, a prominent attorney of West Union, is being examined here, charged with using clear stamps twined. He claims the superintendent of his factory did it without his knowledge, which is denied, and the case is malitiously prosecuted brought by a shoekeeper he entered prohibition against.

MILITIA IN CAMP.

MARSHAL CAMP, Ia., July 13.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The officers of the First Regiment, Second brigade, are attending a school of instruction, beginning this afternoon. General Beeson, commanding the Second brigade, has also recommended this place for the encampment in August, which probably settles matters.

TRAINS WRECKED.

CHESTON, Iowa, July 13.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—A head collision between a freight and passenger train yesterday afternoon resulted in the destruction of the engines and ten cars. No one injured.

POVERTY STRICKEN MINERS.

HUMAN BEINGS MERCELESSLY SQUEEZED AND EVICTED FROM THEIR HOMES. ST. LOUIS, July 13.—The situation at Gray Creek, Ill., where the miners are on a strike for higher wages, becomes more serious every day. The miners are now reduced to no laborers except themselves small work the mines and the operators are just as determined they will conduct the business without interference or dictation from any body of men. A force of thirty-five deputies are constantly guarding the property. A large number of strikers are now being brought from Kentucky last week to take the strikers' places and remained at work unmolested until yesterday, when an armed mob of 300 white miners marched to the mines and expelled the negroes. The negroes should return whence they came. After an extended party the colored men were driven from the mines, and the operators' aversibility in continuing at work. Meantime mines are idle and the strikers are destitute. The mining company have evicted from their homes all the negro families, in all about a thousand men, women and children. Those who have no money to buy their food, are now being driven into the woods and built huts, where they live in the most abject poverty. Many have no clothing to cover them and the pitiable condition of the strikers scarcely prevents starvation.

HE IS DETAINED BY HIS LADY LOVE ON A CRIMINAL CHARGE.

NEW YORK, July 13.—William H. Gilder, who intended to leave New York this afternoon and join the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceed on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New London, Conn., and proceeded on her way to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the north pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of assaulting a woman. Gilder is a member of the Manhattan Elevated railway company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainant. She said she was with Gilder in the whaling schooner, Eva, at New