EDMUNDS DOSED BY BLACK JACK

The Vermont Senator More Pesticiferous Than the Anarchists—The House Overrides One of Cleveland's Pension Vetoes.

The Senate's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—In the senate, the house bill increasing the pension of John Ryan and the senate bill granting a pension to James Noyes were taken up and passed.

The next bill passed was a house bill granting a pension of $25 monthly to Miss Mary A. Adams, who had acted as a nurse, a day nurse and superintendent of nurses, at Frederick, Md.

After ten more pension bills were passed, the senate resumed consideration of the river and harbor bill. The reading of the bill with the original amounts reduced 25 per cent was proceeded with.

The reading was temporarily interrupted and messages from the house were presented insisting on its disagreement of three or four amendments to the legislative appropriation bill.

The amendment gave rise to an amusing colloquy between Messrs. Logan and Edmunds, in which the latter made some ridicule on the other. Mr. Edmunds alluded to Mr. Logan as always having a chip on each shoulder.

Mr. Logan, while admitting there were some people in the senate who were law-abiding, denied that any of them were so "pestiferous" as the senator from Vermont.

Mr. Vest moved to increase the appropriation for the Missouri river from $37,500,000 to $40,000,000 and for the navigation, the amendment was rejected—39 to 29.

Mr. Vest moved to increase the appropriation for the Mississippi river from $18,000,000 to $20,000,000. The amendment was tabled—20 to 19.

The committee amendment reducing the appropriation 25 per cent was then agreed to—24 to 18.

The bill then passed—42 to 14. The senate then took up the naval appropriation bill. The amendments were all agreed to, the bill passed and the senate adjourned.

In the House. WASHINGTON, July 16.—The house resumed consideration of the river and harbor bill on the legislative appropriation bill.

Mr. Cannon moved that the house recede in its disagreement to the senate amendment providing for an increase of the clerical force of the civil service commission.

Mr. Matson then called up the veto message on the granting of a pension to Elizabeth Luce. In this case the majority of the committee recommended that the bill pass, notwithstanding the veto of the president.

The speaker announced that the question was on the passage of the bill. The yeas were 124 and the nays 134.

The house refused to pass the bill over the veto—yeas, 122; nays, 137.

The house then took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of pension bills.

At its evening session, the house passed one pension bill and adjourned.

NEBRASKA LAND DISTRICTS. The boundaries of the new ones to be fixed.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Representative Dorsey to-day stirred up Land Commissioner Sparks in reference to fixing the boundaries of the opening of the two new land districts in Nebraska.

Mr. Dorsey has called a number of times to see why this work was not done, so that the offices could be opened, and was each time informed that the secretary of state had not yet certified the bill the passage of the bill regarding the districts.

Mr. Dorsey called upon the secretary of state and was informed that the law had been promptly certified to the secretary of the interior.

Upon calling on Secretary Lamar it was denied that Commissioner Sparks had some time ago been notified of the proper certification of the law by the secretary of state.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE

The Meeting in St. Paul—Noble Views Exchanged.

ST. PAUL, July 15.—In the conference of charities and corrections this morning, Dr. W. B. Fletcher, of Indianapolis, declared that the great obstacle in his state was political prejudice against reform institutions.

The great end to be obtained is the reform of habits and the knowledge of industrial pursuits. Mrs. Hendricks, widow of the late vice-president, being asked to speak, depicted Mrs. Keeley, superintendent of the woman's reformatory at Indianapolis. She gave a good and interesting description of the work of the institution. It was necessary to keep the women employed in sewing and needlework. Judge Follet, of the supreme court of Ohio, read a report from the state superintendent, stating that the law of Ohio prohibiting children under sixteen years of age from being placed in an infirmary was not fully observed because no penalty was attached.

GERMAN THEATRE.

It Will Have a Special Play To-Night.

This evening there will be a special grand performance in the summer garden of the Stadt theatre on Tenth street, near Howard. It will consist of the comic opera "Flora Baraboo," the music of which is some of the most fascinating ever written by Von Suppe.

The cast of the opera will comprise the leading members of the company. Messrs. Puls, Horsch, Bauris, Eising, Lindebaum, Elias, Gaudis, Emil, Eising, and Minna Brandt, the daughter of John Brandt, whose singing two weeks ago was remarkable. This performance is given in commemoration of the presence of delegates to the Plattdeutschers' convention.

The Plattdeutschers.

The only delegates from abroad who arrived to attend the meeting of the executive committee of the Plattdeutschers' Verein of North America, reached here Thursday night. They were all from Chicago and consisted of Adolph Kraus, Geo. B. Tarks, Christ Jensen and William Meyer, the president of the central committee.

The object of the morning session was to discuss the live stock market. It was expected that there would be at least thirty delegates from all the places, but it cannot be understood that only Chicago should send her delegates.

The delegates of the morning session were present. The first business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing year with the following result: William Meyer, of Chicago, president; Adolph Kraus, of Chicago, vice-president; Christ Jensen, of Chicago, secretary; and Geo. B. Tarks, of Chicago, treasurer.

TALKS WITH TRAVELERS.

Short Interviews Gathered in the Hotel Rotundas.

G. E. Kraus, Chicago, Neb. (Mr. Kraus is making a flying visit to Omaha on his way to learn the prices of Chicago growers.) "This is not my first visit to this 'metropolis,' as you call it, of yours. I was here three years ago, looking out for a place to settle down in. I had often tried of the east. I had made a little money there, and I wanted to settle down here in a place that would enable me to increase my income by thought favorably. Omaha, but somebody suggested a trip to the northwest. Well I 'carred' and 'staged' and never returned till now. Omaha does not control the trade in any part of the country by any means. She seems not to realize that she has such an opponent as Chicago to contend against, and I don't need to tell you that Chicago is not to be scorned. Yes, I'll admit that I shall be glad to see the grocery men from the state—at least in your part of it and further west, but that is not true of our part. The Chicago druggists in all lines, in our section are increasing. You had thought favorably of Omaha, but somebody suggested a trip to the northwest. Well I 'carred' and 'staged' and never returned till now. Omaha does not control the trade in any part of the country by any means. She seems not to realize that she has such an opponent as Chicago to contend against, and I don't need to tell you that Chicago is not to be scorned. Yes, I'll admit that I shall be glad to see the grocery men from the state—at least in your part of it and further west, but that is not true of our part. The Chicago druggists in all lines, in our section are increasing. You had thought favorably of Omaha, but somebody suggested a trip to the northwest.
