A Short Lesson in Political Economy. To the Editor of the BEE: Under the above caption the Omahn Herald of July affected at the coming session of the law makers. Among the clerks in attendance 14th says: "If congress were to reduce arc J. A. Piper, Harlan: W. B. Raper, Paw-nee; J. M. Robinson, Cass; Mr. Cook, Washington; Mr. Molstine, Burt; and the tariff duties, thereby eliminating the protective feature as Mr. Morrison desires. the public revenue would increase enormously in consequence of increased importation, thus swelling the surplus in the seem to be well mangurated, in so far as treasury far beyond the present enormous the Jim Laird workers are concered, and total. That would compel the abolition tion and Laws for secretary of state the of all internal revenue taxes exactly as Zediker family and the rest of them are Mr. Randall desires to begin to abolish hustling themselves. A former member of the legislature from out in this section them now."

Again in the article following, headed 'Have had enough of Morrison's folly,' it says: "It does not require more than ordinary intelligence to understand that the reduction of internal revenue taxes will compel reduction of tariff duties, or that the lessening of tariff taxes will compel the reduction or abolition of internal revenue taxes."

applicant was given to understand that If the elimination of the protective feano free transportation was given to par-ties who fought the original settler on the Stinking Water. If the elimination of the protective fea-ture as Mr. Morrison desires, according to the above, would abolish all internal revenue taxes "exactly as Mr. Randall desires," why does Mr. Randall oppose Mr. Morrison's measure? And why does the Herald say that we have had enough of Morrison's folly." Sprate the Horald A prominent gentleman in Lincoln remarked after reading of the pugilistic ex-hibition of Laird, that it was a great record for a Nebraska congressman to make to strike a man old chough to be his father, and the same party was emof Morrison's folly ? Surely the Herald ought to be among the last to call any measure foolish that would exactly carry phatic in denouncing such procedures Randall's de The Herald teaches in the above quotation that it is immaterial-at least it does not express a preference-whether we adopt Mr. Randall's method of abolishing internal revenue taxes first and as a necessary consequent reduce the tarifi tax afterward, or Mr. Morrison's plan to reduce the tariff tax afterwards, causing the abolition of the internal revenue tax that in either case the result would be precisely what both gentlemen desired to accomplish. Then we ask again, Why did Mr. Randall and the Omaha Herald oppose the introduction of a measure so happy in results, introduced by the chairman of the committee on whom the duty devolved, backed by four-fifths of his party? Let the Herald answer. "The trouble lies in the fact that the congres-sional espousers of the different theories are too strong-headed to yield anything to each other." Again we ask, "What was there to yield on Mr. Morrison's part? He introduced a bill that, according to the Herald, would accomplish exactly what Mr. Randall desired. Is Mr. Randall then the strong-headed theorist who will yield nothing to an opponent. not even when the measure proposed would accomplish his cherished convictions? Is he the "dog in the manger?" The Herald prescribes a remedy.

The Ringsters at Work to Defeat Van Wyck. YUTAN, Saunders Co., Neb., July 17 -To the Editor of the BEE: Saunders county has a drouth on hand as well as other parts of the state, and whilst the farmers are all sweltering in their fields the old gang of politicians that infest Saunders county are trying to set up the pins for Church Howe for congress, and for the election to the legislature of gang of railrogue strikers, who while they will pretend to be for Van Wyck, will first be ed off into voting for M. B. Reese for United States Senator, and thus held out of the traces until the wires can be woven all around them. Pat Hall, a good solid farmer of this county who was in the last house, will bear watching in this respect. Patrick, when talking to George Fox, and other ring representatives here is "down on old Van," but which ap-proached by his Van Wyck neighbors is all solid. All that is necessary for the tarmers anywhere is to select their own candidates and not leave politics to the awvers and court house rings. By the way: I observe that one Caldwell, blab-mouthed shyster of Lincoln, is a candidate for the legislature from Lancaster county. He spoke here once and spent an hour and a half raining about Van Wyck's republicanism. In fact he entirely torgot what he came for and devoted himself to the task of demolishing the old general's boom. He is probably smiling around now, "as good as ple, ' to get Van Wyck support. From uch as he good Lord deliver us. From the castern part of the county coville, of Valparaiso, is talked of. He is said to be a fair sample of a decent lawyer, but your correspondent does not know him. For senator John Steen, expostoffice inspector, is spoken of as well as is Day, late senator. John is a lead-ing Norwegian, and would poll a heavy vote. Aside from this he is said to be of an observing turn of mind and can be made to see the handwriting on the wall which interpreted looks like this:

"The Saunders county detegate who cells his vote to the railrogue gang," this load of poles' is worse than dead-he tinks.

No one knows hereabouts what Day's proclivities are, in the senatorial ques-lon. He claims to be in favor of whole ome legislation and report says he is for Van Wyck. In this county, or at least this part of it, you can read in the faces of those you meet covered with dust and tan, this epigram:

"No more 14-cent corn, the railroad commission must go," and with this for our watchword we intend to win. General Van Wyck will speak here before the campaign closes.

A Child with Glanders. One day last week the State Veterinary commission ordered the killing of a horse at Fremont which was affected with the glanders. The animal was duly killed, Since then, a child of the owner of the horse has also died, and it is supposed from glanders, caught while tending the diseased animal. A small sore was first developed in the child's eye. It worked thence all over its face and body, break-ing from lumps into openings from which matter' freely flowed. Several doctors examined the case and nearly all have arrived at the conclusion that the disease was contracted from the horse. It is sup-posed that some of the virus from the ffected animal, when the latter was endeavoring to clear his lungs, struck the child's eye and lodged there, with the result mentioned. Dr. Gurth is preparing a report upon the matter and will soon publish it. and the second Coming to Omaba.

Billy Edwards, the Pugilist's, First Meeting With Several Mexicans.

New York Letter to the Boston Globe. Last evening a party of burly Texans were enjoying themselves around one of the mahogany tables in the Hoffman house, when suddenly their merriment was turned to anger. The party helped themselves to one round of drinks and were pouring another out of the bottle when Billy Edwards, who has a kind of superintendence of the place, called a waiter's attention to the fact, and begged him not to forget to charge for it. Billy simply did this as a precaution. The waiter, however, stupidly supposed that watter, however, stupinty supposed that the gentiemen were trying to get a drink without paying for it. He approached the party as if they were dead-beats and rudely demanded pay for a drink which they had not yet taken. The gentlemen were indignant, and it looked for a mo-ment as if they would make matters uncomfortably animated for the waiter. He seeing that he had made a mistake, threw the blame on Edwards, to whom he pointed

'Why don't that dude mind his own business?" asked the largest of the party "I guess I could knock the fellow over with my little finger. I'll just show him how we treat such people down in our country.

"Come here, you poor dude, until I swallow you," said another of the party, as he beckoned to Edwards.

As Billy advanced innocently, a third member of the party remarked, "He'll scare the little feilow to death, any-WO.

'Look ahere," cried the biggest Texan, firmly seizing Edwards' coat, "I'll-The threat was cut short by Colonel fom Ochiltree, who was one of the party, aying: "Hold on, boys, this is a mistake. This dude is a good fellow. Let me introuce you to him. Gentlemen, allow o introduce to you the celebrated Billy dwards, the champion light-weight of the American prize ring, and let nie add that be is not a dude."

The fellow escaped.

Chicago Herald; The story is going the rounds that a polite Chicago burglar entered the house of a beautiful lady who immediately fainted, whereupon he imimmediately fainted, whereupon he im-mediately ransacked the bouse at his leisure. A few days thereafter the lady received a note from him, in which he said: "Dear madam, as you lay upon the floor the other day you looked so lovely that 1 was strongly impelled to kiss you, but the instinct of a gentleman provented me." Chicago Herald: The startling intelligence comes across the water that the celebrated Jersey "Lily," Mrs. Langtry, is getting fat. The transatlantic reporter kindly adds the information that this condition is due to extravagant indulgence in table luxuries. It is well enough to be exact in a case of this kind. Changing the subject slightly, it wouldn't occasion more surprise to the public at large to hear that a bed post or fence rail or even Bernhardt had taken on symptoms of obesity.

Fire Law Violation.

Councilman Schroeder, on yesterday, pointed out to a BEE reporter a violation of the fire ordinauce in a shed on Thirteenth street, immediately north of the Union Pacific track. in general. There are a great many others in this city who view the affair in the same light despite the fact that the local morning paper published columns of highly colored dispatches that at-tempted to show a feeling of justification for Laird existing in Washington. A man that resorts to arguments by force of fists to defend his record would be a good hand to contest some district with John L. Sullivan. It would be a contest removed from any basis of high moral standing, and the winner could select his seat in the house backed with a record.

THE CROP OF NOTARIES. Since the first of January there have been issued between five and six hundred commissions to notaries public and still the work gces on. These commissions are about equally divided between new applicants and renewals of former commissions, and form the bulk of the work for the governor's office or for the head official in that office, who affixes his sign manual to the documents with a flow of ink that is emblematical in itself of the greatness of the donor of notarial favors. Judging by the way school bonds for school buildings pour into the state of-fices to be approved and made a matter of record, the state will soon reach the haleyon vista of a "schoolhouse on every hill," and a good one at that. Holt county, for $230, and the bonds of district 53, Jefferson county, for $400, all bearing the usual rate of interest.

The trouble with the prescription is that the demo with the prescription is that the demo-cratic party is a strong-headed espouser of different theories from those enter-tained by Mr. Randall and the Omaha Herald, and refuses to depose Morrison. But even if Mr. Hewitt or Mr. Carlisle were substituted for Mr' Morrison, what comfort would this bring to the strong-headed espouser of Randallism while one of them agrees with Mr. Morrison in every particular and the other supparts him in particular and the other supports him in all essentials?

ing stores at Denison and Atlantic. They have decided to open a large clothing store in Omaha, and are here for the purpose of securing a suitable location. Block & Heyman have been engaged in their line of business in lowa for ten years, and have established a reputation for fair dealing and business stability that has secured for them an abundant success They are both young men of fine business ability, and come to Omaha to find a larger field for their enterprising spirits than is furnished them in smaller towns. Their business will be conducted on a large scale and in a manner that will commend patronage.

Tricky Horse Traders.

Al Davis and Tom Butler, belonging to a pack of horse traders who have been camping near the city for the past few days, were brought before Justice Anderson vesterday on a charge of horse stealing On Saturday they had met an old farmer named A. T. Smith, and proposed to trade animals. Smith agreed and the transfer took place. When the trade was made, Smith found that he had been put in possession of an old plug, hardly able to walk. He at once had the two men thrown into jail, but Sunday a compro-mise was offered, and Smith yesterday failed to appear against the tricky horse traders, consequently they were released.

A Land Mark Burned.

Early yesterday morning the small two story frame cottage, known as the Platt Saunders homestead, the possession session of Shull & Holuf, was completely destroyed by fire. No alarm was sent to the fire 'department. The building was destroyed and was unoccupied at the time. It was insured for six hundred dollars. It was one of the oldest houses in that part of the city. is said that it was saturated with kerosene and was doubtless burned by an incendiary.

Blockading the Streets.

The great rush of business which the Union Pacific has experienced for several days back has led to serious detention of vehicles at the Thirteenth street crossing Some of the passengers on the line of cars on that street say that they have been detained by switching and stationery cars at that crossing, as much as twenty-live minutes. The delays yester-
