Destructive Fire at Neola. NEOLA, In., July 26.—[Special to the Bre.]
-This morning about 3:30 o'clock fire broke out in a wooden shed in the rear of Richard & Hegarty's building on Third street, and rapidly spread until the entire block was destroyed, seven buildings in all. The town is without any fire protection, and it was useless to try to do anything with buckets, the flames being under quick headway and the heat so intense that little could be done beyand saving some of the contents of buildings. Richard & Hegarty's two story frame building in the rear of which the fire started, was a total loss. It was insured for $2,500, while the loss was fully $3,000. The building was a total loss. It was insured for $2,500, while the loss was fully $3,000. The building was occupied as a saloon by August Rudiger, who resided upstairs. He barely escaped with his life. Rudiger's insurance was $550, which will nearly cover his loss. The one story frame buildings, owned by D. J. Farrell, were burned, Loss $900, insured for $500. One of these buildings was occupied by J. A. C. Whitney as a general store, whose stock was fully insured, and he suffered only a partial loss. The Neola Reporter office was located in one of these buildings, and its loss is but partial and is covered with insurance. The shoe shop and dwelling of J. McCarthy, a two-story frame building, was a total loss of $600, and he had no insurance. The Central house, owned by E. Seiverts, was burned to the ground, but some of the furniture was saved. Loss $2,000, insured for $1,500. A two-story frame, owned and occupied by Pat Bernel of the furniture was saved. Loss $2,000, insured for $1,500. A two-story frame, owned and occupied by Pat Ryan as a saloon and dwelling, was burned to the ground. Loss S1,200, insured for S600. The flames were so hot that some damage was done to business property on the opposite side of the street, but not any serious loss beyond insurance. The total loss by the are is estimated at not less than $10,000.

It is thought that the fire was an incendi-ary one, as there was nothing in or about the shed where the fire broke out to cause any blaze. As soon as it became evident that the fire was a serious one help was asked for from Council Bluffs. A steamer was sent but it arrived too late to be of any service. Everything was dry, and the building being of frame the flames spread so quickly that it was impossible to stay them. The steamer from the Bluffs came through here, a distance of twenty-two miles, in twenty-five The insurance companies having losses are

The Crop Prospect. CHICAGO, July 26.—The following crop summary appears in this week's issue of the Farmer's Review: The prolonged drouth, which is almost unprecedented in its length and severity, is beginning to have very serious effects upon all late crops. The spring wheat outlook has been in nowise improved, and the average condition of crops has declined. Since July 1, when the Farmers' Review indicated that the probable total wheat yield of the United States would not exceed the round total of 420,000,000 bushels, the tenor of the reports indicate this estimate will have to be reduced by from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels. Reports from Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota, do not indicate an average vield of six to ten bashels to the acre with many nelds entirely rained. Corn is reported very uneven in Michigan, Il-linois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska, and while looking clean is in need of rain, and a shortage in the yield is threatened. In Minnesota corn is looking well, but it is beginning to feel the effects of the drought. The oat crop will fail short, with promise not to exceed one-half and average yield in Wisconsin and Minnesota, and three-fourths an average yield in Illinois, Michigan and Iowa. With the exception of Minnesota, the potato crop is threatened with failure, few of the reports indicate more than one-half a yield, and in many sections complete failure. Pasturage in all northwestern states is reported as short, and in large sections, rained. In portions of Wisconsin cattle are already given feed, owing to an ingbility to obtain sustenance in the dried up pasture lands. The fault crop in Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin is very promising. six to ten bushels to the acre with many

A STARVING PEOPLE.

Score in Labrador.

St. Jours, N. F., July 26,-The Canadian government will send a steamer from Quebec to the coast of Newfoundland and Labrador to carry such donations as charitably disposed persons may desire to send to the starving people there. The Indian guide and government interpreter, who has just re turned from Cape Chidley, the extreme northwestern point of Labrador reached by sledge, gives a heartrending account of the terrible destitution and suffering which the Esquimanx and Indian farmers are enduring slong the Labrador coast. On cape Chidley, 250 souls are distributed over an area or several miles. The entire food supply gave out early in March. The sealcatch was very small. As season wore on seal failed to come near enough to shore to be eaught. The cold was Intense and many of the older people died of exposure and lack of nourishment. On June 12, when the guide left, the mercury stood at 18 below zero and had been lower. The lee for severa hundred miles was solid for a depth of fron ten to 100 feet, and snow was piled mountain ten to 100 feet, and snow was plied mountain high. At least eighty persons have perished since March, between Cape Chidley and Cape Mugford, and the only survivors were found in rude slannies along the coast. They accompanied the guide to Cape Mugford The bodies of eighteen victims were found frozen stiff. The clothes had been taken from them, evidently to help keep life in the bodies of the miserable survivors, who in turn had died while out fishing, or after seals. Seventeen bodies were found along here. Twenty-two persons are known to have per-Twenty-two persons are known to have perished at Cape Mngford, where on June 29, there were only twenty barrels of meat and forty barrels of corn flour. The residents, numbering about 300 persons, were worn and pinched from famine and cold. In the outlying districts at least one-half of the population had died. There was no sign of the ice breaking up, and the natives had nothing to exchange for food or clothing. Seventy-five Esquimaux from Austoria, six miles from the cape, made an attack on the stores at Mugford. The men were rendered desperate by their sufferings.

THE MULE.

How to Prevent It From Braying-An Incident of the Civil War.

Major Randolph in Baltimore American: It is said that a mule cannot bray if you tie a weight to its tail and hold it down. This was touchingly illustrated in the cavalry movements that preceded the second battle of Manassas. General Stuart, with a large force of cavalry maneuvreing around the retreating army of Pope, got caught between two columns of the union troops and was obliged to conceal himself in a dense wood between two parallel roads along which the enemy were retreating. He had to lie low at night until the columns passed by. Messengers that the union generals sent to each other through the woods were captured and held with as little noise as possible. One great diffi-culty was to keep the mules in the ordinance and commissary wagons from braying and thus calling the attention of the foe. For this purpose Stuart ordered a man to de detailed to stand by each mule and whack him with a stick as soon as he offered to bray, for a mule, like an orator, requires a certain preparation before beginning his neat and propriate vocal exercises. There is a preliminary protest made with the ears and certain solemnities of the nostrils, an expression of sorrow overspreads the countenance, then the tail is lifted. A bray does not break forth from the lips of the mule. It begins way back in the abdominal viscera and comes gradually up. Now, as soon as the cavalry mule began to prepare for a bray, whack! whack! would go the sticks, and the bray would be suppressed—and this all night. It was said that this was needless severity, for it would have sufficed to tie a brickbat to the tail of each mule.

A Widow's Bank. Wall Street News: An Ohio widow owned a large gravel-bank which a cerain railroad company was very anxious to secure. Several propositions were made and rejected, and the president finally sent his private secretary down with instructions to offer up to $14,000. South Omaha Strikers.

Since the strike of G. H. Hammond & 'o.'s beef butchers, the men employed at the stock yards have been very quiet and nothing has occurred to break the monotony of the every day round of labor until yesterday. For several days past there has been a feeling of dissatisfaction spreading among the laborers employed by the contractors, Riley & Delaney, on Fowler Bros.' packing house, which culminated yesterday in a strike. The laborers, who have been paid 20 cents an hour for an eight hour day, struck for $3 per day. The contractors refused to accede to the demands of the laborers and put their refusal in a more emphatic form by promptly discharging the dissatisfied men and paying them off. Their plan was to engage a new gang of men the next day, but at that moment a new factor came into the field. The bricklayers threw down their trowels and quit work, declaring that they would not work with any new men and would not return to work until the old men were taken back. The contractors declined giving any answer to the men without a little time to consider and work on the building was postponed for the day. The men adjourned to Bruno Strathman's place, to talk over their grievances and decide upon a course of action. Some of the brick layers did not seem at all pleased at the turn affairs had taken, and complained that after they had struck to help out the laborers, the laborers wanted everything their own way and would not hearken to the brick layers. The contract ors sent word to the men that they would give them an answer at 7 o'clock this morning, and it is quite probable that the differences will be adjusted without further difficulty.

He Loses a Large Amount of Money

Near Denver. Ex-Governor Fairchild, of Wisconsin whose short visit to Omaha last week is pleasantly remembered, met with bad luck just before reaching Denver. A short distance from the city he handed his pocketbook to his daughter to care for while he went to another portion of the train to see some of his fellow travelers about the programme during the Denver visit. When the main rolled into the depot and the ex-governor with the other passengers had alighted, the former asked his daughter, for the pocketbook, She had it not, and a quick return was made to the special Pullman sleeper. Notwithstanding a thorough search ensued under, over and through the seats, in grips, valises, wraps, etc., no pocketbook could be located. It contained checks and drafts for the amount of $1,000, in money $800, and all the governor's railroad passes and several very important private papers. The police and detectives were immediately notified, and they went to work at once. The first step taken was the arrest of the conductor and porter of the car, but at fast accounts there was no tangible clue to the missing money. A VALUABLE WORK, Wolf's Nebraska State Gazetteer. We have had left upon our table for examination the fifth volume of the Nebraska State Gazetteer and Business Di rectory, J. M. Wolfe & Co., publishers. In addition to the practical information embodied in the Gazetteer of former years, many features of special value have been included in the issue of 1886. A general description of Nebraska, its productions, soil, climate, natural advantages, railway facilities, etc., gives an adequate idea of the commercial importance of the state. The work comprising about 1,100 pages, is supplied with a complete. classified, directory of all business houses in the state, together with the names of all state, country, and city officials, postoffices, newspapers, religious, military and civic societies in each place, the resident and officiating elergy with the churches over which they preside, the populalation of towns and such data as is not accessible elsewhere. The value of the volume is further enhanced by a complete list of all farmers in Nebraska with their postoffice addresses. A map of the state, revised especially for this work, and corrected to date, locating all railroads, counties, cities and towns, will be found vastly superior to those hereto-fore circulated. As an example of faithful work, systematic arrangement and typographical neatness, the Gazetteer of reflects much credit upon Messrs. Wolfe & Co., whose experience in the publica-tion of works of this character enables them to meet the demands of the times. The present volume will be ready for de livery early in the coming week.

SEEKING LEGAL REDRESS. A Heavy Damage Suit-Still After Trostler.

Creditors of Simon Trostler, the cigar manufacturer, are still seeking to recover claims against him through the courts. Two suits were filed against him yesterday afternoon and attachments against the stock issued by Judge Wakeley. One of these was in favor of Friedman & Co., for $849.65, and one of Ullman, Bloom & Co., for $458,30. Trostler's stock is now the nands of mortgage holders.

Frank Kubovec has commenced suit against C. W. Edgerton and Ira Von Camp for $5,000 damages. He charges that on July 12 he was arrested by Edgerton on the charge of having stolen a lo of cord wood from Von Camp. He was tried before Justice Berka and found not guilty. He claims that he has been greatly injured in reputation, body and mind, wherefere he asks judgment for damages in the sum named.

Aurelia E. Knapp has brought suit to recover $1,000 from Constable George Karl for a lot of goods taken from her by Kari on an attachment.

Greener Than a Nebraska Pasture. Confidence men are reaping quite a harvest in this city now and it seems as easy for them to gather in the rustics as rolling off a log. A young German from South Bend came to Omaha last week and having been six years in the west and being an apparently intellegent mechanic it was not thought necessary to have a guardian appointed for him. At the depot he met a stranger and was soon on the spider's web. The latter had some baggage up town and he asked the South Bend man to go along with him and and assist him with it to the train.

Of course he did. On the way up Tenth street the usual confederate was met, and the oft told tale of immediate payment on a storage bill was given, and the result was that the South Bend man made a Was that the South Bend had in the loan of $21, all the money he had in the world. He waited many hours, as per agreement, for a return of the shekels, and is waiting yet. His two new made friends have undoubtedly ere this blown in his money for their pleasure, in th mean time laying snares for the next fool whom they can catch. It would add variety, however, to the many items of this kind if the con. men would only get up a new scheme for entrapping the Circus Men Left. The Great Eastern Circus is not a colossal consolidated show, nor does it visit very large places, being content with smarl favors from small cities and villages. Sanday its two cars came down from Blair and went to Plattsmouth. The menagerie consisted of a single camel who solitary and alone looked quite deserted. There were some good horses with the party and quite a corps of thipfloppers, etc., and the usual retinue of tent lifters. Several of the male portion of the troupe took a stroll up town while waiting for the train and lavished their hard earned funds on beer. When they returned to the depot lo and behold their ears were gone and Plattsmouth twenty five miles away! Barnum, Forepaugl old John Robinson, or some of their sta performers would have immediately chartered a locomotive, but the Great Eastern people have not reached that stage in the arena work yet. They had to consider the condition of the walking or the probability of an empty box car being taken down the road. they had to skirmish. The fact that they have disappeared indicates that they made the riffe some way.

It Gets There Every Time. Mention was made in these columns a day or so ago of a lady named Deane, of Plattsmouth, looking for her husband in this city. The very evening of the annonncement, every male reader in Omaha and towns adjacent were cognizant of needed for food and lodging, she kindly provided the funds, and Duff Green put on his high hat and escorted Mrs. Deane to a hotel. Then the buzzing of the BEE raised her friends in Plattsmouth, and they telephoned to advance her anything that was needed and all would be right. Two or three other gentiemen and ladies had read the BEE, and they came to the depot and were only too anxious to do all in their power far the stranger. ally the husband. Etheredge Deane, saw the article and immediately sought out his wife, and they are now as happy as a butterfly on a blossom.

"Confound it," said Mr. Deane, "I believe that BEE is read by everyone in the United States and part of New Jersey. I believe I have had two hundred people tell me about my wife being here Thus the good work goes on, and the BEE daily adds to its good work of in-struction and news-spreading that of bringing happiness and pleasure to the hearthstope.

The New Bridge.

Work on the piers of the new railroad bridge is progressing rapidly notwithstanding disadvantages caused by pass ing trains. There are about 100 men employed and the masons under Charles Stears, a veteran in such work, have two piers completed. Three more have to be built and it is expected everything will be ready for the superstructure March next. The piers already finished are magnificent specimens of solid masonry. They are of granite and rest on sunken eassons which rest on rock bottom and are filled with concrete, making them really stone for all practical purposes. The granite work commences about twenty feet below the surface of the water; the founda tion of the piers are 60x19, and the heigh 108 feet of masonry. The old bridge will be gradually taken down as work on the new structure permits. The contractor, Mr. Cobalt, is one of the oldest and most prominent bridge builders in the country. The magnificent structure at Plattsmouth is a neighboring gradual of his skill. is a neighboring specimen of his skill and thorough workmanship, and what he has already done on the Omaha bridge fully justifies the faith placed in him.

Trains Behind Time. The Rock Island train made a bad break last evening by not showing up at the transfer at the usual hour. Inquiry elicited the information that the train was five hours behind time, the delay being caused by being wrecked near Van Meter, Ia. The engine and two cars were thrown from the track, but no one was injured. The evening train from Denver was two hours and twenty minutes be hind time, caused by waiting for the Rio Grande train, which in turn was delayed by a washout,

More Soap For Omaha. Secretary Nattinger, of the board o trade, has received a communication from Williamson, Crane & Co., manufac turers of soap and perfumes, of Janes ville, Wis., asking what inducements will be offered them to remove their large establishment to this city. Nattinger has replied that grounds for the plant will be provided and probably stock taken in the enterprise

SCINTILLATIONS FROM SH

Foreible Facts and Comments Cheyenne County. Smsky, Neb., July 25 .- | Corre ence of the BEE. |-The people of t enne county have heard with indigna. of the efforts being made to retease Har W. Hall from the state penitentiary, upon some technical points of law. The murder of Con Schlegel in 1880 is still fresh in the memory of the people here. It was unprovoked and brutal in the extreme. Hall's motive was the robbery of the safe of C. A. Moore, at Camp Clarke, to conceal the evidences of his crime by slaying the only witness. After knocks ing Schlegel down with the butt end of a revolver, Hall shot him three times, killing him instantly. Before he could escape, the constable at the bridge captured him and brought him here for trial He waived preliminary examination and could have been linched at once but that wiser counsel prevailed. At the following term of the district court he plead guilty to murder in the second degree and Judge Gaslin sentenced him to imprisonment for life. At the time he claimed to be a relative of Ex-Governor Albinus Nance. Since his incarceration he has been cluef clerk at the penitentiary. If justice is now to be made a hallow mockery, western Ne-braska will not stand the high-handed outrage. Dr. Mathewson of Lincoin has Hall's entire pedigree.

The Sidney and Lodge Pole base ball clubs played an interesting game here yesterday. Score—Sidney, 23; Lodge Pole, 13. Plenty of rain has fallen in this vicinity lately and the merchants and farmers are happy. Corn, oats, millet and flax look excellent. There will be an abundance of hay cut all over the county. Potatoes and other vegetables are thriving and there will be large crops.

Notwithstanding the extraordinary fabrications of H. B. Rumsey of Omaha, our country still lives and will be a - sight more prosperous than the Cozzens Robert S. Oberfelder, the leading clothier and Lodge Pole speculator, is now east superintending the manufacture of Oberfelder & Co.'s fall stock,

The Bee is the universal paper here and a man might as well do without his meals as to miss his paper. The news-boy sells it on the street before 7 a. m. General Morrow, Mayor Boyle, Cap-tain Ebstein, Captain Miles, and Licu-tenant Patten left to-day for Cheyenne to attend the court martial of Lieutenant M Bain, Ninth Cavalry.

General Thayer and Col. Livering-house were here last Tuesday and helped to institute a G. A. R. encampment at Kimball. The general is quite a favorite We are afraid our genial friend, H. F.

Ciarke, will not get a heavy support from western Nebraska for nomination as governor. His high charges at his toll oridge at Camp Clarke has busted his littie boomlet here, for the grangers are dead against him. He had better take a trip out here and repair his fences. OAKLAND'S OFFERING.

Sent Question. OAKLAND, Neb., July 26 .- [Correspondence of the BEE.]-As yet we have had no rain and everything is drying up. The apple crop will be almost a failure, and also corn unless it rains soon. Polities are beginning to be agitated.

Burt County Politics-The County

In nominating candidates for the legislature the issue will be whether the men are Van Wick men or not. From the outlook now, we think that Burt county will send two men to the legislature who will be first and last for Van Wyck. Considerable ill feeling is being raised against our county commissioners for their unwise course in appropriating $1,500 to build cells for a jail, owned and built by Tekamah. This question of building new jail has been submitted to the voters of the county twice, and both times the voters have said by their ballots, nearly unanimously, no new jail in the northeast corner of the countynot until the county seat is permanently located. Now, as Tekamah no doubt thinks to forever settle the question of removing the county seat, she agrees to furnish the building if the county will the cells. This action of the commissioners assuming so much authority against the will of the voters is receiving their bitter condemnation.

IMPORTANT CONSOLIDATION. Big Earnings of the Chicago & North western Railroad. Cmcago, Ills., July 26.—An important move is announced to-day in the consolidation of the Erie & Pacific despatch and South Shore fast freight line offices in Chicago. Both are divisions of the Eric despatch but have worked heretofore over different east-bound lines. Harmonious relations being now restored between Erie, Chicago and the Atlantic, it is the intention to concentrate business over the latter road. This will take away from Pennsylvania a large amount of provision and dressed beef traffic enjoyed by it for the past year. The consolidation taks effect August flist.

Advance sheets of the annual report of the Chicago & Northwestern railway just issued shows that the gross earnings of the company's lines east of the Missouri river, comprising 2.945 miles of road, were $24,3:9,599, an increase of $777,514 over 1885. The operating expenses were $131,567, an increase of $53,794, leaving net earnings of $10,420,3:3. The report is made for the twelve months ending May 31. Afternoon Conflagrations.

An alarm of fire called the department to 112 North Fourteenth street at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon where the stable of F. Dellone was found to be burning. The structure was of frame, dry as a tinder and filled with hay and the mre spread rapidly and before the arrival of the department had connected with the kitchen of a residence owned by Charles McCormick and occupied by Mrs. Byers. The flames were subdued in good time, but not until the barn and adjoining sheds had been destroyed and the roof of the residence somewhat injured. The damage will not exceed $50), all of which is covered by insurance. An alarm of fire at 5:45 o'clock was oc-casioned by a small blaze in the house at the corner of Eleventh and Capitol ave nue which was extinguished without the aid of the department.
