

THE AMSTERDAM SLAUGHTER

Burial of the Victims of the Police in Holland's Capital.

SOCIALIST OUTBREAK FEARED. The Stopping of the National Game of Football—Hating Considered an Outrage—A Talk With a Revolutionary Leader.

The Twenty-five Funerals.

AMSTERDAM, July 30.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to the Bee.]—The burials of the twenty-five victims of the Dutch national game of football, which took place on the morning of the 23rd, were held on the 28th. The day was marked by no violent outbreak, but public sentiment is thoroughly aroused, and I am assured by leaders of the popular socialist movement that a veritable revolution may be expected during the coming winter.

TRAMP OF THE INFANTRY PATROLS. Several hundred of these patrols are on duty in the northern part of the Linderzeel canal, the scene of the late fight. Small knots of people, many of them women, stood talking in low voices and with threatening looks, but there was no violence attempted.

PURSED WOOD COFFINS. Each numbered with chalk, but with no name, were brought out by the hired mourners and placed in the hearse.

CAUSE OF THE RIOTS. The following conversation took place: Correspondent.—"What was the real cause of the riots, Herr Nieuwenhuis?"

ROBERTSON OF HAMLET. My interpretation of the play are they going to be buried together in one grave?"

THE GRAVE DIGGER SAID: "These are our orders." In half an hour the first funeral arrived, that of Johannes Pym, sixty-one years of age.

THE NEXT FUNERAL WAS THAT OF BERNARD WILH, thirty-five years old, followed by the entire guild of Amsterdam boatmen, wearing black caps.

INTERVIEWING THE BURGOMASTER. In the afternoon I was recruited by the burgomaster of Amsterdam, Van't Hofen.

THE FOLLOWING INCIDENT shows the feeling among the low classes. This afternoon we went to see the scene of the late fight.

THE IOWA PRESS PICNIC. SPIRIT LAKE, Iowa, July 30.—The annual picnic of the Iowa Press association by George D. Perkins, of the Sioux City Journal, on the duties and responsibilities of editors, was delivered to-day.

IT LOOKS DARK FOR REVOLUTION. NEW YORK, July 30.—The physician who has examined President Arthur's disease says he has killed Bright's disease and indigestion, which has killed so many nobles.

A TEMPERANCE WORKER OF DEATH. BURLINGTON, July 30.—Mrs. Mary P. Darwin, a prominent leader in temperance and religious work in Iowa, died suddenly this evening.

PASSED IN ANOTHER SHAPE.

The Senate Agrees to the Surplus Resolution With Important Changes.

THE RESPONSIBILITY SHIFTED. The President to Decide on Emergencies Instead of the Secretary of the Treasury—Trade Duties at Par.

The Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The senate resumed consideration of the house joint resolution directing the payment of the surplus in the treasury on the public debt, and was addressed by Mr. Teller (in continuation of the speech begun by him yesterday), in favor of the original resolution, and against the amendment reported by the senate committee on finance.

Mr. Teller spoke in support of the resolution as it came from the house. He believed that the house of representatives in passing the joint resolution 297 to 65 reflected the wishes of the people, and he proposed to be obedient to the popular heft.

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend the amendment to the surplus resolution by substituting the president for the secretary of the treasury, so that it will read: "When, in the opinion of the president, public interests will require it, he may direct the secretary of the treasury to suspend the call of the bill."

WILL HAVE TO WORK HARD

A Big Grit for the Senate to Grind Before Adjournment.

ONLY A SHORT TIME TO DO IT IN. Nebraska's Delegation After Its Share to Improve Fort Robinson—Cleveland to Drop Rejected Negotiations—Washington News.

Big Work for Short Hours.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—It may be that final adjournment of congress is near at hand, according to programme, but certainly it does not appear so. In order to get through on Monday, as proposed, everything will have to be finished up to-morrow night, and it is hard to see how the senate can do what remains for it to do before then.

There is also a long calendar of unconfirmed nominations. The senate has proved on many occasions that it is industrious and capable of quick and hard work, but even these two hours between now and Sunday morning, the most serious obstacle in the way of adjournment on Monday is the sundry civil appropriation bill. There are 246 clauses upon which there are disagreements, and this bill must be passed before adjournment.

THE NEBRASKA DELEGATION. The Nebraska delegation in congress has demanded the prompt designation of their $7,000,000 contained in the regular appropriation of $30,000,000 for keeping forts in repair and will have it applied as soon as possible for the improvement of Fort Robinson. It will be remembered that in the debate on the floor of the house yesterday Mr. Randall, in opposing the specific appropriation bill for Nebraska forts, said enough would be given them by the regular appropriation bill to make the necessary repairs.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SENATE. A member of the Illinois legislature who talked with the president this morning, quotes the latter as saying that in case where the senate fails to act upon the nomination of certain persons before adjournment, that such persons will be immediately re-nominated by the president.

MAIL ROBBERY. ST. LOUIS, July 30.—It has just been learned that the postal car which left New York for St. Louis, and which carried mail for the St. Louis, was robbed on the 27th of about twenty thousand dollars in money and drafts, bonds, checks and other valuable papers and property, valued at $80,000.

A POUCH CONTAINING $80,000 OF VALUABLE DISAPPEARS. ST. LOUIS, July 30.—It has just been learned that the postal car which left New York for St. Louis, and which carried mail for the St. Louis, was robbed on the 27th of about twenty thousand dollars in money and drafts, bonds, checks and other valuable papers and property, valued at $80,000.

ANOTHER COWHIDING. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 30.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Quite a sensational cowhiding occurred here last evening.

CANADIANS WORKING A SCHEME. BOSTON, July 30.—The Advertiser special from Portland says the action of the Canadian government in closing the bay of Chaleur to American fishermen is believed here to be an attempt to force the question of the three mile limit into the present controversy between Canada and the United States, so as to force the United States toward opening its markets to Canadian fishermen in whatever settlement of the question is hereafter made.

RAIN AND THE CROPS. WICHITA, Kas., July 30.—A heavy rain fell in this northern valley last night and continued till this morning. Again at about 9 a steady quiet rain set in, since which time it poured steadily down with little or no indications of a stop. This makes twenty inches of rain within a week. Corn, potatoes and other crops are now in a promising condition.

NATURAL GAS IN WISCONSIN. MILWAUKEE, July 30.—Natural gas has been discovered at Dudas, Calumet county, this state. This is the second find of gas in the history of Wisconsin, the first well having been discovered at Appleton, Wis. One of the workmen working the latter well shaft at Dudas shortly after the gas began to escape, when an explosion occurred, which caused the death of the man.

MORE LABOR TROUBLES. NEW YORK, July 30.—The employees of Lewis & Martin's cigar manufactory were notified to-day, that they must leave the factory at once, and that they must go to work at another place.

NEBRASKA AND IOWA WEATHER. NEW YORK, July 30.—Local rains higher, followed by lower temperature.

THE KILLER KILLS HIMSELF

Schnaubelt, the Chicago Bomb Thrower, Commits Suicide.

THE PROSECUTION STILL ON. Their Testimony to be Completed To-day and the Defense to Begin—Judge and Jury Weary—Succes and Incidents.

Ends His Bloody Career.

ENTRÉ, Pa., July 30.—There seems to be but little doubt that the dead man found in the bay yesterday was that of Rudolph Schnaubelt, the bomb-thrower who caused the riot and massacre in Chicago in May last. When the body was removed from the bay a representative of the Evening Herald was impressed with the familiarity of the face of the dead man and to-day discovered that it was the missing bomb thrower. A photograph and a description that he had seen in the "rogue" gallery of the police station, led him to recognize the dead man.

CONFERENCE ON RIVER AND HARBOR BILL. WASHINGTON, July 30.—The following statement was made by the secretary of the river and harbor bill.

THE TRIAL OF THE ANARCHISTS. CHICAGO, July 30.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—This was expected to be the last day of the state's inquests in the famous anarchist trial, and people generally looked for the climax to be reached by some crowning sensation.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 30.—The conference on the river and harbor appropriation bill reached an agreement on the bill and the report will be presented to the house this morning.

RESIGNATION OF ROUNDS. WASHINGTON, July 30.—S. J. Rounds, public printer, tendered his resignation to the president yesterday. It is understood that this was done at the request of the president, who, it is said, desires to fill the place of Mr. Rounds in the office of the public printer.

CAPTAIN JENKS CONFIRMED. WASHINGTON, July 29.—The senate went into secret session at 11:10 and confirmed the nomination of George A. Jenks to be collector-general.

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS IN CHICAGO. CHICAGO, July 30.—General Francisco Naranjo, of the Mexican army and a leader in the recent revolutionary troubles in northern Mexico and whose movements, according to dispatches, are the same as no little interest in Chicago.

JEANOUS CHOPS. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 30.—Last Wednesday a man named Reeves killed J. W. Wilford, a member of the legislature, with a knife near a cutting of the latter's head with an axe, near Mt. Vernon. Reeves suspected his wife of having improper relations with Wilford.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. Combines, in a manner peculiar to itself, the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. You will find this wonderful remedy effective where other medicines have failed. Try it now. It will purify your blood, regulate the digestion, and give new vigor to the system.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD. Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. 2nd, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. 2nd, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD. Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. 2nd, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of the best blood-purifying and strengthening remedies of the vegetable kingdom. 2nd, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities.