

A BIG SCHEME ON FOOT.

A Stock Company to Operate a Mammoth Brick Yard.

THE HEAT OF SUMMER.

Some Facts and Figures Thereon—What Senator Manderson Says—An Accident in the Northwestern Yards, Etc.

A Big Scheme.

Developed yesterday that a large number of Omaha gentlemen among whom are some of her prominent business men, have formed a stock company for the purpose of operating a mammoth brick yard in the city.

The bill makes objections to the following items in the report of Mr. Sloman: 1. The items allowing compensation for services of S. A. Sloman as receiver.

In the first place $50,000 is the capital stock of the concern, and nearly every cent of this will be invested in site and the necessary machinery.

The fact is," he continued, "the manufacturers in this town have been charging an exorbitant sum for brick. They are in league with brick contractors and bricklayers and charge so much for the brick in the wall—that is, already laid.

What would be the object in building from the point of view of the contractor? It would give a more direct and a shorter route with Omaha."

SENATOR MANDERSON.

He Returns From Washington for a Period of Rest.

Senator Manderson was seen by a Bee reporter, yesterday at the Millard. He still retains his rotundity of form, which, however, has been slightly increased by exceedingly good digestion and because of the impossibility of taking his customary walk for some time, he has not been able to keep his avowal down, to that figure which he feels to comport well with a gentleman of his formation.

Senator Manderson said that the bill for the relief of the Missouri Pacific was placed upon the calendar and would be taken up in due time at the next session of congress. The Pacific extension bill was also waiting for later action, in fact, the work depended more or less upon the other. The relief bill had been considerably changed in committee, but what would be its fate, he, of course, did not feel able to forecast.

TWO MILES OF MATERIAL.

The Amount of Stuff Now Said to be On Hand for the Cable Line.

The force of men on the cable line excavation on Tenth street was increased this morning by fifteen men. The workmen now number about seventy-five, and are working with system and a will. The granite blocks are carefully piled on either side of the street, as they are taken out of the pavement, and when the work of piling all the stuff has been completed, the more difficult work of the system will be begun.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY.

Wholesale Objections Against the Report of Receiver Sloman.

Yesterday an important and rather amusing paper was filed in the United States court, in regard to the celebrated Sloman case, by the attorneys for the eastern creditors, Messrs. Webster, Bartlett and Wakeley.

This paper is a bill of exceptions to the

SUMMER WEATHER.

Some Facts and Figures on that Interesting Topic.

The weather for the past eight or ten weeks has been simply atrocious. In fact, it is much to be doubted whether Omaha has ever suffered anything like it before, of recent years, at any rate.

Last summer was a "scorcher," and people declared that it was the hottest yet. But the heat of this summer goes several points better.

A few facts and figures on the subject of the heat of the present summer may prove interesting to the readers of the Bee.

During the month of June the hot weather commenced, though it did not swoop down in such vigorous style as it did later on. During the month the average was 70.2 deg. so, in fact, the thermometer registered 30.6 deg. at 2 o'clock p. m. and on the 20th the minimum, 61 deg., occurred, at the same hour. It should be noted in this connection that these figures are taken from signal-service observations, which are made in the fourth story of the government building where comparative slight excess prevails. On the street the temperature will average ten degrees higher. And this allowance should be made for all subsequent figures.

The month of July, 1886, was a very warm one—unusually so, in fact. The lowest temperature recorded during the month was 68.8 deg. and the highest 92.8 deg. on the 13th. The average was 77.3 deg.

The hot weather commenced about the 4th of July, on which day the thermometer stood 32 deg., July 5, it was 35.5 deg., July 6, 36.5 deg., July 7, 35.1 deg., July 8, 39.5 deg. From that day on to the 12th there was comparatively cool weather. Then it began to warm up again. On the 12th the thermometer registered 63 deg., and on the 13th 69.8 deg. More cool weather followed. On the 14th the mercury registered 62 deg., and on the 15th, 79 deg., on the 16th, 82 deg. On the 17th the mercury took another rise, reaching a temperature of 87 deg. A few days of cool weather followed.

On the 21st the thermometer showed another increase, jumping to 89 deg. On the 22d the temperature was 89 deg. The rest of the month was comparatively cool, with the thermometer ranging between 70 and 80 deg. On the 23d the figures are taken from the 2 o'clock observations, when the day may be supposed to be at the hottest. Add ten degrees to them and you will have some idea of the temperature which prevailed on our streets.

But it is in the month of August that old Sol has been doing his hardest work. Several more days of the month remain, but even if they should prove to be cool which is not likely to be the case, the average temperature for the month will be very high.

Let the reader add 10 deg. to the following figures and he will get the temperature for the month. On the 1st the temperature was comparatively cool, 82 deg. on the 3d, 77 deg. on the 5d, 73 deg. on the 6th, 81 deg. on the 7th, 81 deg. on the 8th, 81 deg. on the 9th, 87 deg. on the 10th, 82 deg. on the 11th, 95 deg. on the 12th, 92 deg. on the 13th, 89 deg. on the 14th, 89 deg. on the 15th, 89 deg. on the 16th, 89 deg. on the 17th, 89 deg. on the 18th, 89 deg. on the 19th, 89 deg. on the 20th, 89 deg. on the 21st, 89 deg. on the 22d, 89 deg. on the 23d, 89 deg. on the 24th, 89 deg. on the 25th, 89 deg. on the 26th, 89 deg. on the 27th, 89 deg. on the 28th, 89 deg. on the 29th, 89 deg. on the 30th, 89 deg. on the 31st.

As already intimated, the records show that this summer has been warmer than last. In June, 1885, the average temperature for the month was 71.1 deg. as against 70.2 deg. for the same month this year. In July, 1885, the average was 77 deg. as against 77.3 deg. average for July, 1886. But in August the average was only 69.9 deg., while this year it promises to be at least ten or fifteen, or if twenty degrees higher.

As a general thing in August the climate is characterized by very cool nights. This year, the observers say, the nights have been unusually warm. The heat this year has been unusually oppressive on account of the six weeks drought in June and July, and especially on account of the great humidity of the atmosphere.

At the signal office it is stated that there are no prospects of an immediate change in the weather for the cooler. Still, such a change is liable to come at any time.

Out the Weeds.

James Allen, superintendent of the construction of sidewalk and cross-walks under Mike Meany, says there is a woful ignorance on the part of many people regarding the clearing of sidewalks.

In many parts of the city, especially those in which rural ideas largely obtain, weeds are permitted to grow to a great height on either side of the walks. After attaining to a good growth the wind gradually brings their tops together, so that they form a fence, making it necessary for people to walk through them with disadvantage, especially after a rain storm or in the evening when they are very dark.

Mr. Allen says it is necessary for him to specially notify the owners of abutting property to dispose of these weeds, and yet there are many careless of the ordinance.

A Sad Case of Destitution.

To the Editor: Dear Sir—Will you please allow me a space in your columns, my object being to call the attention of the charitable inclined to the family of Henry Deane, living on North Thirteenth, near the Northwestern depot, in a small shanty that stands in the street. The number eight in all. The father has been on a sick bed for nearly three years, and his wife very weak and in bad health. The second child, a boy of fourteen, a cripple, not able to walk without crutches; his eldest child, a girl of sixteen, being the only able-bodied person in the family. Yesterday they had nothing in the house to eat, and they could not procure even the necessary medicine. Comment is unnecessary.

Sheet Letter Envelopes.

Postmaster Countant yesterday received a circular informing him of the rates at which the coming sheet letter envelope, mentioned in Monday's Bee, will be sold. It is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Quantity and Price. Two sheets, $.03; Three sheets, $.05; Four sheets, $.07; Five sheets, $.09; Six sheets, $.11; Seven sheets, $.13; Eight sheets, $.15; Nine sheets, $.17; Ten sheets, $.19; Fifteen sheets, $.25; Twenty sheets, $.30; Twenty-five sheets, $.35; One hundred sheets, $ 1.00; One thousand sheets, $ 9.00.

Old Crossing Gutters.

Inspector Kenison has a force of men engaged in taking up and relaying many of the old gutters at crossings in the city. These gutters were too deep and acute in their lines, so that it required exceeding care to cross them with a buggy without injuring the latter. A number of them were on North Sixteenth, and the most noticeable of them was at the intersection of Canby. The sandstone in the last mentioned was badly worn and had to be replaced by granite. This improvement will be greatly appreciated by drivers who run light buggies and do not care to pull up at every street crossing.

The Thurstons will not attend the races this year, for the simple reason that there is no free-for-all race, in which they can enter. Having beaten everybody in this and every other state in the union, they are content to rest on their laurels as champions of the world, while the Fitzgeralds and other organizations of like diminutive calibre, are struggling in vain to attain the same exalted plane on which the Thurstons now stand.

Sherman Avenue Paving.

Yesterday, Messrs. Wheeler, Garneau, McShane and several other gentlemen, representing the Omaha Fair and Exposition association, called upon the board of public works and suggested that some means be taken to enable Murphy, Creighton & Co., to continue the paving of Sherman avenue to enable them to conclude by the time of the opening of the fair. It was agreed that there would be some arrangement in mixing up the broken rock so that the fine part need not come all together. The arrangement was satisfactory and the road will be now continued without interruption.

Obel's Hotel, Lincoln, Neb., open March 15th, first class in every respect.

Another Church.

Cleves brothers, architects in Creighton block, are now busily engaged upon a set of plans for a new Catholic church on Sixteenth street between Center and Hickory. The ground has long been purchased for this purpose, and just as soon as the plans are ready will be broken for the building. The church will be of frame, two stories in height, the lower floor being used for a school and the upper for church purposes. It will be 33x70 feet in size, with a capacity in the chapel of 350 people. It will cost $5,500 and will be opened before the approach of winter.

J. L. Wilkie, manufacturer of paper boxes, 108 S. 14th street, Omaha.

The Missing Man.

Lewis Gordon, the plasterer, whose mysterious disappearance from home was chronicled in Monday's Bee has not yet been found. There are some suspicions of foul play. Suicide is not thought of, and that he has deserted his family is scouted as impossible.

The body of a dead man, it is said, was found yesterday in Redick's grove, although the coroner has not yet been officially notified. It was thought that this might be the body of Gordon, but upon investigation this was found to be without foundation, in fact.

Hulet at Home.

C. C. Hulet, one of the old and popular clerks of the Millard, who has, probably, a group of many transient hands as any hotel man this side of Chicago, has been on a visit to his father and mother, Justice and Mrs. Hulet, Adrian, Mich. Mr. Hulet is a member of the order of Elks in this city, and upon his return home, the local order at Adrian did itself credit by getting up a magnificent social in honor of their former friend. The entertainment was excellent, and highly enjoyed by everybody.

Police Points.

Robert White was "sent up" for ten days by Judge Stenberg yesterday. He is charged with stealing clothing from an acquaintance of his.

Charles Legros, whose exploits with Madame Jennie Jackson are recounted elsewhere, was committed for further examination in default of $1,500 bail.

Seven drunks were arraigned. Of these, only two were fined—Mrs. Pinkey and Minnie Craig, both of whom had seriously disturbed the peace.

The Boy's Check.

The Bee of a few days ago mentioned the biting of a little boy, by a fierce dog, on the southeast corner of Thirteenth and Chicago streets. The child's name was John Moroney, and though attended by Dr. Wormersley, strong fears are entertained that he may yet die. The check was horribly mutilated. The mother of the child has instructed Geo. O'Brien to bring a suit against the city for one thousand dollars damage.

A Deserted Wife.

A sad case of desertion was noticed yesterday by a Bee reporter at the county building. It was that of a woman named Smith. She was forty years of age, and had come from Iowa looking for a worthless husband who had deserted her three months ago. The woman was enervated, and being without both friends and money, Commissioner Timme gave her an order to the poor-house.

The Courts.

Wm. A. Mardis sues Mrs. J. Strabell and E. S. Flagg for $300, with interest from July 25, 1885, the face of three notes for $100 each, upon which payment was not made.

John H. Gibson sues Nellie R. Smith to compel the sale to him of lot 8 block 8, Hanson place, according to agreement.

The argument is being made in the case of Inas vs. Eby & Walters, in the county court.

Not Yet Converted.

Frank Langford, a young man, formerly well known here, is in the city yesterday from Salt Lake City, where has been for a year or more as stenographer for P. P. Shelby, assistant general traffic manager of the Union Pacific. He is not yet converted to polygamy, but on the other hand, is on his way east to wed one of the belles of Clinton, Iowa.

No More a Bachelor.

Conductor E. H. Smith, of the Union Pacific Grand Island train, came in yesterday on his first run since he returned from his bridal tour. He was married in Sidney, Iowa, two weeks ago to Miss M. Moomaw, and since his return has been warmly welcomed by his old friends. His home is on Park Wilde avenue.

The Infantry.

A. Allee has gone to Grand Island. Among the attractions outlined for the soldiers' reunion at that place, will be General Wheaton's regiment of Second to companies of infantry, of this city; also two companies of General Morrow's Seventeenth regiment from Sidney, and Captain Woodford's battery from Fort Leavenworth.

M. P. Changes.

Henry Douglas, late baggage-man on the Missouri Pacific between this city and Kansas City, has been transferred to the new train which is to run between this city and Lincoln. Joseph Bowman, who has heretofore been on the passenger brakemen, has been appointed to succeed him.

Released.

Limberger, the old gentleman who attempted to kill Charles Kohlmeier, of the United States hotel, and fired a revolver at him, was released yesterday on furnishing bail to the amount of $500. The trial has been set for September 7.

Food Adulteration.

Very Important Decision by Prominent State and University Chemists.

Among them Profs. Collier, Chemist in Chief of the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.; Orday of Massachusetts, Barker of Pennsylvania, Albrecht of the United States Mint, Louisiana; Everhart of Texas, Hilgard of California, Heys of Canada, and others most prominently known in chemical literature, after subjecting brands of baking powders on the American market to a thorough chemical examination, have published their findings, and it is important for the people to know that the report of these hygienic authorities of the Nation implicates almost every brand analyzed with some poison of adulteration, with the exception of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, which for its purity and healthfulness they recommend for general family use.

Persons doubting the truthfulness of this can write to any of the chemists named Prof. R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M.D., J. L. D., Bellevue Medical College, New York.
