

BURGLARS USE CHLOROFORM.

A Daring Robbery Committed on Cuming Street Yesterday Morning. A NOTABLE JEWISH WEDDING. A Sneak Thief Caught—A Journeying Cyclist—Rail Notes—Court Local—An Infant's Skeleton, Etc.

Burglary and Chloroform.

Yesterday morning when Mrs. Bettie Morgan, who is visiting Simon Williams and wife, No. 2614 Cuming street, awoke, she noticed that the blinds of the room in which she was sleeping were wide open. At the same time she noticed that a small portmanteau containing the key of her trunk was away from its accustomed place under her head. She became suspicious at once, and going to her trunk, which was in the hallway, she found it open and another pocketbook containing between eighteen and nineteen dollars in money gone. The rest of the morning was spent when it was discovered that the trunk of another guest, Mrs. Anderson, had also been opened, and the money which was missing from the house. The room into which the burglar or burglars entered is on the ground floor, and the window reaches nearly to the ceiling. The house is located on the rear portion of the lot, facing Cuming, on which a store building has lately been erected. It is a small one-story building, and the burglar or burglars, as if some one acquainted with the premises is the guilty party. Mrs. Morgan feels satisfied that she was not the victim of a burglar on the windowsill through which the entrance was effected, show that some fluid was in possession of the thieves. This lady, who loses the larger amount, is from Lexington, Mo., and Mrs. Anderson is from Lexington, Ky. Nothing else in the house was taken. Here is another practical case for the police.

A SNEAK THIEF BAGGED.

Yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock a stranger sneaked into the private rooms of the Stadt theatre, in which members of Mr. Brandt's family reside, and rambled thence through nearly all the buildings on the premises. He came down stairs once, and although momentarily attracting Mr. Brandt's attention, he rambled up again, after telling Mr. B. that he could not keep sober here because he had come from Iowa a temperance state. His words did not belie his appearance, while dressed fairly well, he looked besotted. He managed to get up stairs again, and from the balcony of the summer theatre to get through one of the windows of the residence part. Here he robbed John Brandt Jr.'s room of every piece of clothing and jewelry it contained. He treated the bartender's room in the same manner, and then started away. As he was jumping onto the roof of the summer garden balcony he was seen by Emma, a daughter of Mr. Brandt's. She immediately gave the alarm. The robber threw some of his stolen goods at her and fled with the rest. John Brandt, Jr. followed in pursuit, accompanied by Officer Carroll, and soon found him in the city hall, where he had one after another of the clothes. He was arrested and taken to the city jail. Taylor is the same man who was arrested for going through Parke Godwin's room two or three weeks ago. Yesterday a lot of type was found in his possession, evidently stolen from some printing office. He wore a fine, black cork-screw suit, which was probably stolen. It awaits a claimant at the city jail.

HADRA—SELIGSOHN.

A Notable Wedding Which Occurred Thursday Evening. The event at the synagogue Thursday night was the marriage of Miss Natalie Seligsohn, of this city, to Mr. Fred Hadra, of Denver. The ceremony over, the bridal party and guests repaired to Germania hall, where a bounteous supper, with speech-making and congratulatory telegrams on the side furnished a pleasant two-hour entertainment. The tables were cleared away, and dancing until a late hour concluded the programme of one of the most notable affairs of the kind ever known in this city. Their numerous friends will join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Hadra all happiness in their new relation. Both have been prominently members of local Jewish society, and are universal favorites. They will remove to Mr. Hadra's new home in Denver.

ON A WHEEL TO FRISCO.

A Bicycle Rider Arrives This Morning from Buffalo, N. Y. Shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday George P. Rathbun, a distinguished bicycle rider came into the city on his wheeled horse, having left Buffalo, N. Y., six weeks ago. He breakfasted at Higgins', procured a lunch, and just as day was breaking started for Denver via Cuming street and the old military road. He is not riding on a vapor or to accomplish any given time, but principally for pleasure and to show the advantages of the bicycle he uses. It is of the Victor patent, manufactured at Boston, Mass., by the Bradburn company. This tourist will take about six weeks in reaching Denver, and after a visit there will proceed via Salt Lake to the coast. He is several days ahead of his calculated time now, and intends to wheel along at leisure, the evening and early morning being the time to travel and the heated part of the day being devoted to rest. His attire is an athletic young man just turning the thirties and weighs 157 pounds. He carries forty miles worth of provisions with him, including a good Winchester rifle. His uniform is a white flannel jacket, knee breeches and red stockings, and his wheels are of the diamond type, with a diameter of 26 inches. For the last six years he has devoted himself to sports on the bicycle and has a good record for speed obtained in several recent tournaments. In July last he secured first prize in a race against eight competitors in Boston, making eighteen miles in twenty minutes. Rathbun will astonish the natives in the rural district as he whirrs along, and particularly at this time of the year, his speed is noticeable. The frontier messengers will think a wheel horse of the slaughter house or packing house is on a campaign sure.

THROUGH LINE TO KANSAS CITY.

The Union Pacific Completes Its Connection—Rail Notes. The Union Pacific issued a circular yesterday announcing that its Manhattan & Blue Valley branch was completed, and would be thrown open to trains about the first of the month. This line extends from Manhattan, Kan., to Marysville, Kan., continuing thence into Kansas City. This gives the Union Pacific a through line to Kansas City, something it has long been greatly in need of. The route is from Omaha to Valley, from that point to Manhattan and thence to Kansas City. The route is something over one hundred miles longer than that of the Kansas City, St. Joe & Council Bluffs line or the Missouri Pacific, and of course the Union Pacific will be enabled to enter the ring as a competitor for through Kansas City passenger business.

Excursion to Lake Manawa. The Union Pacific announced yesterday that it would sell round trip excursion tickets to Lake Manawa to night. These will be honored on the 5 and 6 o'clock dummy trains, and will be good to return on special at 10:30. These tickets will be honored on any wagon from depot to lake and return and also on the boats crossing the lake.

Notes and Personal. M. Y. Dennis, general agent of the Union Pacific at Boston, is in the city, as is also George W. Anderson, general agent at Philadelphia. General Superintendent Smith, accompanied by Messrs. Linn and Anderson, has started for a tour of inspection of the Kansas division lines.

A Ghastly Discovery.

Yesterday a ghastly discovery was made by a thrifty citizen, being nothing less than the finding of the skeleton of an infant in a clump of weeds on a vacant lot between Mason and Martha, Tenth and Eleventh streets. Police man Matza was notified of the fact and he in turn notified the coroner. The latter at once removed the remains to his office where they now are. The skeleton is evidently that of a newborn infant and had probably been placed there alive by some young mother anxious to hide her shame. All the flesh had rotted off the bones, showing that the basket had been used for some time. The bones of the skull on the skeleton were still intact, and were of rather rich texture, showing that the child had been carefully dressed before being left to its sad fate. There is no clue to the identity of the mother.

A Block of Cable Tramway.

Yesterday the force of men engaged by the cable line company continued their work on Tenth street as if no injunction had been granted. That document, however, restrained the tramway company only from building in front of or near Stevenson's barn. Accordingly the workmen were engaged in erecting a trolley between Howard and Jones streets. Already they have put down the yokes for one block, fastened upon them the guiding plates of the grip and bolted down the rails. But few things more are required to make the section of the road complete. If the work could only be kept up at this rate, it would not take long to build two miles of the same.

Death of Mrs. Enwood.

Mrs. K. C. Enwood, who left for California last week, in hopes of recuperating her health, died in Sacramento on Tuesday, August 24. She had been suffering from consumption for about a year. She was accompanied to California by her brother and her little daughter, the former being well acquainted in California and able to take care of her and provide for her every want. Everything possible was done to make her comfortable. Mrs. Enwood was thirty years of age. She left a husband and three children. The body will reach Omaha on Saturday and the funeral will take place at 3 p. m. Sunday from the residence, Sixteenth and California streets.

Horsky's Adieu.

Mr. Horsky, the young leading gentleman at the Stadt theater, leaves Omaha one week from next Monday, to accept an engagement in the German theater in Philadelphia. He has made quite a number of friends while here, and has established a reputation as one of the most capable actors we have ever had in this city. He will be succeeded by M. Louis Koch of Chicago. Mr. Koch's wife will also accompany him, taking second seats, and the same night divide the leading characters with Mrs. Bauer. Her husband will play next Sunday evening in the "Hertz and Holler" and in another piece on the following Sunday night.

Food Adulteration.

Very Important Decision by Prominent State and University Chemists.

Among them Prof. Collier, Chemist in Chief of the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.; Ordway of Massachusetts; Barker of Pennsylvania; Albrecht of the United States Mint, Louisiana; Everhart of Texas; Hilgard of California; Hays of Canada, and others most prominently known in chemical literature, after subjecting brands of baking powders on the American market to a thorough chemical examination, have published their findings, and it is important for the people to know that the report of these hygienic authorities of the Nation implicates almost every brand analyzed with some poison of adulteration, with the exception of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, which for its purity and healthfulness they recommend for general family use.

Persons doubting the truthfulness of this can write to any of the chemists named: Prof. R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M. D., L. L. D., Bellevue Medical College, New York; Prof. H. C. Con Wants $1,000.

Con Groner, formerly one of our most effective sheriffs of North Platte, when the town was a little beyond the borders of civilization, says that the next legislature will have a chance to pay him a little bill which it has owed him since 1873. At that time, he filed a bill with the general assembly for $1,000 for time, outlay and services in arresting several tough murderers. Among these were a man named Selwyler and another named Bell. The former of these was convicted and served a decade of years in the penitentiary. These bills, Groner claims, were approved by Judges Barnes and Gaslin, and he will make an attempt to have them now paid.

Police Court.

Chas. W. Harris was fined $5 and costs in police court yesterday morning for carrying concealed weapons. H. A. Davis, who tried to interfere with the officer arresting Davis, was fined an equal amount.

Leavenworth Street Grade.

The property holders on Leavenworth street are beginning to express a great deal of anxiety with respect to the grading of that thoroughfare. The contract was let some two months ago, and the grade stakes set by the engineer so long ago that most of them have been knocked down, but as yet not a foot of earth has been removed. It is important that this work should be done at the earliest possible moment. Residents on Park avenue are also finding fault with the slow pace of the contractor for the grading of that street.

Believes in Barbara.

Comrade Baragay, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who went to San Francisco to attend the reunion of the G. A. R. returned yesterday and is resting at the Canfield. He is a member of Barbara Fricke's post No. 11, the only post in the country under a banner of nature. It is unnecessary to state that the gentleman will not have Barbara's memory assailed by any iconoclast.

The Courts.

Yesterday morning a verdict was rendered in Judge McCall's court in the suit of Judge Wright against J. F. Kuhn. The former sued for $300 damages for a nuisance maintained by the latter adjoining the plaintiff's premises. The award was for $75.

The case of E. D. Van Etten, who sues for $300 as attorney's fees, was on trial at 3 o'clock. The Homan will case was to have been heard at 3 o'clock. It consists in a request on the part of Henry Homan, jr., to be discharged from the position of temporary executor and the appointment of his sister, Mrs. Thayer, and her husband appointed as executors in his stead.
