

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS. SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 4. OFFICE, NO. 12, PEARL STREET.

MINOR MENTION. New York Plumbing Co.

The boards of registry meet on the 14th. The very best exhibits at $3 a dozen at Gorham's.

The county board of supervisors meets next Monday. The teachers meet at the Bloomer building to-day.

The Devil's Auction company was at the Ogden yesterday.

Two plain drinks constituted the business of the police court yesterday.

Wanted, at once, a boy with pony to carry bees for the Council Bluffs office.

Hereafter Beno & Co. will remain open from 7:30 in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening.

The Daughters of Rebekah are arranging for a lawn social at the home of Mrs. Lew Hammer next Tuesday evening.

The dealers are already beginning to advertise chickens for sale at the coming Methodist conference. Ring the chestnut bell.

A large hole in the sidewalk about one hundred feet north of the Rock Island depot on Main street, needs attention.

The Harmony mission sociable was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Withersell, corner of Benton and Harmony streets.

The city council held its regular monthly meeting Monday night. Those who have claims against the city should file them early to-day.

One of Barnum's advertising cars was here yesterday working up interest in the appearance of the big show here on the 15th. The brigade dined at the Pacific House.

Colonel Sapp will to-day bring in from his farm some of his finest short horns, which he is to take to the Omaha and Lincoln fairs. The animals can be seen at the "blue" barn near the Ogden house to-day.

Quarterly meeting services will be held at the M. E. church to-morrow. Rev. W. L. Smith, presiding elder of the district, will be present and conduct all the services. Love feast at 7 p. m. Holy communion will be administered in the evening.

The vacant house burned Thursday night, as given in yesterday's Bee, was the property of Mrs. Margaret King. The building was valued at $600, and was insured for $400 in the Home, of New York. The fire was caused by a gas stove which had become overheated.

The county auditor will issue to all old soldiers who desire to attend the state fair at Des Moines free passes admitting them to all parts of the grounds. The veterans who are going to Des Moines should apply to the auditor for one of these enticing bits of pasteboard.

Complaint is made that house movers get a little careless about telegraph and telephone wires. A little break is often a bad break, when it happens to a wire, or wires, and a moving house or barn will grow several feet a minute in order to catch a wire.

With ten minute trip, with new track, new street cars, more turntables and a nickle fare, the people of Council Bluffs are still not satisfied. They want bells on the horses nose, so that they can hear the cars coming, and a Superintendent Burns can hardly refuse the desired boon.

Next Tuesday evening at Masonic hall there will be a concert for the benefit of the German Catholic Ladies' society. The programme promises to be a choice one. It is under the charge of Miss Ida Fellenzetter, who will be assisted by Misses Katie and Nellie Gerner, Miss Mattie Palmer, Mr. A. A. Covatt and Mr. Westcott.

The Des Moines conference will begin its annual session at the Broadway M. E. church next Thursday, Sept. 9th. Bishop Bowman, the senior bishop of the Methodist church, will be the presiding officer. A number of the representative men of the M. E. church will be present and take part in the exercises and addresses.

The Chicago & Rock Island is offering special inducements to those who want to attend the state fair at Des Moines. The fare for the round trip, from here to the fair grounds, going on Monday, Sept. 11, is only $1.46. The ticket agent, A. T. Eiwale, No. 507 Broadway, is finding a ready sale for these tempting bits of pasteboard.

The long drawn out case of McNulty and his bartender, Mittie, charged with assaulting Justice Frayne yesterday. The case was dismissed, the affair being patched up in some way between the complainant and the accused, who is said to have received some sort of a financial bail for his broken nose. McNulty is to pay the costs of the case, which amount to the neighborhood of fifty dollars.

It is gratifying to notice that the Non-parallel is getting a little sense knocked into it in regard to the interests of the two cities. It has been bitterly fighting everything that bore the name of the Non-parallel, warning its readers to beware of Omaha merchants visiting this city as they were spies, and all that sort of nonsense. Now it begins to see that the Non-parallel is "The fact is now apparent that Council Bluffs and Omaha must make one city. What helps one city from this on helps the other."

A. B. Howe has been making some great improvements in his roller mill. The mill has been raised, and new machinery added. As a result the capacity of the mill has not only been increased, but it is now enabled to turn out better meal, eye flour, etc., than ever. In fact, by the new roller system just put in, the quality is made to compare favorably with the very best, and is in many respects superior. Mr. Howe's enterprise ought to result in his reaping a financial harvest. He merits success.

Too Fast a Horse. On Thursday night P. Gannon's horse and delivery wagon, driven by a boy, were coming down Madison street, when the horse went into a run and came dashing down into a buggy in which were seated Mr. J. Mueller and a lady. Mr. Mueller reined out to one side of the street to let the maddened animal go by, but did not escape the wagon striking his buggy wheel and whirling the buggy clear around. Its occupants were thrown out and received some bruises and scratches. The boy driving the delivery wagon was also hurt somewhat. The buggy was badly wrecked. The boy, Grant Shoup, was laid up yesterday, and although no bones were broken, his condition is not very comfortable.

Howe's Sixth street mill, by its new roller process, is making the finest meal, eye flour, etc., in the west. Try it. Ground feed always on hand.

The Races Off. The heavy rain of Thursday night caused it to look dubious for the races, and when the morning came and the clouds still hovered it seemed evident that there would be another postponement. The sun came out brightly, however, and there was a revival of hope on the part of many. The track being one which dries quickly with half a chance, many believed that a half day of bright sun would still enable the racing to go on. The management concluded differently, and tired of trying to combat the elements, decided to declare all the races off. Wind and weather have been strangely against the Council Bluffs driving park, rain coming to break up every meeting, causing light gate receipts and a heavy track, until it has become a common saying that the street was to fight a drought is to announce races in Council Bluffs. The decision to declare all races off caused much disappointment to many, as an excellent programme had been provided for the day. Few of the horses here could remain over longer, the previous postponements on account of rain having already thrown the meeting in a hopeless state. In view of the circumstances it seemed the best thing to abandon further attempts to finish the races.

In order that there might be something to entertain the disappointed ones arrangements have been made for a grand matinee at the park this afternoon if it does not rain.

Some attractions will be presented which surely will interest all who go. The roadster race will take place, and there are some excellent entries in this, the owners of the animals being Dr. Judd, Theodore Gray, L. Holst, Wm. Lininger, and Geo. Wisner.

A big feature of the day will be a special trotting race between Dr. Cary's Sunshine and Rowley's Rattler for a purse of $100.

The admission to all parts of the grounds will be only twenty-five cents for the matinee.

Hard and soft coal, wood, lime, cement, etc. Council Bluffs Fuel Co., No. 529 Broadway. Telephone No. 133.

A Plan of Battle. The case of Driscoll vs. the Independent School District of Council Bluffs, was on trial in the circuit court before Judge Conner yesterday. Mr. Driscoll, a well-known Omaha architect, claims to have prepared plans for a school building here, in accordance with the advertised request of the school board, and his plan was examined in connection with that of other architects. The board took time to consider the plans and decide upon them, and it is claimed that another architect revised his plans, so as to embrace some of the best features of the Driscoll plan, and this revised plan was selected, Driscoll being shut out. The school board, in fact, the school board availed itself of the ideas suggested by his plan, and then refused to accept and pay for the plan, but let another architect have the credit and glory. The case was tried before Judge Loomis some time ago, and a verdict brought in that was in favor of the school board. The case was appealed, and reversed by the supreme court, and now is being tried a second time.

Dr. A. P. Hanehelt has taken possession of the German Catholic Ladies' society, where his many friends and patients will find him in the future. He will retain his office as before over No. 12 Pearl street.

The Cane For Hardin. At the coming reunion of old settlers a gold-headed cane is to be given to the old settler who has lived here the longest. M. D. Hardin, of this city, (everybody knows "Marri" Hardin), stands an excellent chance of being caned. As a boy he came here with his family in 1837, and has resided here continuously since then. When the Hardin family arrived here there was not a house here, and none between here and Leavenworth, from which place they came here. The elder Hardin was called here as a farmer for the land, that is to say, that he was on a farm, and he was here sixty days before another white man or even an Indian was seen. Next June Mr. Hardin will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in Council Bluffs, and he looks good for fifty years more of activity.

Mrs. Gault left last evening for her eastern home, which has been saddened by the death of her mother.

Congressman Hepburn, of Clarinda, was in the city yesterday, fresh from the fight and seemingly confident of an easy victory over Anderson.

Mrs. Allworth, wife of the genial Chicago & Northwestern agent, returned last evening from a visit to friends in the eastern part of the state.

Goldberg, the proprietor of the Bankrupt store on Main street, has returned from New York and Chicago, where he has been making extensive purchases for the fall trade.

Sherriff D. A. Farrell, of Mills county, has charge of the police regulations at the state fair, and has the choosing of his own assistants. From this district he has wisely selected A. S. Clough, of this city, an experienced and trustworthy man, who has a keen eye for crooks and a strong arm for roughs. He started for Des Moines last night.

Bushnell has an elegant lot of Episcopal prayer books and hymnals at all prices. Just the thing for the new church.

Remarkable Rocks. Calicoon Echo: A singular phenomenon is said to exist in Wilnot's quarry on the Rock Creek, and one that baffles all efforts at explanation. Mr. Wilnot himself tells us the facts, and he brought to our office with him Mr. Hinegan, owner of the land on which the quarry is located, to substantiate his words; and on Friday both the gentlemen affirm that after taking the top off of a ledge of rock extending back about eleven feet they began raising the lifts of the ledge. The ledge is only some seven feet high and over forty long. After a few top layers of stone had been taken off it was noticed that the lifts under them began to raise in spots, and in short time would raise a clear across the ledge, much in the same manner as flooring will occasionally become so swollen as to bulge up at some point in the shape of the roof of a house.

This was at first ascribed to the heat, as it was in the afternoon and the sun shone in very hot upon the ledge, but as fast as one lift was taken off the one below would begin to rise in the middle, as though being wedged or sprung at the ends, they raised in the middle as soon as the weight was off. The lower in the ledge the men got, the stronger seemed to be the impelling force; and on Friday the men found, on going to work in the morning, while it was cool, that during the night an immense course of stone had risen to the centre of the ledge, extending across the eleven feet to a height of seven inches, and sloping like roof of a house, each way, to the ends of the ledge. The workmen were instructed not to disturb the rock, and Mr. Wilnot told us on Saturday that he was going to have the rock in its then position photographed.

Glass Railroad Rails. London Times: Berlin papers copy from the Germania an account of an important discovery in glass manufacture made by Friedrich Siemens of Dresden. He has succeeded in casting glass in the same way as metal is cast, and obtaining an article corresponding to cast metal. This cast glass is hard, not deaver in production than cast iron, and has the advantage of transparency, so that all flaws can be detected before it is applied to practical use. It will be much less exposed to injury from atmospheric influences than iron. The process of production is not difficult, the chief feature being rapid cooling. The hardening and resisting powers of this cast glass are so great that experiments are being just now carried out at the Siemens glass foundry at Dresden for the purpose of ascertaining whether the material could be employed for rails on railways.
