THE CITY'S BIRCHSWINGERS. List of the Teachers for the City Schools for the Coming Year. The public schools will open for the fall term tomorrow, after a vacation of nine weeks. The teachers, who have been spending their vacations at the summer resorts or visiting friends in other cities, have returned refreshed after their season of rest, and supplied with the additional strength of mind and muscle that will be required of them at least for the first few weeks, in managing the fractious young lads who have lost all thoughts of discipline, and laid in a stock of base ball lore and stonemasoned feet during their summer's rest. The school houses have all been repaired and made as pleasant as schoolrooms can be. As a large number of changes have been made in the teachers, the list of those who will assume charge of the schools tomorrow is herewith published: High School—Homer P. Lewis, principal, S. D. Beals, Alonzo Norton, Henshaw, Samanthia R. Davis, Mary B. Harris, Margaret R. McIntyre, M. E. Simonds, Hattie C. Pratt, Rastin, Frances E. Sheldon, Villa B. Shipley, Ada M. Harris, Jennie E. Kaylor, Bella J. Servis, Fannie Wood, Fannie Arnold, J. H. Severson. Central School—Fannie Maxwell, Carrie M. Chapman, Franc M. Briggs, Ida E. Mack, Thea McChene, Bebie Johnson, Clara Schlesinger, Clara E. Elder, Emma Wheatley, Alice V. Tipton. Cass School—Alice H. Wilbur, principal, Nellie Bennett, Lillian A. Littlefield, Emily J. Robinson, Susie E. Eveleth, Lucy E. Leeds, Mary E. Simonds, Hattie C. Pratt, Emilie Reed, Lizzie A. McAluse. Castellar School—Mary B. Newton, principal, Allie Brawner, Mary E. Kent, Bertha Engel. Center School—Katherine M. Keen, principal, Jennie L. Redfield, Annie Q. Fair, Mary E. Jordan. Dodge School—Jennie M. McKoon, principal, Emma Newcomb, Lizzie R. Newsham, Joseph Eddy, Fanny Burdick, Mary L. Buchanan. Farnam School—Anna P. Crandall, principal, Hattie M. Jones, Hattie S. Eddy, Irene E. Hamilton, Huldah F. Baeson, Scilla P. Pittman, Emma E. Ledington, Florence H. Reid, Agnes McDonald, Jennie C. Salmon, Ida K. Gronow, Mary B. Lucas, Ida M. Johnston, Olive Hubbard. Song School—Sarah M. McChene, principal, Lida Shallenbeger, Mary E. Thompson, Mary B. Goodman, Rosa C. Eddy, Alice M. Harmon, Helen E. Hunt, Addie Gladstone, Josephine Egan, Fannie M. Nevius, Mrs. U. G. Foy. Pleasant School—Mary Fitch, principal, Carrie M. Hartley, Martha Parratt, Dora Hartley, Esther Jacobs. Special teachers—Pennsylvania and drawing, Kate M. Hall; vocal music, Lucia A. Rogers; callisthenics, Henry Kummerow; manual training school, Albert M. Buman; substitute teacher, Mattie A. Powell. Mrs. H. Skilton, from San Francisco, Cal., is in our city and will lecture under the auspices of the Central W. C. T. U. She will speak in the German theater Monday evening, September 6. Subject: "Sowing the Seed and Reaping the Harvest." She also will visit all the ladies of Omaha Tuesday afternoon, September 7th, in the M. E. church, when she will lecture to them on "Home Influence." Mrs. SOULE, President.

The Oxford Glass Hen Incubator Will be one of the best features of the fair. It has already been shown here twice. But improvements have been so numerous and novel that every one will enjoy the sight, old and young. It has been exhibited from Canada to Mexico. At the grand opening Monday the ladies and children are earnestly invited to come early and see the novel sight. It is amusing and instructive. Hundreds of eggs hatching by this process will be shown. Intense eggs from Australia, &c. Do not miss the dark room. See the chick's heart beat. See it growing in the shell. It will repay you. The governor general of Canada signed "William Daxton." The absence of the middle letter "A" in the said name, and the fact that the chick was made out with a pencil, raised a suspicion of forgery. The business man, to whom the request was made, excused immediate action by telling the stranger that he did not have the requisite time, but would in a very short time. The checker departed in the direction of Farnam street, and so did the business man. The latter notified Policeman Haze, and the latter followed the man and placed him and a companion in the jail. The checker had mysteriously disappeared, so the only charge made was that of being suspicious characters. The parties gave their names as Lew Marshall and J. W. Allen. It is probable they will not have the pleasure of attending the fair. Saved From a Horrible Death. Yesterday P. H. Johnson, the energetic depot passenger agent of the Burlington & Missouri, found a drunken man asleep on the railroad bridge, and signy's packing house. He had just time to get the man out of the way of an approaching train, which a few minutes later would have made mince meat of the sleeper had not Mr. Johnson arrived. Departure of General Crook. General Crook, commanding the department of the Platte, and Lieutenant Kenyon, one of his aides, went to Portsmouth, Ohio, yesterday to attend the reunion of the general's old command, the Thirty-sixth Ohio, and the army of West Virginia, which did good work for the Union under the gallant Crook. Mrs. Crook and her sister, Mrs. Reed, accompanied the general as far as their old home in the vicinity of Oakland, Md. Elegant Millinery. Ladies visiting the Omaha fair should not fail to see our beautiful stock of fall millinery, the finest display in the city. All the leading fall hats and Bonnets, Beautiful Feather Ornaments, and our largest line of trimming novelties in the west. Please leave your orders for hats early in the week as we are greatly rushed in order work. But having a large force of expert Trimmers and Milliners we guarantee satisfaction. Time Order Work Our Specialty. No. 404 North 13th Street. Opp. Jefferson Square. A New Mill. W. J. Welshans & Co., proprietors of the City Mills, have purchased the old Davis mill, at the corner of Seventh and Jones streets. They will take down the building now in to Twentieth and Pierce, where they have bought a lot 100x150 feet, with track facilities. Besides the old building, which is 75x40 feet and three stories, they will put up another building 30x40 feet, to be used for a store house, and also a large boiler and engine house. They propose to overhaul and reconstruct the old mill so that it will be as good as new, and they will also put in new machinery of the latest and most approved pattern. When completed and in running order it will be the best equipped mill in this part of the state. The power will be supplied by a sixty horse power engine, and a boiler. The company will manufacture flour, meal, and bran. They are taking of putting in a mill for the manufacture of oat meal, but have not decided definitely upon that point as yet. Welshans & Co. have for some time been located at the foot of Farnam street, but their present quarters have become too crowded for their growing business. They have made a great success of manufacturing buckwheat flour, their special brands having a wide sale in the western country, and if other equally enterprising men would commence the manufacture of wheat flour, the local grain market would be greatly improved. At the Fair. Owing to lack of room in the exposition building V. Walter's exhibit of the celebrated Mason & Hamlin organs and pianos will be in the hall at the fair. An object of peculiar interest will be the famous Mason & Hamlin "Liszt" organ, just arrived from a marvel to all organists and musicians, and is eminently adapted to churches and halls. A representative of the Mason & Hamlin company will preside at the "Liszt" organ and a piano virtuoso will play on the Mason & Hamlin pianos, demonstrating their beautiful tone quality. The new method of stringing and tuning in these pianos—their patent—the most valuable improvement since pianos have been made, will be shown. Cloud Burst in Utah. Passengers from the west report a serious and extensive cloud burst in Utah, just below Salt Lake. It occurred Wednesday night, and washed away ten miles of the Denver & Rio Grande track, destroyed several bridges and caused considerable other damage. All passengers from the far west who left for the D. & R. G. have been carried by the U. P. since the cloud burst. Going out of Business. The entire stock must be sold regardless of cost, at McDonald's emporium. Ladies' and children's ready-made garments of every description. Black silk suits, lace suits, colored silk suits, wash suits, ticut suits, homespun and in all the latest styles and materials. Greatest sacrifice ever seen in Omaha. Infants' Outfits, Fine Hand-Embroidered Blankets, Carrying Cloaks and Robes, at really less than it would cost to make. Cloaks' Wraps' Jackets' Shawls' Cloaks' Wraps' Jackets' Shawls. Largest Stock West of New York. The former very low prices cut right in two. Every garment must be sold. Such an opportunity never before offered to the people of Omaha. Ladies' Fine Merino Underwear will be sold exactly at half price. Cloak Mantle and Dress Trimmings at a great sacrifice. Remnants of Plain and Brocade Plush and Quilted Cloak Linings at a great bargain. No advertising dodge. I am positively going out of business. Cases and fixtures for sale. CHAS. McDONALD, 1408 Farnam St., opposite Paxton Hotel. Miss Dyer's private school will begin on September 27 at 214 South Eighteenth street. District Court. District court will convene on September 20. The calendar is a very large one. Among the most important cases will be the rehearing of the Lauer trial and the charges of fraud against Halman Lowy, the purchaser of the Loyal L. Smith stock of goods. For bargains in real estate, quick sales and large profits go to J. B. Evans & Co.

CHARGES AGAINST THE PARSON. Mrs. Edwards Accuses Rev. Hamel With Abuse of Her Child. There were two sensational turns yesterday in the case growing out of the abduction of the adopted daughter of Rector Hamel, of Trinity cathedral, the facts of which were published in the Bee. The first step was the arrest of Edwards, the present husband of the girl's mother, on the charge of abduction. The case was called in Judge Helsey's court and set for a hearing on Tuesday. Edwards, it appears, followed Hamel back from Pacific Junction, where he was joined here by his wife. They have since been waiting for an opportunity to get possession of their little girl. The second move was the commencement of habeas corpus proceedings in Judge McCulloch's court, by Mrs. Edwards, to secure possession of her child. She alleges in her petition that Rev. Hamel has abused the girl, provided her with poor and insufficient clothing and insufficient food. In a conversation with a Bee reporter Mrs. Edwards alleges that she had seen Rev. Hamel kick her daughter and otherwise abuse her. Judge McCulloch granted the writ of habeas corpus, but the officer into whose hands the papers were given could not find either Rev. Hamel or his wife. Mrs. Edwards states that she is sure Mrs. Hamel has come out of the city and has taken the child with her. The case is creating considerable excitement among Rev. Hamel's circle of friends. Great Closing Out Sale, at Auction, at the Boston dry goods store. Auction to commence Monday, September 6, and continue every day until closed out. 614 and 616 South Tenth street. JOHN LINDERHOLM, Proprietor. The Ladies Will Find Great Bargains at the big closing out auction sale at the Boston dry goods store, 614 and 616, South Tenth street. "Windy Bob" at Large. Robert Poland, better known as "Windy Bob," was sent to the county jail for ninety days and fined $100 by Judge Stenberg about a month ago. Yesterday evening he was allowed by Jailor Miller to accompany him on a trip down town for the benefit of his health. In some manner during the evening Bob caught his keeper off his guard and made a sneak through the far west side of the city, and has probably left the city. The police hope his absence will be indefinitely prolonged. Corner lots are always a safe investment. See list of cheap corners in our special columns offered by J. B. Evans & Co. Celebrating the Completion. There was a time of rejoicing among the residents of Sixteenth street last night. Shortly after noon yesterday the last paving block was laid, completing one of the finest thoroughfares in the west. The event was celebrated in a becoming manner by the residents of the street and Murphy, Crighton & Co., the contractors. The street for the entire length of the new paving, from Izard to Senator Poppleton's place, was illuminated with gas lamps, etc., as were also the residences on each side of the street, presenting an attractive scene. The street was lined until a late hour and illuminated as the most popular driveway in the city. East fronts are best for residence, and J. B. Evans & Co. have 500 fine east fronts on the market. A New Chorus. For a long time the feeling has been prevalent among the music loving people of Omaha—and there are a large number of them here—that a trained chorus, properly organized and sustained, could find adequate support in this city. It would enable musical ventures, which are now impossible, to be successfully carried out. Such a chorus is about to be organized in this city. Julius Meyer has received a letter from Professor Nahm Franko, stating that upon his return to Omaha, the middle of this month, he will organize a chorus similar to those now conducted by the great musical leaders in the eastern cities. Each voice will be tested personally by him before it is admitted to the chorus, and when the choir is once formed will be recruited, drilled until it is capable of doing thorough, efficient work. This means a series of interesting musical events for Omaha people this season. The cable line will cost lots of trouble to the great auction sale of John Linderholm next week at 614 and 616 South Tenth street. Just arrived, another carload of celebrated Columbus Buggy company's buggies at their depository, 1113 Horney street. HENRY HOMAN. MOVING FOR THE MARDI GRAS. The Success of a Taking Feature for Fair Week Assured. The proposed mardi gras is already an assured success and promises to be a highly attractive feature of the fair week. Another meeting of the movers for the mardi gras was held at the store of Collins, Gordon & Kay last evening, and was well attended. The committee appointed on Friday night reported that they had met with splendid success and encouragement in their canvass for parties to take part in the parade. They had secured promises of a participation in the parade from the police, fire department, Stephenson's stage coach, Elliott, bicycle club, Light Guards, George Fangleid, Dewey & Stone, Collins, Gordon & Kay, Cary's horses, Higgins, A. Simpson, turner society, plasterer's union, blacksmiths, Gordon & Whitehouse, Steadman, Ross & O'Hare, Clark Bros., Dimnick, Hospe, and the Barber Asphalt company. A great many others had promised to take part in the parade. The Mardi Gras will be held on Friday night, one of the best days of the carnival, and will present most pleasing attractions. All effort will be made to have every line of business and every class of trade in the city represented in the parade. Committees were appointed to complete the arrangements for the event as follows: Finance—W. G. Striver, P. H. Allen, Joe Elber, Fred Moss, and Louis Swift. Programme and General Arrangements—George Kay, E. A. O'Brien, W. G. Heushaw, F. W. Pickers and Fred Flaeging. Another meeting will be held at Collins, Gordon & Kay's store on Monday night. Auction at the Boston dry goods store every day next week at 614 and 616 South Tenth street. JOHN LINDERHOLM, Proprietor. A Telegram. The following telegram was received this morning from N. B. Falconer, who is in New York making fall purchases, the telegram speaks for itself and we can only add that judging from Mr. Falconer's former silk purchases we know this lot will be wonderfully cheap. Any one fortunate enough to get some of this lot will never regret their purchase; particulars in Monday evening's paper. N. B. FALCONER. NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Mr. J. D. Cowie, care of N. B. Falconer. Have just completed the purchase of five thousand dollars' worth of silks at just half their value, all new goods, and comprise all the new weaves and a lot of stripes in black and cashmere duchesse; the latest colors in velvets. Only the present deplorable state of the silk market made such purchases possible. You will receive the goods Monday, advertise them for Wednesday and Thursday. N. B. FALCONER. Senator Van Wyck has a big boom. But he is not creating half the stir in Omaha than John Linderholm will create far week at 614 and 616 South Tenth street.

Great Closing Out Sale. At auction, I will offer my entire stock of Dry Goods, Millinery, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boots and Shoes, Hats, Caps, Trunks and Valises at public auction, wishing to change my business. The goods will be sold without reserve. Sale to commence Monday, Sept. 6th, and continue from day to day until all is sold out. JOHN LINDERHOLM, 614 and 616 S. 10th. A. W. Cowan & Co., Auctioneer. The New York Dry Goods Store. Our Stock of Dry Goods is complete in every Department. Call and see our Novelties in Dress Goods, Robes, etc. JOHN H. P. LINDHOLM & Co. Personal Paragraphs. O. N. Ramsey started on an Oregon journey last night. Bishop Worthington returned from an eastern visit yesterday. Hiram H. Lee, of Des Moines, Ia., representing the State Insurance company, is in the city. Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Callaway and Mrs. O. N. Ramsey returned Friday from a visit to the Atlantic coast. Sands Woodbridge, the mentor of local journalism in Omaha, and wife terminated an exceedingly pleasant eastern trip by a return to Norfolk, Va., where she has been heartily welcomed by her father instead of a hard working journalist. Professor Wolfe, orchestral leader at the Tabernacle, went to Denver last night. He has been spending several days with his "Biks" of Omaha, which ordinarily means a trip to the city. H. M. Martin, of Montgomery, Franklin county, Vermont, and family, are in the city, visiting the Hon. John M. Thurston and wife. Mr. Martin is a cousin of Mrs. Thurston, and also a schoolmate and boyhood companion of County Commissioner Coriss. Miss Fannie Butterfield returned last evening from Norfolk, Va., where she has been spending a most enjoyable vacation. Miss Butterfield was right in the earthquake belt, but will certainly retain her recollections of this prominent event of 1856. A. L. CHARGE, WILK SPRINGS, TENN., writes: After a trial of Dr. J. H. McLean's Far West Lung Balm, I find it to be the best remedy I have seen for all troubles of the air passages and voice. I have used Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Liniment for years, and will not be without it in my house. An injunction is talked of being served on the cable line on account of its spoiling the street in front of John Linderholm's big auction sale, to commence next Monday at 614 and 616 South Tenth street. The county commissioners yesterday appointed Chas. Bass as inspector of the retaining wall. Wanted to employ a COMPETENT EXPERT to look over with good references. Address M 14 Blue office. The police force are on the lookout for cross who are heading for the city to get in their work during fair week. Already about a dozen of them have been picked up and planted in the county jail on terms that will keep them employed until after the close of the fair. Closing-Out Sale. Having decided to quit business, I am now offering my entire stock of hardware, stoves, carpenter tools and household furnishings goods at cost for cash until closed out. Good opportunity for parties wishing to purchase a hardware business. The Bay State Land & Cattle company, Pine Bluffs, had live loads of cattle in.
