IKE BARRETT IS PARDONED.

Ike Barrett Pardoned. COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Sept. 6, 1886 -To the Editor of the BEE: About fourteen or fifteen months ago there appeared in the BEE an article in regard to a Mr. I. N. Barrett. It was well known at the time by Mr. Barrett's friends that the said artiele in many points was untrue and consequently unjust. The way was slim to refute or make corrections of the article, as the BEE had simply copied it from some of its Leadville or other Colorado exchanges, and al! that could be done was to read and give utterance to comments in condemnation of the article to anyone that happened to be near.

Mr. Barrett had been a faithful and efficient officer for years in Colorado, making for himself a clear and proud record, yet winning no great newspaper notoriety; but with what rapidity, when he had, under the influence of drink, laid himself amenable to the law, it got into print and trayelled far and wide over the country. I happen to have per-sonal knowledge—having been there at the time—of gallant and mithful services rendered to the state of Colorado by Mr. Barrett as constable, policeman, marshal, deputy sheriff and detective, but very little, just brief complimentary items occasionally, ever got into print: but how quickly, when he got in trouble, was it proclaimed through the press, impressing those who had no personal acquaintance with him as being a desperado of the worst type, a ruflian and hard case gen-erally, and many who had seen him, on reading the article, wondered if it could be the cool, nervy, intropid and gentlemanly Ike Barrett whom they had seen face, without a shadow of fear, what ap-peared certain death, and arrest murderers, clear a town of bunko steerers, quell a dance house row in short order, and, in a superior manner, keep peace and order in a town where law-abiding citizens were in the minority. Mr. Barrett, while an officer of the law in Colorado, ever proved himself a manly and an efficient one, and made such a record for himself that any old settler in the county would feel pride in thinking it was made by a Pottawottamic county farm boy. Mr. Editor, I have digressed far beyond what I intended. I intended to only scribble a line directing your attention to an item in the enclosed paper, in which you will see Mr. Barrett has been pardoned by the governor of Colorado, and as a petition was sent from here to the governor of Colorado soliciting the pardon, and signed by the mayor of Council Bluffs and more than a hundred been pardoned by the governor through the efforts of Judge Garrison of this city, and with the assistance of other prominent attor-Judge Harrison of this district. Barrett was led astray by whisky, but is a good fellow and as brave as a lion. His friends all wish him well and are glad to see him back.

Pacific house recently renovated. Cool rooms; money saved; comforts gained. Scant News of the Skeleton.

But little additional was learned vesterday in regard to the skeleton of the unknown man, found near Graham avenue, as narrated in yesterday's Bre. There were various theories but none which seemed to be borne out by anything beyond the imagination of those who set them forth. One was to the effect that the man was probably the tramp, who belonged to the gang who set upon Detective Price, of the Milwaukee & St. Paul, and who got away with a bullet in him. In that lively fight Price's revolver was kicked out of his hand, and picked up and carried off by some one of the gang. The theory was received by many that this man getting away in a wounded condition crawled into the woods, and there lay down and died. The revolver found near him was supposed to be the missing one owned by Price. Yesterday Price took a look at the gun, and found it was not like his lost one at all, and that spoiled a sensation in that direction. The revolver was badly rusted, and those who had vivid imaginations could easily see that it was covered with blood.

The supposition that the dead man was the missing Kost, was also unsupported by any facts, and strongly contradicted by many details of the finding.

Another story was started to the effect that some time ago two boys found a basket in the grove near where the skele-ton was found. This basket contained a rubber coat, and some smaller articles, and some letters and papers. The jump was at once made to the conclusion that the basket belonged to the dead man, and the notes would throw some light upon the matter. The police take no stock in this, however, as they are cer-tain that the basket belonged to a fellow whom they were shadowing for some time, and who hung around in that part of the city for several days, and then left the city.

There was also a report to the effect that the man was probably the one who was badly thumped at a dance near there on the Fourth of July, and who was one of the Omaha delegation present here then, but that man, though seriously hurt, was put in a hack and taken to Omaha that night by his friends.

An Old Fireman Lays Off.

Sam Morrison, the veteran driver of the hook and ladder truck, now takes a layoff, and there are some doubts about his being able to resume his position. For some time past his eyes have been troubling him, the sight gradually fail-ing, until now he is threatened with total blindness. He has been under treatment, but they seem to be still failing, and he now lays off to go to St. Louis to see if an oculist there can help him. Sam Morrison has been in the department for many years, and is known by all. He used to drive in the old volunteer days, and after the death of Tom Homer he took his place as engineer of one of the steamers, a position which he filled, and filled well until the introduction of water works caused the steamers to be laid out of service. He was then given the hook and ladder truck. His many years of activity and ambition makes it hard to be now compelled to lay down the reins on account of such a threatened calamity, and his many friends hope most carnestly that by skilful treatment his eyesight may yet be restored to its normal condition. His place will be filled for the present by Ed Fellows, who has seen service before, and who is said to be a worthy successor to so faithful a fireman.

Barnum's Show Greater Than Ever Before. The grand street parade of the United Barnum and London Shows will take place here on Friday, Sept. 17, at 8 o'clock in the morning, to be followed by two performances in the mammoth tents. Never before in the history of amusements in this or any other country has there been so numeuse and stupendous a show as the one that Barnum will present on that day. The capital of the concern has been increased to $4,000,000, and every one of the many departments have been largely added to, making the daily expense over $7,000. There will be three circus companies performing in three big rings, each 45 feet in diameter, and upon an elevated stage 60 by 80 feet; there will be the Roman hippodrome, with its glorious races, as only Barnum knows how to do it; the museum of living curiosities, with famons giants, dwarfs, etc.; the two immense double menageries, the life-like reproduction of dear old Jumbo, with the ivory-boned articulated skeleton; Alice, Jumbo's widow; the Miramba band, troupe of Arabs, and other curious features; and there will be in addition the most interesting and instructive collection of im-mense human beings ever gathered to-gether in the history of the world, and embraced in the international congress of giants, besides other novelties, wonders, and curiosities collected after three years of hard labor by agents in all parts of the world, and enlisting the service of nearly every United States consul in those places. It will certainly be a grand exhibition, and deserves the hearty support of all classes.

The Union Pacific Taxes. The county board of supervisors met yesterday in regular session. The board will hardly complete its labors before the last of the week. Among the important matters brought to its attention yesterday was the taxation of the Union Pacific railway property in this city. Tax Agent W. H. Russell, of that company, appeared before the board and explained the peculiar situation. Heretofore the Union Pacific property in this city has been assessed the same as any other property, the assessed valuation amounting to about $400,000. Some time ago some one, bound to give the big corporation a dig in the ribs, went before the executive council of the state, and called the attention of that body to the fact that the Union Pacific should be taxed the same as other railways. The board looked over the figures, and finally concluded to assess the Union Pacific at the rate of $100,200 a mile tor 2.37 miles in Iowa. This made the total assessment $237,000, or only a little over a half of what the assessment had been before. The intention of the movers was to have this as an additional tax to what was already assessed by the city council other prominent citizens of this city, I deemed it an item worthy of publication in the all-reaching Bee. C. C. in the all-reaching BEE. C. C.

Ike Barrett is in fown this morning, having been nardoned by the governor through the executive council of the state, and that the property cannot be made to pay two They naturally prefer to pay the tax on the assessment made by the state rather than to pay on the assessment of the city council. The county board talked over the matter and referred it to the county attorney, who will consult with the city attorney and report next Friday. It is understood that the city council is inclined to force the Union Pacific to pay taxes on both assessments, while the county board is inclined to let the company off on the local assessment. The Union Pacific officials seem confident that the move has resulted in a good thing for the company, as by it there is an excellent opportunity to save consid

At the regular meeting of the city council last evening, Mr. Jacob Sims appeared as attorney for Mrs. E. H. Squires, who protested against the assessment of her property on Story street, there being a special assessment for a fill of the street. He claimed there was no present necessity for the fill. Attention was called to a resolution striking out of Kline's contract that part of the street, but by some mistake during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Squires it was filled.

The matter was referred to the appropriate committee. Goo. F. Wright, as attorney for the Union Pacific, filed a protest against the assessment of the company's property here, similar to the protest filed yesterday with the county board of supervisors. County Attorney Ware notified the council that the county board would wait to see what action the city council

Mayor Evans suggested that the matter had better go to a committee to meet the Union Pacific officials, and come to some agreement and understanding. He thought a body of citizens had over-stepped their bounds, and there was no reason why, by their action, the city should be compelled to lose the taxes. County Supervisor Graham suggested that City Engineer Tostevin investigate with the committee, and see how many miles of track the Union Pacific had in this city. He thought it had nearer eight miles than the 2.37 assessed.

The matter was referred to a commit-tee, consisting of Aldermen Keller, Bennett and Straub, who will meet with a committee from the board of, supervisors and with the attorneys this afternoon at Shot an Eagle.

Charles McDowell yesterday spied an eagle perched on the chimney of his mother's home on Willow avenue, and succeeded in bringing down the bird at the first shot. He proved to be a black eagle, of pretty good dimensions. It is thought the eagle male a mistake and thought he was on the residence of the gallant Major Lyman, who is just enter-ing his second congressional race, and who lives but a door or so from where the eagle lighted. The form of the American sebreecher will be duly cared for and placed among the curiosities in the Bloomer school museum.

Hard on the Soldiers.

It must be a grand thing to be a Cossack: but carnivorous mortals would do well to think twice before enlisting in the Russian army. The holy synod of the Russian church appears to have come to the conclusion that the czar's army is overfed or inclined to levity, and has cordingly issued an injunction that all Wednesdays and Fridays, Lent, and the six great days of repentance must be strictly observed as fasts. To members of the western church such a mandate might seem severe, but in Russia it is something very serious indeed. Easter Lent lasts there for seventy-nine days; and besides that there are three other Lents, extending in all over ninety days and sometimes more, which means that for more than half the year the Russian soldier must eat neither flesh, eggs, nor sugar, and in the long Lent not even fish. It looks hard on the soldiers, but it must be pleasant for an economical govern-ment to find an established church meeting its views so agreeably. A graveyard in County Cork has the following notice over its entrance gate: "Only the dead who live in this parish
