Col. A. Cochran met with a fall at River
Sioux stock yards Monday last, from which quite severe injuries were sus-tained. He had been assisting in counting and loading cattle, standing on the upper portion of the shute, when by a misstep or slip, he fell bodily, striking this side upon the fence below with force. He was taken to his hotel, where he has since remained, and is now doing well.

George Swift was arrested and locked up yesterday for being drunk. There would be nothing interesting in the fact were it not that he is the same Swift who recently got into even still worse trouble by getting drunk, and whose experience should have taught him to let the stuff alone. At that time he was in company with an Avoca brewer, and he was ar-rested for stealing the brewer's watch and other valuables. He barely escaped being sent up as a thiel.

The American Nonconformist after a hard and not very successful fight against the Tabor college and church, is now to be taken to Winfield, Kansas, where it hopes to find a larger field and more liberal support. The Vincents are in-defatigable workers, and every one of them has his pencil extra sharpened. Wherever they go the people will know they are there, and however much one may differ from them in opinion, what they write will be read with interest.

A new Baptist church has been organized in Pacific Junction. There are already twenty four members, and others will unite as soon as they receive their letters from other places, and there are a number to be baptized, so that there is an assurance of the new church number-ing forty members at an early date. The services of recognition were participated in by representatives of the churches of ouncil Bluffs and Emerson. Rev. Dr. Cooley, of this city, served as moderator, and Mr. Frazee, of Glenwood, as clerk The sermon was preached by Dr. Cooley, Rev. Gilman Parker gave the right hand of fellowship, Mr. Frazee offered the prayer of recognition, and Dr. Cooley gave the charge to the church. Rev. Mr. Dodd has been selected as the pastor of the new church, and will be ordained at some future council. Chase, who was so badly hurt in the accident at the Northwestern yards, in which Johnson was killed, is able to be out and about, and yesterday favored the Bee with a friendly call. Those who saw the young man as he lay covered with blood would hardly recognize him as he appears in his present sprightly way giv-ing promise of many years of activity and usefulness. He had one of the narrowest escapes which ever fell to the lot of any man. It is still a puzzle to the railroaders as to now the engine passed over him, as it surely did, without killing him. He is still badly scarred and marked, but will not be permanently disfigured, and is far better than a dead man. When he was not be permanently disfigured, and is far better than a dead man. When he was lying in the frieght depot, apparently in a dying condition, one friendly sympathizer, an old man, looked at him and expressed the sentiment of all by-standers: "Poor fellow; he won't live an hour." Chase heard him and, looking up, remarked: "Well, uncle, you'll get fooled this trip. I don't die till the breath leaves my body, and it isn't going to leave." A BLACK GREEN MAN IN TROUBLE

stoners' U. P. Report-The Methodist Conference-Other Doings in the Bluffs, Shaking Up Silver City.

Silver City and vicinity have been thrown into some commotion by a scandal which has found its way into court, and which is resulting in a showing of bad blood. There lives near there a family named An-One dozen cabinets and a large panel | derson, a mother and three sons, the eldest, Henry Anderson, being a well known farmer, respected by all. In Silver City lives Cay Mass, who formerly lived on a farm near there, but who has since retired with h is family to a residence in the village. In the Mass family is a young lady, aged about seventeen, who seems to have been unfortunate. She is unmarried, but needs a husband at this particular. lar time especially. She was engaged to a young man who is now in Nebraska, and it was expected that ere long they would wed. The young man heard some things about the fair maiden which made him shrink from entering the proposed matrimonial venture, and lately the engagement was broken off by him. It is said that the girl's attention has been directed towards one of the Anderson boys, Adolph, aged about eighteen, and boys, Adolph, aged about eighteen, and that negotiations have been pending for him to marry her. She insisted to her folks that he was the cause of her ruin, but the Andersons deny this, and claim that she herself denied it in their pres-ence. The Andersons claim that the girl's folks offered to settle for $400, but they refused to make any settlement with the girl or her folks. The matter has been pending in this unsatisfactory state until a day or two ago it was dragged mto court by a strange proceeding. White all the family were away from home except Adolph Anderson, a con-stable came to the house and arrested him and took him to Silver City, where he found a charge resting again st him in the justice court, the charge being that he had raped the Mass girl. The con-stable kept the young man at his own home, while his brother, Henry Ander-son, came to Council Bluffs to get legal advice, and returning, got a neighbor, Henry Kline, to go with him to Silver City to arrange to ball the young man out. To his surprise he found that the next day was the one set for a hearing, and that he needed to have his attorney come out at once. He at once started for the depot to come into Council Bluffs to get John N. Baldwin, his attorney, to attend to the matter. After reaching the depot and getting his ticket he was standing on the platform waiting for the train. Charles Rummel, a son-in-law of Mass, on learning that Henry Anderson had gone to the depot, intending to go after an attorney, book a strange way to head him off. He hurried to the depot, and coming up behind Anderson on the platform, hit him over the head with his cane, a heavy weapon, which felled him at once. The wound is said to be a very dangerous one, and may possibly result fatally. Mr. Kline took his place and came to this city on the train, and not being able to secure Mr. Baldwin, he being basy, secured the services of another well known attor-ney, Walter Smith, who went there yesterday to look after the interests of the Andersons. As narrated the assault upon Mr. Anderson was a most cowardly one, and has created much indignation.

Summary of the Report. The decision of the Iowa railroad commissioners in the case of Citizens of Council Bluffs vs the Union Pacific railroad company, was filed yesterday, and is a voluminous document, comprising thirty-three pages of type writing. The complaint was against the railroad, charging numerous offenses of discrimination against Council Bluffs in tayor of Omah a. The commissioners urge that the road abandon the practice of stopping trains at Omaha instead of going through to the terminus. They condemn the railroad for its action in reference to the Council Bluffs stock yards, recommend that a caboose go with all trains to the termi-nation of the road; are unable to find any cause for complaint on account of operating the Council Bluffs line, as a distinct division; they find that the method of constructing maps giving Omaha as the terminal point and print-ing the name of Council Bluffs in small letters is in conflict with the decision of the supreme court; that the erection of machine shops, etc., are not necessary at a terminal point; that the company has failed to furnish sufficient depot and office facilities; recommend the erection of a commodious freight house on Main street and the use of Twelfth avenue for freight track; the evidence does not sustain the charge that rebates are allowed Omaha merchants and jobbers not also allowed Council Bluffs; that the Broadway depot is insufficient; the rebilling at Omaha is not a cause of com-plaint; recommend that all trains, local or through, start from Council Bluffs and not Omaha; the company complies practically with the ordinance in regard to the running of dummy trains; they regard the provision made for the channel of the river between piers of the bridge as ample; the commissioners do not hesitate to say that they do not find any warrant for the charges contained in the concurrent resolution of the general assembly, and report that the resolution seems to have been passed without dis-cussion or investigation. They fully set forth in their report the history of the resolution and the fact that it never went to the governor nor was enrolled. They give in full the statement of Mr. Mink, comptroller of the Union Pacific railway, and many other facts which will form valuable and permanent records in regard to this railroad.

A Tragic Death. Mrs. Huber, of this city, has received the sad news of the tragic death of her son-in-law, James Meggleston, who lived near Findley, O., and she has started for that place. From a telegram from New-ark, O., it appears that he was found dead in his bed, with a pistol shot wound under his right temple. Meggleston was arrested a short time ago for committing a brutal crime on the person of Dora Richards, aged fourteen, and was also charged with procuring an abortion The prel minary hearing was to be had before a justice of the peace on the morning on which he was found dead in his bed. Alfred Wright, a brother-in-law, who was on his bonds, while on his way to the trial stopped at Meggleston's hous and found him dead, as described. Meggleston, by his wife, a short time ago, came into possession of about $8,500—a share of the Huber estate. It is thought that he has squandered the most of this, and the theory is advanced that the many complications in which he found himsel involved, caused him to kill himself.

Was It Larceny?

On Wednesday night T. W. McCargar suddenly missed his team, which had been left for a few moments hitched on Broadway. The police started on the hunt and found the missing property in the hands of Harry Green, a colored young man who works at Metcalf's sa-loon. He was enjoying himself on Broadway, driving along as unconcerned as though he owned the whole outlit. He was promptly arrested, and yesterday sought to explain the affair to Judge Aylesworth. He claims that a drunken man, who pretended to own the team unhitched it and asked him to go with him up to Pierce street, and hold the horses, while he made a call upon some of the unfair maidens of a notorious house there. On arriving at the place, the man told him that while waiting he could drive around a little, and he doing so when the police stopped the fun. Another statement of the affair is that the drunken man wanted to go up on Pierce street, and Green offered to take him there, and that he unhitched the horses himself and drove up, expecting to earn a dollar, and get the rig back before the owner would miss it. The only thing certain about the affair thus far developed is that the team was taken by the colored fellow and a drunken white man, that the latter was taken to a house on Pierce street, and that he can not now be found to tell his connection
