

PICKED UP ABOUT THE CITY.

Further Facts About the Vetter Girl's Case.

MR. NAHAN FRANKO IN OMAHA.

Lost a Limb—Rail Notes—The Parnell Social Club—A Musical Evening—She Wanted Money—Other Local Matters.

That Speedy Burial.

There is certainly something very mysterious about the death of the girl Lena Vetter, which occurred at the City Hotel last week. In Monday's BEE a few of the suspicious circumstances connected with the case were mentioned.

The girl died Friday and lay in my establishment until Sunday, when she was buried. Her attending physician was Dr. J. H. Peabody, who signed the burial certificate.

Investigation shows that a portion of this is true and that a portion of it is not. The girls relatives, as can plainly be seen by a reference to the directory, live at 1302 Chicago street. Her brother works in the smelting works but does not pass under an assumed name.

Dr. Peabody was out of town yesterday and could not be seen. Dr. Sweetnam, who is in the same office, stated that neither he or Dr. Peabody took any stock in the stories of foul play. He admitted, however, that the case was a puzzling one to Dr. Peabody. At one time he entertained the theory of poisoning but this he was forced to abandon. He had at least come to the conclusion that the case was peculiar one of epilepsy.

An old woman who knew the girl well said that there was "foul play" and intimates that she can make some startling statements when the time comes.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Two Johns.

Next Thursday evening the "Two Johns" will be the attraction at Boyd's opera house. It is without doubt one of the most amusing plays ever written. Conceivably, if you can, two men of over 300 pounds each, with a strong resemblance to the other in face, form or dress. One of the Johns is always in mischief, but when retribution comes to the other John is invariably the victim. The play is replete with ludicrous situations, which provoke great mirth. Reserve seats go on sale to-morrow morning at the box office.

An Interesting Entertainment.

Martin E. Steen, Professor Chas. N. Steen, and other noted English mediums, will appear at the exposition building, Sunday evening, and give a religious illustrated lecture on spiritualism. The following is what the Chicago Times has to say about these truly remarkable people: "Miss Steen was born in London, is twenty-nine years of age, and has been before the public since she was nine years old, giving her exhibitions in every part of the civilized world, astonishing all classes of people by her power of clairvoyance. The professor and his wife have appeared before all the scientific men of the world, and have succeeded in baffling all their attempts at accounting for their extraordinary gifts. That they are possessors of supernatural power none will deny, as can be attested by the highly cultivated audience at Hooley's theatre last night, when some of the most remarkable feats of mind reading, such as never has been presented to a Chicago audience, were given."

A Musical Event.

Miss Garlich, who has been here for the past two weeks on a visit to her sister, Mrs. A. M. Yates, and her brother, R. Garlich, the banker, left last night for the east to fulfill several concert engagements. Monday afternoon she gave a piano recital at Max Meyer & Bro's warehouse in compliance with the urgent solicitations of her many admirers. A magnificent programme, consisting of Schumann, Liszt, Chopin, Saint Saens and Moszkowski was rendered, and playing proved the regard in which she is held by eastern cities and musicians. Garlich is unquestionably one of the leading pianists in this country. She possesses a wonderful technique, remarkable memory, clearness of conception and poetic feeling, as evinced in her playing of Chopin, which ranks her as a true artist.

Mr. Franko in Omaha.

Mr. Naham Franko, the celebrated violinist, has decided to make Omaha his permanent home, and has arrived here with his bride, nee Miss Edith Edwards. Mr. Franko stated to a reporter yesterday that he intended to open up a college of music in the exposition building as soon as the structure could be cleared. Classes will be formed in singing, violin, piano, harmony and ensemble playing, with the assistance of a faculty of competent teachers to be engaged. Sight music reading and musical history will also be taught. This institution ought to be a permanent fixture in the city and deserves to succeed from the start. It is also Mr. Franko's intention to organize a large chorus of male and female voices. He will personally teach each voice, and the gentlemen will be given an opportunity first to enlist themselves in the cause. Mr. Franko will be found at Max Meyer's hall between 7 and 9 every evening this week by those gentlemen who wish to join the chorus.

A Turf Sensation.

The Omaha Fair association, it is reported, has under investigation the charge that Mr. C. E. Mayne attempted to buy off the owners of the horses entered for the free-for-all trot on last Saturday's programme. The fact that this race did not come off caused considerable indignation among visitors at the fair, as well as local turfmen. The only satisfactory reason given at the time for the race not being run was that there were so many horses drawn. The entry had been: Joe Davis, owned by J. Newberry of Elira, O.; Libbie S., owned by P. P. Cook of Paris, Ky.; Q., owned by Frank Vanney of Paris, Ky.; R., owned by H. Hawshaw of Topeka, Kan.; Albert France, owned by William Dookea of Paris, Ky.; and Consul, owned by G. H. Bailey of Fairbury, Neb. On Friday the owners of all but Albert France and Consul asked leave of Secretary Wheeler to withdraw their horses. Their request was granted.

A Worthy Order.

An effort is being made to institute a lodge of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics in this city. This order is a good one and has a large membership in the east and north, though here are very few lodges west of the Mississippi river. It is an old order, having been founded in 1833, and its ranks are eligible any man who works for a living. If of the proper age and bears a good character.

The objects of the order are: First—To maintain and promote the interests of Americans, and shield them from the depressing effects of foreign competition. Second—To assist Americans in obtaining employment. Third—To encourage Americans in business. Fourth—To establish a sick and funeral fund. Fifth—To maintain the public school system of the United States of America, and to prevent sectarian interference therewith, and uphold the reading of the Holy Bible therein.

Parnell Social Club.

The many friends and admirers of the Irish Social club which last year, under the name of the "Parnell Social club," gave such attractive and agreeable parties in A. O. H. hall, will be pleased to know that the club has arranged for a series of socials this season and promises to make them superior to anything similar yet gotten up in Omaha. The success attending these socials last year has prompted the club to elaborate on the original lines, and accordingly a "sneak and select" treat is in store for those favored with invitations, which, we understand, are already in the hands of the club for distribution. As is well known the Parnell Social club is made up of the best elements of the Irish social people of Omaha, and none are admitted whose character is not the very best and above all reproach.

The first party comes off Wednesday evening the 23d inst. Persons entitled to invitations are requested to call on any of the members of the club and see that their names are properly listed.

Police Court.

Alfred Johnson and L. G. Finch, two hotel runners had been arrested by Officer Duff Green at the depot, for crying their wares a little too loudly. Yesterday morning Judge Stenberg fined them $1 and costs.

William Crecraft, Bob Brown and Matt Williams, who had been fighting in Higgins' Monday night, were fined $5 and costs.

Four suspicious characters were ordered out of the city. Eight drunks were arrested, and two of them, William Harris and Henry Wildeman, were committed.

John Murray was held to the district court in the sum of $1,000 for assaulting Hattie Anderson on Ninth street Saturday night.

Caving a Teacher.

A pleasant affair took place last Sunday at the National hall, corner Thirtieth and Williams street. Members of the Bohemian school association met there with the teacher of their school, Mr. Joseph Dietter, and then there presented him a gold headed cane as a reserved compliment for his untiring efforts in behalf of the school. A few words were spoken by the secretary of the school association, Mr. John Rosicky. Mr. Dietter, greatly surprised, thanked in a few well selected words. The school is in a prosperous condition, having over seventy scholars, who are taught Bohemian reading, writing, grammar and history.

A Belligerent Spouse.

Mrs. William Wilson, a colored woman, came into police court yesterday afternoon and procured a warrant for the arrest of her husband. He has just served a 9 months sentence in the penitentiary for robbery, and coming home proceeded to make things unpleasant for his wife. Last night he came to her house and forced his way in. He coolly informed her that he didn't care for her, but proposed to kill her and then commit suicide. He did not attempt to carry out his threat, but Mrs. Wilson does not propose to give him any further opportunity to do so.

Lost a Limb.

Charley Morgan, the thirteen year old son of A. Morgan, a barber, living at 1193 south Tenth street, had his left leg cut off by the cars at about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He was climbing upon a Union Pacific freight car, and when nearly to the top, came in contact with the roof of the Union Pacific repair shanty, and was knocked off and under the wheels, and the above mentioned results. He was immediately taken to the sisters' hospital and there cared for.

She Wanted Money.

Anna Berggren and Geo. Hallett, were the plaintiff and defendant respectively in a bawdry case which came up for settlement in Judge Anderson's court yesterday. Miss Berggren is a Swede working girl, while the defendant is a young and rather good looking carpenter. The woman wanted support for herself and the child and Hallett had but $15. At last accounts the affair was not compromised, and the probabilities are that Hallett will go to jail.

Rail Notes.

General Superintendent Smith of the Union Pacific issued an order yesterday announcing that on and after Friday, October 1st 1893, the Julesburg district of the Nebraska division from Julesburg to La Salle, 150.9 miles, not including Julesburg station and yard, will be operated as a part of the Colorado division.

A Criminal Case.

Upon the complaint of Josefine Krennek, Joseph Cacka and Anton Cacka were brought before Judge Berka yesterday. The information stated that they did threaten to beat, assault, ill treat and do great bodily injury to the person of Frank Krennek, the husband of Josefine. The defendants gave bond in the sum of $500, and are to appear September 17, at 2 p. m.

Wants His Clothes.

A writ of replevin was filed in Justice Berka's court yesterday morning by Edmond Furst as plaintiff and Mrs. Anderson defendant. It was for the recovery of various articles of wearing apparel. The case will come up September 17th.

Weather Forecast.

The following is the weather forecast for the week ending Wednesday, September 22d: Rainy and windy, severe storms in south—High winds and storms, general damage on the lakes and Atlantic coasts—Cool and fall like.

To Inventors.

Inventors visiting Lincoln during the state fair can receive any information desired relative to securing letters patent by calling on Hamilton & Trevitt, attorneys and solicitors of patents, rooms 16 and 17, 111 North 13th St., Lincoln, Neb.

Exposition Profits.

A member of the Exposition association said yesterday that the profits of the association would meet a sum between $2,000 and $3,000. Next year the affair will be reported on a larger scale.

Work Commenced.

Yesterday the first excavating for the new city hall building on Eighteenth and Farnam streets was commenced, and the work will be pushed rapidly through. Messrs. Rogan & Bors, will have the contract.

QUEER AMMUNITION.

How a Party of Indians Were Repulsed.

"One of my adventures, eh?" began the book agent, as the others settled into their seats more comfortably. "Well, about eight years ago I carried a pack of novelties, such as you frequently see exhibited on street corners and prosided over by a sun burned Italian. With another man and young fellow of eighteen, I traveled through Kansas to the Colorado line selling and trading our wares to the Indians for anything marketable in the cities. About the time of our arrival in the western part of Kansas the memorable Indian outbreak was terrorizing the country. From the south and west came reports of the terrible outrages perpetrated by the Indians and grasshoppers. Houses were burned, the inmates were killed instantly or tortured to death, and all the cattle were driven off and scattered. You may be sure that considerable solicitude concerning the safety of my little party, and took extra precautions to find secluded spots when camping. Of course, under the conditions, I deemed it desirable to get out of the country as immediately as possible. To do so, we found it necessary to pass through the country most likely to be infested by straggling bands of Indians. Despite the risks, we remained to make the attempt. After a long, hard day's tramp, we encamped for the night in one of those small canyons so prevalent in western Kansas. It was an excellent place, top, our backs were effectively protected by a natural cave in the side of the bank, the entrance to which was concealed by brush and tall grass. Sam, the boy of the party, was an unusually bright young fellow, and very familiar with the tactics of Indian warfare. Just before lying down I noticed him untying a good-sized bundle of sticks, resembling short beam handles. He placed them in a row and reached and tumbled down to sleep. I had also noticed him fumbling around the bushes a short time before, but didn't pay much heed to his actions. As another fellow and myself concluded not to set a guard, as we were in such an excellent place, I don't know how long we had slept when we were awakened by Sam shaking us slightly in the morning. "Be quiet now, the Indians are getting ready to slip in on us."

"By this time we were both wide awake and ready with our rifles.

"Listen," whispered Sam, "hear the dirty scamps slipping up! Put down the rifles. I've got something better."

"He handed us each four of the sticks mentioned, remarking:

"These are Roman candles. I've got a pile of whoppers along, and I think we can scare these scamps clean out of their hides."

"I caught the idea in a moment, and strained my ears to listen for further demonstration from the attacking party. We could hear them creeping here and there through the bushes, scarcely making a noise, but easily distinguished in the silence of the night.

"Now," whispered Sam, "take two in each hand and I'll light them."

"Sitting the action to the word he contrived to light them in rapid succession. When turned them into the bushes, and heavens, what a sight was revealed as the candles flashed. About fifty villainous-looking scoundrels and grubs were stooping and creeping along toward us. At the first flash they stopped as if spell-bound. We turned them so the green and white balls would strike them in their faces. The candles were thrown, on affairs and eight or ten of them popping away apparently independent of human aid was enough to terrorize anyone. Our assailants wavered a moment, then, with a terrific yell, they fled toward high ground as if the devil himself was in pursuit. We could hear them scramble up the hillside, mount their horses and gallop away. Sam afterward explained that he had brought the candle along as a side speculation, and he also explained that he had arranged a system of strings among the bushes so that no one could get particularly close without meeting the obstruction and alarming him. It is needless to state that we reached safe ground in due time without further molestation."

NEW OUTFITS FOR NEWSPAPERS.

The Omaha Type Foundry and Supply House for Printers and Publishers.

The Western Newspaper Union at Omaha is prepared at all times to outfit publishers on short notice with paper, type, rules, holders, rakes, composition sticks and rules, and in fact everything in the line of printers' and publishers' supplies. Better terms and more liberal prices can be secured than by sending to Chicago or elsewhere. Save money by buying near home. Second hand goods in the printing line bought and sold. We often have great bargains in this particular. Send for THE PATRONS' LIST, our monthly trade journal, that gives lists of goods and prices and from time to time preclaims unequalled bargains in new and second hand material.

WESTERN NEWSPAPER UNION, 12th Street, bet. Howard and Jackson, Omaha, Nebraska.

La Fontaine's Magazine.

Blackwood's Magazine: It was not until La Fontaine had reached his forty-eight year that he published his first installment of fables, consisting of the first six books. Hitherto he had only shown the quality of his literary genius. In the "Contes" published three years before, he had appeared as the successor of the medieval writers of fables and prose romances, and of their descendants, the joyous children of the early renaissance, Rabelais, and Marot, Desperier, and Marguerite de Navarre; in his miscellaneous pieces he had taken up the note which Voltaire had first sounded in French literature, that of delicate wit and graceful persiflage which was destined to take the place of the old spirit of satire, but as yet he had done nothing to show that he was engaged in the same work as his great contemporaries, as Moliere and Racine, La Rochefoucauld and La Bruyere; that he, like them, had found that for man the most interesting study is man; that he, like them, was preparing to hold a mirror up to his age, through which all succeeding generations might look. It was not then till the mature age of forty-seven, the age at which Milton, thirteen years before, had begun to write "Paradise Lost," that La Fontaine found where his true strength lay; and the marked superiority of his later fables shows that even yet he was working with somewhat of a "prentice hand." It was not till ten years later that his genius shone out in its full brightness; that the world learned the full capabilities of that apparently simple thing, the fable.

Crichton & Whitney sell hard and soft coal.

18th and Iard and 218 S. 13th street.

Men Will Wear These Next Winter.

The double-breasted sack coat will be worn in the coldest weather of winter. It is stylish in appearance and has always had a fair share of popularity. It closes high on the chest and has its laps well peaked. The pockets are finished with wools instead of flaps.

Light-colored goods will be in greatest demand for the make-up of this garment, and the edges will be double-stitched; the silk will show to the full extent, and the collar and the seams will be turned and stitched one-eighth of an inch wide, or lapped and stitched one-quarter of an inch back.

The regular double-breasted overcoat will also find considerable favor. It is to be about an inch longer than the heavy "Chesterfield," but otherwise it will be the same, except in front. The lapels will be three inches wide and well peaked; and the collar will be half an inch narrower. The buttons will be about four and one-half inches from the edges.

"Among the various styles of overcoats that are destined to be popular the "Chesterfield" will undoubtedly hold first place. It is very stylish and at the same time comfortable, virtues to which it owes the hold it has on public esteem. For fall wear its length will be about thirty-seven and a half inches for a man standing five feet eight inches, and in girth it will be quite large. It will have light lapels and collars, and will be made to roll about two inches or to turn full from top to bottom.

For Sale or Rent.

My former residence, 23 Seventh street, three blocks from Omaha depot, and three blocks from center of business in Council Bluffs. CHAS. T. OFFICER, with Officer & Pusey, bankers, Council Bluffs, Ia.

An eight-year-old girl, one of a picnic party on a little steambot on Spirit Lake, fell into the water. Her brother, Scherby of Burlington, had of seventeen, jumped in after her, held her up until a boat came to her rescue, and as she was taken out of the water sank exhausted into the lake and was drowned.

Wanted—Good compositors on book and job work. Poyer's Book Job office, 12 Pearl st., Council Bluffs. Telephone No. 33.

Church Officials Distake Three Cent Pieces.

New York Special: The three cent coin is disclosed as a fraud on the churches. Your correspondent chanced to see in a bank a deposit by a ward of the previous Sunday collection money. The money was chiefly in silver and three cent pieces were disproportionately numerous. That seemed curious, in view of the small change that denomination as compared with cents, dimes and half dimes. "It is invariably so with this weekly deposit," said the cashier. "And I will tell you why," remarked the church officer. "It is because a three cent piece is so nearly the color and size of a dime, and when one is dropped into the contribution plate it cannot be distinguished from the more valuable coin. It is the commonest sort of a trick in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their sweet hearts, mean old clergies with a desire to seem a little philanthropic, and notably the women, are given to dropping in three centers for the sake of getting credited with giving a dime, but easily distinguished from a dime in congregations, especially of the portions made up of strangers. Impetuous young fellows accompanied by their