

SIXTEENTH YEAR.

ANOTHER BLOW AT IRELAND.

Parnell's Bill Voted Down in the House of Commons Last Evening.

202 FOR AND 297 AGAINST.

The Gladstonians Support the Parnellites and the Unionists the Government—Rioting Renewed in Belfast—Other Foreign.

Parnell's Bill Defeated. LONDON, Sept. 21.—In the commons to-day Gladstone, conservative, opposed Parnell's bill.

Lord Hartington regretted he was unable to support Gladstone's conclusions. He said that there was little doubt that the time had arrived for a full inquiry into the agrarian question in Ireland, and the government was about to institute such inquiry.

The Bulgarian Conspirators. SOFIA, Sept. 21.—The committee appointed to examine into and report upon the circumstances of the recent coup d'etat have concluded their investigations. They pronounce Karaveloff, Nicksaroff and Sankoff jointly and severally responsible for the affair and recommended that all three be suspended from parliament immediately.

Gladstone Writes a Letter. LONDON, Sept. 21.—Gladstone publishes a letter denying the persistently repeated report that he is about to join the Catholic church. He says: "The statement that I intend to become a Roman Catholic is a revolting and a miserable falsehood repeated from time to time by a show of confidence for a basis, and is unworthy of notice until it assumes a character very different from its calumnious intention."

RIOTING RENEWED.

Fighting All Along the Line in Bloody Belfast. BELFAST, Sept. 21.—The New York Herald Cable—Special to the BEE.—The city has been divided all day into two hostile camps of contending forces that outnumber the police and the military. In American parlance, there is "fighting all along the line."

Pardicaris in Prison. TANGIER, Sept. 21.—The diplomatic corps here held several meetings to discuss the case of Don Pardicaris, a resident American citizen, who had been imprisoned by American Consul Matthews. Pardicaris alleges that his imprisonment is without just cause and was ordered for revenge for official investigation of the consulate, brought about by his charges against it.

Land Commission Appointed. SOFIA, Sept. 21.—The Bulgarian government has appointed a commission to inquire into the working of the land act of 1874. The commission will consist of four members, including the minister of agriculture, the minister of justice, the minister of finance and the minister of the interior.

A Bloody Mexican Battle. GUAYMAS, Mex., Sept. 21.—Reports have reached here of a serious fight on the 14th inst. between Mexican troops and Yaquis. The Mexicans lost twenty killed and forty wounded, and the Yaquis sixty-two killed.

The Cholera Recurs. ROME, Sept. 21.—During the twenty-four hours ending yesterday, thirteen deaths from cholera were reported throughout Italy, and thirty-five new cases reported.

Jacobini Recovering. ROME, Sept. 21.—Cardinal Jacobini, papal secretary of state, who has been critically ill for several days, is now better.

Spinners to Strike. LONDON, Sept. 21.—Ninety thousand cotton spinners in Burnley have resolved to strike against a reduction of wages.

Infected Animals. CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Special Telegram to the BEE.—Live Stock Commissioner McChesney was in consultation with Sheriff Hancock this morning with a view to establishing a permanent quarantine on the 3,000 head of cattle in the Chicago distilleries and on Harvey's farm. The sheriff informed the commissioner that he would act as far as possible with his present force, but that he would not employ any extra men until authorized to do so by the county board.

The Situation Simplifying. BELLINGHAM, Sept. 21.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to the BEE.]—The correspondent of the London Times, in a long dispatch this morning, claiming that his views are obtained from official circles, and reflecting them at length, arrived at the following conclusion: It is plain, at least, that the situation in the east has grown much more simple and less alarming, and that, above all things, Germany must not now be accused of being an obsequious and unconditional supporter of Russia, which her unexplained action at first led the people to believe she had become.

BRITISH SOCIAL POINTS.

Gleanings from the Weekly Press of the Big Metropolis. LONDON, Sept. 21.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to the BEE.]—The "Court Journal" drops two tearful paragraphs over the alleged extravagance of Mrs. Wm. Astor's gorgeous penitentiary for her grand child and wife. It says: "The lady's whimsy with silver fittings. It means a splendid American exhibition 'The Yankers.'"

Life opines that American ladies make their way into society more easily in London than in Paris. The London clubs, however, are more exclusive than the drawing rooms and the feeling prevails among the American visitors that they have been shamefully treated in this respect. The husbands and brothers of the "Belles Americaines," of the season complain that while the women have been favored the men have received the cold shoulder in club-land. But by the laws of our clubs the number of honorary members is restricted, whereas the general rule in the United States is to add a club to the number of its honorary members. American newspapers are now suggesting reprisals. Visitors from the other side have increased to such an extent indeed that it surprises me somebody has not already started a first rate American club in our metropolis. Life goes on, and it is always George club has Americans in its directorate, with special rates and forty bedrooms for St. Jonathan.

St. Stephen's Review has a colored cartoon supplement with Lord Randolph Churchill as a jockey, riding Oranmore, as a jockey to its readers, but adds this home rule joke: "The queen's writ runs in Ireland" suggested an inquiring traveler at a table d'hote, in Dublin; "some times, but halts always."

Vanity Fair's leader is a plea for the prince of Wales heir to marry, an English wife, under parliamentary permission. It gives a cartoon of Lord Esher, which says that the queen's writ runs in Ireland, and that the prince of Wales is a jockey, riding Oranmore, as a jockey to its readers, but adds this home rule joke: "The queen's writ runs in Ireland" suggested an inquiring traveler at a table d'hote, in Dublin; "some times, but halts always."

The Triennial Conclave. St. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—In consequence of the severe storm which set in early this morning it was decided to abandon the grand parade of the Knights Templar set down for this forenoon. St. Louis had arranged herself in holiday gear for the first day of the twentieth triennial convocation of the Knights Templar of the United States.

The front of the business and municipal buildings were hidden with the debris of the storm. The front of the business and municipal buildings were hidden with the debris of the storm. The front of the business and municipal buildings were hidden with the debris of the storm.

Upon the question of the revision of the ritual (acting grand master says: A copy of the report of the committee on ritual has been received. It is a very interesting and interestingly improper to indulge in any detailed criticism in this place. I am free to say that I am not at all surprised that it is not perfect. The new change of words, without any change in the intent and meaning of phrases, is a most surprising and unexpected change. It is a most surprising and unexpected change.

The report of Grand Recorder T. S. Parvin is rather voluminous. It opens with a discussion of the printing question and assures the grand master that the printing committee for a lack of energy in the matter of printing and printing of the ritual, and the printing committee for a lack of energy in the matter of printing and printing of the ritual.

Unfinished Business. St. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The funeral services of Mrs. Ina Belle Jenney, wife of Frank E. Winkelman, conductor on the Union Pacific railroad, took place here to-day at 2 p. m. from St. Stephen's church, Rev. E. Warren, pastor, officiating. When the last look was taken by the husband and relatives, some more are expected on the train to-night. The convention meets at 7:30 to-morrow evening.

Caught in a Thresher. YORK, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—John Stewart, a prominent farmer of this county, caught his arm in the flinger of a threshing machine while working yesterday afternoon. The flesh was torn from the arm to the elbow.

A Miniature Volcano. COLUMBUS, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—A queer case of spontaneous combustion has come to light on the farm of H. W. Wislocki, a mile northwest of this city. A large stack of mallets, broken from that cause, and the miniature volcano is now in its fifty-ninth day of activity.

A Bad Oversight. COLUMBUS, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Two weeks ago Judge Post's little daughter, while riding, fell from her horse and as was supposed badly sprained her wrist. Today it was discovered to have been fractured and had partly knitted across. The bone had to be again broken and set.

Cass County's Fair. PLATTSBURGH, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The Cass county fair opened to-day under an auspicious sky and with every part of the machinery in the way for to-morrow closing with four or five hundred people.

JIM PAUL'S LATEST DODGE.

THE KID CAUSES A CONFERENCE.

Other Political Movements Throughout the State—Two Freight Trains Wrecked at York—A Farmer's Arm Threshed Off.

Paul's Latest Move. LOUISEVILLE, Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Governor Paul thinks he has played a shrewd game. The issue of the BEE which gave J. N. Paul cause for a visit to Loup City to consult with A. P. Cullen respecting the visit of the latter to Cora Cullen to obtain under false pretense a false affidavit, has caused, strange to say, an adjournment of the senators' convention for District No. 9, from September 22 to October 4. The object of this is supposed to be to nominate J. N. Paul for senator for this district if he is defeated for governor. Sherman county is indignant at this new game and objects to giving up the nomination for senator which justly belongs to this county.

Assailed of His Chief. DANKENON, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Mr. A. P. Cullen, cashier of the Loup City bank, who has gained an unpleasant notoriety in connection with Jim Paul, stopped off the train here this afternoon on his way to St. Paul and engaged a room at the depot platform when the extra, under charge of Conductor Shiner, pulled in. At the east end of the yard is a very heavy grade, and when the train attempted to stop at the water tank it became uncontrollable and dashed down the grade at lightning speed. The train on "44" attempted to back the train, but before it could get under motion the engine of the extra, with twenty-one loads of dead freight behind, struck her. The pilot of each engine was killed and a number of crew members driven in. All hands escaped unhurt, and the result of the collision is two badly damaged engines and a number of freight cars derailed. No blame is attached to any one.

Newsy Budget From Papillon. PAPHILION, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Perry Bolton, the engineer whose carelessness caused the fatal collision near G. Moore last Wednesday night, was before County Judge Hancock this afternoon for preliminary examination. Supporting Derrange and a dozen Omaha conductors and brakemen were present at the trial. Bolton was found a fit subject for investigation in a district court and was held for trial.

Killed by Falling Stair. DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Mr. Gus Nelson, a Swede working in a Sebastopol coal mine south of this city, was instantly killed this morning by falling into the room in which he was working. At the time of his death he was in the act of repairing a piece of machinery. The slate that fell on him was a mass of four inches square, one and a half inches thick and weighing about six hundred pounds.

Marshalltown's Marshal Arrested. MARSHALSTOWN, Ia., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The marshal of Marshalltown, was arrested and taken to the town of Legrand, accused of failing to enforce the prohibition law. The case was continued to the 29th. It created great amusement here.

HE WAS A MODEL MAN. W. E. Gould's Haul from the Banks at Portland. PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—It is now thought that the defalcation of W. E. Gould will reach $145,000, but the directors think the bank will not lose $50,000 more. Gould, fifty-two years old, was cashier of the First National bank, vice-president of the National Bankers' association, also of the Portland Trust company, and trustee of the Marine Savings bank. It is said he commenced embezzling ten years ago. He has not been arrested, but a bond for many years. All of his original business, save the defalcation law, New York, are dead, and Dow can only be held for $20,000 of the original $50,000.

Manning and the Austrian Mission. BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Secretary Manning was this evening en route to Albany. He is deemed much improved by the vacation, but to judge from his appearance is hardly able yet for hard work in the cabinet or treasury. His nephew, who accompanied him, stated he was to meet President Cleveland at Albany Wednesday morning for consultation with a view to opening a mission for the United States in Austria.

The President Retiring. PAUL SMITH'S, Adirondack Mountains, New York, Sept. 21.—The president, accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Folsom and Mrs. Colonel Lamont, arrived here last night on the return trip to Washington. Yesterday's journey was made through the woods in covered carriages and by row boats over seven lakes between this place and Paul Smith's station on the North Adirondack railroad, and the remainder of the trip will be made by rail.

Going With a Rush. WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Commissioner Banks of the general land office has prepared a statement showing disposal of public lands for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886. The secretary's report shows that the total number of acres disposed of was 227,474, embracing an area of 2,991,967 acres. The amount of money received for this land was $743,867.

A Bad Banker. SARASOTA, Me., Sept. 21.—The absence from town of Jerome Brown, of the firm of Lee & Brown, private bankers, has created excitement throughout this vicinity. Lee asserts that his name, which appears on $50,000 worth of the firm's paper, is a forgery. The liabilities of the institution are placed at $60,000, with no assets, all the firm's property having been disposed of. Brown is supposed to have fled to Canada.

Nominating Two Congressmen. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21.—At Oshkosh to-day the democrats of the Sixth district nominated Andrew Hansen, of Oshkosh, for congress.

At Elk. ELK, Wis., Sept. 21.—At Elk to-day the democrats of the Eighth district nominated James Brackett, of Rice Lake, for congress.

A CHILLY FALL FOR CHAIRMEN.

Over Half the Committees Heads of the Last Congress Fall of Renomination.

THE ADMINISTRATION TO BLAME.

Commissioner of Pensions Black Leaves for the West on Public Business—Patents to Western Inventors.

Falled to Get There. WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Up to the present time twenty-five chairmen of committees of the house have either been defeated for renomination or failed to stand for future honors. In addition four other nominations are looked upon as doubtful. The total committee of the house is thirty-seven, and with the defeat of the four already mentioned, the list of those already defeated to the past will make twenty-nine, or one over one-half in the total number. About the same percentage of the entire democratic representation, as is shown in the list of chairmen, have also suffered defeat at the hands of their constituents. The house is not a very successful one, and will have possibly less than one-half of the present democratic members, provided none are defeated at the polls. The reasons assigned for setting these members aside are said to reflect seriously on the policy of the administration. This bears every resemblance of truth to the fact that those who were not renominated have been, almost without exception, in favor of the president and his policy.

THE NEW LETTER-SHEET ENVELOPES. The first order from the Omaha postoffice for the combination letter-sheet envelopes was for 25,000, which is said at the postoffice department to be unusually large.

General Black, the commissioner of pensions, leaves the city to-night for the west on public business. During his absence he will visit the soldiers' homes at Dayton, Milwaukee and Leavenworth. He will also visit the homes of the disabled soldiers at various agencies. The commissioner has been engaged since his return from San Francisco in the preparation of his annual report and estimates.

AFFIRMED THE DECISION. The secretary of the interior to-day affirmed the decision of the general land office in the case of Amanda R. Miller, of Nebraska, who offered one month's salary as a reward for the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 35, township 29, north of range 6 west, T. 29 N., R. 6 W., which she is compelled to furnish her proof.

ARMY MATTERS. Army leaves have been granted as follows: Post Chaplain George Collier, Fort Totten, Dak., one month; Captain John W. Bean, Fifteenth infantry, Fort Randall, Dak., one month; Captain J. M. Bradley, Second cavalry, Fort Meade, Dak., one month, with permission to take a leave of absence; Captain J. M. WAR IN THE NEW HEBRIDES.

London, Sept. 21.—The Australian mail brings news of a conflict between the German gunboat Albatross and the natives of the New Hebrides. It appears that the Albatross opened fire on the natives in revenge for the murder of Klein and Callan. Twenty were killed and many wounded. The crew of the Albatross then landed, whereupon the natives fled to Pentecost, Polina, where the Ulpols natives were murdered. The Germans destroyed the houses and opened fire with galling shots, which did terrible execution. Several villages were burned by the Germans.

THE BULGARIAN CONSPIRATORS.

Sofia, Sept. 21.—The committee appointed to examine into and report upon the circumstances of the recent coup d'etat have concluded their investigations. GLADSTONE WRITES A LETTER.

London, Sept. 21.—Gladstone publishes a letter denying the persistently repeated report that he is about to join the Catholic church. He says: "The statement that I intend to become a Roman Catholic is a revolting and a miserable falsehood repeated from time to time by a show of confidence for a basis, and is unworthy of notice until it assumes a character very different from its calumnious intention."

THE TRIENNIAL CONCLAVE. St. Louis, Sept. 21.—In consequence of the severe storm which set in early this morning it was decided to abandon the grand parade of the Knights Templar set down for this forenoon. St. Louis had arranged herself in holiday gear for the first day of the twentieth triennial convocation of the Knights Templar of the United States.

UPON THE QUESTION OF THE REVISION OF THE RITUAL (acting grand master says: A copy of the report of the committee on ritual has been received. It is a very interesting and interestingly improper to indulge in any detailed criticism in this place. I am free to say that I am not at all surprised that it is not perfect. The new change of words, without any change in the intent and meaning of phrases, is a most surprising and unexpected change. It is a most surprising and unexpected change.

THE REPORT OF GRAND RECORDER T. S. PARVIN is rather voluminous. It opens with a discussion of the printing question and assures the grand master that the printing committee for a lack of energy in the matter of printing and printing of the ritual, and the printing committee for a lack of energy in the matter of printing and printing of the ritual.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS. St. Louis, Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The funeral services of Mrs. Ina Belle Jenney, wife of Frank E. Winkelman, conductor on the Union Pacific railroad, took place here to-day at 2 p. m. from St. Stephen's church, Rev. E. Warren, pastor, officiating. When the last look was taken by the husband and relatives, some more are expected on the train to-night. The convention meets at 7:30 to-morrow evening.

CAUGHT IN A THRESHER. YORK, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—John Stewart, a prominent farmer of this county, caught his arm in the flinger of a threshing machine while working yesterday afternoon. The flesh was torn from the arm to the elbow.

A MINIATURE VOLCANO. COLUMBUS, Neb., Sept. 21.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—A queer case of spontaneous combustion has come to light on the farm of H. W. Wislocki, a mile northwest of this city. A large stack of mallet
