The Republican County Ticket.

The republican party has been particularly fortunate in the formation of its ticket this year.

The head of the ticket, George W. Lininger, is well known as one of our leading citizens especially in those lines of commerce and manufactures, which tend so much to a growing city's certain prosperous future.

The other candidate for senator from the district, Bruno Teschnek is too well known in the republican councils of the state to need more than a mention that he has consented to serve the people again.

As secretary of the state for two terms he showed by his actions that he knew full well the best interests of the people and how to guard them faithfully.

For representatives W. G. Whitmore heads the ticket. He is one of the leading farmers of Douglas county and is well known throughout the state for his legislative work while representing the county on a past occasion.

His record in this respect goes back to Massachusetts where he served with consistency with equal ability. No man will carry more weight to the lower house and do more honor to Douglas county than Mr. Whitmore.

F. B. Hibbard is another selection from the farming community who does honor to the ticket. He has never been prominent as a candidate before, but no one stands higher with those who know him intimately, especially the agricultural workers of the county and the business men of Omaha.

George Heitrod, the well known grocer of Sixteenth and Thirteenth streets, is another superior selection for representative. He is a pioneer of 1867, and a leading German of Omaha, and by dint of hard work has risen to a high position in commercial circles.

His record in this respect goes back to Massachusetts where he served with consistency with equal ability. No man will carry more weight to the lower house and do more honor to Douglas county than Mr. Whitmore.

John Mathieson is also an old citizen of Omaha and one of the leading employes of the Union Pacific shops, being connected with the tin department. He is a level headed man in every particular, and will make an active legislator.

James R. Young is also connected with the Union Pacific shops, and from an early day has been connected with the labor movements in this city. No more popular representative could be nominated and his election is a foregone conclusion.

The labor interests will have a carefully selected and active group of representatives in the legislature as to insure the passage of such measures as he advocates.

W. Blackburn has been prominently connected with republican politics in Omaha and the county for years. He is now in the real estate business, although for many years in the passenger department of the Union Pacific.

His position made him extensively acquainted and his manner of conducting his official business won him a host of friends.

Dr. M. O. Ricketts is the leading colonial physician of the city and his profession has been the means of making him widely known among all classes, while with his own race he is a leader.

His election would be a compliment to the colored people of the county and an integrity to do them credit and faithfully care for their best interests.

REPUBLICAN RESOLUTIONS.

Which Were Laid Under the Table at Beatrice.

At the republican congressional convention at Beatrice a set of resolutions was agreed to by the committee on resolutions.

Resolved, 10th, That it is the sense of this convention that our members in congress should endeavor to introduce and have such laws passed in the general congress of the United States in conformity with the above resolutions.

Resolved, 11th, That we heartily condemn the hypocrisy of President Cleveland in pretending to favor civil service reform while really administering the affairs of government for the benefit of himself and the democratic party.

Resolved, 12th, That we congratulate James G. Blaine upon the recent result of the Maine election, and that we see in that election the promise of victory in the coming year.

Resolved, 13th, That we respectfully submit the resolutions submitted by the committee on resolutions. STEPHEN J. BROENKIN, Chairman.

U. P. IMPROVEMENTS.

A New Viaduct to be Built at Seventh Street. Yesterday morning the Union Pacific commenced to drive piles across Seventh street, where the present viaduct stands, to lay a temporary track at that point while it tears down the old viaduct and widens the street.

Seventh street, as is well known at this point is obstructed by two rows of piles on which the road runs its track. The sides of the street are not near so far apart as the regular width of the street, and as a consequence a great deal of annoyance is experienced by people either driving or walking along the thoroughfare at that point.

All these are about to be removed. The road will build a stone abutment on either side of the street at its full width of 100 feet. These walls will extend from the Burlington & Missouri track north to Leavenworth street, thus affording the company room for a dozen tracks where now it has but two or three. The stone for this work is already on hand and it will be put into place immediately.

A BIG ANNUNCIATOR.

The Paxton Will Soon be Able to Hear from 230 Rooms. Yesterday morning the Midland Electric company put in a new mammoth electric annunciator in the office of the Paxton house, which is the largest of the kind between Chicago and San Francisco.

Sewer District No. 33.

Contractor J. F. Dailly commenced the work of laying the sewer in District No. 33 yesterday, and has already laid about three hundred feet. The extent of the sewer is to 1,500 feet, which Mr. Dailly hopes to finish inside of a week.

The condition will be eight inches in diameter, and will have a beneficial effect in draining the district which is bounded by Nineteenth and Twentieth and Sherman and Grace streets.

Saturday evening, September 25, will positively be the last evening of the great picture sale at 1118 Farnam street.

Stock Yard Fire Brags.

Another fire took place at the stock yards about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. It was the work of an incendiary and injured a building insured for $1,300 to the extent of $100. One of the carpenters slept in the building and was awakened by the smoke in time to give the alarm and save the building.

Dem's Falls City. There was an activity around the Missouri Pacific train yesterday morning which was quite unusual. It was occasioned by the number of delegates to the democratic congressional convention, which is to be held this evening at Falls City, a little place away down near the Kansas line.
