The notorious Jim Snoderly and his notorious wife are both in the lock-up. They are charged with being drunk and disorderly and disturbing the peace. They were enjoying a little domestic infelicity, and Jim was pounding his wife worse than she was pounding him.

Miss Maude Howe made a friend of every member of the audience that greeted her in "A Wife's Devotion," at Dohany's last night. She is a charming httle actress, whose work is praiseworthy. She will appear to night in the old but ever popular play "Kathleen Mayourneen.

After a three days' jury trial before Judge Aylesworth, J. Kurtz was awarded $375 damages on account of the street in front of his property on Four-teenth street being taken by the city for a sewer ditch and water way for Indian creek. Mr. Kurtz claimed $1,000 damages and says he will appeal the case.

It seems as if the Steen family could just as well give their exhibitions some other evering than Sunday. There were a great many who would like to see them, but will not attend an entertain-ment of that nature Sunday evening. Then, too, there is a serious question as to the propriety of allowing anything of the kind to exhibit on Sunday.

Last evening Mrs Horace Everett entertained a few friends at tea in honor of Mrs. General Dodge, who has returned to this city. General G. M. Dodge was expected to be in attendance, but on ount of the delayed trains the General

For several days past the city has been pretty free from a hard lot of professional gamblers, but they are returning to town. They say they have been out to Fremont, They say they have been out to Fremont, Neb., on the invitation of Church Howe, and that all but one voted for him at the republican primaries held there last week. They say that Jim Snee was accord if he was a republican, and replied. asked if he was a republican, and replied, "Not by a d-d sight," so they kicked him out. Those who have returned do not seem to be short of funds.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hopkins, old resi-dents of Council Bluffs, who are now at Weston, Neb., have just suffered a se-vere bereavement, in which they will re-ceive the sympathy of many old friends here. On the 24th inst, they lost by death their bright little 2-wear-old daughter their bright little 2-year-old daughter. This makes the second visit that the angel of death has paid to their household during the year. Last spring they laid under the daisies their oldest daughter, a httle girl of 4 years. They have but one remaining child, a boy of seven.

A man from Marshalitown arrived in the city yesterday morning for the pur-pose of trying to induce his sister in law, who has been an inmate of Stella Long's house of prostitution for the past three months, to return to her home. Yesterday afternoon the frail female was taken to a hotel where her brother in-law is stop-ping and a long interview was had but she returned to her home of shame with out consenting to accompany him. The names of the two are withheld from pub-lication in this issue with the hope that the misguided girl may repeat.
