Eluffs News. The Democratic Doings. The democratic county convention was held yesterday in the Temple hall, which was well filled, there being a large number of spectators as well as delegates there being expectations of a lively time and much interest manifest. The fore noon session was quite tame, it being devoted to organization and preliminary work. Chairman Shea called the convention to order and named John T. Hazen, of Knox, as temporary chairman. John Wagner was chosen secretary. As Committee on Permanent Organization-A. W. Wyman of Keg Creek, G.

Ast of Layton. A committee of five on resolutions was appointed, consisting of George Dietrich of Avoca, F. M. Gault, F. M. Hunter, G. H. Jackson and E. E. Aylesworth, all but the first named being from Council Bluffs. The convention then adjourned until 1 clock to enable the committees to perform their work.

On reassembling the committee on resolutions reported, the report being adopted as follows:

Resolved, That we hereby endorse the administration of Grover Cleveland, state and congressional platforms, and will at all times give our earnest support to secure the election of the entire demo cratic ticket, in the state, the congressional and judicial districts, and this county, believing that by the election of the democratic candidates the best interests of the people will and only can be prompted. The committe on permanent organiza-tion reported in fayor of W. C. James as chairman, G. Diedrich, secretary, and John Wagner, assistant secretary. Judge James in taking the chair said he took it as a distinguished honor. He said the mission of the convention was to advance the interests of the democratic party. If there were conflicting inter-ests, all must remember that the party was not for men, but men must yield to the party. The republicans were now in the minority here. There had been a great change, and now the democrats had the government. The sectional differences must be laid aside. As a member of the state committee he was posted, and he was confident that Iowa would be claimed by the democrats. The republi-cans had passed an infamous registry law to shut out democrats. The republicans had also made a wicked redistrict-ing of the state. With these things to contend against the convention should frame a ticket so as to strengthen the party Up to this time the committee on cre dentials had not reported, and although the convention was organized, no one knew as yet who were entitled to seats The lacking report was finally presented In the contest in Garner township, the regular delegates were admitted. In Norwalk township there was another In contest, and both sets were admitted,

Three cheers were then given Mr. Hendricks, and they were given with a will. It was with difficulty that the convention could be quieted down enough to proceed with business. The nomination for coroner was speedily disposed of, Henry Faul being nominated by acclamation, but not unantmoasly The nomination of two county commis-

A ballot was taken on the other com-missioner. It resulted: Rishton 35, Maxfield 33}, Warner 18, Geddins 8, Wat-kins 5, Kirkwood 4, A. C. Graham 4. No choice.

A second ballot was taken resulting: A second ballot was taken resulting: Maxfield 544, Rishton 20, Warner 15, Watkins 8, Geddings 8, Kirkwood 4, Graham 2. No choice, Mr. Maxfield just lacking one vote. He was then made the nominee by acclamation as the other county commissionor. The convention then adjourned and the delegates renewed their enthusiasm individually and informally with the several candidates. On the Half Shell, results in factional and fractional differences. The democrats of Kane township met in convention at the close of the county convention yesterday afternoon to frame its ticket. W. C. Jones called it to order and J. J. Fraincy acted as secretary.

Nominations of three justices were first in order. W. L. Biggs, A. S. Hendricks, J. J. Frainey, Hiram Shoemaker, N. Schurz, C. Wesley and A. T. Whittlesey were named. The ballot resulted in the nomination of J. J. Frainey, A. T. Whittlesey and W. L. Biggs. The vote stood: Frainey, 26; Whittlesey, 15; Biggs, 13; Hendricks, 12; Schurz, 11; Shoemaker, 11; Wesley, 8. For constables R. Ricketts, Conrad Klein, C. Wesley, Thomas Skinner, John Barbuta, wara namod

Barbyte, were named. Mr. P. Lacy called up the point of order that this township convention was not justly constituted. The delegates present were selected simply to attend a county convention and not to hold a township convention. This opened the eyes of the delegates, and a discussion followed as to whether this was in order at all or not. It was urged that cau-cuses should be held and delegates chosen to a township convention. It was wrong for the delegates to the county convention to meet and hold a township convention. The talk was in prog-ress while the tellers were count-ing the ballot for constables, which stood: Wesley 19, Richetts 26, Barhyte 15, Kline 17, Skinner 12. This gave the nom-inations to Wesley, Ricketts and Kline.

Judge Larimer wanted the ticket com pleted, and then if it was found to be wrong, a township convention could be called, and this ticket renominted or set P. Lacy moved to adjourn and have another convention called. The motion was lost and the business proceeded. Mr. John Green was nominated for township trustee by acclama-tion. M. J. I. Lutz was nominated in a like manner as township clerk. Adjournment was then taken.

The convention and its results prove very unsatisfactory to many democrats. There are apparently just claims that it was not a duly constituted convention It was not provided for in the call, by which delegates were to be selected to attend the county convention simply. No call was published for any township convention. No chairman was elected, Judge James taking it for granted that as he was chairman of the county convention he should continue to serve as chairman of other conventions. No committee on credentials was appointed and no record made of who were lelegates. The whole affair seems to have been a farce, a fitting close to the entertainment of the afternoon. Happy Babics.

Yesterday being the first birthday anniversary of Master Vernon Weirich Harmon, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon, the occasion was made a joyous one at the family residence on Fourth street. The guests invited to participate in the celebration were all fellow babies, who were accomponied by their mothers. A long table was bountifully spread, and around this were seated proud mothers, each havthe ing by her side a high chair for her little one. Fruits, lee cream, salads, etc., composed the menu and each of the ht-tle ones was provided with a tiny basket of choice candies tied with ribbons. Each of the infantile guests was given a token or memento of the occasion, the little gifts being buried in a large bow tilled with bran, Ribbons were attached to the gifts, by which they were pulled out of their hiding place. In all the details the affair was one of the happiest and most unique baby parties even given The young man who was the hero of the day was the recipient of a large number of gifts appropriate to his first birthday anniversary. The invited babies were

Blind Drunk.

Yesterday the services of the police were required to take care of a blind man known as "Tom," who travels about the country selling matches. Tom was staggering along Broadway, under the guidance of a diminutive boy, who was threatened with being crushed every time the burly man took a tumble. On being taken to the station, a stone tied up in a pice of cloth was found upon him, it be ing apparently a slung shot, though Tom declared it was a mad stone, possibly meaning that it was to be used when he got mad. The little fellow, who was with him, says he is from Marshalltown, and that a few weeks ago he hired out to Tom at fifty cents a day, to travel as his guide The boy was nearly heart-broken at Tom's getting into jail, and wants in some way to get back to his mother, whose name he says is Winkle. Progressive Gambling. It is reported that Ed Sherlock, Pat Lacy and Jim Wilson are to be interested in the new saloon and gambling house to be opened next to Wagner & Sherlock's old stand, Wilson having joined Sherlock in breaking away from Wagner. Dan Carrig is reported as arranging to be the presiding genius at the gambling room in connection with Wagner's soloon, and superintendent of the Iowa institution for the deat and dumb and taken to the institution and kept over night as the guest of the superintendent. Professor Wyokoff has had charge only since August 23, but during that time has done much to prepare the building for a successful school year. At the time of our visit the heater had not been in order to use, but a competent engineer has been placed in charge of that depart-ment and was working night and day to secure the much needed heat for the house. Every department seemed to be in good shape, and promised future success. All the teachers seemed cheerful and were heartloyal to the new superintendent. Prof. Wyckoff impressed us as the right man for the place he occupies. He has had a life experience with the deat, and has been a teacher for ten years. His first years of experience were in the Kansas institution, where he became superintendent by natural promotion, and lost his place only on account of a change of administration from republi-can to democratic. He has taught three years in the Iowa institution and was selected for his present position because of his special fitness for the place and the hearty concurrence of his associates. He is not only a scholar, but a natural mechanic, and the latter quality is as necessary in such a place as the first. He knows where the machinery is out of order and can direct its repair. The industrial department is an important part of a deaf-mute's education, and at Council Bluffs this part of the work will receive the care it deserves. Miss Sarah E. Wright, of Burlington, has again been placed in charge of the matron's department, and having been associated with her in the past, we feel competent to say that with her experience and largeness of heart, no parent need teel that a child will be neglected. Taking the organiza-tion as we found it we can see no reason why the lowa Institution for the Deaf and Dumb will not go on its legitimate work in a line of good success. Two hundred and fifty two pupils are in at tendance, and there is now room for fully three hundred. Success to the lowa In-stitution for the Deaf and Dumb."

Stuck On Stud.

A well known sporting man sat down at a stud poker table on Thursday night at 9 o'clock and before he knew it was several hundred dollars "in the hole." He stuck it out and remained at the table until noon yesterday, never having left the table or even raised from his chair in the entire fifteen hours. He tired several dealers and any a couple of hundred loser. It was only through the most ear-nest solicitations from his friends, who wanted him to attend the democratic convention then in session, that he finally let go.

That place on the ticket was thus speedily and enthusiastically disposed of. The nomination of county attorney followed. The attempt was made to allow each delegate to leave his seat and deposit his ballot, as the roll of townships was called. This caused the greatest confusion, and half of the convention were on their feet, going to and fro from the ballot hats. The unusual proceeding made the process of taking a ballot very tedious and mixed. After a half hour's hard work, the result of the informal ballot was found to be: Scott Williams, 494, Fremont Benjamin, 42; W. H. Ware, 21, J. J. Frainey, 6. Total, 1181 votes, 21 more votes than the convention should show.

Some one intimated fraud, and the chairman announced that any one attempting any fraud had better get out of the hall. There must be honest, square work.

The convention weary of the balloting process decided to take the next vote by call of townships.

A Snap Game. Judge James yesterday secured the nomination for county commissioner on the democratic ticket by peculiar tactics on the part of his friends, W. R. Vaughan and J. J. Frainey, and much indignation is excited in the camp. Preparations were being made to take a ballot, the two highest to be the nominees for commis-sioners. It was conceded that one should be from the city and one from the country. Vaughan jumped to the front as a city delegate and nominated Judge James, Fraincy followed up by moving to have him chosen by acclama-tion. The sudden procedure gave the impression to the rest of town delegates, that the city delegates were united in favor of James. Judge James being in the chair gave Frainey an excuse for putting the vote himself, and he did to harriadly, and hehimself, and he did so himself, and he-fore there was a chance for delegates to realize the situation. Of course, the country delegates joined in shouting "aye," and when the majority of the city delegates shouted "nay," it sounded in comparison as though there were but a handful opposed to James. It was a stolen march, and the scheme succeeded. There is little doubt but that a large ma-jority of the city delegates favored the jority of the city delegates favored the nomination of A. C. Graham, the present member of the board, and had this fact been known to the country delegates they would have rallied to his support, and he would have been nominated. Mr. Graham has been one of the most ef-ficient members of the county board, and many republicans would gladly have supported him for personal reasons, al
