A Peculiar Equal.

Lague, No. 8 carampment, instituted a prenhar annual suppor. -The intention is on the 19th of October of each year, to have a supper to be partaken of only by members of the encampment. This date is fixed upon as the anniversary of General Sheridan's famous ride. Each year the ranks are growing thinner, and one by one the veterans depart, so that doubtless when even the first year has rolled by, there will be one or more vacant chairs and unturned plates. At each of these anniversary suppers covers are to be spread for the deceased members, and as the years go by the number of surviving members growing less and less, not many anniversaries hence, the occasion will be one of peculiar and sad interest. The festivities attending an ordinary supper cannot but have a finge of sad ness under such a peculiar arrangement but each year will make the gathering of those left a sacred and tender tie to join the living to each other and to the mem-ory of the departed heroes. Last evening the supper was instituted. The table was spread in the Grand Army hall, which was pleasingly decorated. The supper was really a banquet, with the absence of wine. The categors, Louis & Metzger had charge of the arrangements, which were complete in every detail. A more elegant spread is seldom seen here. On taking their scats the veterans joined in a song, and between the courses brief speeches were made. The occasion was a happy one, but the thought could not be altogether chased away that at the future gatherings the number of un-turned plates would be greater and greater, and the number of surviving partakers less and less, until the last chair should be left vacant.

A Lover Brought to Terms.

London Figaro: Quite a sensational photographic story comes from Madrid.

A Spanish photographer having made all the necessary arrangement for taking a comely young damsel, had placed the dark slide in position, and was in the net of drawing it out when, on finally glacing at his "sitters," he was horrified to see that she was holding the nouzzle of a small revolver to her forehead. "Stop, for heaven's sake!" cried the artist, add-ing, rather selfishly: "If you shoot your-ply the young lady only laughed, and, handing the revolver to the photographer, said: "Don't be alarmed. It isn't loaded, you see. But I want you to take me holding it to my forehead, so that I can send the carte to my lover, who has deserted me, with a letter say ing that if he does not come back to me I will really fire off the revolver!' As suring himself of the fact that the re-volver was not loaded, the artist consented to so far assist his "sitter" in her proposed stratagem as to take the de-sired photograph. The sequel is per-feetly satisfactory. Some time afterward the photograpic artist had the pleasure of again taking the same young lady, but this time she was with a gentleman, her companion being her own fickle lover, who had returned to his allegiance a short time after the tragical

photograph had been dispatched to him giving up of Tenth avenue to the Union Pacific are those who own property near the Broadway depot. They predict that if the Union Pacific gets Tenth avenue, the company will abandon the Union avenue route, and the present dummy depot, and that their property will be damaged by such a change.

One of the workmen engaged in fixing the big cylinder in the county jail bad a razor stolen from his pocket. It is supposed that one of the prisoners must have nipped it, and this suspicion causes some anxiety as to know whether it is concealed on the inside of the jail or not. A razor in the hands of a prisoner is not a very desirable thing. That is, not desirable for the guard or turnkey.

Among the rumors is one to the effect that the new bridge company has agreed to take the street car line off the hands of the Union Pacific at a fair price, and make it a part of the new line. The Union Pacific in return for thus disposing of the street car line to advantage, promises not to fight the new wagon bridge. The rumor is credited by many. Its truth or falsity is difficult to determine

Real estate is already feeling the stiffening effect of the many enterprises now being developed. Those who own lots on the bottoms are already shoving up the prices, and may overshoot the mark. Those having large tracts can afford to dispose of a portion at fair prices, and get improvements started which will cause the rest of their property to advance. By holding on to all of it with too grim a grip, and refusing to improve it, they may miss the very advance which they hope to gain.

The report spread here quickly yesterday that Mr. Paxton, of the Omaha smelting works, had bought out the Union Pacific shops. Many of the enthusiastic citizens were making the prediction that the Union Pacific would now build large shops on this side, while the more con-servative ones declare that they see in it an evident intention to move the shops further west, but that repair shops and other buildings will be established on this side, so that Council Bluffs will get some belp any way from the change. The report caused no little stir among business circles.

FIRST WEDDING IN ST. PAUL'S.

Funeral of the Murdered Man-Gossip and Rumors About the Canning Boom-Personal and Short Stop Items.

A Grand Wedding.

The first wedding in the new St. Paul's Episcopal church was solemnized there last evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. T. J. Mackay, rector.

The high contracting parties were Mr. Edward A. Albertson and Miss Clara V. Beck, both of this city.

The bridal procession entered the fairch, precoded by the ushers. Churles Hans and W. F. Sapp, jr., in the following order: Mr. Harry Bowman and Miss Jossie Kitchen, of Lincoln; Mr. Harry McCoon and Miss Florence Clayton, both of Omaha, Mr. T. P. Cartwright, of Omaha, and Miss Amanda Zurmnelben, and then came John L. Cahoon and Miss Nettie Gerner, first groomsman and bridesmaid, followed by the bride and groom and the bride's father and mother,

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Beek.

The bradal trousscau was ofpearl suran silk and moire antique, en train, with waist embroidered in seed pearls and duchess lace at the throat and sleeves, the pearl jewelry being an heirloom.

The marriage was with a ring and after the impressive ceremonies of the Episcopal church were completed, the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents, No. 180 Glen avenue, where a reception was held from 9 to 12

The church was handsomely decorated by the Aeme club of St. Paul's church, of which Miss Beek was the first presi-

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Beck was tastefully decorated with smilax and out flowers by Casper, while the mantle in the north parlor, in front of which the newly-wedded couple received their friends, was banked with cut flowers, in which were the initials of the bride and groom. In the south parlor were the presents, which were elegant in the extreme, being both appropriate and expensive. Among these were two pieces of bronze statuary by his fellow employes of the Council Bluffs Insurance company.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Beck, and having been born in this city, is well and favorably

Mr. Albertson, the groom, has only been a resident of this city the past four years, but during that time has made many warm friends.

From boyhood he has been an intimate friend of the family and his mother and Mrs. Beek have been deeply attached to each other. Seal brand oysters at H. J. Palmer's. The Proposed Bridge.

The chief theme of talk among nearly all classes and circles is the proposed wagon and street car bridge. A petition has been circulating for signatures of free holders asking the city council to call an election to yote upon the question of giving aid to the enterprize. This petition has evoked much discussion, and many queries. There have been about five hundred signatures gained, and there are only about eight hundred free holders, so that it seems that the election as asked for will be called. If so called there is little doubt but that the aid suggested will be voted. The tax proposed would amount to about $48,000, or a little less than that amount. There seems to be considerable enthusiasm in favor of the bridge, if it is to be built in accordance with the general understanding of the enterprise. There are some, however, who fear lest there should be some scheme on foot by which, if the aid is scheme on foot by which, if the aid is voted, it would be gobbled up by some railway company. It has been suggested by some of the leading citizens that the petition should set forth more explicitly just what the bridge is to be, and whether it is to be owned or controlled, or used in any way for railway purposes. The general assurance is given that it is to be a strictly wagon, foot and street railway bridge. Its location is not stated in the petition, and the tion is not stated in the petition, and the articles of incorporation are not yet filed, but will be to-day. The bridge company will be so organized that any of the citizens who desire to invest and have a voice can do so. The bridge as planned is a high bridge, 780 long, resting on four piers. It will be a crowning bridge, the two spans over the channel proper being as high as the Union Pacine bridge, and the span at each end being sloped or rounding down to the approaches. This plan would be impracticable for railway purposes, on account of the grades at each end. On the Omaha side it is purposed to have a viaduct built, so that travel under that approach would not be travel under that approach would not be interfered with. On this side the approach is to be in the form of a dirt dump, an easy grade, running down to the grade of the street. Such is the general outline of what the bridge is to be. The petition which is to be presented to the council this evening is as follows:

To the Mayor and City Council of the City of Council Bluffs: Your petitioners, resident taxpayers of the city of Council Bluffs, Ia., respectfully ask your honorable body of Council Bluffs: Your petitioners, resident taxpayers of the city of Council Bluffs. Ia., respectfully ask your honorable body that the question of aiding the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge combany, incorporated under the laws of Iowa, in the construction of a highway bridge over the Missouri river at a point commencing in the city of Council Bluffs, Ia., and opposite to the city of Council Bluffs, Ia., and opposite to the city of Omaha, in the state of Nebraska, be submitted to the vol. 7: of said city at a special election to be held for that purpose and that immediate notice be given, as required by law, of such special election, to be held in said city on the 2d day of November, 1886, said aid to be a tax of 12 mills on the assessed value and valuation of the property in said city of Council Bluffs, to be levied upon and become due, collectable and payable, one-half thereof, or 6 mills levy, in the year 1887, and the remaining half thereof, or six mills levy, in the year 1887, and the remaining half thereof, or six mills levy, in the year less, provided said highway bridge is fully completed and in use and operation by said date.

In consideration of such aid, said company, its successors or assigns shall be restricted to charge nat to exceed the following rates of toll across said bridge, viz:

For one person, not to exceed 5 cents.

For two horses, burgy and driver, not to exceed 10 cents.

For two horses, burgy and driver, not to exceed 15 cents.

For two horses, buggy and driver, not to For two horses, onegy and driver, not to exceed 15 cents.

For two horses, wagon and driver, not to exceed 20 cents, which rate shall not be increased, but shall be forever obligatory and binding upon said company, its successors and assigns.

The board of supervisors of said county shall be instructed and are authorized to cause to be levied each year on the tax-able property of said city, and the same collected each year, said tax, and at the time and in the proportions above named, and as required by law. The moneys so collected, or any part thereof, to be paid over by the county frequery of Pottawattamic county, lowa, to the treasurer of the Railway & Bridge company, upon the order of the president or a majority of the directors thereof, or order of said council, at any time after the city council of Council Bluffs, or a majority of its members, shall have certified to said county freasurer that the conditions required of said company and set forth in this petition, and in the notice of the special election at which said tax shall be voted, have been complied with suffi-ciently to entitle said company to the amount of such orders, or when the conditions are fully compiled with and performed on the part of said Railway &

Bridge company.
It is understood that Omaha is to be asked to vote a like amount. It is said that there will be some apposition in Omaha to voting any such aid, but that it will result in the company getting what it desires. The company expects to

There is some talk here about the rates proposed being too high. Others urge that this will largely regulate itself, it being a necessity of the company to fix ts rates at as low a sum as possible in order to get a sufficient patronage to make the enterprise pay.

All sorts of conjectures are given about the matter, and there seems a general desire for the city nuthorities to so hedge about the rights of the city and citizens as to fully protect them from any scheme. and if the citizens can be assured of such protection of their interests, they will give generously and freely to secure the desired benefits of an easy communication between Council Bluffs and Omaha. There is little doubt but that with the building of such a bridge the paying of

Broadway will speedily follow, clear to the river. The location of the bridge is an indefinite matter, the general supposition being that the bridge will be at the foot of Broadway, and the other end at Farnam street. It is stated by those of authority that Fourth or Fifth avenue is more nearly opposite Farnam street, and that the bridge will be placed at that point. The owners of property on Fifth avenue are quite confident that they will gain greatly by the bridge, and that it will be the favorite avenue for driving to the bridge, and that it will be builf up rapidly. They are willing to pave and otherwise improve, if the bridge is to be located there. On the other hand it is claimed that even if the bridge should be at that point, still Broadway would be paved, and would be the street for the travel until near the river, where a turn would be made onto the approach of the

I notice in the Council Bluffs Herald, in peaking of the injunction case brought by me against William Boehning's saloon, the following:

There is a very strong probability—so strong that it is almost a certainty—that the injunction will be granted. Judge Aylesworth was shamefully innored by his own party in the late judicial convention, and it is scarcely probable he will strain the law to accommodate the party who compassed his defeat, and as the saloon sought to be enjorned is one of the latest started, and has no constitutional prop to lean upon, it is likely constitutional prop to lean upon, it is likely that it will have to close its doors.

The writer of the above must have a low idea of the judiciary. Good citizens do not expect a judge on the bench to be biased or actuated by party or political motives, or by personal considerations. We expect Judge Aylesworth to decide in accordance with the law and the evijudge. A. OVERTON.

Keating's Funeral. The funeral of the murdered man, William Keating, was held yesterday morning from the Catholic church. The body was encased in a casket covered with broadcloth, and trimmed with silver ornaments and emblems, and was carried right by the jail in which were confined the three men now charged with being responsible for his death. The toiling of the church bell, and the feeling that the last rites were taking place but a few rods from them, must have impressed the prisoners strangely. Rev. Father Healey conducted mass. The mourning widow, son, his wife and child, were accompanied by many sympathizing friends, and a large number followed the remains to their last resting place. Representatives were present from all the neighboring households, excepting those from which members of the family have been arrested for the commission of the bloody crime.

From the Council Bluffs Daily Herald:

Mrs. E. M. Gerard, wife of Engineer Gorard, of the Union Pacific, this city, has been a great sufferer for many years, with what was supposed to be cancer of the throat. It was so oad she was threatened with starvation. Her general health was completely broken. She could only swallow liquid food, and even that could not digest or assimilate. Physicians of Council Bluffs and Omaha attended her for three years and gave no relief. Dr. Jefferls, of this city, in four weeks' time cured her throat, and completely restored her health. Had Mrs. Gerard not obtained relief soon she would have died from shood poison, the same that destroyed the life of Gen. Grant.
