EIGHT STORIES IN HEIGHT.

Asron Cahn to Erect a Building on Fourteenth and Farnam.

POSTAL INSPECTOR'S ORDERS.

A New Church-A Fugitive from Justice-Rail Notes-The Freight Bureau's Card - Other Local Matters.

Another Pile.

There is now a strong probability that one of the best corners on Farnam street will be deprived of the rookery which has long been upon it, and instead, before the close of next summer, a bandsome structure, eight stories in height, will be erected. The corner is that on will be erected. The corner is that on which the office of the Burlington road now stands, diagonally opposite the Paxton, on Fourteenth and Farnam streets. Mr. Cahn says he has ordered Architect Mendelssohn to draw a design for an eight story building, the erection of which will begin next spring, and the cost of which will be not less than $125,000. The magnificent structures which now stand in that vicinity render this building necessary, and ity render this building necessary, and Mr. Cahn proposes to submit to the inevitable, even though his income from the present structure at that place is most satisfactory. The lot is forty-four feet front by 132 deep, running on Fourteenth street to the alley north. When erected, Mr. Cahn's building will doubtless cause the moving of the frame building immediately east, which is upon property belonging to Mr. Smith, of Boston, and this fact will doubtiess impel the latter to put up another building such as is de-manded by the necessities of the times.

THE POSTAL INSPECTOR.

He Issues an Order Against Non-Sworn Employes of Uncle Sam. One of the postoffice inspectors passed through this city a short time ago, as mentioned in the BEE, and had a great deal to say about mail matters in general. He raised quite a rumpus by reporting railway mail clerks who had faited to wear the regulation mail cap when going to and returning from their depots and among other things, instructed postmasters that hereafter, as much as possible, only sworn employes of the government must be allowed with the operating department of the office. It is hardly likely that this order will be carried out to the letter, because at the present and some time back, papers are delivered in the office by the employes of publishers who also pay postage upon the same, and this cannot be done in standing out in the elements. To respect the order, therefore, for this and other reasons, some new arrangements and conveniences n the way of doors, rails and windows will have to be provided.

"WHY DOCTOR!"

An Exclamation Caused by the Strange Condition of a "Doctor." Monday night, when the dummy was coming to this city from the Bluffs, after having made connection with the eastern trains. Conductor Gaines found a semisomnolent passenger with a long beard and genteet dress, who, when he asked for his fare, bulled out his watch and offered it to the conductor. The latter did not have time to parley with the traveler and accordingly went through his train and took up the fares of the other pas-sengers. He then returned to the stranger again and asked for his fare, and was again offered the watch, a gold timepiece valued at about $150. This, of course, could not be taken. When the train reached this side Con-Officer Green, who felt like sending him to the station, when two well dressed la-dies approached who had been waiting for him, and were told what had transpired. They seemed shocked, and the exclamation of the first lady was, "Why, doctor had been drugged or otherwise could not be ascertained. A Reply.

doctor!" He was put into a hack and driven to some house in the vicinity of the exposition building. Whether the OMAHA, Neb., Oct 19, 1886.-P. C. Himebaugh, Esq.,.Omaha, Neb.,-Dear Sir-Replying to your esteemed favor of the 13th, addressed to the president and directors of the Omaha freight bureau, in which you demand that Mr. Griffitts, Commissioner, either prove the assertions which he made against you at a meeting held on the evening of the 12th inst., or make a public apology at our next meeting exonerating you from the charges, etc., we will say the matter was placed before the executive committee of the freight bureau, who, after due de-liberation reached the following decision: That the meeting referred to above was a public one of citizens, and the differences involve questions of personal veracity between yourself and Mr. Griflitts, over which the jurisdiction of this freight bureau does not extend. We should regret to have the occurrence influence your action touching your membership, and remain Very respectfully, Very respectfully, W. A. L. Gibbon, Tearing a Terrace. Mr. W. J. Connell has decided to cut down the top of the highest of his beautiful grounds on St. Mary's avenue. As is well known, there are two magnificent terraces on the property mentioned, both of which face the avenue, and are always kept in excellent condition. The sacrifice of the higher of these has been occasioned by the cuts made on all sides of Mr. Connell's property, in some instances as many as twenty feet, leaving him too high in air to be reached from the streets where the cuts have been made. This work will necessitate the removal of nearly fifty thousand yards of earth, as also the resi-dence upon the top of the same. In a few months Mr. Connell will erect a new residence fronting on Sixteenth street, and still later a more beautiful structure on the site of his old home.

Protecting the Shops.

Yesterday Chief Galligan, accompanled by Chas. Fischer, for many years foreman of the hook and ladder company, made a tour of inspection of the Union Pacific shops, with a view to ascertaining what they required to adequately protect them against fire. They looked the ground and buildings over and en reported to Superintendent Smith in favor of placing three more hydrants on the grounds, the purchase of 1,000 more feet of hose and the purchase of another hose cart. These suggestions were approved by Mr. Smith, and the changes and improvements will be immediately carried out,

The Ladies' Fair.

The interest in the ladies' fair for the benefit of St. Philomena's Cathedral is increasing as the close approaches. The annex of the exposition building was well filled Monday evening and the tables lowfed with costly, useful and ornamental articles, were generously patronized. The contest for the gold-headed | day.

ebony cane resulted a victory for Mr. John Kilkenny, whose friends rolled up John Kilkehny, whose friends rolled up a clear majority of one hundred for him. The tea set on the Sodality table was drawn by Charles Mullen, a handsomely dressed doll by Katle Garvey, and a sugar bowl by Bruce Holland. The doll bride on the Altar society table was drawn by Goldie Murphy, and a hand painted tete-a-tete set on the choir table by Miss Decie Johnson.

To night the contest for the side saddle will take place. Three handsome and popular young ladies are candidates. The contest for the large photograph
Fr Carroll will also close this evening.
The ladies of the choir will give selections from the Mikado opera in costume, and several popular solos and choruses.
The fair will close Wednesday night,
and all articles not disposed of by chance will be put up at auction. The contest for the dog-cart, donated by Ed Meadim-ber will close at 10:39 sharp. The candi-dates are Weir Coffman, Billy Corvell, Mack Morrison, Charles Cushing, Charles Higgins and Allie McCaffrey.

Rail Notes.

The Chlcago, Milwaukee and St. Paul has just received a new installment of the voluminous publications which they have been circulating gratuitously dur-ing the past summer. They comprise a ing the past summer. They comprise a small library in themselves and are filled with valuable and interesting information concerning the many points reached by this road, while many of gems of lithographic and typographic art.

Engine 825 on the Union Pacific went out this morning with some small re-pairs and a fresh cost of paint, being as black as the "black crook," as Engineer Dolan termed her.

J. Murdock, traveling agent for the Union Pacific, came into town to-day. The latest report in railroad circles is that the B. & M. is about to send out a corps of engineers with instructions to survey an air line from this city to Dead-wood, Dak.

New Church Organization at Hans-com Park.

The Methodist Episconal church has just effected another organization in the city. On the evening of the 18th, at the home of John Dale, on Virginia avenue, out of some twenty persons who have the past week handed their names to the preacher in charge, H. H. Millard. Presiding Elder Phelps completed the organization of what promises soon to be one of the prominent churches of this denomination in the city. The erection of the church edifice has already been commenced on the corner of Georgia and Woolworth avenues, and will doubtless ready for dedication in December. Judging from the large and increasing population in this part of the city, and the interest and energy displayed by the members of this small beginning, it will soon develope into large results.

Overalls and Shirts.

Mr. J. H. Evans is considering an offer of a firm which is now manufacturing overalls and shirts and other wear of the same order, with a view to establishing a branch of the same in this city. If he accepts the proposition it will require the addition of two stories to what is known as the Sperry building. This firm in St. Joe employs about 300 hands and when they open up here they will start with be tween 150 and 200. They are now guaranteed the orders of one of the largest jobbing houses in the city.

Tin Wedding.

Monday night forty friends of Mr. and Mrs James Fair gatherd at the home of the latter, on the corner of Twelfth and Marcy streets, to commemorate the tenth anniversary of their marriage. They signalized the event with a number of valuable presents and were most agreeably and hospitably entertained by their nosts until an early hour this morning. Mr. Fair is one of the best known and esteemed engineers on the Union Pacific

The association will do a general loan, building and real estate busines and has a capital stock of $25,000. The incorporators are S. D. Mercer, C. F. Taggart, Chris Erickson, A. H. Lander, Mike Van Horn, L. P. Pruyn, J. W. Inlow, P. A. Gavin, J. W. Dysert, D. S. Lander, R. M. Taylor and Wm. H.

Hit Him With a Mallet.

Two laborers in the Union Pacific shops became involved yesterpay morning in a dispute, which came very near resulting tatally. One of them, William Kinsberry, was struck on the head with a mailet in the hands of the other. The unfortunate man sustained a severe fracture of the skull, which, however, will probably not prove fatal. Kinsberry was removed to St. Josephs' nospital, where his injuries are being treated.

A Fugitive From Justice.

Deputy Sheriff Louis Grebe yesterday ar rested Ed McCaulle, who is wanted at Greeley, Col., to answer to the charge of grand larceny. A few days ago several valuable shotguns were stolen at Greeley and sent by express to McCaulle's address in Omaha. McCaulle arrived to day and was arrested by Grebe as he was in the act of receiving the guns from the express Police Points.

Police Judge Stenberg was engaged nearly all the morning with a number of unimportant cases of fighters, drunks and vagrants. Five or six men who had given a too free display of their pugnaclous abilities were assessed fines of $5 and costs each. Among the number was William Donovan who had assaulted Policeman Gilligan and badly used him up. He was fined $5 and costs.

A Noon Blaze,

Fire broke out about noon yesterday in one of the smoke houses of Boyd's packing house. The fire department was called out and speedily extinguished the blaze. There were about thirty thousand pounds of meat in the house and a large proportion of this was damaged. The loss will be about $1,000. The fire originated from flying sparks.

Thieves at Work.

H. L. Wilson of the United States Wind. Engine and Pump company, reported at police headquarters that thieves entered his boarding house on Thirty-fifth and Far nam streets Monday night and robbed him of watch, revolver and money, worth al-together about $75. A number of other houses in the same neighborhood were similarly invaded.

Assaulted a Peddier. George Craig and J. A. Humphrey were fined $5 and costs each yesterday for assaulting a Hebrew fruit peddler named George Schiller. The two men were purchasing some fruit from Schiller, when they became invoived in a dispute with him. They assaulted him savagely and, as he claims, robbed him of all the money he had.

The case of Mrs. Scholler vs S. G. Stevenson, an action for slander was continued in Judge Wakeley's court yester-

BY THE CAR LOAD.

Some Big Michigan Apples Sent to an

Omaha House. Branch & Co., the commission merchants at 12th and Farnam streets, were to-day unloading the third car of Michigan apples, there being about twenty more cars to follow. Mr. Lew Pixtey, Branch & Co.'s buyer, has been in Michigan for about a month buying up the holcest in the state. The crop in Michigan this year is much larger in some parts than others, while in other districts, where there was an abundance last year, none at all can be had now. There are no New York apples this year, which has brought a drove of eastern buyers out to Michigan. In Missouri the crop is much smaller than last year which, of course, will place Michigan fruit at a premium very soon. Branch & Co., who are making a specialty of Michigan apples and apples of their own packing, are paying apples of their own packing, are paying twenty-five cents a barrel more than others for the privilege of selecting the fruit, and the apples unloaded to-day show Mr. Bixley's good judgment, for a finer lot of apples of all kinds cannot be seen anywhere. There were Russets, Steel Reds, Baldwins, Greenings, Boil flowers, Kings, Mammoth Tulpahockins, sometimes called Fallawaters, Pippins, Seek-no-further, Spitzenbergs, Pennocks, and many others. No other house in Omaha can hope to compete with this firm, for their stock is not only the largest, but it is also the very best.

Miscellaneous packing of apples is the one great obstacle. A man who buys a car load or a few barrels wants to feel a reasonable assurance that the fruit and the packing are "what they seem," and that when he has opened one barrel of a car he knows what the apples are, the salesman being able to guarantee that every other barrel picked at random will show up "just the same." To meet this point they are purchasing their winter random will salested in the organic apples well selected in the orchards in Michigan, and are having them packed by experienced men. Consumers are not supplied from this house, who only deal with retail dealers, who can be accommodated in either barrels or ear load

The oyster department of Branch & Co. is now in charge of Mr. W. H. McLaughlin, who has had twenty years experience in the handling of oysters. Standards, Selects and Extra Selects are packed with care, making a specialty of the Horseshoe brand of salt sea oysters which are shipped to them in bulk. By doing their own packing express charges are saved on the great amount of water that is always put into canned goods, thereby enabling Branch & Co. to quote lower prices than others. That this house do their own packing is sufficient guarantee to the trade that the goods are the antee to the trade that the goods are the best on the market for they have the reputation of handling only that kind of stock. This house also has men out in the state buying up potatoes in car load lots and are doing a rushing business in this line, selling largely on the track. Mr. J. M. Forward is foreman and salesman of the packing department during Mr. Pixley's absence. But enough has been said, Branch & Co. are the leaders and their three specialties will enable and their three specialties will enable them to hold their supremacy for years

Standing Armies of Europe.

Weil and truly may Enrope be described as breaking down under the weight of her armor, says the London Felegraph. The collective aggregate of army and navy estimates of her five great powers amounted last year to £150,000,000. At the head of the list stood Russia, with £47,000,000 charged to her credit, while France stood second with £84,000,000. reat Britain comes next with £32,000,000, for which she gets a much smaller return than an expenditure of £38,000,000 confers upon Germany, and of £14,000,000 upon the Austrian empire. We will not ask what the five great European powers might do with the vast annual revenue which they now spend in this way, or what might be effected by the prodigious masses of men in the prime of life who now follow the drum or handle the marlinspike, were they to devote their energies to useful and productive labor. One pregnant illustration may be adduced to show what the cost of insurance against foreign attack or dosurance against foreign attack or do-mestic disturbance means to the most fortunately situated, the wealthiest and most civilized continent in the world. The United States as a powerful and pro gressive community can not be surpassed and they boast a population which wil very soon be double that of Great Britain and Ireland. Their lucky geographical position enables them, however, to be satisfied with a standing army never ex-ceeding 30,0.0 men, and sometimes fallconsiderably short of that number. navy, again, is merely nominal, and is far surpassed in strength by that of the puny republic of Chili. The consequence is that within less than a quarter of a century they have been able to reduce their national debt—the offspring of their stupendous civil war - from $3, (0),000,000 in 1865 to less than $1,300,000,000 in 1886. The annual charge $3,(0),000,000 for the American army and navy combined amounts to about twelve million pounds. -Had it been possible for Great Britain to spend no more upon her fighting resources during the last forty years, and to devote twenty mil lions annually to reducing her national debt, it would have disappeared by this time. As matters now stand, the open ing year of the twentieth century will probably see United States free from any kind of national indebtedness. Take the opposite case of countries not remote from rivals. The nominal strength of the Russian army is 2,300,000 men on a war footing, and nearly 800,000 on a peace footing. The effective strength of the Frence army under colors is about 510,000 soldiers, but in time of war, including all reserves, it amounts to a total of 3,750,000 men. In 1884 the German army, on a peace footing, consisted of 430,000 privates and nearly 20,000 officers; while on a war footing the total strength amounts to 1,500,000 privates and 36,000 officers, exclusive of the land sturm. Finally, the Austro-Hungarian empire shows 270,000 men and 17,500 officers upon a peace footing, and can muster 1,050,000 privates and 32,000 of ficers in time of war,

A New Version of "Hamlet."

Pall Mall Gazette: Nice customs curt-sey to great kings. For nearly three hundred years "Hamlet" has been represented as a tragedy-probably the most gloomy tragedy on the boards. It has, however, now been improved on. The play was given some time ago at the king of Sweden's palace, and the parts were distributed among royal actors. The crown prince took the part of the Prince of Denmark, and his sister, Princess Alex-andra, was Ophelia. The actress was discontented with her part. It is not for every amateur to render that character The conclusion seemed especially feeble and unromantic. The coffin busines was not to the royal taste. A play with out a marriage was quite objectionable A courtly chamberlain promised his aid. The text was studied. Several emendations were suggested. But it is easier often to build a new house than to alree an old one. At last a pleasant and prob able solution was found-one that could not but have been agreeable to Hamlet mself. The Danish prince is excused his legordemain with the rapiers He is that needs scarcely any rehearsal. Ophelia recovers from her madness. There are no suicides, and the curtain falls on happy and splendidly solemnized nup-

Just Like Lamont.

Syraeuse Standard: This story of Colonel Daniel S. Lamont has come out of the Canadian wilds where he went a-fish-Encamped on the Trent river, near the balsams on whose boughs the private secretary and his piscatorial companions slept, were a native lumberman and family. Colonel Lamont desired to preserve his incognito, and was therefore introduced to such fishermen and hunters as were about and congenial as simple Mr. Lamont. The Canadians did not think of the little man with the red mustache as the Lord Chamberlain of the American governmental household. After he had gone, however, called back by business, the neighborly lumberman came into camp with an inquiry as to the identity of that friend of yours, "La-

'He is the private secretary of President Cleveland," was the reply,
"You don't say so? Is that the man we hear so much about at Washington?"

"The same,"
"Well, I wouldn't have guessed it, but come to think of it, he is a cute fellow. Do you know we got well acquainted yesterday up the river, as I thought, but when I come to go over the conversation I recollect that he learned all about me and my business, but I don't know the first blamed thing about him." That is a good portrait of Dan Lamont.
