Omaha Men Return From a Conference With Northwestern People.

Railroad Matters. Messrs. Joseph Barker, John Horbach and Herman Kountze have returned from Chicago, where they went several days ago to confer with Mr. Hughitt of the Chicago and Northwestern road, with reference to what his corporation proposed to do in regard to giving Omaha advantages which are now denied herby that road. Neither of the gentlemen could be induced to talk, because each had promised the other to say nothing about the matter. A railroad gentleman, however, who is cognizant of what transpired, told the BEE reporter as fol-

"The meeting was held in Mr. Hugh itt's office, and that gentleman received the Omaha citizens with a great deal of pieasure. These men made him a proposition which at first he seemed to think should not be considered."

"What was the proposition?" "Well, I can't tell you that in detail, but it is one which would involve something like a couple of hundred thousand doilars. It was rather elaborate in its details, but in the main it was that the Northwestern should build right into this city a continuation of its line, independent of any of its branches, say from Scribner or Hooper That, of course, would involve the right of way which, as you know, is worth considerable. But, I understand that these gentlemen gave pretty strong assurances that that would be easily secured. There were several other propositions. Mr. Rughitt at first felt that he would have to say no, but finally remarked that the Inference that the citizens of Omaha had drawn from his recent talk with them with regard to building into Omaha was a natural one, yet he could not act upon, it at least for the pres-ent. He would see his board of directors and talk the matter over with them when next they met, which would be in about a week."

DEPOT CHANGES. Mr. Newton, superintendent of depots and bridges on the Union Pacific, had a force of men at work yesterday morning at the Union Pacific depot, taking measurements for changes in that structure now proposed to be made. The Pullman ticket office on the south will be incorporated in the passenger ticket office, which will be changed from an oval to a square and allowed to remain in the place it now occupies. This will throw the present ladies and gentlemen's waiting room into one large general apartment for wait ing purposes. The eardy and fruit stand will be removed into the general waiting room, and the space east of it including the buffet department, will be transformed into a ladies' waiting and retiring rooms, which will have a complement of lady attendants, a desiderata which has long been telt in this city. These changes will give at least forty more feet of room, and impart to the place a metro-politan appearance. Mr. Newton says the work will be prosecuted as rapidly as

THE VIADUCTS. street viaduet are completed. show some of the finest stone work ever done in Omaha. They will be connected by pony trusses of seventy feet with fifteen feet iron girders, supported by iron columns on the curb beneath.

The building of the retaining walls on Seventh street has compelled the Union Pacific company to seek for its water supply from Tenth street, instead of as heretofore from the former thoroughfare. A ganglof men yesterday morning extendeda trench and pipe 250 feet from the water main on Tenth for that purpose. East of Seventh street another pipe, 650 feet long will be laid to the corner of Sixth and Pierce streets for the same purpose. Yesterday morning, under the direction of Mr. Newton, a force of Union Pacific employes commenced a bridge at Twentysecond street, which is eventually to be supplanted by a stone culvert, to cost

The passenger and ticket office of the Union Pacific is to be removed temporarily to the fouth floor, pending a change in the present offices on the second floor. These offices are to be entirely remodeled and thrown into connectively. tion with those on the south side of the building now occupied by the auditor and This will give the whole south half of the building to the passenger and ticket department, the auditor's offices being removed to the new building.

A RIDICULOUS RUMOR.

What General Agent Nash Says About the Latest Republican canard. Regularly about once a week the Remblican makes a laughing stock of itself by publishing in its railroad columns some absurd yarn, without the slightest foundation of truth, and which has emanated from the brain of some overimaginative $40-a-month railroad clerk. The item regarding the removal of General Superintendent Smith, of the Union Pacific, is a fair sample of this, and the latest is a sensational article published yesterday morning to the effect that the Fowler Bros. have made a contract with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy for the transportation of their dressed meat product from Omaha to Chleago, and that Hammond & Co. are about to withdraw

Mr. F. A. Nash, the general agent of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul road speak the next meeting of the directors, which ing of this said yesterday: "The whole | takes place in a week.

their patronage from the Milwaukee

CONFERRING WITH HUGHITT. article is a base fabrication, without one word of truth to it. Hammond & Co. are not going to discontinue their relations with our road, and we have never had any serious complaints from them as to the service we are giving them. The Milwaukee road has been prominent in a conflict between the dressed meat interests and the livestock in-terests in which it has taken the stand that the rates on dressed meats should be based on rates on live stock, which position is in the interest of the dressed meat men. This fact Hammond & Cc. doubtless appreciate. So far as the contract of the C. B. & Q. with Fowler Bros, is concerned, I will simply say this: That firm is coming here to do a large business; they expect to draw business from the lines not only west of the Mis-souri river, but in Iowa as well, so that it does not look reasonable that they would take any action tending to discriminate against any one Iowa line. They will want to draw business from each of the lines, and give each a fair share of pat-

A BOLD ATTEMPT.

Two Robbers Who Tried to Stop a Street Car and Failed. Driver Daniel Denny, of street car 35, on the Park avenue line, had a narrow escape from being held up night before last. It was on his last trip that just before he reached the turn table on Eighteenth and Lake streets, he noticed two suspicious looking characters in the car. A short distance from the turn table one of them got off the car. The other remained on board. The driver eyed him suspiciously, and thought to nimself that his actions were anything but those of an honest man. Just after the turn was made the fellow went to the front door and tried to open it, so as to allow him to step out on the platform where the driver was standing. Denny, however, had had presence of mind enough to look the door, so that the would-be rob-ber was foiled in that direction. The fellow then ran to the rear platform and turned on the brakes with the evident in-tention of stopping the car so that his ac-complice could take the money box from the driver. Denny realized that the time had come for vigorous action and he be-labored his horses lustily. It so happened that considerable frost had made the rails very slippery, and in spite of the fact that the brakes were firmly set, the car glided smoothly along. This made the man on the rear platform angry, and he should to the driver, "Why don't you stop, you ————!" Without wait-low jumped off the car and joined his ac-complice, who had been left beautifully behind. Unfortunately the driver was unarmed, and but for his presence of mind, this bold attempt might have been suc-

Police Court

Judge Stenberg's police business yesterday morning was not of a very important nature. Three drunks were arraigned and were all discharged except one, J. H. Winspear, who had been arrested by Officer White. He indignantly denied that he had been intoxicated and de-

Miss Mary Davis, who was charged with having stolen a dramond ring from a colored servant, had her examination in police court yesterday morning and the result was that she was discharged, there being ou evidence whatever against

She Was Hugged.

A well known young lady of this city was the victim of a rather unpleasant surprise Wednesday night. While passing the corner of Twentieth and Farnam streets she was seized by a big hurly negro, who iumped out from behind a tree-box and commenced to hug her with all the vim and violence of a Council Bluffs lover. The young lady screamed, but the louder she cried, the more the darkey hugged. Finally he released her and disappeared in the darkness. The young lady was escorted to her home by a gentleman who happened to pass that way. She was almost paralyzed with fright, and unable to utter a single word, when she reached home. The motives for the negro in acting the way he did are not very clear.

Justice Berka.

Judge Berka will hear to-day the case of John Dede vs. Otto Weissman, in which a pair of horses, a couple of har nesses and such like things are involved. The former repleyined the property from Weissman, and found that they had been in the meantime mortgaged, and Weissman again took possession of them. At-torney Kuhn appears for Dede. The case of Ottwell, charged with steal-ng a silver watch and $5 in gold, comes up to day at 9 o'clock.

The case of Goos vs. Bernstein will be called to-day at 2 o'clock.

A Dishonest Contractor.

Valentine Lipp, a contractor and builder, is in jail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, preferred by S. Kalish, the tailor. Lipp, it seems, built a house for Kalish at the stock yards, and represented to him that the claims of the laborers for wages had all been paid by him. With this understanding Mr. Kalish gave Lipp $100 in satisfaction of his claim. It now turns out that not a single one of the laborers have been paid. In default of $500 bail, Justice Anderson sent Lipp to jail, to await a hearing on Monday.

Artificial Cold.

The Fred Krug brewery is about to receive another improvement which will be a source of economy to the management. It is that of a machine, or rather process, of artificially cooling the cellars of the brewery in which the beer is stored. This will involve an outlay of about $10,000 for the building and $30,000 for the apparatus. The excavation for the work is now ready and the work will be finished Gasoline and Thieves.

Residents on Harney street, near Twenty-first, claim that the gasoline lamps which are strung along the former thoroughfare for illuminating purposes are not now lighted by mght. As a consequence the darkness in the big cut there makes it unsafe for pedestrians. Last night several things were stolen from the buggy of S. G. Wright, while it stood in front of Mr. Evars' residence.

To the End of the Line.

Superintendent Smith, of the horse alway line, says that the resolution of the council looking to the running of a car once every twenty minutes to the end of the line at Twenty-eighth and Farnam street, cannot be determined upon until

A NEW FEDERAL BUILDING. Steps Now Being Taken to Secure Its

Erection. The fact that the present postoffice building is inadequate to the demands for room made upon it by the internal revenue, judicial and postal officals, has frequently been adverted to in these columns. So much so, indeed, that although steps have been taken to remedy the defeets, the latter are of such a nature to require the matter to as to require the matter to be brought through the secretary of the treasury to the attention of congress. Before the close of the present year, the heads of the respective departments of the governmental service, now occupying the building, will make a detailed report of the condition of his quarters, number of his employes, the business transacted, the limited nature of the space allotted to him, and the needs in the way of enlargement of his workin the way of enlargement of his working rooms. This will be given Senator Manderson, who will present it to the secretary of the treasury whose duty it will be to either recommend or oppose the suggestions. These latter will be favored either by radical changes in the present structure or the erection of an entirely new addition to the postoflice. In the event of the latter being determined upon, the structure will be erected on the lot immediately west of the present building. Be fore this, however, can be done, an appro priation from congress will be required This appropriation will require first a good showing of the needs of the case, next active work on the part of the Nebraska representatives and senators in

Senator Manderson said vesterday morning to a BEE reporter that if the showing promised by the heads of the several de-partments should be made, he would gladly take it to Washington and do his utmost to have it be effective.

There was no doubt in his mind that the building needed enlargement. It had been creeted when Omaha was a city of 15,000 inhabitants, and yet it had in no way been improved, although she is now a city of 80,000 inhabitants.
