LAVISH LUXURY OF LAW.

A Showing of the Results of the Big Fee Bills of a Justice.

THE SALOONS ARE PAYING. Prohibition Cases From Atlantic - What Neola's People Are Doing - A Variety of Bluffy News.

An Expensive Court. The BEE readers have had several opportunities to acquaint themselves with the costs to which this county is put to maintain Justice Frayne's court, as it has been conducted in the past.

It is held in the past. Now that he appeals again for re-election, the public is entitled to the facts as shown by the records, indicating that a large number of trivial cases are entertained in this court, for which the county has to pay heavily.

If real offenders were being captured and punished, there might be some good reason for such expensive bills. The BEE showed in detail the other day that Justice Frayne had claimed of the county $2,055 for his fees, while the other city justices, during the same period, claimed scarcely more than one-tenth of this amount.

It may be thought that in Justice Frayne's court there was more criminal business done and more rogues punished, but that a small fraction of the cases were of that kind having any real foundation to them.

This too, according to Justice Frayne's own decision. During his term of office thus far he has had 502 criminal cases, for which the county had been called upon to pay him heavily.

Out of these 502 cases, 420 have practically amounted to nothing. Out of the 502, about a dozen cases only have been deemed serious enough to be even considered by the grand jury, and of this dozen the probability is that more than two or three have been or ever will be found guilty of the charges made against them.

Out of the 502 there were 40 who were found guilty of petty offenses. Such is the showing. Justice Frayne himself by his decisions virtually says that out of 502 criminal cases brought in his court 420 ought not to have been brought in.

The following is the showing in detail as gathered from his reports to the county board at its quarterly session:

APRIL SESSION, 1885. Number of criminal cases, 68; bound over to grand jury, 2; found guilty, 5; bound to keep the peace, 5; dismissed, 56.

JUNE SESSION, 1886. Number of cases, 48; none bound over; convicted of petty offenses, 10; dismissed, 38.

SEPTEMBER SESSION, 1886. Number of cases, 77; dismissed, 63; bound over, 2; found guilty of petty offenses, 12; found guilty, 3; bound over to keep the peace, 2.

JANUARY, 1886. Number of cases, 119; dismissed, 89; found guilty, 16; bound over, 5; changes of venue, 6; bound to keep the peace, 3.

APRIL, 1886. Number of cases, 25; dismissed, 20; found guilty, 1; changes of venue, 3; bound over to keep the peace, 1.

JUNE, 1886. Number of cases, 78; found guilty, 6; to the grand jury, 2; bound to keep the peace, 4; changes of venue, 9.

SEPTEMBER, 1886. Number of cases, 87; convicted of petty offenses, 24; to the grand jury, 3; bound to keep the peace, 3; changes of venue, 3.

The justices' fees are but a small part of the expense thus entailed upon the county. In each of these cases there are fees for constables and witnesses, which will amount to as much more, so that it really appears that the county is asked for about four thousand dollars to pay the expenses of getting a dozen men bound over to the grand jury, and a few petty offenders punished by a few days in jail or a nominal fine.

In all these cases officers are employed, and constable fees run up proportionately fast. Constable Wesley and Rickerts have done the most of the work in Frayne's court. Constable Wesley's bills from January 1, 1885, to September 1, 1886, in criminal cases in Frayne's court alone, amount to $745.00, while the county board cut down to $364.75, the board figuring a total overcharge of $280.30.

During the same period Constable Wesley's bills for criminal cases in Justice Frayne's court were $45.15, and in Justice Hendricks' court $15.85, while his bills in Justice Frayne's court were $745.00.

Constable Rickerts' bills from last January to September for criminal cases in Justice Frayne's court were $192.10, from criminal cases in Justice Schurz' court, $10.65; from cases in Justice Hendricks' court, $13.60.

It appears, therefore, that the wonderful amount of criminal cases started in Justice Frayne's court prove a bonanza not only to him but to the constables, while the county has to foot the bills for the privilege of seeing 420 cases out of 502 promptly dismissed, there being nothing in them except costs.

The city building has become the abiding place of many spirits, owing to a raid by our constable on one of the saloons of the town to appease the wrath of one of its customers.

However, it has had no effect on the business of the saloons, and the council has adjourned one month so that they may not know that anything stronger than pop is being sold under the protection of their ordinance.

The mayor, it is said, has ordered that no more licenses be issued after the 30th of this month, which has caused some little uneasiness among some of our oldest inhabitants.

Last night was a great night for the democracy, who were here from miles around to do honor to Colonel Kealey. The band from Mauden entertained the ladies with its good music.

In the evening Colonel Kealey addressed fully five hundred people, and held the attention of the large audience for two hours. The enthusiasm was great, and the whole affair surpassed anything of the kind ever held in Neola.

To one looking back some dozen or two years ago when Kealey used to make his stopping places on his political tours one can forcibly remember of the great growth and improvement of this town.

THE ORDINANCE PASSES. Granting a Charter to the New Bridge and Street Railway Company.

A special meeting of the city council was held last evening to consider the ordinance in regard to the new bridge and street car line.

The ordinance as published in the BEE yesterday, and as agreed to by the committee, was amended in some minor particulars, the only important change being the fixing of the maximum rate of passenger fare to be ten cents from any point in Council Bluffs to the western terminus of the line in Omaha, and five cents for the distance of the city limits.

The company is given two years to complete the bridge, and its street car line so far as South First street, and three years to construct their street car line on the south side named the ordinance as thus changed was then adopted by a vote of five to one, Alderman Shugart alone voting against the ordinance.

They All Pay. To the surprise of many the announcement is made that all of the saloons, fifty eight in number, have paid their October licenses, $25, excepting one, the proprietor of which has only been in business two weeks, and he promises to settle this morning.

There is some curiosity felt as to how long this system of collection will be kept up, but the mayor seems as determined as ever that all those who refuse or neglect to pay must be closed. An understanding has been reached by which those who will license will not require the 15th of each month to settle, and will not be paid by that time, then the war is to begin without further ceremony.

In regard to the old scores, they will probably be allowed to go, and let the bygones be bygones. It is estimated that it is not to be expected that the new mayor is to worry himself collecting amounts which ought to have been collected under the old administration.

Atlantic Prohibition. Yesterday Judge Conner was in the city, and held a session in chambers. The principal matter brought before him was the case in which it is attempted to get an injunction against the Atlantic distillery, and other parties there, who are said to be violating the prohibition law.

The most of the afternoon was spent in the argument of the order of court for the defendants to produce in court certain books, showing their sales, as required to be kept for official inspection. It was argued that the court could not require this, as the order was one in effect compelling a defendant to produce evidence to be used in an attempt to convict him of an offense, and no man being compelled to criminate himself.

The judge decided to order the defendants to produce the books asked for, or to show cause for not doing so. Attorneys Allen and Dorley appeared for the plaintiff, and Attorney's Rockafellow and Delano, also of Atlantic, for the defendants. The matter will be further considered next Thursday.

A telegram has been received here announcing the death of W. E. Whitney, at his home in Illinois, where he went from here about two weeks ago. He was a young man who was well known and greatly esteemed here. He was for some time connected with Burnham, Tulleys & Co., and later was in the office of King & Carter. He was lately taken with quick consumption, and was in a feeble condition, and rapidly declining when he left here for his home.

On and after to-day the ferry train, which has been leaving here at 5:30 in the morning, is abandoned, there being no demand for it longer, it having been put on largely for the accommodation of the vegetable men during the summer season.

The American District Telegraph company has purchased a light covered delivery wagon for the package delivery work of the company. The company will thus be able to better accommodate its patrons.
