

THE DAILY BEE. COUNCIL BLUFFS.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 12. OFFICE, NO. 12, PEARL STREET. Delivered by carrier...

MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. New fall goods at Reiter's. Cooper & Metcalf sell stoves. Panels at $3.50 per dozen at Schmidt's gallery, Main street.

Weather strips at Chapman's, 105 Main. The American District Telegraph company are extending their office...

A missionary tea was last evening given at the residence of Mrs. L. W. Tuiley.

Permit to marry was given yesterday to G. W. Dalton and S. J. Adams, both of this city.

Some civil cases were occupying the attention of the superior court and a jury yesterday afternoon.

An insane man, William Bird, of Oakland, was last evening taken to Mount Pleasant for treatment. He is a young man and his friends have hope of his recovery.

A glee club of male voices has been organized to be drilled by Nathan Franko. There are already sixteen members, and it is the intention to swell the number to twenty.

Victor Jennings was awakened Wednesday night by some one attempting to enter his residence, No. 29 North First street. Two men were seen to hurriedly depart from the vicinity.

The county board of supervisors closed their labors yesterday. This is the last meeting of the old board. At the next meeting the new members, Frum and Wate, will take their seats.

A telegram received from Phelps City, Mo., yesterday, announces the fact that the safe in Seaman, Bailey & Co.'s store at that place was blown the night before and a large amount of money taken.

The evening prohibition organ insists that it is all right to call Council Bluffs "a paradise for thieves and thugs." In the next breath it begs for some patronage from the community it thus berates.

Mrs. Kost, widow of the late John Kost, together with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kost, desire to publicly thank their friends for the kindly sympathy shown them in their great sorrow.

Wednesday evening about 5:30 o'clock some fellow "snaked" an overcoat from off a dummy in front of Council Bluffs store on Main street. The overcoat was a $25 one and has not been heard from since.

The Iowa State Teachers' association is to hold its twenty-first session in Des Moines, December 23 to 31. One of the papers on the programme is "Lack of Boys in High School Grades," by Professor McNaughton, of this city.

Yesterday afternoon one of the sprinkling wagons was filled from the hydrant near the city jail, the hose became detached, and the water poured out in a reckless stream, the hose writhing and twisting like a snake, and the stream being sent in all directions. The horses started into a run but were stopped just as they were about overturning the cart, while the young man in charge of the outfit was so excited that in trying to turn off the water, he turned it on in greater force. There was quite lively work for a few minutes, but everything was finally adjusted without further damage than the flooding of the vicinity.

Yesterday forenoon a standing on Broadway, near De Vol's store, suddenly dropped on the sidewalk as if dead. He was carried into the store, and appeared to be breathing his last. Dr. Rice was called in and gave him stimulants, under which he speedily rallied, and was soon able to be removed to his boarding place, Neumeier's hotel, where he was recognized as John H. Geise, who has been connected with the city for more than three years or more past. Last evening he was greatly revived, and it seems that he will soon be able to be out and about again, it apparently being a sort of fit or fainting spell, with no probability of serious results.

All varieties of game and fish. Oysters all styles. Shrimp and a specialty, Doe & Billy's, 401 Broadway. Just look in their window.

Who is the Traitor. The Des Moines Register, denouncing Council Bluffs as "a paradise for thieves and thugs," and representing this city as about to resume lynch law, has caused numerous inquiries as to who it is that thus tries to injure Council Bluffs. The Globe, after severely scolding the correspondent, says:

There has not been a word said by a single responsible citizen in regard to organizing in the form of vigilance committees, and no character believes in the necessity for any such thing. It is simply the vagary and creation of the pen of a correspondent who is seeking to earn a few dollars through sensational correspondence sent to a newspaper at the state capital. That is all there is of it, and you should see to it that the man is ferreted out who is doing that kind of dirty work for mean and mercenary purposes.

If this Globe wants "to ferret out the man," it would be well to commence on the office of its evening contemporary, which grows so comfortable in the arms of the Register for retuning the scandalous statements about Council Bluffs. Why should the Council Bluffs Herald get so hot because the Register will not keep still when its young man so openly slanders the city in which he gets his bread and butter?

In its wrath the Herald declares that the Council Bluffs "correspondent of the State Register sent a fair statement of the facts." The Herald thus declares that it too believes "Council Bluffs the paradise of thieves and thugs." If it believes this, it and its young man had better move, and not stay to be slandered tenfold at the state capital and insult it at home.

THE COUNTY BOARD ADJOURNS

Compliments to the Retiring Members and a Farewell Feast.

YOUNG ESCHELMAN CRAZY.

The City Jail in Need of a Different Floor—A Barber Shop Given a Hot Stage—Personal Paragraphs.

The County Board. The board of county supervisors closed its session yesterday afternoon. A resolution was passed complimentary to the retiring members, A. C. Graham and Henry Rishton, who have served most faithfully and honestly. Last evening the members of the board were invited to the residence of A. C. Graham, where they were most happily entertained, and all went of the inner man bountifully supplied. This was a happy closing of the doing of the old board, and they part as officials with the kindest feelings to each other.

Will Plead Insanity. C. B. Eschelman, the young man arrested here for obtaining goods under false pretenses of Metcalf Bros. and of some St. Joe firms, is said to have nearly ruined financially his father, who was a once wealthy merchant at Mount Pleasant. Now he has about ruined himself, and as indicated from the following from the St. Joe Herald, he proposes trying the insanity dodge.

It will be remembered that on October 30, the Herald published an account of the alleged swindling operations of one C. B. Eschelman, who had been arrested by the McDonald & Co. and Schuster, Hingston & Co. The man was arrested and jailed at Council Bluffs, Ia., to await the requisition of Governor Marshall, who had been brought to St. Joseph and lodged in the county jail. Eschelman was seen by a Herald reporter and he would not let the case to the bitter end. He said that he had been connected with R. Eschelman for several years and had bought on many occasions for the house and that new branches were constantly being established by them. He said that his people believed him crazy and that in reality he had spent four months in an insane asylum. Insanity will probably be the defense.

WANTED—By a practical printer and local writer of experience, a situation on a good weekly, in a good town in western Iowa. Address J. D. care Her, Council Bluffs.

A Feible Bastille. The attempt made by "Comanche Bill" to break or dig out of the city jail, as narrated in yesterday's BEE, shows how weak a place that bastille is for holding prisoners. Had it not been for the vigilance of the officers, he would have soon been at liberty. Such crooks should be placed in the county jail, but the city marshal kindly yielded to the importunities of Bill, seconded by his counsel, Colonel Bailey, the request being that he be not removed to the county jail until yesterday, as this jail was more conveniently located for desired consultation with his attorney. It seems that the confidence man had this scheme in hand, or in head, when he pleaded so strongly to remain there over night, instead of the county jail. He had provided himself in some way with two railway spikes, possibly passed through the window, or slipped into his possession as he was coming to and from the court room. With these he managed to break through the thin crust of cement which constitutes the floor. A hole once started, it was only a matter of breaking the cement with the boot heel, and digging out the soft dirt. He had reached the wall, when in twenty minutes more he would have been out. A colored fellow in jail for stealing an overcoat from L. C. Baldwin's house, is supposed to have helped the confidence crook. This fellow was asked if he did not do so, but he simply answered, "You didn't see me do it, did you?" The bottom of the jail is simply earth, covered with a coat of cement, the same as the bottom of an ordinary cell, and it certainly offers no resistance to the efforts of a determined prisoner. Comanche Bill was covered with mud as the result of his energetic digging in the soft earth, but when charged with attempting to dig out of jail, he denied it with a smile which was child-like and bland. "Those cussed tramps dug the hole," he said, "and when I went to go into the cell, I tumbled into it." After the discovery of the attempt, he and the other prisoners were closely watched until daylight, and then he was taken to the county jail, where he can be kept more safely.

After arriving at that place he begged pitifully for Jailer O'Neill to give him a little whisky—just a drink—for he was "so nervous." O'Neill told him that they had had so many nervous fellows there that they got used to it, and didn't mind it a bit, so he need not worry about bothering anybody with his nervousness. He did not get the drink.

A Hot Stove. Last evening a lamp in Schickelnie's barber shop on Main street, fell to the floor, smashing the glass and causing the spilled oil to hotly blaze up. The chair covering and towels, within reach of the flames joined in the blaze quickly. A few pails of water and a hand grenade well aimed by Mr. J. Mueller, who chanced to be near, quickly put out the fire, leaving no further damage than the singeing of the chairs and smoking of the walls.

The Fieble Old Lady. The Nonpareil in its Tuesday's issue scored the police because a few houses had been entered by burglars. She said, "Those periodical visitations may be looked for frequently these days, for the reason that the democratic police sleep while the thieves break in and steal."

The old lady in her Thursday's scrapbook takes another tack, and declares: "A few are disposed to criticize the police for inefficiency. There is not much in this, because the police force is not large enough to cover the city with its 25,000 population, and make the houses of all secure."

Business Before Politics.

Every cheering sign of the times is the report sent out from the leading clearing houses of the country for the past week. Although the cry had gone forth that the political excitement, more protracted than usual, was prostrating business, the trade returns do not appear to show a generally demoralizing effect. In certain centers, New York, Chicago and Milwaukee notably, where the most intense interest was manifested in the local elections, there was a slight decrease in the volume of trade. St. Louis also suffered, but contrived to keep her figures on the right side of the column. So also did Boston and Louisville. New Orleans, as usual, showed a marked decrease, but that could not be attributed to causes political. Slow and conservative Philadelphia, which allows nothing to rattle her, led all the larger cities in percentage of gain. Of other business centers Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Baltimore, Kansas City, Minneapolis and San Francisco make a fine showing. Indianapolis is a measure recovering from the disastrous record of last year, and is approaching the three-million mark.

The supposed rivalry between Kansas City, Omaha and Minneapolis suggests an interesting comparison. Three weeks ago Kansas City registered poor mark with a total of $6,401,000 and an increase of 40 per cent. The same week Omaha showed $1,100,000 and a gain of 46 per cent and Minneapolis $3,000,000, a decrease of 19 per cent. The week ending with the published total of nearly $1,000,000 Kansas City recorded a gain of 16 per cent. Minneapolis also dropped $100,000 and fell off 10 per cent from the preceding year. Omaha, with a loss of a few thousands, exhibited an increase of 63 per cent. Last week Kansas City's total went to $5,900,000 and 20 per cent increase. Minneapolis shot ahead of Omaha with a gain of 12 per cent and reached $5,000,000. Omaha, however preserved a large increase of 41 per cent and advanced to $3,300,000. It will thus be seen that Omaha's gain is not yet within hailing distance of Kansas City.

Altogether for what may be considered an off week the clearing house returns are most satisfactory. With the arrival of business interest and the absence of all impeding elements a most prosperous condition of affairs should be recorded. The election is over, and in the whirl and bustle of active commercial life in Kansas City there is today no evidence of the late season of party strife and bitterness. We are all for Kansas City and we are all for the task of putting her no far beyond the reach of rivalry that she will be known to her sisters in the rear as the city of magnificent distances.

Railroad Signals. Omaha Railway News: There were four of them and they were firm friends. They were standing near the lantern station at the Tenth street crossing, when one of them caught sight of a brakeman who was going through various contortions on the top of a box car half way down the line.

"Wonder if the engineer's asleep. He don't seem to see that fellow signaling him to pull out," remarked the party who had first noticed the man's motions. The other looked.

"Pull out," caustically responded one who wore a plug hat. "Guess you don't know much about railroading. Those motions mean to take up."

Before the other could frame an answer sufficiently ironical to suit his friend's evident lack of mental strength, the man with the checked suit spoke up: "Well, if you think that's all right, fired! That signal means that he wants to cut the crossing, and for the engineer to go ahead a little way."

"Jim," patronizingly observed the man who had yet spoken, "you're a first-class canvasser, but when you get into a subject like this you're away off. Pull out! Back up! Cut crossing! O, psaw! It's as plain as daylight that the play is for the engineer to tick the train over into the next track."

"Maybe you fellows think I ain't got scarcely any sense?" Inquiringly remarked the plug hat. "I say he wants to have the train backed up, it means 'And if any one wants to tell me I'm a wall-eyed idiot, he needn't insinuate; I'm right here.' The first man who had spoken said warmly as he glowered on the other. "I say those signals mean to pull out."

"And maybe some one wants to tell me I'm a liar when I say they mean cut the crossing," hotly retorted the check suit man.

The flagman, attracted by the excited remarks, sauntered up, and on catching sight of him all four appealed to him to rectify the (quoted) error in the other's direction of the gestulating man, and as an expression of disgust muffled his features he remarked:

"Hi! Why that darned fool's just a fettle with natural diphtheria. Every one of them have recovered by the use of Dr. Jeffrey's preventive and cure for Diphtheria, without the aid of a physician."

C. H. Wines, of No. 110 Campbell street, Omaha, who has been lost for some time, and a tearing daughter, aged about 16 years, by diphtheria, under the treatment of one of the best physicians in Omaha, writes to Dr. Jeffrey of this city: "Your remedy for diphtheria came too late, our dear daughter was dying when it was received. I am satisfied that her life could have been saved. Another one of our children was lost to the diphtheria, her throat was filled up with the protruded ulceration, we used your medicine and in twelve hours the disease was completely cured.
