The Republican State Committee Meets and Settles Campaign Debts.

CONGRATULATIONS ON VICTORY.

Gathering of the Elect-Supreme Court Doings-Searching For a Straying Girl-Other Capital City News.

FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.

The final meeting of the republican state committee was held at the Capital hotel yesterday, Judge Weaver, chairman; W. F. Beech, of Omaha, treasurer; L. D. Richards, of Fremont; E. M. Love, of Ainsworth, and others of the committee being in attendance. There were present at the meeting Congressman Dorsey, of Fremont, Governor-elect John M. Thayer and other state officers, and the final settlement of accounts of the campaign were made, leaving a balance in the treasury after the payment of all bills. The excellent increase in republican majorities on the state ticket earlier was the subject of comment of a congratulatory character. Congressman Dorsey was especially congratulated over the excellent majority that he received, and his endorsement by the people is a subject of a good deal of satisfaction to his Lincoln friends.

Mr. Dorsey will leave for the seat of war in about two weeks to be present at the opening of congress three weeks from yesterday. Congressman Weaver will leave for Washington the last of the present week, going to meet the rest of the delegation as he is a member of the special conference committee of the two branches that have a meeting prior to the session to consider the railroad and revenue bills, the former of which has passed the senate and the latter the house. Mr. Weaver, through the past three years that he has been in congress, has been taking an active part in legislation as a member of the commerce committee in the house, and his selection on the committee is a credit to the state as well as himself.

General Thayer left at noon yesterday to visit and address a Grand Army post at Wynore, and the governor seems to be as actively engaged as ever in Grand Army work notwithstanding the fact that he has passed through a campaign that for six weeks took every hour of his time. As the general sat in the corridor of the hotel Monday evening he was long in conversation with a well-known member of the state who was entirely happy in the fact that the state had honored the general again after the years that he had been in retirement at the hands of the politicians who were in power for the second term in the senate.

LOOKING OVER THE GROUND at the state capital yesterday were Senator-elect Small, of Jefferson county, Senator-elect Conger, of Sarpy county, a Senator-elect Brown, of Clay county, Mr. Fishburn, of Saline county, the gentleman who died with Mr. Cing for representative, was also in the city yesterday, coming direct from the county seat of his county where the tie was decided in a drawing, in which Mr. Fishburn came off victorious. Mr. Fishburn felt as though he had passed through two elections, but his fortune in winning on the tie did not unduly exalt him. He is a popular man of his county and will be heard from.

SUPREME COURT OF NEBRASKA. Court met yesterday pursuant to adjournment. The following named gentlemen were admitted to practice: Thomas L. Redden, Henry Nunn, J. F. Hale, LeRoy vs Siegel, dismissed; Ingham vs McIntosh, dismissed; Grant vs Alworth, continued; Seager vs Seager, continued.

The following cases were argued and submitted: Bonus vs Carter, Simpson vs Armstrong, Wilgosi vs Thomson, motion; Cool vs Roche, Roberts vs Heisler, Mahen vs Todd, motion; Fritz vs Grosnickians, Walker vs Haggerty. Court adjourned to this date at 5:30 o'clock.

A GAGO county man was in Lincoln a few hours yesterday in search of his daughter, who was described as a bright girl of eighteen years of age, who had come to Lincoln some time since for honest employment, but of whom word had reached home this week. Her respect was to the bad, and either had or was about to become an inmate of some of the numerous dens of ill-fame with which Lincoln is infested. It took but very few inquiries for the father to ascertain the whereabouts and left in bad company two days ago for Creston, and thither he went in pursuit of the runaway train.

THE CASE AGAINST COONS was the preliminary hearing in county court yesterday was continued by mutual consent of counsel on both sides until 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The interest in this case has been growing to a good deal of attention, and the defense are evidently at work upon public opinion to show that there is a job of persuasion in the case, and the talk of the amount of crookedness ranged from three or four to thirty or forty forged orders or time checks. It has been hinted that attempts have been made at compromise that were not accepted on the part of the company.

MINOR MENTIONS. In the district court yesterday the case of the state against Stewart, of Stowart and Claude Lambert, for forgery was continued, the state closing its part early in the morning hour and the defense occupying the time until the noon recess in giving their side of the case. In the afternoon arguments by counsel were being made and the case was being most effectively long drawn out. This, it might be stated, is only one of a number of cases against the parties at the bar, and it is not at all probable that they will all receive a hearing at the present time of the court.

A hippopotamus pugilistic encounter at Temple hall is advertised for Saturday evening next at which time Jack Hanley will meet Jack Driscoll, and numerous aspirants who want to be tough will assist in completing the programme with exhibitions in boxing. It was reported from the announcement that Hanley is back in the ring again, and there are undoubtedly enough people who think such entertainments are mainly who will join in the procession in giving the pugilists an audience and paying their expenses down from Omaha. What action the authorities will take is not known at present.

The city council at their meeting Monday evening met with a little surprise by the announcement from the sewer committee that Mr. Kosmeyer, the contractor on the work, had thrown up the job and could not complete it. The announcement was also made that two different parties were ready to take the contract from his hands and yesterday afternoon they were ready to act in the matter. The work of laying the sewerage pipes in the vicinity of the B. & M. depot and grounds has been attended with extraordinary expense, and it is evidently not a paying job under the contract as made.

Detective Pound returned home from Wynore yesterday, where he has been in the interest of the Nebraska Detective association, which made the arrests of the grain buyers at Liberty, and not the Pinkerton agency, as reported in the State Journal. The detective also furnishes the information that the party who threw acid upon Attorney Cobby, at Wynore, has been captured in that town and will be given a hearing in a few days.

The three lodges of Knights of Pythias in the city have committees appointed for the arrangement of a grand knights banquet, to be given at the banquet room and the Casino hall of the lodges on O and Tenth streets. The date set for the occasion is the evening before Thanksgiving and all the members of the different lodges of the city with friends will be invited to the feast which will be a Thanksgiving dinner in itself, and the provisions remaining will be given to Elder Howe for use among the poor.

Street car travel was entirely stopped yesterday by the unexpected and heavy fall of snow, and it was the noon hour before the snow plows were arranged and in working order to clear the tracks. The blocks were being ploughed through the drifts all the afternoon.

Dr. Knapp, of York, was in the city yesterday and was among the list of those who were visiting the political skies at the state capital. The doctor's name is frequently mentioned as a probable successor to Mathewson as superintendent for the hospital for the insane.

God Slaughter, who has been in the city the past three days making all solid between himself and the Lancaster delegation in the lower house, returned home yesterday, and the members elect for the house in Lancaster county will undoubtedly take delight in voting for God for chief clerk of the house.

This reminds me of the day after election, when Dr. Howe, and as he met a fellow pilgrim plunging through the drifts yesterday. This is really comfortable and natural, and I am sure that the doctor will host the block flag on the government building and keep a cold wave with us Richard will be himself again.

The report came to the capital yesterday that the vote of Sarpy county was not to be canvassed at all owing to irregularities in the time of the call for the election. As but some four hundred votes were cast in the county the failure to canvass would not alter the results in any instance.

Mr. B. H. Goulding, of this city, has established a news bureau for the winter months, and is prepared to contract with all papers in the state to supply them weekly with a budget of the latest news at the state capital. Ex-Senator M. P. Kincaid, of Holt county, and ex-Superior General D. V. Stephenson, of Richardson county, were among the parties now out of active politics who were at the state capital yesterday.

Grand Chancellor John Morrison, of the Knights of Pythias, leaves today for an official visit to the lodges in Omaha. He expects Vice Grand Chancellor Chapman, of Fremont to accompany him. The Walters Comedy company, holding a week's engagement at the People's theatre the present week, and the house seems to be making good stands with popular companies a success.

Attorney L. A. Goff, A. H. Conch, Harry Merriam, of the Pethion Spur, and "Colonel" A. H. Forbes, of Omaha, were metropolitan visitors on a business visit to Lincoln yesterday. James H. Egan, of the Seward Blade, was a visitor at the capital city yesterday.

The returns were all received at the office of the secretary of state yesterday, Madison receiving the last county on the list to report. A western newspaper says that the latest sensation is a St. Louis horse that chews tobacco, and the greatest sensation is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Salvation Oil is the greatest pain-destroyer of the age. It speedily annihilates neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, sciold, burn, frost-bite, or from a wound of any other kind. Price only twenty-five cents.

The Rajah's Wife. A Hindu in The London Queen: The following anecdote illustrates the extreme delicacy of sentiment among the Rajput women. The celebrated Rajah Jai Singh of Amber had married a Princess of Harvati, whose simple provincial manners and dress subjected her to the banding of the refined and superbly dressed ladies of the court of Amber. One day the Rajah began playfully to make remarks about the sweeping jupon of the princess, and taking up a pair of scissors, said he would reduce it to the fashionable length. Highly offended at this playful remark, she seized his sword, and assuming a threatening attitude, said that in the house to which she belonged they were not used to such jests, but with respect to her husband, did not only of happiness but of virtue, and she assured him that if he again dared to insult her he would find that the daughter of Harvati could use a sword better than the prince of Amber his scissors.

The Cricket's Exchange. Brooklyn Eagle: I have a bicycle in good running order which I would like to exchange for a pair of winter clothes; length of leg, thirty-six; and a heavy overcoat.—Gerald De La Rockleibotham. I would like to exchange a good "A" tent with complete camp outfit, for a month's board in a private family. No objection to children or only two meals Sunday.—Chester A. De Rondacks. Any person having anything useful that he would like to exchange for two or three pairs of long stockings, a Norfolk jacket, pair knickerbockers and an Alpenstock, can find a customer by addressing the undersigned. Something useful is lined preferred.—Augustus Sommerberg.

I have a good straw hat with a broad ribbon, only worn one season. This is a rare chance for the right kind of a man or woman of long stockings, a Norfolk jacket, pair knickerbockers and an Alpenstock, can find a customer by addressing the undersigned. Something useful is lined preferred.—Augustus Sommerberg.

LIPTON'S GREAT ENTERPRISES.

Something of the Business of Thomas J. Lipton in Omaha and Elsewhere. There are very few people, outside of a small circle of business men, who realize the importance and magnitude of the pork packing industry and the strength of the firms engaged in it. A few days ago a packing house was opened in South Omaha, an event which was duly chronicled by the BEE, but it is to be doubted if the name "Lipton's House" made any greater impression upon the minds of the readers than any other name would have done. Yet the proprietor of the new packing house at South Omaha, Mr. Thomas J. Lipton, bears the distinction of being one of the largest retail provision dealers in the world. In addition to the packing house at South Omaha he has one in Chicago known as the Johnstone Packing company. The principal retail store is in Glasgow, but he has no less than thirty others located in the chief cities of Great Britain. In front of these immense stores it is no uncommon thing to see a crowd of people covering the sidewalk, pushing and pulling one another in an endeavor to gain admittance. This is always the case at the time of the holidays when special attractions are to be had or at any season when a notable reduction is made, for a limited time, in the price of any favorite article of food. Within one may see the counters, shelves and slabs of solid white marble, glistening in their cleanliness. The shelves are piled with the choicest dairy produce upon one side, and of the finest hog products, ham, bacon, lard, etc., upon the other, while the clerks and assistants are arrayed in spotless white aprons, supply the wants of the surging crowd of customers. The floors and walls are tiled in elaborate and tasteful patterns, while the scales, guards, rails, etc., are of polished steel, and everything the most scrupulous neatness is observed. Nothing that could give the least offense to the most particular customer is allowed in any of the stores. In addition to supplying the stores with hog products from his Omaha and Chicago packing houses, Mr. Lipton has been a large consumer of American cheeses. One of the latest arrivals of his holiday display is the immense cheeses made in this country. Last month three of these cheeses, weighing 3,500 to 4,000 pounds each, and about four and one-half feet in height by twenty feet in circumference, were shipped to Liverpool. In manufacturing these cheeses it was necessary to construct a monster press, and when each cheese came from the press it was essential to move it singly upon trunnions, so that it might be turned and set either end up, much as Lieutenant Goring swung the obelisk—if this without marring the form, and when it came up for final action and the council agreed to adjourn to meet next Saturday evening when it will no doubt be disposed of.

John Churchill claimed he had been assessed twice for the same cutting. Referred to finance committee. The Methodist church entered protest against being charged the full amount of water rents to look after the water works and street cleaning. Referred to finance committee.

Mr. J. Dierks stated that the Dierks Cigar Manufacturing company had been under the impression that they were to have waterworks at their new works and that they were to have the same assistance that the new company had spoken of helping this new company to the same extent that the city had the existing water works. The matter was referred to the water committee.

ADDITIONAL COUNCIL BLUETS.

Last Night's Council. At the council meeting last evening there were present the mayor, in the chair; Aldermen Danforth, Hammer, Keiler and Bennett. It was 8:30 o'clock before the meeting was called to order. City Auditor Kinneman presented the bills of the different judges and poll clerks of the late election, which were referred to the financial committee with several other bills.

City Engineer Tosterin reported assessments to private property on upper Broadway on account of the paving. The total amount due Smith & Co., the pavers, including assessments, is $2,824.14. Sarah B. D. Rolbrer, by petition, entered a protest against being assessed for sidewalks as per special assessment resolution No. 49. The petition money having been presented within the time allowed by law the resolution was passed but the petition was placed on file.

Mrs. Maria Mynter petitioned for a reduction of assessment of lot No. 329 original plat, having paid only $100 for it. Referred to committee on special assessments. Mr. J. Dierks stated that the Dierks Cigar Manufacturing company had been under the impression that they were to have waterworks at their new works and that they were to have the same assistance that the new company had spoken of helping this new company to the same extent that the city had the existing water works. A titled foreigner complains that Americans do not understand the method of address to lords. Some call these impositions plain "Mr.," others say "Your Highness" and others "Your Honor." "Your Lordship" and "My Lord" are common means of address. But there are others, among the most sensible people, who say, "Yes, sir," or "I am glad to know you, sir."

Not knowing the Bohemian for "Mr." the London newspapers are constantly putting "Herr" before Dvorak's name. The composer has protested against this fashion with great earnestness, German, for some unexplained reason, being particularly obnoxious to him, and insists on the "Mr.," though he will permit the Bohemian equivalent, "Pan."

The largest wooden structure in the world is said to be the government buildings in the capital of New Zealand. The block is four stories high, and occupies an area of nearly two acres. The city itself is mostly wooden on account of the earthquakes of the region, and is called "The city of packing cases" and "The city of match boxes."

Two lighthouses quarters on the North Carolina coast quarrelled about the color of the sea and did not exchange another word for three months, when both were discharged by the government.

An artist's idea of desolation—the miners' deserted cabins in places near Pittsburgh where old mines or oil wells have been abandoned, doors wide open, window panes broken, rooms empty.

The council refused to accept an order from the waterworks company in favor of Edward Worth, for $250.00. The water rents up to March 1, 1887, it being advanced payments.

An ordinance to extend and open Ninth avenue, through the new Omaha addition to Council Bluffs, was read and under the rules laid over.

The Tentative ordinance did not come up as it was the wish of the council to have a full board when it came up for final action and the council agreed to adjourn to meet next Saturday evening when it will no doubt be disposed of.
