

THE DAILY BEE.
COUNCIL BLUFFS
 THURSDAY MORNING NOV. 25.
OFFICE, NO. 12, PEARL STREET.
 Delivered by carrier in any part of the city at twenty cents per week.
 H. W. TILTON, Manager.
 TELEPHONES:
 Business Office, No. 43.
 Night Editor, No. 23.
MINOR MENTION.

N. Y. Plumbing Co. New fall goods at Reiter's. Cooper & McGee sell hardware. Yarns and Zephyrs at H. Friedman's. Panels at $3.50 per dozen at Schmidt's gallery, Main street.
 For fine Hosiery go to H. Friedman's. Spook and Phantom concert at Temple hall this evening.
 Thanksgiving supper at Temple hall. Come at 6 and stay till you get enough.
 The deputy marshal yesterday had to go to the county jail to serve an original notice, the defendant being a prisoner there.

The Catholic ladies give another quadrille party in J. J. Brown's building this evening.
 S. E. Sweeten and Lullie Sweeten, both of Omaha, were yesterday afternoon married by Justice Schurz at his office in this city.
 Four drunks and two vagrants got pulled in just in time to get their Thanksgiving dinner served to them at the public expense.
 The business houses generally are expected to close to-day, so that employees and all may have the fullest opportunity of living thanks.

At the Broadway theatre there will be two performances to-day, and one-half of the proceeds of both entertainments is to go to the Cottage Home hospital.
 It is proposed that instead of a charity ball this season a grand party will be given, the proceeds to go toward starting the new hospital, which is so sorely needed.
 The city council yesterday morning visited and inspected the new sewer ditch again, but have not yet taken any action as to what action they will take in regard to it.
 It is a rare thing to see a visitant from an unknown country. Spooks have signified their intention of going to Temple hall this evening and will disclose some of the mysteries of Phantomdom.

The Woman's Christian association has requested the pastors of the various churches to give to them the proceeds of the Thanksgiving collection, to be used toward furnishing "College Home Hospital." We hope every one will be prepared to donate liberally toward this object.

No. 347 Broadway is the place to buy cheap books. Opens this morning.

To-morrow evening there will be a musical recital at the residence of Rev. G. W. Crofts, at which Prof. Lippert and some of his pupils will take part. Mr. Crofts' home has just been supplied with a new grand piano, and the musicale will be a pleasing dedicatory service for the new instrument.

Don't forget that the Publishers' book sale opens to-day. Cooke & Morgan's old stand, No. 347 Broadway.
 Dr. Hanchett, office No. 12 Pearl street, Residence 120 Fourth street. Telephone No. 10.
 The city council is to meet next Monday night to consider the Tenth avenue project and transact other business. The matter seems to have got into a tangle, and many complications, and all sorts of conjectures as to what the Union Pacific will really do, what it wants to do, and what is best for the city. There are many who do not want to stand in the way of any great help to the city, but who do not feel like paying too much for a whistle, even if it is a railway whistle. Most citizens favor the city route, and if the intent is to get freight to and from the depot, there seems little in the claim that the curve will not allow of making so fast time as a straight line along the avenue. It seems from the street map upon its being a straight line, that the Union Pacific was either figuring on having fast gummy trains run there, or else on a union depot. If a union depot depends upon the success of this project, the city can afford to do a good deal. A union depot is among the greatest needs of the city.

Big bargains in underwear at H. Friedman's.
 Wall paper, shades, paints, etc. H. P. Niles, No. 402 Broadway.
 Call for everything you need, bottom prices. Everybody's store, 823 Main.
 There has for several years past been a custom here for the children of the public schools to bring on the day preceding Thanksgiving, contributions of vegetables, groceries, etc., for the relief of the poor. The pupils, in accordance with this custom, yesterday brought in a liberal supply, made up of nuts, but aggregated well, and to-day they will be placed in the hands of some committee for distribution.

Best dinner in the city at Doe and Billy's, 401 Broadway, 25 cents.
 Mrs. Dr. D. Truesdell, a graduate of the Toronto, Canada, Therapeutic institute, is prepared to treat all classes of diseases "and demonstrate the curative power of electricity" in accordance with a new and complete system of Electro-Therapeutics, consisting of Galvanism, Magnetism, Electro-Magnetism and Static Electricity. Female diseases a specialty. Located at No. 397 Broadway, second floor. Office hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Business Notice.
 I desire to inform the public that in compliance with the wish of my late husband, Mr. Ernest Burhorn, I shall continue the jewelry and watchmaker's business at the old stand, No. 17 South Main street, and under the former firm name of E. Burhorn. Thanking the many patrons and friends of Mr. Burhorn for their liberal patronage in the past I now respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.
 MOLLIE LEE BURHORN,
 Council Bluffs, Nov. 23, 1886.

Personal Paragraphs.
 R. H. Hunter, of Tabor, was in the city yesterday.
 H. Buchholz, of Janesville, Wis., an extensive manufacturer of carriages, "busses, etc." was in the city yesterday.
 Wm. Evans, of Chicago, is here on a brief visit to his brothers, J. F. and J. Evans.
 Christ, Timm, of the Davenport Democrat, visited the Bluffs yesterday.
 Miss Thompson, of Cedar Rapids, is visiting J. W. Morse and family.
 Rev. T. J. Mackey has returned from St. Paul. His sister-in-law, whose husband is one of the prominent merchants of that city, is here visiting the family.

Giving Thanks.
 The ladies of the Congregational society wish to return thanks to those who so kindly assisted in our "District School." We also thank the press for so liberally advertising both our entertainments, and to Mr. Doherty for favors.
 Mrs. E. Waite, President.

PREPARED TO GIVE THANKS.

Council Bluffs Will Join Heartily in the Observance of the Day.

CUPID LEADS SEVERAL CAPTIVE.

The "Kid" at Last Jailed—The County Wins in the First Round With the Bridge Company—Completing the Levee.

Thanksgiving Greeting.
 The District Telegraph company, recognizing the wisdom of our honorable president and governor in the setting apart of a day for general thankfulness for the many blessings which we have enjoyed during the year, begs permission to issue the following manifesto: The District Telegraph company has come to stay. This is a fact. When we were about to start in business a few old "fogies" told us that we would not run six months, that the city was too small to support such an enterprise, but we went ahead just the same. Our office has now been open six months, and we have not only paid expenses from the beginning, but have made a small margin. This has been accomplished by hard work and efficient service on our part and liberal patronage from the public. During this time we have added a number of employees to our force. We have a delivery package-delivery wagon to the service and are enabled to carry on a general express business in connection with our messenger service. During the holidays we will increase our force and will be able to deliver anything from a sealskin sash to a bucket of coal. Remember we are responsible for the acts of our messengers. Thanking you for your liberal patronage in the past, and trusting that you will favor us with it in the future, I remain, yours truly,
 E. L. STRINGER, Manager.

Another Elegant Glen Wedding.
 LANGE-GERNER.
 At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 170 Glen avenue, Miss Jeanette Gerner and Mr. Frank S. Lange were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. B. P. McMenomy, in the presence of a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The bridal couple were attended by Mr. Charles Metz of Omaha, Miss Sophia Gerner as maid; Mr. Arthur Smith, of Davenport, and Miss Clara Zaru, cousin of the bride, of Platte City, Mo. After taking their positions in the bay window in the east parlor, the ceremony, according to the Catholic ritual, was performed.
 The bridal costume was of white gross grain silk and satin brocade, on train called. The only ornaments were white roses. The bridesmaids wore dresses of white cashmere and lace.
 The bride, Miss Nettie, as she is familiarly called, is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gerner, well known and respected residents of this city.
 The groom has resided in Omaha since 1878, where he is well and favorably known, and is a son of the late Fred. Lange, of that city. He now occupies the position of assistant cashier in the Omaha Savings bank.
 The presents were numerous, elegant and costly.

Latest evening a reception was held from 7 to 11 o'clock, and the many friends of the newly wedded couple, both from Omaha and in this city, extended their congratulations.
 Mr. and Mrs. Lange left on the 11:45 o'clock train last evening for their new home, No. 2306 Howard street, Omaha.

Pinching "The Kid."
 The "Kid," a well-known character, was pinched yesterday. He has hung about the city for two years past, and is no longer a mere "kid," but now sports a moustache and seems quite like a young man. It will be remembered by many that when John Dunn was on the force he tried to arrest the young fellow one night, and the kid making a break and running, Dunn fired at him, lodging a bullet in his back. He still carries a large scar to remember the event. Last Saturday he was hanging about the Pacific house and improved the opportunity of picking up an overcoat belonging to one of the colored boys named Emerson. He took the coat Sunday morning into the Chicago restaurant, on Main street, and hung it up. He was evidently afraid to go after it, and got a boy, John Murphy, to do it for him. The boy says that the thief told him he would give him the overcoat, and so he went to the place and found it hanging there. The proprietor of the restaurant would not let the boy take it, as all he knew about it was that it was an unclaimed coat. Officer Rose was informed of the affair and took possession of the coat, which proved to be the stolen one. Officer Unthank hunted up the "Kid," who his name as Williams, and yesterday he was tried. He claimed that the overcoat for which he sent the boy was another coat altogether, and one which belonged to him. He said he told the boy that he could have the coat because he was a little full at the time, had a little money and felt rich. The coat which he owned and thus proposed to give away was not in the Chicago restaurant, but in one near there. He afterwards went and got it himself and went over to Omaha and sold it for $1.30. He knew nothing about the stolen coat. His story was rather mixed, and the judge informed him that it was a case in which evidence of good character would come into play very nicely. He offered to hold the case open until morning if the prisoner had any such evidence to produce, but the young fellow seemed to deem it useless to try to get anyone to swear to his good character, so a sentence was pronounced at once. The "kid" pleaded pitifully to be let go so as to spend the holidays with his friends, and the judge took this into account, and fixed his term in jail so that he will be released the day before Christmas.

First Blood for the County.

An important case to the county, and other counties in the state, has just been disposed of before Judge Connor, of the Cass county circuit court. In May, 1885, the board of supervisors, of Pottawattamie county, it was claimed, made a contract with the Oskaloosa Steam Engine works to build one bridge on Seventh street and the other at the Indian creek crossing on Broadway, in the western part of this city. The board of supervisors regarded both bridges as not constructed in anything like according to contract, and wholly refused to accept and pay for the bridges. The county sued the county in Judge Aylesworth's court, and then it found its way to the Cass county circuit court, on a change of venue. Messrs. Wright, Baldwin & Haldane appeared for the engine company, Colonel Keatley, County Attorney, and G. A. Holmes appeared for the county. Colonel Keatley and Mr. Haldane were at the bar with Supervisors A. C. Graham, M. D. Hardin, John Churchill, Mr. Hood, R. Overton, Robert Kirkwood and Deputy Colonel of the county witnesses for the county. The case was argued with Mr. Haldane moved to strike out this part of the amendment to the answer because not a defense and immaterial. Judge Connor refused to grant the motion. Mr. Haldane then demurred to that part of the amendment to the answer for about the same reasons, and the court refused to sustain the demurrer, and held the answer as good in law. If this is the law of the case, as the judge held it to be, then the bottom is all out of it. The ruling of the judge left no fact to try to a jury. The plaintiffs stood on their demurrer, and will go to the supreme court, while the county ored one in defeating them in the circuit court.

Completing the Levee.
 There is some talk of the advisability of completing the levee, which the city started in 1881, as a protection from any possible overflow. The work thus far done begins near the Chicago & North-western round house, and runs along in a rather southerly as well as westerly direction. It now extends between five and six thousand feet, and has a height of from three to fifteen feet, according to the surface of the ground, which is irregular in its elevation above high water mark. The work thus far has cost about $3,000, and serves the purpose admirably. It is thought by many that there is no real need for any more work of the kind, but others claim that it is always best to be on the safe side, and that with a few thousand dollars the work could be so extended as to make the westerly part of the city perfectly secure from any and all encroachments of water in any possible emergency. It is estimated that it will not require more than four or five thousand dollars to complete the levee, and of this amount it is thought that the Union Pacific and other corporations will contribute a goodly share. The subject is certainly worthy of consideration, and if there is considered the least possibility of any trouble from high water, under any circumstances, they should have a precaution taken, especially when it can be done for little comparative expense.

 It is believed by many, although without any real proof, that an arrangement has been made by which the new company will buy the present street car line, and extend and improve it, instead of building a new line. It is a well known fact that the Union Pacific would gladly get rid of the street car business. It has been understood for some time that the Union Pacific had the line, paying a good price for it, in order to prevent opposition to the scheme of getting possession of Union avenue. Now it seems to be an elephant on its hands, and it would gladly sell it. Several circumstances seem to corroborate this theory, and it is not unlikely that this may be the result.

The Bee's Thanks.

The Bee in Council Bluffs has many reasons for giving thanks, too many to name.
 It is thankful that it is busy, and business has kept it.
 It is thankful that new street cars have been put on, for the fare is only five cents and walking is fair.
 It is thankful that John Short's chicken coop is not under discussion by the city council.
 That the Broom starts with a big "Bee." That the fellow had when he telegraphed the Des Moines Register that "Council Bluffs is a paradise for thieves and thugs."
 That nobody believed him.
 That there is plenty of room on the benches in Fairmount park for the cold-blooded fellows who refuse to enthrone over the prospect of Council Bluffs.
 That the new wagon bridge is an assured fact.
 That the sewer ditch controversy still remains unsettled, and gives items for dull days.
 That the police force are not to be uniformed from old clothing sent in for the wool.
 That there is only one Gerstenberg left in the city.
 That there are no more elections until next spring.
 That Council Bluffs has the purest milk of any city in the west, because it has the best water-works.
 That the coasting carnival will not be postponed longer than another year.
 That the dear old grandmother has at last got a second-hand chestnut ball.
 That upper Broadway has street cars and paving.
 That only one street car is drawn by the power.
 That city warrants are being brought to grade.
 That the revolving jail can still be turned.
 That the city has discovered that sewers can't run up hill.
 That Turkey is captured.
 Greece is taken.
 All's well.
 Don't buy your new suit or overcoat until you look at those at Metcalf Bros.
