O thouses were built in New York city of this year, while Omaha has built about one-half of this number. If this is not a sign of good times, what is? Now is the time to buy lots, if you want a home or a chance to make money. Come and look at Hanscom Park addition, see the houses built around in less than a year, consider its splendid location, and you will admit $50 to $50 for these lots is dirtcheap. Ride out and see them. It costs you nothing to investigate these claims. Ames, 1507 Farnam. JOHN SIMMONS FLORIST,

GREEN HOUSE ON STATE ST,

NOT SCARED A BIT.

A Talk on Three Prominent Southern Topics.
Philadelphia Record: "Great shakes!"

"Well, they were," said Secretary of State Lipscomb, of South Carolina, as he recited a number of interesting facts, interspersed with humorous anecdote, concerning the recent earthquake in that section of the contry. The spice of the southern accent added flavor to a statement that would command attention under any circumstances. "No person," said General Lipscomb, "who saw can accurately describe the circumstances, and one who was not there can have no real conception of what took place. "But," continued he with a twinkle in his eye, we're used to it now down our way. Why, bless you, if a darkey should happen to have hold of a chicken's leg in a convenient hen-roost when a shock comes along nowadays, he doesn't drop the fowl rud commence to pray like he used to-not a bit of it-he just hangs on to the chick. It is astonishing how fear fostered honesty, especially among the colored people. After the first great shock, when ruin met the eye everywhere, the fronts of many of the stores in Charleston were completely shattered and the wares of the merchants lay inside fully exposed to view and easy to get at. Under ordinary circumstances no trace of the goods would be found if left unprotected, but the owner had no fear at all after the quake—all the time was taken up in prayer. No one evinced any disposition to meddle with his neigh-

"While the dispatshes were full of news concerning the disaster in Charleston, but slight attention was paid to the damage done along down through the center of the state. An interesting fact in this connection is that the disturbances were most severe through the phosphate region, extending from the Waccamaw river down as far as Beaufort and Port Royal. Farmers' houses, set up on brick or stone supports, were turned upside down and broken almost to splinters, but they were so far removed from the populous centers that little notice was taken of them at the time. In the soil all along that line can be found the bones of fishes and animals that would indicate the former existence of species we know nothing of now, so that probably long before Columbus came over the country was shaken up with internal convulsions. Nearly all the rents and fissures have closed up, though a few still remain. Another peculiar thing is that with the first openings quantities of sand were thrown up the like of which had never been seen before. In Charles-ton we have a number of artesian wells ranging probably from 1,000 to 1,600 feet deep, but no such specimens of sand came up from them as we found along the fissures after the first shock." THE SCARE WEARING OFG. "In the city the cries of the colored people that the world world was coming to an end seemed at one time as if about to be realized, but, though only a short time has elapsed since the first scare, seem to have become entirely use to the matter and searcely pay any attention to the shocks. Painteas working upon seaffolding along the wail of a high building will suddenly sway from side to side. Instead of becoming frightened, the man quietly places himself in a comfortable position and waits calmly till the ropes cease swaying, when he resumes work. One day in the state house it was feared that the plaster on the ceiling would be shaken down. The clerks simply put on their hats to break the force of the fall in case any descended, and proceeded with business. We go to bed at night now and sleep naturally. If we wake up and find the bedstead waltzing down toward the opposite wall we roll over to the other

'No, it doesn't bother us any more, The darkies who shouted themselves hoarse with prayerful promises of reformation now lie and steal as they did of

A SOUTHERN VIEW OF THE NEGRO. Turning his attention for a moment to the colored people, the general said: You folks up north here mistake our atriou folks up north here mistake our attitude to the colored race. If you could come down and live with us awhile you would feel just as we do. You've got to take tee negro for what he is. You cannot disgrace him. He does not understand the feeling. You may charge him with the meanest of crimes and prove it on him; tell him to get out of your sight and never to look at you again. The next moment he will turn about and ask you for a 'chaw terbaccer.' For some reason God has made him different from us, and we must get along with him as best we can, and we do so. The talk that one hears in portions of the north regarding persecution of the negro is all nonsense, and he will tell you so as quick as any one." The mania for collecting postage stamps seems to be gaining more ground than ever in France, writes the Paris cor-respondent of the London Daily Telegraph. Among the most famous collectors in France is a man who has over a million postage stamps preserved in thir-teen richly-bound volumes, and another who keeps two clerks employed in classifying and arranging his enormous collec-tion. Added to this, there are in Paris about 150 wholesale firms employed in the trade, and one of the best known of these has lately offered from £20 to £40 for certain stamps. Tuscan postage stamps dated before 1860 will be paid for at the rate of £6 each, while stamps from Mauritius for the year 1847 fetch £80, the French stamps for 1858 are quoted at £1 According to the returns published by the statistical officer of the German empire the number of recruits who were unable to read or write who joined the German army last year was 1.657, or 1.8 per cent of the men incorporated. In 1884 the total was 1,851, or 1.21 per cent; in 1883 it was 1,923, or 1.27 per cent; in 1883 it was 1,992, or 1.32 per cent; in 1880 it was 2,406, or 1.59 per cent, and in 1875 it was 3,311, or 2,37 per cent. The largest proportion of illiterate recruits were from the districts of Marienwerder, Bromberg and Posen. An unknown lunatic was captured re-cently by officers at Springfield, Ky. His paroxysms of violence only come on when he hears some one inquire his name.

The steamship Fulda, which arrived at New York on Thursday, had on board the largest shipment of live English pheasants ever brought to this country. They are for propagating purposes, and were consigned to Charles Reiche & Bro. There are 1,530 of them, and they were brought over in large crates divid-ed into partitions, each of which accommodated four birds. One thousand of them go to Pierre Loritlard, at Tuxedo Park. The rest will go to various game preserves. A few will go to Senator Mc Pherson. The birds, although called English pheasant, come from Bohemia.

A Red Butte, Wy., correspondent says that these are blue times for the cattlemen. Prices are down, feed is scarce, a hard winter is feared, and the cattle are Prices are down, feed is scarce, a in bad condition to meet it, being thu
