 Frank Kappily, who is in the employ of Gray's harness shop, was yesterday before the commissioners, who decided that he was not insane, and ordered his release.

All prices marked in plain figures at Adams'.
 The case of Harry Walbridge, who traveled for L. Kirsch & Co., and who skipped out leaving his employers short, is to come up for trial in the district court next week.

See Adams' 75-cent warm slipper for ladies.
 The case of Major Williams, who is charged with shooting and killing a fellow confidence man at the Union Avenue hotel, is to be tried next week in the district court.

Boots and shoes neatly half-soled at Adams'.
 Joe Driesbach having become dissatisfied with the experiment of running a variety show, had of concluded to give up his old business, confectionery, and will occupy the store No. 110 Main street.

Men's and boys' boots for a few days at unheard-of prices, Adams & Co.
 The funeral of little Hazel, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cole, was held yesterday afternoon at the family residence. Rev. G. W. Crofts officiated, and a large number of sympathizing friends were in attendance.

Adams' shoe store 417 Broadway.
 W. A. Larry and Maggie Cramer were yesterday married at the Catholic church by Rev. Father McMeamy. In the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, William Lewis, on Vine street.

Adams' has a "vee-lined ladies' slipper at 50 cents.
 Royal Amy is said to have concluded to return from Omaha and resume the hardware business here, and he notified the proprietors of the Phoenix to give up the possession of the store on the first of the new year. In connection with the report is one that the Phoenix will stick by the place, and will fight any attempt to dislodge it.

Warm felt slippers at Adams'.
 A. H. Allen, who fell into the scalding vat at Stewart's packing house, is not so badly hurt as was at first supposed. Portions of his body are badly scalded, but there is nothing alarming in his condition according to the attending physician.
 He was resting very easily yesterday, with every indication of a speedy recovery. The escape from fatal results is most fortunate.

Wigwam slippers, No. 417 Broadway,
 Adams'.
 A divorce was granted yesterday in the case of Lizzie Converse vs. C. H. Converse.
 Alimony to the amount of $1,500 was also granted, and custody of the child. One of the grounds for seeking the decree was the alleged unlawful in-trusiveness of the defendant with Mrs. Alexander. There were a number of witnesses on this point, but the evidence was largely circumstantial, and no attempt was made to refute it on the part of the defendant, he allowing the case to go by default.

Mrs. Elise Rosch, wife of Emil Rosch, died at 1 o'clock Wednesday night of cardiac dropsy, after an illness of about two months. She was aged forty-five years and five months. She was born in Luxembourg, and came to this country settling in Dubuque thirty years ago. She was married in 1861, and with her husband came to this city, where they have since lived. Her funeral will be held this afternoon at the family residence, No. 213 South First street.

Adams & Co. have the goods they advertise. They never mislead the minds of the public.
 It solves the evening prohibition organ right. A short time ago it tried to get a twist on the Bee by taking a part of a telegraphic headline in this paper, and trying to make out that the Bee called Haddock a fool, whereas the Bee distinctly applied that epithet to the assassin of Haddock. Now the evening twister gets it square in the neck by the Nonpareil calling attention to the fact that in its telegraphic headings it distinctly calls the Irish "fools," without any reservations or qualifications. The Council Bluffs Herald is now trying to explain what it meant when it called the black letters, "Irish fools." The Irish are naturally hot-foot.

Warm felt goods at Adams' shoe store.
 Now that public attention is being called to the poor quality of oil burned in the street cars and in houses, it is also well to call attention to the fact that none of the hacks have their numbers painted on the lamps, as in most cities. At night it is often a convenience to be able to see the number of a hack, but there is no way now of knowing the number of a hack in the evening, unless the driver chooses to stop and tell the inquirer. The identity of hacks would be easily ascertained in this city as elsewhere if the number was painted on the lamp, and the lamps always lighted.

A move is on foot for the organization of a militia company here to be known as the "Light Guards." There was such a company here some years ago, but the organization was disbanded for some reason, and interest in it died out. It is now proposed to make another start, with the determination to have a permanent and successful organization. This city should support at least one good militia company, and in other cities of even smaller size, such an organization would prove of social and physical benefit to the members, and be a matter of pride with the city.

All styles Christmas slippers at Adams'.
 The publishers of the opera house programme should at least print enough copies of it to furnish those who attend entertainments there. Although there was not a large audience at the opera house Wednesday evening there were not enough programmes to furnish those who were there. Had there been a full house there would not have been half enough programmes. Not only do the advertisers have the right to demand that the necessary copies be printed and distributed, but those who attend entertainments should have a programme of some sort for their accommodation.

A Dishonored Draft.
 In the district court yesterday the case of Groneweg & Shoentgen vs Kusworm was on trial and occupied the entire day.
 The case is a peculiar one. It appears that a man named Switzer, who traveled for Kusworm, selling goods, needing some money for expenses, etc., drew on Kusworm and Groneweg & Shoentgen cashed it for him. On another trip here he got the same firm to cash another draft on Kusworm for a like purpose.
 These drafts were honored by Kusworm.
 A third time the traveling man got a like favor, and to the surprise of Groneweg & Shoentgen this draft came back dishonored, Kusworm claiming that the traveling man was no longer in his employ, that he had settled with him several days before, and there was nothing due him.
 Groneweg & Shoentgen now sue Kus-worm, claiming that by their previous honoring of drafts drawn by the traveling man he virtually endorsed him as an agent authorized to draw on them, and that he must stand by the draft. The amount of the dishonored draft is $100.

A Fine Holiday Display.
 One of the most pleasing displays of holiday goods is that at Cooke & Morgan's old stand, now occupied by the Publishers' Book Sale. There is an endless variety of novelties, too many to enumerate, and one cannot but find here many articles to please the eye and suit the pocketbook. It is astonishing what beautiful things can be purchased with so little money, and in the line of rich, elegant gifts there is also a very large showing. Those who are in doubt what to buy or where to buy it should step in, feast their eyes on the beauties there shown, and make their selections early.
 Such a stock is certainly a great addition to the city, and it does away with all excuses for seeking holiday goods away from home.

Freddie as a "Con" Man.
 Freddie Gerstenberg is again heard from, this time appearing in the role of a "con" man. It was not supposed that he had had enough to play any game higher than that of a sneak thief, but it seems that he succeeded in finding a man simple enough to be taken in by him. The victim gives his name as William Hor-man, and he was duped by Freddie representing himself as a farmer living near Denison. The trick accrued $30, but Freddie was tipped and Mayor Burch, of Denison, bound the defendant over to the grand jury. It would be a blessed relief to this part of Iowa if the result should prove to be a term in the pen, where he would be kept quiet for a few years.

A Ten-Cent Blow-Out.
 When McDonald's hide warehouse was opened yesterday morning it was discovered that some one had been there during the night bent on booty, but not very successful in getting any. The safe had been drilled and blown, but as there was only 10 cents in cash in the iron box, the blowers had their work for nothing. The drawers of the desks had all been opened and ransacked and papers thrown about recklessly. The police are at work tracing up some slight clues, but with little prospect of catching the perpetrators, who have doubtless skipped ere this, disgusted with their attempt. This is the second time that safe-blowers have visited the office within a year.

"Falka" Well Given.
 The McCaull Opera company appeared again last evening and gave an even more pleasing entertainment than on the previous evening. Last night they gave "Falka," one of the best of the comic operas, and they gave it excellently. The company is a very large one, and while it has several alto artists of real merit, the chief excellency consists in the choruses, many of which were grandly given. No company has appeared here having so large a number of good voices, and the music lovers had a treat indeed. The audience was at the previous evening was enthusiastic, and showers were numerous. The company leave this morning for Lincoln, where they appear this evening, and from there go to Denver. They do not appear in Omaha at this time, the Emma Abbott opera season there occupying the field. The Mc-Caull company has won much favor here, and will doubtless be received with like enthusiasm in Lincoln.
