The Arrest of Hamburg's Defaulter -Diamond Robbery at Davenport-Fatal Affray in Lee County-lowa News.

An Unsavory Couple Jailed.

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 13 .- [Special Tele gram to the BEE.]-The quiet Quaker village of LeGrand, Marshall county, is very much exercised overy the depravity of a man and woman, named Perry Morrison and Maud Roberts, 'Saturday night they were arrested, he for adultery, she for bigamy. It is charged that last September Morrison brought Roberts woman from Illinois installed her as his wife, the and omitting the ceremonles that usually presuch relationships. Morrison's wife bout a year ago, and as she was a great favorite, the people indignantly resent the new proceeding. It is understood that the Roberts woman has a husband living in li-linous. The people of LeGrand are mostly Quakers and they could not stand such open definince of virtue, and the erring couple were nrrested. They lodged last night in the Mar-shalltown jail, but were released on bail to-day.

Sioux City's Saloon Fight.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Dec. 13.-|Special Tele gram to the BEE.]-A large lot of abatement papers were issued to-day by the clerk of the court and placed in the hands of the sheriff for execution. A number of parties against whom proceedings were instituted have already gone out of business. Some of the proprietors of buildings occupied by the saloonists against whom the abatement orders were recently issued offer to give bond that they would no ionger allow the same to be used for saloon purposes. The probabilities are that applications in the proper form will be presented to Judge Lewis the latter part of the week, at which time other infunctions will be asked and contempt proceedings com-

MCQUADE'S TRIAL. The Testimony Introduced Before the

Jury Yesterday. NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—The trial of Alderman McQuade, charged with receiving a bribe in connection with the passage of the Broadway Sarface railroad franchise, was continued to-day with hearing of evidence for the defense. W. S. Williama, president, and Hon. N. A. Nelson, vice president of the cable road, testined that they did not know of any offer having been made by their com-pany to the alderman, either directly or indi-rectly, for the Broadway franchise. A num-ber of witnesses testified that McQuade fa-vored the street railroad before he was chosen alderman. To account for McQuade being "flush" of money it was shown that he had been left a legacy of 53,000 in 1864. This was followed by evidence as to the pris-oner's good character. Testimony was introduced to show that McQuade had been a man of property for years. The cashier of his bank testified that McQuade's transaction for several years had aggregated $120,000 to $150,000 per year. John O'Neil, one of the Indicted alder-men, denied any knowledge of the "combine;" denied attending the meet-ing at Fullgraff's office, or either of their meatings at McLawethin. Al-derman Moloney brought the calt to him at 6 o'clock in the evening. Did not know or cure what the object of the meeting was. When he went into the meeting he asked and was told that the injunction had been dissolved and that some one also was trying to get another injunction. Never knew the names of the "combine." Heard Keenan had something to do with the "combine" on railroad matters. Witness explained that throughout 1884 there was a persistent effort to have morning sessions of aldermen. Ex-Alderman Charles Reilly, one of the in-dicted contradicted the testimony of Fullgraff and Duff in every essential particular, but works a persistent and Duff in every essential particular, but nothing new was elicited. Paul Boynton Believed to be Aiding Cutting.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.-[Special Telegram to the BEE.]-Last oFriday Paul Boyton, the swimmer, surprised friends by suddenly returning. They thought he was still in South America. He said he was on his way to Chicago on urgent business, and added: "I am going to build a railroad through Central America. I have a contract and I want to take a regiment of New York boys. There's plenty of labor down in that country and it is as cheap as dirt. What I want the boys for is to keep me in food and protect my prop-erty. It is the Lord's own country down there, and there is tun and a tortune for those who want to go. I want 1,000 able bodied men who know how to shoot when they have to." Boyton started Saturday for Chicago, and yesterday his agent. Armond Cico, advertised for 1,000 men accustomed to fire arms for railroad work in Central America at $50 a month. Cico is unable to say just where the railroad is to be built. About twenty-five young men answered the advertisement yesterday and said they were willing to go anywhere under Boynton. An going to build a railroad through Central willing to go anywhere under Boynton. An old acquaintance of Boynton's smiled shrewdly when asked what he knew of the plan, and added: "From one or two hints that I got, I don't believe there is any rail-road in it at all. That would be too tame for Boynton. He means business every time. If he takes 1,000 New York boys from the city the city My they'll be heard from shortly in Mexico. My private opinion is that the scheme is one that litor Cutting is natching to invade Mexico He is getting an army of cowboys together for the purpose, and Boynton wants a few New Yorkers with him."

The Efforts Being Made to Secure Its Location in Omaha.

Arson-Local News.

The Methodist University.

The commission appointed to select ocation for the establishment of a central Methodist university in Nebraska will meet at Lincoln on Wednesday to decide upon a location. In response to a published call a meeting of churchmen and citizens was held at the First M. E. church last night to decide what inducements Omaha will offer to secure the ocation af the university. Presiding Elder Phelps was made chairman and addressed the meeting. He urged the citizens of Omaha to take im mediate action to secure the location of the university. Other towns have been working for months to prepare inducements to offer for the location of the university. York, Lincoln, Central City and other locations have offered liberal inducements for the location of the institution. Whatever is done must be done at once. He referred to the desirability of Omaha as a location, and expressed his opinion that this is the only city in the state at which the

Mr. B. C. Patterson was called upon to give his views upon the question from a business man's standpoint. He said that he had never been behind in the per-formance of his duty in advancing the cause of education. Nothing, he said, so contributes to the happiness and prosperity of a man as education and chris-tianity. There is a great future for the Methodist university it it is located in the proper place. There is no use to plant the institution in a small town, where it will take years to get its reputation established. The school should be located where 200 students can be placed in it the first term. Omaha needs a school which her children can be educated in highest branches instead of sending them to eastern institutions. Mr. Patterson said he would be one of twenty men to give $100,000 to the project if an institution is built to cost at least $100,000.

Judge J. M. Thurston was next called upon. He said that he had been brought to the meeting by Rev. Savidge under false pretenses, but he was willing to do all in his power at all times to advance three interests, the destiny of Omaha, the education of the youth of the land and the dissemination of the orthodox principles of religion. He said that this can be best done by education in denominational schools. Mr. Thurston said that the great question which will demand the attention of the twentieth century will be he dissemination of education founded religious principles. He spoke of the many advantages in having the college located in Omaha. Such a location would be better for the school, the students and all concerned. Omaha is the only place in the state where such an institution can be made a success from its foundation. Rev. T. M. House made an appeal to the members of the M. E. church and all interested in educational work to commence action at once to secure the location of the university. He closed his re-marks by a motion that a committee be appointed to get out and get to work at once soliciting subscriptions and to go to

The Abbott Company in "Lucretia Borgia" Last Night.

The question of then raising the initia-tion fee to $500 was introduced. Mr. Her did not think the time had to auspiciously last night with a very large come for the adoption of the amendment. The board had a membership of but 152, and that number was not sufficiently and brilliant audience. Rarely has there been gathered in the opera house an audience so uniformly fashionable and representative of a city of $100,000 people. Five hundred dollars would stop a number representative. The opera of "Lucretia Borgia" is new to an Omaha audience, of merchants from becoming members. They had not done much. They had no place to meet, and they should not kill and fell rather coldly at first, but a performance of such a high order was the board by raising the price so high as bound to win approval and as the opera Mr. Dufrene thought that any man who should be able to join the association, now, for $350 was getting in very cheap. The price ought to be considered a fair progressed the audience gradually warmed up to such a pitch that they were loth to depart even when the curtain had fallen on the last act. Abbott was investment when the value of the certifiin glorious voice and charmed more than with her sweet silvery tones and brilliant vocalization, which was admirably displayed in the grand aria "Com e' Betlo" sung after the en-trance of Lucretia. The allegro move-ment with which this aria ends is invari-Mr. Her wanted to encourage new comers to join the association and thought it would be to the advantage of the board to admit many of those new people even if they should be permitted to come in at $50. They should not tax these new comers. They were contributing to the success of the place by what they had ably cut in Italy on account of its difficult execution and the great number of high notes it contains. The grand duo of Borgia paid for their real estate and in the rents, which are now three times as high as and Gennaro was one of the gems of the evening. Michileu as Gennaro was they were three years ago. Mr. Garneau looked upon the board as agreeable vocally and an embodied sympathy to look upon. The handsome a mercantile association and not as one enor is a troubabour style of lover, looks volcanoes of passion, strikes des-perate attitudes, but really is nothing but inoffensive. He sings pleasantly, for the transaction of any particular line of business. For that reason, he thought members ought to be encouraged to join, moves with enviable case and grace, and which could not be done by raising the ooks picturesque even when he does Mr. Brunner thought that, after the nothing, so that his lack of dramatic board should get into its new quarters, many more members might be expected fully compensated for in his other forcei manifold endowments.

Her voice is somewhat impaired in places from the cultivation Max Meyer thought they would not be able to get 500 members even if the fee was $100. Besides, he would rather have 100 good members than 500 poor ones. He was in favor of some raise in the of chesty lower tones that are ruinous to the voice and directly opposed to good initiation fee. But he did not exactly Still, an audience somehow singing. The knights are relying upon the co-operative shafts at Can-heiburg, Ind., and in St. Clair county, III., purchased by the general executive board of the knights last year. The capacity of these mines is 30,000 tons per day. All arrangements were made to begin marketing the coal here the 1st inst. Only by Athlophoros. It is alleged that the Ohlo & Mississippi refuses to carry more than one carload per day for the knights, and the Ilimois Central refuses to carry any coal whatever. Evidence is now being taken by a special committee of the state executive board concerning the conspiracy against their mines, said to exist between the rail-roads, coal operators and banks: The re-cently elected labor representatives will, it is announced this evening, bring the evidence before the state legislature. Part of the evi-dence consists of affidavits and letters. The Board Satisfied With $250 as Initiation Fee. H. G. Clark called the meeting of the board of trade to order last evening at 8:30 o'clock. The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read by Secretary Nattinger and adopted. Upon the appearance of President Meyer Mr. Clark resigned the chair. President Meyer said that the committee appointed to place the advantages of Omaha before the Indian commissioner, with a view to

of the city. securing the re-location of the Indian supply depot, now at New York, in this city, had called upon the officer mentioned and spoken in favor of Omaha. But no action had been taken, nor would there be until next Tuesday.

The proposed amendment to the by laws was introduced. Mr. Clark moved its adoption and Mr. Goodman offered a second. It is as follows:

second. It is as follows: The business of said corporation shall be conducted by a board of directors, nine in number, to be elected by the members, such election to take place on the first Monday of January of each year, as hereinafter pro-vided. At the first annual meeting, after the adoption of this amended article, the direc-tors then elected shall determine by lot their respective terms of service in such a manner that three of such directors shall serve for one year, three for two years and three for three years. At the annual meeting there-atter, three directors shall be elected for the term of three years to supply the place of those directors whose terms then expire. Va-cancies in the board of directors shall be filled by said directors until the next annual meeting, when the utexpired term shall be offered at the last meeting be referred to the committee of tifteen on charter amendments. The motion prevailed. Mr. Evans moved that the memorial committee be discharged. Carried. The secretary read a letter from C. M.

Des Islets of the Belvidere Commercial club setting forth that Thayer, Fillmore Belvidere Commercial and other counties were in a country tributary to St. Joseph, and that the B. & M. railroad had lately established a connection between Fairmount and Chester, thus bringing the section mentioned vithin six hours of Omaha. It requested that a committee of citizens from that part of the state be given an opportunity to confer with Omaha merchants with a view to inducing them to establish trade relations with the section mentioned.

On motion of Mr. Dufrene, an invitation was extended to the merchants in question to meet the board at Omaha at a date to be set by the former, when the board would be glad to welcome and en-tertain them. Adjourned.

THE LEAVENWORTH GRADE.!

The Proposed Change Recommended by Property Owners.

A large number of property owners convened at the store of Porter Bros. ast evening in pursuance of the call for a meeting to discuss and consider the proposed changes of grade on Leavenworth street.

The meeting was called to order to Mr. McShane, who nominated C, W. Hamilton as chairman. This motion was unanimously adopted, and upon sugges-tion of the chairman Mr. McShane was elected secretary. A discussion of the proposed changes of grade was then entered upon and continued for about two hours. A resolution was then offered by Mr. Connell, as follows: Resolved, That it is the sense of the property owners present that the proposed changes of grade in Leavenworth street, east of Phil Sheridan street, be approved and that the city council be requested to cause such changes to be made. The resolution of Mr. Connell after some further discussion was adopted by a vote of about two to one, and after being declared carried by the chairman, attend him. another resolution was offered by Mr Rees that the proposed grade on Leaven-worth street, west of Phil Sneridan street, be also adopted. The resolution of Mr. Rees was so amended as to declare that the property owners presen approve of a cut of six feet at Park avenue, and that from that point west ward the best grade possible be made. The resolution as amended was carried by a large majority. The meeting then adjourned and the general expression of those pres ent was to the effect that a decided ad vance toward securing a good grade for Leavenworth street had been made, and that if the proposed grade was carried

The first regular meeting of the board of management of the newly formed humane society was held last evening at the residence of Colonel C. S. Chase, president of the organization, There was a very full attendance, and much en-thusiasm was manifested in the work to be accomplished. The board's labors last night consisted in the planning of an ex-tensive programme of work for the society. It was decided to send out circulars inviting those who wish to become members to send their names to the secre tary, Committees are also to be ap-pointed from all the city churches and other societies to awaken an interest in the work of the humane society and to confer with its officers. An effort will be made to organize in both the public and Sunday schools Bands of Mercy for the purpose of instructing and interesting the children in the cause. By vote the board fixed the time for holding its regular meetings for the first Tuesday of each wonth.
