The matter is pending before Judge Aylesworth, and has been continued on account of some of the attorneys in the case being busy with other

A bundle of clothing has been found on the sidewalk in front of Mayor Grone-weg's residence, either dropped there by some one, or left there by some one who has been away from town, and did not know that the police force had changed, and that they did not rely on contributions to get clothing. The bundle was left at the police station, not for the officers, but for the owner.

To-night Fidelity Council, Royal Arcanum, give another hop in their new hall. The hall is being fitted up nicely, and when completed will be the finest arrangement of its kind in the city. Lynchard, of the Council Bluffs Herald, is again discoursing on snow. He should avoid that subject. Last winter he was greatly excited over his discovery of red snow in this city, and did not recover until he was informed that it was the result of some fellow spilling some mineral paint. Now he is at the snow business again. If he doesn't look out he will get into such a desperate frame of mind as to attempt to write a poem on his favorite

The sexton of one of the city churches has the thermometer hung in a prominent place on the pulpit. To the average worshipper noticing it, some queer sug-gestions arise. Is it hung their to indi-cate how hot the preacher is making it for his congregation? Is it emblematic of the temperature of the bourne from which no traveler ere returns? In a church where every detail is supposed to have an ecclesiastic meaning the banging of the thermometer on the pulpit is a

The funeral of Mr. John H. Keesee was held yesterday afternoon and was large-ly attended. His death has called forth many expressions of sorrow and sympathy, and many friends joined in paying mute tribute to the sad rad rites yester-day. The employes of Harkness Bros. attended in a body, the store being closed during the services. The floral tributes were numerous, and some of them very elaborate and beautiful. Rev. A. K. Bates conducted the services. The pall bearers were E. E. Harkness, John Bennett, J. E. Harkness, H. H. Oberholt-zer, L. S. Barilett and D. W. Olis.

On With the Dance.

Prof. Gebhardt on Sunday night gave a magic lantern show in Minden, which was to be followed by a dance. The boys getting tired of the entertainment, and their heels being uneasy for the dance, concluded to shut off the show hurriedly. While the lights were turned low, the boys began to pitch hen fruit, ancient, and succeeded in breaking up the entertainment. They then prevailed upon the preprietor of the hall to start up the dance, and a roaring time was had until daybreak.

Court Crumbs. The illness of Judge Loofbourow caused another recess of the district court yesterday, he being still at home. It is expected that he will be able to return this morning, so that the trial of Major Wilhams, for the murder of Hughes, may go on. The only feature of the court in session yesterday was the grand jury, or McFadden's court, as it is called. It is understood that the grand jury has cou-siderable business yet to look after.

Tom Brooks Acquitted.

Egging.

The examination of Tom Brooks for stealing a gold watch from Emma Goodwin came to a close before Judge Ayles worth yesterday afternoon. The eviton, delivered. Wm. Welch, 615 Main dence proved quite spicy to the hangers-street. Telephone 83. on at police court. It showed in brief that Tom got sadly infatuated with Emma's beauty, and induced her a few months ago to leave Stella Long's, where she had been boarding, and become a private housekeeper for him. The course of love run smoothly for a time only. She was not so smitten with him as he with her, and endeavored to shake him off. He insisted on clinging to her, and jealousy and other circumstances led to quarrels, in which he beat and other. wise abused her, disgracing himself still further. During the time they were living together Tom used to wear her watch frequently, and for weeks at a time.
Last week aftet one of their quarrels, she insisted on returning to Stella Long's house, and as he had no excuse for seeing her there, he not only took the watch from her, but kept it, promising to return it soon. In her anger she had him arrested for steal-The court decided that although Tom took the watch without her consent still there was no proof that he was trying to steal it or dispose of it, and it was not taken with an intent of converting it to his own use. Tom was discharged, but given a wholesome lecture on the foolishnes of being so "stuck" on such a woman as to forget his manhood and get himself into trouble. Another complaint was made against him for threatening the girl, and he gave bends to keep the peace. It is quite evident that the fem-inine heart has turned towards some other than Tom, and he will probably now have the good sense to let it turn. The evidence was not of a character to reflect credit upon either one of them, but there was evidently no real intent on his part to steal the watch. The case has occupied the greater part of two > Patronize Home Nurserymen. To the Editor of the BEE: I notice the annual return of the foreign tree agents to our city. As a property owner I wish to see our city improved and beautified as much as possible, but I do not wish to see our citizens wasting their time and money and getting discouraged in trying to beautify their grounds by patronizing the foreign tree agent. I do not wish to discourage the agent personally. He usually is a smooth talker and very per-suasive, but I do ask the catzens of Conneil Chiffs to think before parchasing that we have in our midst home nurserie -where is grown everything, both fruit and ornamental, that will thrive in this climate. The agent may say, "your nurseries here are all right, but they do not grow such and such varieties." My not grow such and such varieties." My friends rest assured, if they do not grow them, it is because they will not succeed Going like wild tire at Brackett's.

Too High a Time. Wooderne, Ia., Dec. 18.-Last Friday night some bad bloods of Woodbine and Logan concluded to paint the town red. When all places where they could get paint were closed, they went to the billiard room, broke in a window, took what "b b," tobabee and other things they wanted, broke the money drawer open and took two or three dollars in change. They then went to the hotel and one asked for a room for himself and friend. After he was given a room he got his choons and they proceeded to have a high old time, breaking the botties, pitcher and stand, when the landlord ordered them to leave. ceeded to a house owned by Dr. Samp-son (he having just gone south) broke in the door, ransacked the house, ate what they could find and then went to bed. It is reported the nightwatch was with them until they knocked him down several times, when he left. Warrants were got out for them Saturday, and the ringleader was arrested. The examina-

Breaking Up a Gang. Yesterday the box of goods shipped to Ottumwa by Sullivan and Woodward, the Omana crooks, was returned here and examined. The box, or trunk, contained nearly all the goods stolen from Mrs. Davis and some other articles, which were probably stolen by this gang. The eatching of these two young fellows seems to have led to the breaking up of a gang which has been working in this part of the country quite successfully. On one of the prisoners was found a letter from "Charlie and his pard," and this letter has led to the arrest of two others, making five in all who are now under look and key as belonging to the gang. The "French Cook" is a big card at Brackett's. Everybody should see it.

A Queer Accident.

Yesterday afternoon Peter Huckster. employed at Schluter & Boley's barns, met with a queer accident and had a nar row escape from being fatally injured. He, with others, was engaged in handling some bales of hay, and as they were about to hoist one bale something gave way and the hock caught him on one side of the jaw, inflicting quite a wound, but luckily not catching into the artery. Dr. Hanchett was called and the wound dressed. He was last night feeling as comfortable as could be expected, and with every prospect of speedy and full Putting in the Alarm.

Within two weeks or so the new Rich mond fire alarm and police call will be in active operation here. G. C. McCullough and O. P. Crocker arrived here yesterday and began the work of putting in the boxes and getting the system in condition to operate. The former is a son of the gentleman who made the contract here, and is thoroughly experienced in all the details of the work. The necessity material is here, and no delay is expected in completing the system.
