The funeral of the late Alex Obert was held yesterday afternoon. His brothers of the G. A. R. attended in a body, and the usual tribute to a veteran was paid to him.

To-night the printers and their numerous friends occupy the Temple hall with a masquerade. It promises to be one of the largest and jolliest balls of the season.

Eiseman & Co. with their usual generosity donated a large number of dolls to be distributed by the church folks to the children who might be missed by Santa Claus.

Reno & Co. generously gave about seventy-five books to the Baptist church, to be distributed among those who would enjoy them, but were unable to purchase them.

There are so many merchants now giving their customers a chance for a prize with every 25 cent purchase that one fellow who threw a quarter into the Salvation Army tambourine asked the maiden for his ticket.

Rev. Mr. Baxter, editor of the Christian Herald, delivers the closing of his lectures in the Y. M. C. A. hall this evening. This is said to be the best of the series, and will be illustrated so as to prove both interesting and instructive.

Tom McFadden, who was reported as having skipped, has voluntarily appeared and given bonds for his appearance whenever wanted to answer to the charge of having seduced a Walnut girl. The prediction is made that the case against him will fall through, and he will be discharged as on the preliminary hearing.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church had a tree and pleasing entertainment for the young folks at the church at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. One of the novel features of the occasion was the appearance of two Santa Claus, twins, who like the "Two Johns" made much sport. One was the Santa Claus from the north pole, the other from the south pole.

The Sons of Veterans had an agreeable masquerade last evening. The Temple hall was very pleasingly decorated, and the arrangements in all their details, were such as to make the affair very enjoyable. Although one of the youngest organizations in the city, it is growing rapidly into public favor. The purposes of the organization are most commendable, and the membership should be rapidly increased.

Effie Elisler.

Miss Effie Elisler and company last night produced "Woman Against Woman" at Dohany's to a fair sized audience. The play is a domestic comedy-drama. The entire company were fine in their parts, and Rachel Westwood "a bad 'un," who allowed Bessie Barton, (Miss Elisler) to marry the man she should have, is certainly the woman to be against a woman to succeed. The John Tressider of Frank Weston with the English accent is fine and the play should be liberally patronized, both at the matinee this afternoon and this evening. The play, to be enjoyed, should be seen from the beginning of the first act, but the interest increases with each act.

It is a story of domestic life in which Miss Elisler as Bessie Barton and John Tressider after being married one year have their home broken up by the insinuations of another woman who was previously in love with her husband, and who intimates that Mrs. Tressider has an illegitimate child which she is keeping a secret from her husband.

GATHERED FOR CHRISTMAS.

The Grand Jury Completes Its Labors and Gets Weighed and Counted.

COMANCHE BILL FOUND GUILTY.

An Old Ticket Agent Arrested For Forgery—Montgomery's Body Not Recovered—The Doings in Court—Mere Mention.

Closed Its Labors.

The grand jury yesterday finished its labors and were discharged. They have made an excellent record for faithfulness to duty and evident honesty of intent. In dispersing the jury presented the following communication:

To Ira Schofield, Foreman of the Grand Jury of the District Court, December term, 1886.

We, the undersigned members of said grand jury, hereby tender to you our thanks for the gentlemanly manner in which you have conducted the business of this grand jury, for the prompt and courteous manner you have treated each and all of us.

W. S. BRIGGS,	A. L. BROWN,
GEORGE GRAVES,	HORT HUNTINGTON,
A. B. PERKINS,	WM. H. KUHN,
J. A. CHURCHILL,	PETER WEIS,
ROBERT MILLER,	J. VEESEY,
ED. BRITTON,	JOHN HAMMER,
SAMUEL PRICE,	JOHN JONES.

Some interesting statistics were taken concerning the individual jurymen. Four are merchants, five farmers, one checkman, one clerk, one expressman, one contractor, one justice of the peace, one stockman. The oldest of the jurymen was W. L. Biggs, aged 75 years, the youngest Ira Schofield and A. B. Perkins aged 41 years. The average age was 56 years.

The heaviest juryman was 'Squire Biggs, tipping the scales at 240 pounds, and the lightest being just half that weight, James Veesey. The average weight was 162 pounds.

The nativity of the jurymen showed one from Iowa, two from Maryland, three Englishmen, two from Ohio, two Pennsylvanians, two Germans, one Virginian, one Vermonter, one from Illinois.

All the jurymen were married, all but one had children, one being blessed with eight, and the total number of children thus represented being 69.

Forging Railroad Tickets.

Yesterday there arrived from Clarinda, A. B. Whipple, in charge of the sheriff of that county, and accompanied by Major Woods, of the secret service of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and Jimmy Davis, another shrewd detective, of Omaha. The cases against Whipple have been worked up mainly by Davis, Major Woods assisting him. Whipple was formerly ticket agent at Coin, and later has been buying grain. It is claimed that he has for some time been going wrong, and has been guilty of forging railway tickets. His mode of procedure seems to have been to buy a ticket, for instance, from Glenwood to Plattsmouth, and then erase the name Plattsmouth, and substitute therefor the name of Denver. Such an altered ticket he is said to have sold to D. W. Bushnell, of this city, on the 9th day of November last. He was charged with a like offense at Clarinda, and his bail on that charge was fixed at $2,000. Another information has been filed against him here, on account of the ticket sold to Bushnell. It is said that he disposed of several such tickets in Omaha, and he refused yesterday to go across the river, so that it will be necessary to secure requisition papers first. When in this city in November he is said to have registered at the Ogden house at E. F. Rose, of Coin, Ia.

A "Con" Man Convicted.

The jury in the case of Lloyd, better known as "Camanche Bill," yesterday returned a verdict finding him guilty. It is so seldom that one of this class of fellows can be convicted that it is a pleasing relief from the usual termination of such cases. "Camanche Bill" only got $15 from his victim, and will have to take a stretch for it. He is the fellow who made such a desperate attempt to dig out of the city jail, and who so nearly accomplished his purpose. He is a slippery fellow, and will take any sort of chances rather than suffer himself to be lodged in the penitentiary. He has been notorious for years, but this is the first time, so far as known, that he has been convicted. Although arrested often, he has always managed to get the cases dismissed, the suckerf bought off or in some way made good his escape.

Free For Christmas.

Three young fellows were yesterday before Judge Aylesworth on a writ of habeas corpus. They had been arrested and placed in jail in Glenwood on the charge of having burned some of the fencing of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway. After examining into the facts the judge decided that there was a lack of evidence identifying them as the guilty parties, and he accordingly discharged them. It seems that some one knocked three boards off from the railway fence and built a fire with them. Some hours afterward these three were found warming themselves by the embers. They claimed that they did not build the fire, and knew nothing of its origin, leaving the inference that some other party had been guilty of the offense, and that they discovering the chance to get a little warmth improved it.

The Body Not Found.

The mayor and the marshal yesterday considered the advisability of dragging the river for the body of John Montgomery, the watchman who fell in from the bridge at an early hour Thursday morning. It was decided that such a search would avail little, as the chances are that the body has long since been swept far away. The particulars of the drowning are peculiarly sad. The other watchman heard the cry of the unfortunate man, and went to his rescue, but just as he reached him his lantern was knocked over, and in the darkness his attempt to catch the drowning man resulted only in getting hold of his hat. The drowning man sank out of sight before another grasp could be made even. John Montgomery was a hard working young man, who was the only child and chief support for his aged parents, who live near the packing house. The old gentleman is nearly beside himself and has to be watched closely to prevent his going to the river and needlessly exposing himself in trying to recover the body.

Wanted in Omaha.

The police received word from Omaha that a fellow named Frank Wilson was wanted there for a $30 robbery. They found the young man in Texas' colored dive and arrested him with another white man, who gave his name as Ed. McCarthy. The latter was charged with being drunk, but in view of the coming holidays the judge made him a Christmas present of the usual fine, and warned him not to be found hanging around such places as Texas keeps, at 2 o'clock in the morning. The other fellow, Wilson, was taken over to Omaha yesterday.

Street's Old Shortage.

It will be remembered that S. D. Street, formerly clerk of this county, was reported as being short in his accounts, the alleged deficit amounting to several thousand dollars. Suit was commenced some time ago against him and his bondsmen, but the matter has there rested. Several grand juries have had their attention called to the matter, but no criminal action has been commenced. The present grand jury is said to have found an indictment against him, charging him with embezzlement. Mr. Street is now in California.
