

SECOND CHAPTER OF LUKE.

Dimick's Father and Wife Arrive in Omaha - What They Say.

GEORGE HAMMOND'S DEATH.

Looking for a Lost Child - A New Drug Company - Mongolian Miners - The Cullom Bill - Other Local.

The Father and the Daughter.

Mr. Dimick, father of Luke Dimick, the young man who was reported in Wednesday's Bee to have eloped with a woman and abandoned his wife, arrived in Omaha yesterday morning. He was accompanied by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dimick. Both came from Davenport, where the former has property interests valued at several hundred thousand dollars. He also pays taxes on about four hundred thousand dollars' worth of property in Chicago. Luke Dimick's wife is a beautiful and amiable girl, passionately devoted to her husband, and the last step of that gentleman in taking advantage of her absence, has in no way affected her love for him. She has stood by him on former occasions when, even her relations deprecated her conduct, and now, as soon as she learns of his whereabouts, she will be the first to follow him.

The father says he does not desire to deny the fact that his son has been wayward, and that he has heretofore gone through as much as $25,000 in a time. Nevertheless, he is an only son, and the father asserts that he will stand by him to the last, knowing that he will eventually reclaim him. He says further that he will pay his son's debts to the last penny, but that he will not allow himself to be imposed upon by alleged creditors, who, if the truth were known, are indebted to him. He expects that his son has gone to Lincoln, and he has written to that point. When he finds out the whereabouts of the young man, he will go to him, induce him to return and locate in Omaha.

The following is a copy of the letter which Mrs. Dimick received from her husband while she was visiting in Rock Island:

OMAHA, Dec. 24, 1886. - My Own Darling Wife: I hardly know how to begin this letter, as I hardly know how to express myself to you so as to let you know what I mean and the spirit that I mean it in. But, Lizzie, dear, it is just this - do not get rid of me; for I am not. And while I am here, while you are gone and told you nothing of my going, let me stay for one minute to desert you or leave you for any length of time. But, my darling, I have been very unkind to you, and I am ashamed of it, and do not want to have to face the worst, and it is for this reason that I am taking what I can get out of me, and leaving Omaha, and going to my father's, and wherever favors me most. And I am doing this time to make a success of something and make up to you for the love I have made for you both. I have disposed of such stocks as I thought best, and have taken $10,000 and Charles and I have taken $10,000. My dear wife, just as soon as I can settle some place I will have you with me. My dear things are all packed up, and I will get out of all of the things in the house the best you can. Take your time in doing so, I will help you all I can, and will send you money along as I can. You will get letters from me at different times as long as I am on the road, and just as soon as I settle any place I will send for you. Well, my darling, there is no use of my asking you not to feel bad, for I know you will, but I swear that I will be true to you and will send for you before long, and let what will come I will stick to you and will write to you often, and let me know how you are for pleasure, but to make money, and you can bet I am going to do it. I am not going to go away without making money, and I will make more with it. Now as for father, I am ashamed to write to him anything. He can read this and do as he thinks best, but if he will write to me to let me know how I will make the best out of it. Well, my darling, I will now say good-bye, and God bless you. Remember all the love that I have and honest wife, I am, yours and your loving husband, L. UTE.

GEORGE HAMMOND DEAD.

The Startling News Received in Omaha Yesterday Morning.

The business men of this city were yesterday morning surprised by the announcement of the death of Mr. Geo. H. Hammond, the great beef packer at the Union Stock yards at South Chicago. The announcement was conveyed in a few words that the deceased had died Wednesday night at Detroit of pneumonia, after a short but painful illness. Although non-resident of this city, Mr. Hammond's capital and interests were so closely identified with the recent strong and marvellous impetus given to Omaha's prospects that his passing was here and mercantile men generally felt as if his death had removed from them one whose connection with them had extended through many years. The deceased was president of the George H. Hammond & Co. packing company, whose main interests are located in Hammond, Ind., where they have yards and packing houses covering fifteen acres, with a capacity of 1,500 cattle and 50,000 pounds of oleomargarine per day. The company has large interests also in Chicago and Detroit, and at the latter place Mr. Hammond resided and kept his principal office. At the stock yards in this city, the company erected a mammoth beef packing house, covering fifteen acres, with a capacity of 200 cattle and 1,000 hogs per day. Here, beef is slaughtered and prepared immediately for market, and by means of a line of refrigerator cars belonging to the company is shipped by fast train line to eastern centers. This establishment alone gives employment to 400 men. Mr. Hammond is supposed to be worth $1,500,000. He was in this city on the 10th of this month, and stopped at the Millard. He had a hacking cough, with no appetite, and complained to Mr. Davenport, the clerk, that he did not know what was the matter with him. Mr. Meday, his manager here, left yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral. Mr. Hammond's death will not affect the affairs of his company.

PRINCE IS INDIGNANT.

What He Says About His Treatment in Chicago.

Yesterday morning John S. Prince, the bicycle rider, and his backer, Frank Parmalee, returned from Minneapolis, where they have been for about ten days past. Prince's object in going to Minneapolis was to enter the six-day race there, and to induce W. J. Morgan to make a race for any distance with him. In neither of these things was he successful. Said Prince in speaking of the matter yesterday: "That Minneapolis race was a hideous-draw through and through. It was advertised as a grand sweepstake race, open to all comers, for the championship of the world and $25,000. I went there, bought up the stakeholder and offered him my entrance fee. He refused to accept it, and I asked him why. He said: 'Because Schlock and Morgan don't want you to enter.' That gave the whole snafu away and showed that the affair was a hippodrome. I even offered to bet the alleged stakeholder that he didn't have a single nickel up. The truth is that the race was simply gotten up by Morgan and Schlock to bleed the people. They expected to make $1,000 or $5,000, but when we exposed the thing, they were disgusted and refused to patronize the race. The consequence was that they came out about $200 behind. Minneapolis people are beginning to see that Morgan and his gang are hippodromers, and wish to lend them their support any longer.

Prince denounces in the strongest terms the action of Morgan in sending a telegram to the Omaha papers, stating that even Miss Aramindo had beaten Prince's record in the six-day race. The ridiculous character of this statement is apparent when one realizes that Prince rode but twenty hours a day and Miss Aramindo rode twenty-four hours a day, or was privileged to do so.

Just before Prince left Minneapolis he rode a fifty-mile race with Dingley, for the purpose of deciding which was the better start. He failed to catch Dingley, that man crossing the scratch forty yards ahead of him.

One week from next Saturday, Prince and Dingley will run another fifty-mile race here, even start. The contest will be a close and exciting one.

STREET PAVING CONTRACTS.

The City Attorney's Opinion.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 29. - Hon. James E. Boyd, Mayor of Omaha. Dear Sir: - Responding to your request for my opinion in writing concerning the approval of certain contracts for street paving, I can only repeat what I have already in substance to you.

The plan of advertising for bids for the paving contemplated for 1887, of course, is familiar to you, as you had the honor, I believe, of suggesting the plan adopted, and which, as a business proposition, I regard as eminently sound.

Under the plan suggested by you, the board of public works advertised for bids, requiring that all bids be made upon blank proposals printed and furnished by the board.

The streets then in contemplation of being paved during the year 1886, were expressly named in the blank proposals so furnished, as, for instance, Cuming street from Division street to Brown street.

The proposal of each bidder was as follows: The undersigned propose to pave each of the streets herein named on such parts of any of said streets as shall be ordered paved during the year 1886, etc.

I enclose for your consideration, one of the blank proposals referred to.

The charter provision, with which we are familiar (section 44) expressly requires that all paving for which a special tax shall be levied, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder.

Under the charter provision referred to, the question arises, as to whether streets not covered by the proposal of any bidder, and which were not then in contemplation of being paved, but have since been ordered paved, can now be let to the then lowest bidder, without further advertising.

It is claimed that as the bond taken from the contractors required them to pave any and all streets required by the city to be paved during the year 1886, therefore, they are the lowest bidder for all streets in all cases where special taxes are to be levied, I am disposed to advise such course as will, if possible, remove all ground for dispute or controversy over such taxes.

In my view, I would be disposed to favor and advise advertising for bids for the paving of all streets not included in the former bidding proposal, and at the same time to require that all contracts now proposed be executed, and the work of paving done, I would contend for the validity and regularity of the tax.

I understand that for a portion of the paving proposed, a majority of the property owners have expressly petitioned that the work be done under the bids of Murphy, Creighton or the bids of 1886, and at the prices therein specified, and in all such property owners, there can be no question as to the right to the contracts as requested, without further advertising.

But, as to the probabilities in this regard, as well as to what is for the best interest of the city, and to what you will judge and to act according to your own best judgment.

Respectfully submitted, W. J. CONNELL, City Attorney.

HUSBAND AND CHILD.

Mrs. Sylvester Loses Both and Searches For Them in Nebraska.

"I propose to find him if it costs me all the money I've got."

The speaker was a young, rather pretty and well-dressed woman, who was standing in the Union Pacific depot yesterday morning. She looked careworn and traveled stained, but notwithstanding that her appearance made her the centre of attraction in the ladies' waiting room, in which she was sitting.

To a reporter for the Bee the lady whose name was Mrs. Mary Sylvester, told her story in a manner which could not but impress one that she was telling the truth.

Her home, she said, was in Godfrey, Ill. For seven years she has lived in that place with her husband. During all that time she had lived a happy life, and nothing had occurred to mar the relations between herself and her husband.

About a year ago, Mrs. Sylvester employed a young woman to act as maid of all work for her - a girl by the name of Mary Niemuh. Though quite young and ignorant, she possessed attractions which made her an object of attraction to the masculine sex.

It appears that Mr. Sylvester fell a victim to her charms. Of their relations Mrs. Sylvester suspected absolutely nothing, though she has since been informed, the liaison between the two was a notorious fact among the acquaintances of Sylvester.

About ten days ago, Sylvester left his home in Godfrey, saying that he proposed to come to Omaha and see what opportunities for investment he could find there. He bade his wife good-bye, promising to write to her every day. Since that time she has heard nothing from him. A day or so afterwards, the Nevada girl disappeared, and with her Mrs. Sylvester's only child, a little six-year-old girl, who had been fondly attached to the young woman. Mrs. Sylvester was driven frantic by the disappearance of her child, and upon making inquiries unceremoniously which led her to believe that her husband had concocted a scheme to run away with the Nevada girl, taking with him the child. She discovered that he had drawn nearly all his money out of the bank and had quietly disposed of almost every article of really valuable property that she owned. Mrs. Sylvester declares that she does not care for her husband, but is determined to find her child if possible. She says her husband has friends and relatives in Omaha and vicinity, and she thinks he is hiding in one of these two places.

DIDN'T KNOW THE TRACK.

An Incident in the Late Flying Trip to Fremont.

The number of developments in the fast run to Fremont, by a Union Pacific special train on Monday last, is becoming of great interest. The latest is that the engineer, Henry, and the conductor, Bailey, have been suspended, for failing to stop at the crossing of the Missouri Pacific road near Papillion. It seems that the engineer was busy at the time making steam, and did not notice the crossing in question, until after he had passed it. He then brought his engine and caboose to a stop, but did not recross. He then continued his flying gait to Valley. It seems, however, that some Missouri Pacific men were around, and noticed the omission and promptly notified their superiors. These brought the matters to the attention of the Union Pacific officials who promptly suspended both the employees mentioned, and the strange features of the episode is the defense which Henry makes. He claims that he did not know that the Missouri Pacific track crossed at Papion near Papillion, and in support of this asserts that he had not run on the main line of the latter road in three years. In that time he has worked some times at the bluff and some times here, occasionally running a switch engine and sometimes engaged in other pursuits. Under these circumstances it can readily be believed that he was not aware of the crossing he had run over.

ANOTHER DRUG FIRM.

The H. T. Clarke Drug Company to Sell to Bruce, Blake & Co.

For some time back it has been well known that representatives of the drug firm of Bruce, Blake & Co., of Ottumwa, Ia., have been in the city with a view to establishing a mammoth wholesale drug house in Omaha. They were promptly informed of this move by the step of the Richardson Drug Company of St. Louis, the largest firm of the kind in the country locating here. They have canvassed the situation very thoroughly and have finally entered upon negotiations to purchase the stock and business interests of the well-known H. T. Clarke drug company. The negotiations have proceeded in a satisfactory manner and yesterday a number of hands were employed in making an inventory of the stock on hand. Mr. Clarke was seen by a Bee reporter yesterday morning and in response to interrogation from the reporter said that the negotiations of the nature suggested were pending but that he would have more to say concerning the subject in a day or two. The understanding at present is that Mr. Clarke will retain his interest in his Lincoln drug house, while the institution here will be sold to Bruce, Blake & Co. This latter is a very wealthy institution, doing a large business in Iowa and owning a bank in the town mentioned.

THE CULLOM BILL.

Omaha Merchants Will Discuss It Today.

Commissioner Griffiths, of the freight bureau, will call a meeting of the merchants and business men generally for 10 o'clock this morning, for the purpose of securing some expression on Senator Cullom's interstate commerce bill, which is now pending in congress.

This is a bill providing that railroads shall make pro-rata charges for hauling goods - that is, shall charge the same, in proportion, for hauling long hauls that they do for short hauls.

This bill, Mr. Griffiths thinks, cannot be denounced by the bureau in too vigorous terms. It will cause Omaha merchants to pay exorbitant rates. For instance, take the haul between Omaha and New York. Suppose a railroad charges three cents a hundred for a ton mile here. The rate of charge per hundred from New York to Omaha, assuming that the distance is 1,500 miles, would be $4.50. When you remember that the rate at present is only seventy cents per hundred, it is not surprising that the bill of affairs the Cullom bill, if passed, will bring about.

BASEBALL MATTERS.

An Important Meeting of the Western League.

A meeting of the Western league has been called for Saturday, January 8, and will occur at Lincoln, said George Kay, the well known base ball enthusiast, yesterday. "On that occasion, the question of the admission of Hastings into the league will be discussed, and it is very probable that both Pueblo and Hastings will be admitted, inasmuch as the feeling is that Kansas City will be barred out. However, Kansas City may have a representative at the meeting, who will prevent anything of that sort."

"If Kansas City is not refused representation in the league, there will be a contest between the two cities, and either Pueblo or Hastings is to be admitted. In that event, it is probable that Pueblo will come out winner, as most of the other cities in the league are against Hastings."

The question of the money which is to be used by the home club is as yet undecided. It is expected that the matter will be definitely settled within the next two or three weeks.

A "PURRING" MATCH.

A brutal, bloody and degrading sport.

"I see that there is to be a purring match in South Omaha some time in the near future," said a veteran sporting man yesterday. "Of all sports, he continued, 'I regard this as the most brutal. There is no earthly excuse for its being allowed.'"

For the benefit of the uninitiated it should be stated that a purring match is a contest between two men, in which one who can kick each other's shins the hardest. It is simply sparring with the feet, and while the sport is capable of affording a momentary diversion, it is a brutal and degrading. Such matches often end by one of the contestants having a leg broken. Once in a while the "purrers" fight with iron-tipped shoes, when the sport becomes more brutal and bloody than ever. There is a general sentiment that the authorities ought to head off this impending match in South Omaha.

NEW OUTFITS FOR NEWSPAPERS.

The Omaha Type Foundry and Supply House for Printers and Publishers.

The Western Newspaper Union at Omaha is prepared to furnish all the necessities for short notice with presses, type, rules, borders, inks, composition, sticks and rules, and in fact everything in the line of printers and publishers supplies. Best terms and material prices can be secured there by sending to Chicago or elsewhere. Save money by buying near home. Second hand goods in the printing line are sold. A general discussion was indulged though nothing definite with regard to the object of the meeting was done. Another meeting will be held before long at which it is expected, an association of milk dealers will be organized.

THE MONGOLIAN MINERS.

What a Soldier Says About Affairs at Rock Springs.

Captain Reed and Lieutenant McKeever, of Rock Springs, Wyo., who have been in Omaha for the past week or ten days, left for their post of duty last night.

Lieutenant McKeever, in conversation with a reporter yesterday, said that he thought that there was no danger of an outbreak in the Rock Springs mines as long as the troops are stationed there. The Chinese laborers are a necessity in the mines because they are steady and reliable and do not strike on a slight pretense, and their presence is a necessary protection for the white miners.

HALF A HUNDRED.

An Affair Between a Betrayer and Betrayed is Compromised.

A small model appearing yesterday walked in Justice Anderson's office yesterday and asked for a warrant for the arrest of her betrayer, George Moore. The writ was duly issued and placed in the hands of Constable Snowden. That official soon succeeded in finding Moore, who is salesman in a furniture store, and brought him into the court room. As soon as the woman, who gave the name of Jennie L. Heins, saw her faithless lover, she weakened, and agreed to a compromise. Moore paid her $200 upon her agreeing to relinquish all claims upon him, either upon her own account or that of her child. The papers were duly drawn up and signed, and Moore was released.

Attention Property Owners and Insurance Men.

Office of the Chicago Fire Underwriters' Association, 157 and 159 La Salle St., Room 33, Chicago, Dec. 6, 1886.

Gentlemen: Your communication of Dec. 24 to the Chicago Fire Underwriters' association, came before the association at a meeting held on Saturday, the 4th inst., and was by it referred to J. A. Charles, Superintendent of Surveys, Mr. Charles Squires, manager Inspection department and the undersigned, as a committee to investigate and report.

If you will notify us when you are ready to give the exhibition of your appliance for fire extinguishing, the committee will call on you.

Yours truly, R. A. TAINHAMHAM, Secretary.

Chicago, Dec. 24, 1886. The Harden Hand Grenade Co., 51 and 53 Dearborn st., City.

Gentlemen: Your letter of the 21 inst. was brought before our association at meeting of Dec. 4, and was referred to a committee, which committee reported to us yesterday, advising that the use of your "Star" extinguisher, which consists of tank containing extinguishing liquid compound and pump may take the place of barrels of water, which are cumbersome and require such appliances for fire extinguishing to be used.

The above report was adopted at meeting of 23d inst. Truly yours, R. A. TAINHAMHAM, Secy.

South Omaha, Dec. 27, 1886. - George F. Wade, General Manager Harden Chemical Fire Appliances, Omaha, Neb. - Dear Sir: I have pleasure in certifying that the fire extinguishing appliances of your company are in every way satisfactory.

I have at present a number of applications on file, and the same have been highly recommended by the various insurance companies to which my business is yours truly, THOMAS J. LIPTON.

This hose is supplied with our five gallon Star Extinguishers from which a stream can be thrown 45 feet through 35 feet of hose. These extinguishers can be refilled when the solution has been used.

Rabbi Benson's Lecture.

This evening Dr. Benson will deliver a lecture upon the subject of "The Bible as a Series of Lectures upon 'The Prominent Hebrews of History' and a continuation of the first character taken up - Moses."

Next Sunday afternoon Rabbi Benson will deliver his second monthly lecture. These lectures are delivered on the first Sunday of every month and treat on subjects of general interest. The subject of the evening will be announced in Saturday's Bee. Judging from the attendance at Dr. Benson's lecture on "Prohibition," there are no doubts that a large audience will be present.

The Gross Case.

Detective Thomas F. McDevitt, of Cincinnati, who has been in Omaha for several weeks past, in attendance upon the United States court as a witness in the Gross case, left for his home Wednesday night. Mr. McDevitt has already testified twice in this city in the same case, and is one of the best witnesses for the defense.

He was near the train at the time young Gross was run over and killed, and saw that the boy fell off and was not kicked down by the brakeman as claimed by the plaintiff, the father of the dead boy. In the event of Peter and James Gross being acquitted for the murder of their son, they probably have to return to Omaha and again testify.

Police Court.

Nick Wallace, the irrepressible negro thief, was arraigned in police court yesterday charged with stealing a fur lap robe. He was found guilty and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

Five drunks were tried; two were fined and a month's imprisonment. One was sent up for thirty days. John Smith, a half-witted, harmless tramp, who refuses to either leave Omaha or remain at the poor house, was sent to the county jail. He will spend the next two months there.

A Birthday Party.

Wednesday evening a number of the friends of Fred Zoltmann enjoyed a very pleasant time at his home on the corner of Twenty-third and Leavenworth streets, the occasion being the anniversary of the gentleman's birthday. Vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed by the party. Refreshments were served by Zolter quartette consisting of J. Seitzle, W. C. Kuehn, W. S. Widener and August Kuehn. Several recitations were finely rendered by Mr. Hoehl.

Milk by Dealers' Kindness.

A secret meeting of milk dealers was held Wednesday night in Germania hall for the purpose of making arrangement to increase the price of milk. A general discussion was indulged though nothing definite with regard to the object of the meeting was done. Another meeting will be held before long at which it is expected, an association of milk dealers will be organized.

JUDGMENT SUBMITTED

To all who made Christmas presents, and the same purchased from Nebraska Clothing Company, whether their qualities and low prices were not precisely as advertised; furthermore, any purchased garment unfortunately not procured the exact size, it was either exchanged or the money cheerfully refunded?

In the last issue, although they occupied considerable of the usual space, still, the stock being and is yet too immense to utilize, it will therefore be more satisfactory to the public and see for themselves the splendid bargains they offer at the CLOSING SALE, which is to continue until inventory is taken.

- Great sacrifices in gent's furnishings. For instance, they offer: 240 dozen all Silk Scarfs at 15c each, worth considerably more money. 130 dozen Men's All Wool Hose at 15c each, worth double the money. 110 dozen Gentlemen's Fancy Underwear, the shirt trimmed with silk binding, at 35c each, which would be cheap at 75c. 90 dozen Men's White Unbleached Shirts, at 50c, other dealers ask at least 50c for the same.
