HOAR'S SUBSTITUTE ADOPTED.

A Resolution For the Investigation of the Pacific Roads Reported-Other Doings of the National Legislature.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 .- In the senate Mr. Hoar reported a resolution for the investigation of Pacific railroads and asked for it an immediate consideration. Mr. Hale objected to immediate consideration of the bill and it therefore went to the calendar. Mr. Hoar gave notice that he would call it up at the first opportunity. Mr. Hoar's amendment, section 5, provides that from and after July 1, 1887, there shall be charged to the Central Pacific, Union Pacific and Central Branen of the Union Pacific railway company, Sioux City & Pacific railway company and Kansas Pacific railway company 40 per cent of the net earnings in place of 25 per cent provided for in the act of May 7, 1878, "so far as the same respects the companies mentioned in said act and as to others herein mentioned absolutely," and to that end the act of May 7 is extended to the Kansas Pacific, Sioux City and Central Branch of the Union Pa-

Mr. Allison presented a letter signed by the presidents of the national banks of Omaha, suggesting that Chicago be added to the list of "reserve" citles where "reserve" banks can deposit money as now in New York; also a similar letter from the banks of Kansas City, suggesting St. Louis as a "re-serve" city. Referred to the committee on finance.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the senate bill to credit and pay to the several states and territories and the District of Columbia all money collected ut tax levied by act of August 5, 1861. The passed with but one dissenting vote (Van Wyck's).

The senate then took up the rallway attor ney bill. The question was on the amendment of-fered by Mr. Saulsbury (described in last night's report), as the substitute reported by the judiciary committee.

Mr. Hoar characterized the original bill as grossly unconstitutional, awkward, crude, fill-drawn, ill-considered, ill-conceived, a scheme which was not only an insult to the senate, but an insult to the American people. The bill was not the outcome of any popular or public demand. It came from anonymous articles published by blackmallers and stock labbase in transportations. jobbers in irresponsible newspapers. He had heard enough of this arrogant, insulting, domineering style, attempting to frighten senators from what they considered their duty.

Mr. Saulsbury's amendment was rejected—yeas, 26; nays, 27.

The committee substitute was rejectedyeas, none; nays, 54.

The amendment offered by Mr. Hoar, making it unlawful for members of congress to hold real estate in the District of Columbia (except as residences) was rejected—yeas, 6; nays, 46; (yeas being Butler, Hale, Hoar, Pugh, Teller and Payne)

Finally Mr. Hoar's first amendment, slightly modified, was adopted as a substitute—yeas, 32; nays, 21; and then the bill in that shape was reported to the senate (the pro-ceedings up to this point being in committee of the whole).

Mr. Beck moved his foriginal bill as a sub-Arter debate Mr. Beck demanded the yeas and nays upon the passage of the bill, stat-ing that there was nothing in it he cared much about but that the house of representatives might put something in it and he wanted to rive the house a chance. The bill was then passed—yeas, 39; nays, 14. The following is the text of the bill: That it shall be unlawful for any member of either house of congress to accept employment as attorney at law, or payment for services of any kind in opposition to the United States, in any case to which the United States may be a party, or in which its interests may be concerned or from any railroad company. concerned, or from any railroad company, if such member shall have reasonable cause to believe that measures specially affecting the interest of such company are pending before congress or about to be so pending during his term of office. Any person who violates the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and may be punished by im-prisonment not exceeding one year or by fine not exceeding $500, or by both, in the discre-

House. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.-Mr. Randall of Pennsylvania, from the committee on rules. reported a resolution discharging the com mittee of the whole from further considering the senate bill for the retirement and recoin age of the trade dollars and making the bill a special order in the house for February 12.

The house, at its evening session, passed thirty pension bills and at 10:40 adjourned.

DEMOCRATIC TARIFF TROUBLE. Efforts For a Carlisle-Randall Coalition Fail.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.-Speaker Carlisle acting for the tariff reformers in the house, has written a letter to Representative Randall defining the position of the tariff reformers with respect to the bill recently framed by the protection democrats. The letter was unobtainable to-night and it is said will not be made public until a reply can be drafted. It is learned, however, that the letter, while couched in the most cordial terms, expresses the entire inability of the tariff reformers to accept the internal revenue features of the bill prepared by the protection faction of the democratic party, and expresses a desire for a much larger reduction in the customs duties than the bill contains. Some earlies or transfer to the content of the customs duties than the bill contains. contains. Some eighteen or twenty instances are pointed out in which it is alleged the duty is increased instead of decreased. The speaker then, in behalf of his wing of the party, advances propositions upon which to unite the party in favor of a bill to reduce the surplus revenue. The customs features of surplus revenue. The customs features of surplus revenue. The customs features of this proposition are said by the Randall men to be but slight modifications of the Morrison bill. It is proposed that the most of the arti-cles of the Morrison free list be incorporated in the new bill, including salt, lumber, wool, fish, etc., The Randall men held a conference to-night at which it was decided not to accept the proposition agranced by Carlisle, and Randall, Warner and Henderson of North Carolina were appointed a com-mittee to draft a reply to the letter. To night there is a good deal of talk about endeavor-ing to repeal the tobacco tax on Monday next, which is individual suspension day, but the matter has not assumed any definite shape as yet and it is probable that if such a shape as yet and it is probable that if such ; move is made it will be an individual one on the part of members making the motion.

RISING WATERS.

Ohlo and Kentucky Threatened With a Repetition of Former Floods. CINCINNATI, Feb. 4.—The river reached fifty-four feet six inches at 10 this morning and is still rising at the rate of one inch per hour. The apparent deflection of the cold wave increases the possibility of a flood here. Access to the Central passenger depot here is now cut off and the several railroads running into it are compelled to dis-and receive passengers at street crossing. Freight move street crossing. Freight movements are also seriously endangered and little more rise will cut off some of the freight depots. Disastrous floods are reported in the Big Sandy, Little Manni and Licking rivers. At Falmouth on the latter river distilleries, sawmills and other manufactorics were submerged and suffered much loss. The river was full of the contents of fields and graineries. Many bridges on the turnpikes were carried away. At Butter, Ky., the Licking was within a few inches of the highest water mark known, which was in 1854. In Newport, Ky., there is already considerable encroactment on the lower per tions of the city. Six inches more of water movement tions of the city. Six inches more of water will cut off street car travel between New-port and Covington. The outlook is not so LOUISVILLE, Feb. 4.—At II o'clock to-night the river is rising about an inch an hour, with 30 feet, II inches in the channel. It began raining again after night fall and now looks as if the bad floods of former years would be repeated.

PRIEST AND PRELATE. A New Hearing to Be Had in the Jean

vs. Hennessey Case,

CLINTON, Ia., Feb. 4.- | Special Telegram to the BEE. | -The district court to-day sustained a motion to set aside the verdict of 820,000 against Bishop Hennessey which was recently awarded to Father Jean, the deposed priest. The case will go over till the next term of the district court. The facts show that fifteen years ago, when Father Jean was in charge of the Clinton parish, he incurred the displeasure of Bishop Hennessey and was not only removed from his par-ish, but deposed from the priesthood. He has been preparing himself ever since to sue for damages, and went so far as to study law that he might the better conduct his case. He brought suit for $220,000 damages, claiming that amount for injuries to his character and compensation for his loss of time as a preacher. When the case came up the attorney for the bishop did not appear and judgment was entered by default. Now however, the bishop's attorney has secured an order for arrest of judgment and will have a new hearing at the next term of course There is a very bitter feeling between priest and prelate, in which many of the laity take

TWO ACCIDENTS.

Firemen Injured While Fighting the Flames. A fire in a hoose owned by a man named Gould, on Twenty-ninth and Douglas, called out the fire department yesterday afternoon. The flames were extinguished, after a damage of about seven hundred dollars. On the way to the blaze a fireman named Anderson, belonging to company No. 5, fell off the wagon which was used to carry the hose.

One wheel ran over his head. Though in jured by some miracle ne was not killed.
Fireman Steele, of hook and ladder was knocked off the burning roof by a falling chimney and frightfully hurt. His recovery is not certain.

After Frederickson. Detective A. J. Barnes, of La Crosse Wis., arrived in the city last night to take possession of George Frederickson, who was arrested here on Tuesday on a telegram from La Crosse, Detective Barnes' story of Frederickson's crime does not differ materially from that which has already been published. Frederickson was employed in the office of Dr. Heogh, of La Crosse, and took advantage of the doctor's absence to collect 85 of rent money with which he bought tickets for himself and a young lad Alfred Hawe, to Omaha. Detective Barnes will staat home with his man to-morrow.

For Nebraska Sportsmen. Last evening the committee appointed by the sportsmen of this town to take steps toward opposing the bill now pending in the egislature, io abolish all spring shooting of ducks and geese and other migratory water fowl, met at Penrose & Hardin's gun store, It sent hundreds of printed circulars to sportsmen throughout the state asking them to influence local members of the legslature in each county, to oppose the bill. They showed that if it should become a law. sportsmen in Nebraska would be deprived of their shooting, while those of Iowa, Mis-souri, Minnesota, Dakota and Colorado, where no such law exists would profit by its passage.

A Date to be Remembred. On Sunday, February 13, will occur the third Philharmonic concert at Boyd's opera house. In addition to choice selections by the orchestra never given in Omaha, Mrs Edith Edwards Franko omana, airs Edita Edwards Franko will take prominent part in the programme. It is unnecessary to say anything in praise of these concerts under Mr. Franko's "baton," nor the attraction added by Mrs. Franko's vocalism. All lovers of music in Omaha are too well acquainted with the superiority of their performances beautiful and the companyable praid in heretofore and take commendable pride in tation we can now call these artists home talent."

A Pauper Colonel.

Last night a somewhat prominent character of other days, named Col. Shinkowski, died at the poor farm. He was sixty years of age and had served with considerable distinction in both the armies of Europe and America. He has for some time back been forgotten by his friends, and this afternoon he will be buried in the potter's field.

Public Improvements. The elaborate report of City Engineer Rosewater of the improvements made in Omaha during the past year will be ready in about three weeks. It will contain ten plates of engravings of the viaducts, sewers, eatch basins, dump boats, and other items o interest. These plates are now being made in Chicago. The printing and binding will be done in this city.

Make Your Own Change. A humane gentleman suggests that people who ride in street cars these cold days should provide themselves with the exact fare which they might put into the box without com-pelling the driver to make change. Every change made compels the latter to take off his gloves, handle cold coln, and otherwise make his position infinitely more unpleas ant than there is any need for. The Bar Committee. A MOVE AGAINST MANNING

Ultra Silver Men Concoct a Scheme to Impeach the Head of the Treasury.

CHARGED WITH VIOLATING LAW

The Joint Resolution to Investigate the Pacific Roads Reported From the Senate Judiciary Committee - National News,

Quite a Flutter Created. WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.- | Special Telegram to the BEE |-A flutter of excitement was created this evening when it was announced that a number of members of the house of representatives, representing both political parties, had determined to hold a conference for the purpose of drawing resolutions of impeachment against Secretary Manning for violating the laws of congress in his official acts. This movement is being promoted by the ultra silver men and grows directly out of what they construe into a virtual acknowledgment in his reply to the Weaver resolution, that he had violated and intended to violate the law requiring that mutilated notes presented for redemption shall be redeemed by notes of the same denomination. Information as to the movement comes from several members of the house, who declare that there is no Buncombe in it, but that is Ethe result of a serious determination to resent a violation of the law. In addition to the case with relation to the cancelling of treasury notes, it will be charged that the law has been repeatedly violated by a failure to purchase $28,000,000 worth of silver each month. It will be charged that, while the law is mandatory that that amount shall be purchased each month, the treasury department fails to make a purchase during any month when the price of silver had advanced, and buys a supply for two months or more when they have "beared" the market and brought the price to a low point. It is hardly probable this move will amount to anything, or that it is intended to be anything more than a positive exclamation of disapproval of the course of the administration on the silver question. It is known that the resignation of both Secretary Manning and Treasurer Jordan are in the hands of the president, and that they have practically retired from the treasury and will be out in fact in a few days. This displeasure on the part of congress at their silver policy, it is said, hastened their precipitate flight. They do not like to be compelled to pursue a policy, a dictation of congress, which is so firmly in discord with their inclinations, silver in all its forms. They are opposed to

The house joint resolution authorizing an investigation of the books, accounts and methods of the Pacitic railreads, which was reported from the senate judicary committee by Hoar this morning, retains nothing but the enacting clause of the measure as it passed the house. It authorizes the president to appoint three commissioners at $750 per month each. Section 2 makes it the duty of the commission to examine into the workings and financial management of all Pacific rail-roads that have received aid from the gov-ernment in bonds to see whether their oblirations to the government have been com-plied with; whether the books and accounts have been kept so as to show their net earn ings; whether there has been a diversion of earnings through constructive mileage allowance or for improper purposes; whether there has been discrimination of rates; whether any and how much money is due the United States on account of erroneous accounts or settle ments made by said roads. The commis-sioners are directed to ascertain and report the names of all stockholders in each of the companies from its organization down; the salaries—over $5,000—now or at any time paid to officers; names of persons who have received bonuses or donations and all payments made under the head of legal expenses. The commissioners are required to consider and report whether the interests of the United States require any extension of time for the performance of the obligations of the companies and what further security it is expedient that the companies should give. The mand attendance of witnesses and the pro-duction of books and papers. One hundred thousand dollars is appropriated for the pur-pose of the investigation. RETTER EDUCATIONAL PACILITIES. In the senate to-day, Senator Van Wyck, in demanding better facilities for school chil-dren of the District of Columbia, created quite a furore and earned the gratitude of every resident of Washington. He began by presenting a petition from the residents of East Washington urging congress to make better provisions for the education of the children of that portion of the city. The children of that portion of the city. The resolutions which were recently adopted at a mass meeting, he said, set forth just complaints of the entirely inadequate and unsuitable public school facilities of this portion of the District. The number of school rooms was vastly inadequate. An effort had been made to demonstrate that the ratio of crime in Washington is proportionately greater than in other large cities. The best means of checking crime appeared to best means of checking crime appeared to he neglected in this instance. Nothing could he negrected in this instance. Nothing conta be more essential to public morals and the general welfare than adequate provision for the education of the young. Mr. Hawley said the complaints in this case could not be overstated. The fact was, that many of the overstated. The net was, that many of the children enrolled and anxious to attend school are unable to do so. Mr. Van Wyck asked the reference of the resolutions to the appropriations committee. Mr. Dawes did not see why it should go to a committee which could not investigate the school facilities of the District and make estimates. There were officials charged with that duty. appropriations committee, as long as he had been connected with it, had granted all these officers asked. Mr. Van Wyck replied that he was surprised to hear the senator from Massachusetts, a state so proud of its educational facilities, speak in this way of an appeal by the people of the capital city for a fair provision for the education of their children. The government had assumed control of the affairs of the District. To conchildren. The government had assumed control of the affairs of the District. To congress alone the people must look for such provision as their law makers were bound to make for them. When the neglect was dagrant and grievous they could not do otherwise than appeal to concress. The obligation was one which congress could not escape and could not afford to neglect. Mr. Dawes hung his head. Mr. Van Wyck's reply was unanswerable and carried its point. A PETITION FROM OMAHA'S BAKKS,

In the senate to-day Senator Allison presented a petition signed by all the National banks of Omaha, suggesting amendments to a bill providing for reserve depositories. They ask that the provisions in this respect be made at Chicago as in New York. GOVERNOR CHURCH CONDEMNED

CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

Captain Cormick and Detective Night-

Captain Cormick's Rude Interference With a Burglar's Plans.

ingale made a neat catch of a burglar last night. For several weeks past the presence of burglars in the city has been known to the police but all efforts to locate them have heretofore been unsuccessful. About 7 o'clock yesterdday morning just as it was getting good daylight a young man named H. J. Kosters, who lives at the corner of Eleventh and Howard streets, saw two men going through a strange performance in front of his home. One of the men carried a package which he was seen to drop on the ground near the sidewalk. His partner promptly kicked the package walk and under the both walked briskly away. When they had gone Koster went out and fished the package from under the walk. He found, neatly rolled up in an old silk searf, a very complete set of burglars' tools, including drills, braces, bits, books, nippers and a bull-dog revolver. He at once reported his find to the police authorities and Captain Cormick and Detective Nightingale took the case in hand. Late yesterday afternoon they took the tools and placed them under the sidewalk where Koster had found them-At 7 o'clock last night the officers con. cealed themselves in a house convenient to the spot and awaited developments They had been on the lookout less than a half an hour when a man came along and commenced searching under the side walk He was down on his hands and knees searching for the hidden tools when the officers nabbed him and escorted him to the city jail, where he was slated as a suspicious character. He gave his name as Charles Wilson and said that he lived in Chicago. Beyond this he was as mum as an ovster. The dritts found in his possession were covered with plaster of Paris, a sure evidence that they had been exploring in a safe door very recently. Wilson had a letter in his possession which will answer as a certificate of character in any police court in the land. It was written from Sedalia, Mo., by F. B. Brocksmith and addressed to Wilson at Kansas City. In explanation for not having written Brocksmith states that he had been pinched by the police and forced to do a term in jail. He says that he had bounced certain friends as they were no good. He offers to meet Wilson any place where there is anything in sight and wants to know where he shall sent his tools.

This evidence it is thought, will furnish Mr. Wilson an entertainment at the county's expense for a few months at The autnorities think they have spotted other members of Wilson's gang.

KILLED BY CARELESSNESS.

A German Landlord Kills One of His Boarders.

C. Tietz, a German, who runs a saloon and boarding house on the military road, two miles northwest of the city, indulged in a little piece of carelessness last evening tyat cost Hans Puls his life. Hans Puls is a young man, about twenty-four years of age, who has been boarding with Tietz for several weeks. A dance was being arranged for this evening, and about 7 o'clock last night Tietz had his revolver out cleaning it, to have it ready in case of an emergency. While he was at work one of his sons, George, a lad about eight years of age, was playing in the room with a toy pistol which he was snapping at Puls, who was sitting near by watching the proceedings. "You can't hurt me with that," remarked Puls, playing with the lad. "Papa will shoot him for you, George," said Tietz, and suiting the action to the word he commenced snapping his revolver in Puls, face. The men were standing within a yard of each other, and both had arisen to accept the invitation of a friend to join him in a glass of lager. Twice Tietz's revolver clicked, but when he pulled the trigger the third time an explosion followed and Puls fell to the floor. with a bulled in his brain, and died without a groan. The ball from a thirty-eight calibre bull dog revolver had entered his skull in the cavity of the right eve and lodged in his brain. Tietz was almost crazee by the affair, and hurried at once to the police station and gave himself up. He told the story substantially as given above. Coroner Drexel was notified of the affair and took charge of the remains of Puls and removed them to Drexel & Maul's undertaking establishment, where an inquest will at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Hans Puls was a German about twenty-four years of age. He was employed during the past summer as a teamster by various grade contractors. His only relative in his country is a brother, who lives near Elkhorn station. C. Tietz is a German about forty-five years of age, and has lived in Omaha for a number of years. He is a barber by profession, and and formerly worked at his trade in this city. He lost his wife last fall, and since that time has been keeping the boarding place and saloon in which the tragedy of last night oc curred. Tietz has a family of seven children. He is nearly crazed over the unfortunate accident.

A Cheap Lot.

Twenty-third street some time since was narrowed from pinety to eighty feet, by extending the lot line on the west side ten feet. The lot line on the east side has now been extended the same distance, thus radicing the width of the thoroughtere to seventy feet. This extension of the lots becomes the property of the lot owners, by paying a price therefore, to be determined by a committee of appraisers. The committee which has just appraised tactextension northward from Capitol avenue, has set 221 cents as the value of a quare foot. This extension in a sixty six foot lot would give 660 square, which may consequently be bought for $148.507

Next Tuesday evening, Maggie Mitchell whose name is associated among theater goers with their fondest and stage recollections, will appear at Boyd's apera house in "Little Barefoot." The same brightness and vivacity, old yet ever teeming with new life and vigor, mark the Maggie Mitchell of to-day as identical with the clever little artiste who years ago reproduced, originally from nature, a new and novel line of life pictures for the stage. And the mystic charm that hovered round flittering, ever-varying lights and shad-ows of those untamed girlish ows of those untained girlish characters she introduced, still lingers round the scenes, in which she moves, an artist. Maggie Mitchell and stage conventionalities never formed an acquaintance intimate enough to harm each other: yet hers is a culture thorough and faithful as that of a tragic queen. She has studied life, and as made an almost exclusive line of life-study her greatest care; hence that proficiency which only a gifted specialist can enjoy, is hers. Whether as 'Little Barefoot' or "Fanchon," or any other of the girl characters she plays, there is little or no deviation from her special line of supremacy in depicting and enacting the artless, unsophiscated maiden, untaught in any other school than that of nature. And so her life pic-tures are like the little gems of paintings, near which art admirers delight to linger.

About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my cheek, and the doctors pronounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians but without receiving any permanent benefit Among the number were one or two specialists The medicine they applied was like fire to the ore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement n the papers teiling what S. S. S. had done for others similarly afficted. I procured some a mee. Refero I had used the second bottle the noighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been had for two or throopears-I had a backing cough and spit blood continually. I had a sever pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough left me and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the size of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappear ing. I would advise every one-with cancer to give E. S. E. a fair trial.
