CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE |-Wheat soid to-day at the lowest point on the crop. A week ago it touched 783467836c and that was the low point up to that time. This morning it sold under 78c. The break has been now over 10c a bushel from the point where Clews and the New York clique hoisted it when they had Ream short. The break has been almost uninterrupted from $40,85c, the point where Jones and Ream finally shorted it on an immense scale about six weeks ago. Whatever news there was this morning was bearish. There was a little decrease in the amount on passage-560,000 bushels-but the cables were very weak and prices abroad lower. Yesterday being a holiday the bearish influences had full play, and on the curb and in offices May was freely sold at 7834c. This morning it sold before the opening at 78c, and immediately after the opening at 77%c. The selling was from all quarters so general and in such volume that it was utterly impossible to discriminate in the operations and to decide who were the sellers and who were the buyers. It was set down as a sort of last and desperate abandonment of the long side by the old time holders. As the furor of the first lifteen minutes died away and trades were checked, it was plain that two concerns had been very large buyers. Field, Lindley & Co. and Irwin, Green & Co, are believed to have bought between them not less than 3,000,000 bushels. As these firms have been the great buyers on the market, and are supposed to be representatives of the clique which has doubled and redoubled its holdings of wheat on each and redoubled its holdings of wheat on each decline, their purchases naturally caused the market to pause. The opening was the low point of the day. From 77% May wheat got back above 78c and finally got back as far as 78% It did not hold at that figure. The elearances were large—321,500 bushels of wheat from the three ports and about 50,000 barrels or sacks of flour. This helped the market. There was also a little decrease of the amount of wheat on passare. The news that Bismarck had a large majority in the reichstar, and the consequent advance of all that Bismarck had a large majority in the reichstag, and the consequent advance of all sorts of foreign securities, were the bear influences. Pork sympathized with the weakness of the grain pits for a moment, and the May option soid down to $14.45, although there were quiet transactions vesterday at $15.20. It almost immediately went back to $15.00 and finally soid above it. Corn was fairly active and prices ranged lower. Early offerings were not particularly heavy, but the decline was due to the depression in wheat. Shorts covered freely on the decline and pro-offerings were not particularly heavy, but the decline was due to the depression in wheat. Shorts covered freely on the decline and produced a better feeling and a 14 ch creaction. Country speculators who were long on May sold the June and July to hedge. #### CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.- | Special Telegram to the BEE. |- CATTLE-The receipts to-day were quite large, being about twice as large as yesterday. For the week thus far there is no difference compared with last. The market was materially slow. It being the first day of Lent buyers naturally were bearish, and bids in many cases were 25c lower. Sales were made at a 10@15c;decline, and there were many common to fair and rough heavy cattle which could not have been sold at a greater decline. The market was duil at the prices and a good many cattle were left over, though the volume of business was large. Tuesday's market was the highest we have had in about a week, and to-day there were many poor to fair, and some good cattle, that could not be sold within 20@25c of yesterday's best prices. There must have been 2,000 fat cattle unsold at the close of the market. Shipping steers, 1350 to 1500 lbs, $4.50(35.10; 1200 to 1350 lbs, $4.00(24.50; 950 to 1200 lbs, $3.60(24.00). gows, bulls and mixed, $2.00@3.60; bulk, $2.80 @3.25.
Hoos—Trade was slow and prices 5@10c lower. The run for the week so far is a sur-prise to all concerned. No one looked for 24,000 to-day and but few expected as many for this week as last, yet the outlook now is that there will be an increase over last week. A few big, fancy heavy sold at $5.80@5.82\\\\\_4$, and it was said one lot made $5.85, a.cainst $5.95 yesterday. Packing sorts sold at $5.50 @4.75; and butcher weights at $5.75@3.80. Light sold at $4.90@5.55, and Yorkers at $5.30@5.40.

STOCKS.—The opening was decidedly strong, first prices showing advances of 1/4 decided 1/4 per cent over Monday's final figures. There was active trading during the greater part of the first, hour. There were some further slight advances in early dealings, but the market quickly yielded under the lead of Reading and material declines were established in the first hour. Duliness and stagnation then intervened, and up to noon little character was exhibited by dealings. After that time, however, though still remaining character was exhibited by dealings. After that time, however, though still remaining dull, the general list became firm, while de-cided strength was shown in Northwestern and Union Pacific. With but slight interrup-tion the advance continued until the close, which was quiet but firm at or near the best figures of the day.
