makes our sales on Farnam st. property since Oct 1, 1886, aggregate nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Now a word about Farnam st. realty. We made the statement last fail that the elegant level piece of Farnam st. property between 16th and 2ith would in five years become sites for the finest retail houses in the city. Events since then fully point to a verification of this prediction, and in less than the time specified swo and $1,000 per foot will seem very reason-able for property in the "Broadway" of Omaha between the points named. "Wildeat" speculation will soon have its run, like any other fever, out Omaha is going to steadily more forward and her business prop-erty continue to appreciate in value. While the "farms" are being held at five times their value, inside business property is held at less price here than in any other city in the union of like importance and prospects.
