J. W. & E. L. Squire's abstracts are giving good satisfaction.

William Foster, while near his green house yesterday, discovered a spring viper, which he killed.

The democratic convention will meet to-morrow night to nominate a candidate for alderman-at-large.

Council Bluffs is a river town, and has numerous lakes, but the Catholic church now proposes to make it also a see town. It is generally believed that either A. T. Elwell or John A. Churchill will be the nominee of the democrats for alderman-at-large.

It is probable that the Wickham and Goulden tramway will be put to use on Eighth street first, as a petition is being circulated to fill that street, also individual property.

The number of voters who have regis-tered are very small. Those who have neglected to register will have one more chance on Wednesday next.

The Lake Manawa street railway charter has passed through the stormy dis cussion about the kind of rails to be used, and everything is now fixed to a "T." It is very probable that Gus Leibold, private secretary to William H. Burns in his up town office, will shortly be pro-moted to a more lucrative office in the transfer freight department. Camp & Ellis, the druggists, will in a few days open the linest drug store in this city in the opera house building. These gentlemen are well known, and with their fine stock and fixtures will draw well in the new opera house.

As different rumors are afloat in regard to the position of Alderman Shugart, one of the BEE force yesterday asked him if ie would accept a renomination provided t should be tendered. He replied that he positively would not, under any cir-cumstances, that he had enough and would not take it even if the salary should e increased to $2,000.

Now that fresh eggs are in the market, some of the farmers as well as the city dealers, in order to dispose of their surlus stock of packed fruit, are mixing hem and selling the same as fresh eggs. This is by no means a new dodge, but a number of cases lately remind the conumers that there are still packed eggs in this vicinity and they are liable to turn up with other boiled eggs when the shell is broken.

Celonel Sapp, who is in Washington looking after the interests of the new Broadway bridge, writes that the bridge bill will pass shortly and "I do not intend to leave Washington until the bill passes." It has been whispered about that this bill would aither go through uld either

A New Diocese.

A telegram from Chicago states that intelligence has been received there from Rome, through Mgr. Kirby, president of the Irish college in the vatican city, to the effect that a new diocese is to be created in Iowa, with Council Bluffs as the see city. It is reported that some Chicago priest will be selected as the new bishop, and Father Cushman is believed tions of other houses that are laid on to be the coming man. The Iowa priests each naturalij prefer one of their own number, and Among those named are Rev. bordering on the old fiver bed, also inber, and among those hamed are Rev. Dr. B. C. Linchan, of Denison, Rev. Father Linchan, of Fort Dodge, the vicar general of Dubuque, and others. Last named but not least is Rev. Father McMenomy, of this city. While others named may be well fitted for the benerat negative, none can be more so fractional north half of section 21 was formerly owned by me and was deeded to Bedford & Souer, and from them to Lyman Tower, who now claims it, but the old Ferry company comes in with a honored position, none can be more so than Father McMenomy. His life has been a benediction to this community, and his sacred work has been most jealconflicting claim for section 20; also S. Smith claims the accretions adjoining the north half of section 20, as he claims he has never deeded his rights to those acand his sacred work has been most jeal-ously and faithfully performed. As a priest and as a citizen he has endeared himself to the hearts of the people, and has the respect and confidence of all, out-side the church as well as inside. A man of marked ability, it seems that the honor could not be more worthily bestowed. Yesterday's Register contained an estimate of some of the improvements contemplated there this season. With its usual spirit of jealousy towards Council Bluffs the Register declares that in Council Bluffs, although a great deal of real estate is changing hands, there is scarcely any improvements being made, but Des Moines is preparing to expend a great deal of money in this direction. The following is the list of the Register's hopes

No. 10.

Last night a little after So'clock, a man was noticed by a young girl to throw, or at least, drop a bundle over the fence into the yard of St. Francis academy, orner of Sixth street and Fifth avenue. She thought it a strange movement and upon investigation found the package to contain a new-born babe. A couple of men also were near at and and saw the form of a man quickly dart around the corner after dropping his bundle. The sisters in the academy were notified and the child was taken in to comfortable quarters. It was there discovered to be a boy baby not nore than a week old. Attached to its to thing was the following note:

Kind Sister: I have to leave my dear baby at your doors to-night, for I am a stranger here and got no place to lay my head. If you can take care of it for a while you will hear from me, and if you do not can you get a kind person to take it. The above note was written on both

The above note was written on both ides of a piece of ordinary writing paper and in an almost illegible hand. The paper was badly wrinkled and the writ-ing almost invisible. Officer Dyer was notified, but he modestly declined the charge until he was in-structed by Chief Mullen, who also repaired to the academy, and as the sisters sked to be relieved of their burden he got Policeman Hendricks, who is a man of family, to carry the child to police head-quarters and it was given to Mrs. Brad-bury, of the Essex house, who now has the child in care.

The city physician, Dr. Lacey, was called and found the httle one in a healthy and sound condition, but somewhat hun-
