The G. A. R. Encampment.

Many members of the G. A. R. encampment left the city Wednesday night and yesterday morning when the procession started from the corner of Thirteenth and Douglas at 10:30 there were not half as many members in line as there were on Wednesday. The same line of march was observed. The Fort Omaha band started off before the brave survivors of the nation's great travail when unconditional liberty first breathed the air of America. A. A. Wadsworth, band leader, with his twenty-one snappy stepping musicians, evidently remembered the day and recognized the claims of the six Irish members to play their own tunes. When the procession started off the strains of "The Haly That Once Thro' Tara's Halls" floated over the tops of the city's buildings at the corner of Fourteenth and Douglas and thence past the hall of Post No. 110, where the Ladies Auxiliary was in session, and the veterans squared their shoulders and stepped in good time to the enkindling music of "The Wearing of the Green."

At the crossing of Dodge street, the musical medley changed to "Come Back to Erin" in military marching time and when the band passed the Annex and the delegation filed left to enter, and passed the six stately like veterans with "present arms" attitude. The band then played notes of "Killarney" in all their delicious variations. The encampment, yesterday morning elected W. S. Randall, member of the legislature from South Platte, senior vice-commander, and junior vice-commander, Newbrower, of Sidney. For council of administration the following were elected: Comrades Richards, of Fremont; Sturley, of Saline, and Holmes, of Johnson. General Thayer then introduced Sergeant Cody, of Post No. 2, United States barracks, Omaha, who has been fifty years a soldier, and has served in two wars. The old sergeant made a neat and witty little Irish speech which was well received.

The afternoon session was opened with nominations for the seven delegates to the national encampment. J. H. Pulver, of Millard, was elected as a delegate, and the adjutant depositing the ballot of the encampment. F. S. Clarkson was nominated, but withdrew his name and put forward that of Brad B. Cook, of Lincoln, who, with John MacMurphy, of Wahoo, was similarly elected. This method of electing was objected to and the following nominations were then made to complete the quota: W. D. Williams, L. C. Washburne, S. B. Jones, C. E. Burmeister, E. K. Valentine, C. Widaman, J. N. Edwards, J. M. Holmes, S. H. Morrison, C. O. Ninsor, G. W. Norton, Comrade Tompkins, and J. W. Livinghouse. The nominations were seconded with applause. The ballot resulted in the election of Comrades Widaman, Valentine, Burmeister and Holmes.

The alternates elected were Comrades Edwards, Livinghouse, Musser, Jones, Allen and N. V. Cole. The B. & M. railroad company made a refund of $100 to Job Hathaway for money advanced in 1884 in payment of the expenses of the band to the national encampment at Chicago, through a misunderstanding of a local ticket agent, and thanks were tendered to Mr. Holdrege, of the B. & M., and to Comrade MacMurphy, for effecting the refund.

The commander read a telegram from Comrade Crabb, of York, announcing the sudden death at Council Bluffs of his wife, who was on her way from a visit east to join him at the encampment. Appropriate resolutions of condolence were tendered and adopted.

Resolutions were adopted returning thanks to the citizens of Omaha, the officers and bands from the east, the hotels and railroads for courtesies extended to the delegates during the reunion. The committee on resolutions presented a set of resolutions which were adopted, censuring President Cleveland in strongest terms for his veto of the dependent pension bill.

In the evening the department officers elect were publicly installed, after which a reminiscence meeting was held, forming a pleasing closing scene of the encampment.

LADIES AUXILIARY.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the G. A. R. Republic elected the following officers yesterday afternoon: Lydia M. Bohne, president; Fannie J. Elright, senior vice-president; Mollie B. Cook, junior vice-president; Emma Gillespie, treasurer; Mrs. Dr. Painter, chaplain; Helen Connel, chairman of board of administration and Mary Cook and Nettie Bates members of the board.

ANOTHER BEEF HOUSE. Swift Promises to Follow Hammond and Armour to Omaha.

G. F. Swift, of G. F. Swift & Co., the beef packers of Chicago, was at the stock yards yesterday closed for several hours with Hon. J. A. McShane, president of the stock yards company. Mr. Swift requested the stock yards company, several months ago, to make him a proposition to locate a beef house at South Omaha. When Mr. Nicholson, the architect, was here a few weeks ago, looking over the ground and making the final arrangements for the building of a large beef house for the Anglo-American Packing company, he stated that he was at work upon the plans of a very large house for another Chicago firm. At the time he stated that he was at liberty to name the parties for whom the plans were being made, but it was surmised that the plans were for Swift & Co. There is a great rivalry existing between the firms engaged in the packing business, and when it was finally settled that the Anglo-American Packing company would build a large beef house here in addition to their hog house, it was thought that the plans for the dressed beef men would locate here. Swift & Co., of Chicago, have the largest dressed establishment in the world. Armour the largest packer taking cattle, hogs and sheep together, but Swift kills more cattle. It is claimed that Swift & Co. buy and kill from a quarter to a third of the cattle received at the Chicago stock yards. They also handle some hogs but do not make a specialty of it, although that branch of their business is increasing rapidly. Their Chicago packing houses cover from ten to twelve acres of ground. The stock yards company are very reticent about the matter, but there is not the remotest doubt that the arrangements will be perfected for the location of another beef house here before Mr. Swift returns to Chicago. A beef house at South Omaha is the most in need of this announcement by every cattle owner in the west.

TOUGH ON TAYLOR.

A Deputy County Clerk Charged With Being a Forger.

Charles K. Taylor, a deputy county clerk, was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out in Justice Helsley's court by County Treasurer Bolin, charging him with forgery. The specific charge is that he forged the name of J. H. McCree to a county warrant for $49. Back of this charge the county treasurer claims to have charges against Taylor that will convict him of robbing the county of several hundred dollars by crooked methods. Since the 1st of January Bolin has paid Taylor warrants amounting to $500. These, he claims, belonged to some other different parties, and were illegally taken possession of by Taylor. Bolin claims that Taylor has taken unclaimed warrants, of which there are always a large number in the clerk's office, and he returned them to C. G. Corbett, a money lender, who has received payment upon them. Taylor was seen by a Bee reporter at the city jail last night. He was badly broken up over his arrest, but did not feel that any serious results would come of it. He explains that there were no funds in the county treasury from November until the middle of January, and that during that time Corbett furnished the money for him to purchase the warrants referred to at a discount. He claims that he has an order for every warrant that was presented or enforced by him, and that the trouble will be settled as soon as he can get a chance to make a showing. It is to be hoped that such is the case. Charley Taylor has been considered one of the most valuable of the attaches of the county clerk's office, and his many friends hope he may come out his present difficulty all right.

SPORTING TIPS.

Bullock and Ashinger—Gun Club—Ball Notes.

Bullock and Ashinger have made a twenty-five-mile race to take place at the exposition building Saturday evening, March 26. The match will be for $50 a side and will doubtless prove an exciting one as there is some bad blood between the men and both are anxious for success in the match. Both are training daily and are in good condition. On the same evening Frank Lay, one of the best trick riders in the country will give a half hour's exhibition of his skill. Other races will be held on the same evening, making an interesting programme.

The bicycle craze has extended to the rural districts. At Plum creek a wheel club with seventeen members has been organized with the following officers: H. O. Smith, consul; F. L. Temple, president; L. E. Branson, secretary; E. P. Dunlap, secretary and treasurer; F. B. Gilmore, captain; W. B. Branson, lieutenant; C. W. Gilmore, bugler; R. H. Spradling, standard bearer. The club is the largest in the state outside of Omaha.

Manager Frank Bandle and Secretary George Kay, of the Omaha ball club, left last evening for Leavenworth, where the schedule committee will meet to arrange a league, of which Mr. Kay is a member, will meet on Sunday to arrange the schedule of games for the coming season.

The LeFevre gun club will hold their second meeting at Post Office and 15th street this evening. The second shoot of the club will take place to-morrow.

H. A. Penrose and George Hoagland, returned yesterday evening from a short trip with their traps, and they report that which were canvass backs. It was a rare catch and the successful sportsmen of course refuse to tell where the birds were found.

He is practicing daily for his match with McLaughlin, which will take place at the exposition annex on March 28.

The Stock Yards and the Clearances.

The question is frequently asked if the business transacted at the stock yards appears in the Omaha clearing house reports. The answer is that only a very small proportion of the business transacted finds its way to the clearing house. The Union stock yard bank, located at the yards, transacts business amounting to as much as $300,000 or more daily. Of this amount one half is frequently in the shape of drafts of which about 50 per cent on an average, go to the clearing house. From this it will be seen that not over one quarter of the business goes to the clearing house. Some idea may be gained of the importance of the business, at the stock yards, when it is taken into consideration that there is another bank at the yards, in addition to the one just mentioned, and that the Omaha City banks all do more or less business at the yards. If all the stock yards business were to appear in the clearing house reports it would make a very different showing.

The Year 1887.

During the year 1887 the people of this city will see the greatest growth it has ever had. This is acknowledged by all good judges. Property in and about the city will advance in price so rapidly that hundreds of fortunes will be made in a few months. The new packing houses, factories, etc., locating in South Omaha will make that a business part of the city, and as a consequence property in that locality will be much sought after. Now, this week is the time to buy this property. We are sole agents for South Omaha proper and an investment made there will return the purchaser his money and 100 to 200 per cent added to it. Anybody with a small amount of money can buy a lot in South Omaha. The C. E. Mayne Real Estate & Trust Co., N. W. Cor. 15th and Harney.

Slide Auctions.

William Shauder, an agriculturist, came in from Iowa Tuesday with $175 and enjoyed various pleasures peculiar to Omaha in common with all great metropolises. He bought a "solid gold" watch and chain, ear-rings and pin from Auctioneer Evans, on Tenth street, for $20. The lot was worth probably "ein dollar and a few cents." A lady bought the $20 back for Shauder, and the lady back for Evans, and a citizen back for Iowa, where liquor cannot be sold if the despised law were respected. Shauder was sent across the Missouri.
