Charles Hurst Fatally Shot by Louis Conter, a Playmate.

AN ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD WIFE.

A Heavy Damage Suit—Kuehl's Ashes—Taylor's Troubles—The Police Alarm—Another Street Railway—Other Local.

A Shooting Affair.

A shooting affair that will result in the death of a young lad named Charles Hurst occurred on the railroad crossing near Sulphur Springs about noon yesterday. Hurst, who is a young lad about fourteen years of age, started out on a hunting trip with Louis Conter, a boy of about the same age. They were crossing a culvert on the railroad track just north of Sulphur Springs when Conter, who carried a heavily loaded shot gun, fell through the guard. In the fall he dropped the gun which was discharged the contents taking effect in the abdomen of young Hurst, who was following close behind his companion. The shot took effect in the right side of young Hurst's abdomen, making an incision about three inches in length. The smaller intestines were exposed and cut in six places. Upon being shot Hurst fell from the embankment at the side of the track and was with difficulty rescued by his companion who called for help. The injured boy was removed to his home on 6th street near Sherman avenue and Dr. Cornish summoned to attend him. He found his wound to be of a very serious nature and called Dr. Shaw to assist him. The two physicians did all in their power to save the boy's life. He continued to sink rapidly, however, and at a late hour last night all hope of his recovery was given up and it was thought that he would not live until this morning. While the unfortunate affair is looked upon as an accident rumors are afloat that may chance the aspect of the case and will at least cause an official investigation of the matter. It appears that on Thursday the two boys had quarreled and parted with threats of a future meeting to settle their difficulty. They did not meet again until yesterday when Conter appeared at Hurst's home with a shot gun and induced Hurst to go hunting with him. This fact has been taken by the ever ready gossip as a suspicious circumstance and commented upon until an official investigation of the case will probably result. The wounded lad made a statement to Dr. Cornish yesterday to the effect that he regarded the affair as purely accidental.

AN ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD WIFE.

Lulu Williams' Strange Petition—Two Divorce Cases.

In the district court yesterday afternoon Lulu Williams filed a petition for a divorce from her husband, Robert Williams. The woman's petition sets forth a strange state of affairs. She alleges that the license by which she was married to Williams in Missouri, on October 19, 1885, was obtained by fraud. She avers that at that time she was only eleven years of age, a mere child, and that Williams, although aware of her age, perjured himself and swore that she was twelve years of age, and thus secured the license. The child wife goes on to state that ever since the day of her marriage to Williams she has been the victim of his brutal and abusive nature. Of late he has refused to lend any aid to her support and she prays for a decree of divorce.

Henrietta Grybysky commenced a suit in the district court yesterday for a divorce from her husband, Joseph Grybysky. They were married in Omaha on November 19, 1885. The plaintiff alleges that her husband has abused her almost constantly since the day of their marriage and has repeatedly called her the vilest names, and finally capped the climax of abuse by refusing to let her remain in her home. She alleges that she is in delicate health and not able to earn her own living. She asks a divorce, the custody of her child and alimony.

The Year 1887.

During the year 1887 the people of this city will see the greatest growth it has ever had. This is acknowledged by all good judges. Property in and about the city will advance in price so rapidly that hundreds of fortunes will be made in a few months. The new packing houses, factories, etc., located in South Omaha will make that a business part of the city and as a consequence property in that locality will be much sought after. Now this week is the time to buy this property. We are sole agents for South Omaha proper and an investment made there now will return the purchaser his money and 100 to 200 per cent added to it. Anybody with a small amount of money can buy a lot in South Omaha. The C. E. Mayne Real Estate & Trust Co., N. W. cor. 15th and Harney.

Taylor's Trouble.

Charles K. Taylor, the deputy county clerk, arrested on Thursday on a charge of forging J. H. McCree's name to a county warrant, waived preliminary examination before Justice Healey yesterday and gave bonds in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the district court grand jury. Mr. Corbett, the gentleman who advanced the money with which the warrants were purchased, has been abused and slandered in connection with the affair. The simple facts are that Taylor came to Corbett and proposed to him to buy up the warrants which had been uncalled for. These warrants belonged principally to country people, and Taylor represented that he could buy them up at a discount and get them cashed in January. Mr. Corbett agreed to furnish the money, provided County Treasurer Bollin would certify that the scheme was a proper one. That official declared that the proceeding was a proper one, and actually cashed the warrants as they were presented, when there was sufficient money in the treasury. Taylor represented that he had procured the assignments properly, and Mr. Corbett, supposing that he had done so, of course furnished the money. It is true, as claimed, that some of the assignments were forged. Mr. Corbett can in no way be held responsible for that. He had absolutely nothing to do with procuring these assignments. Mr. Corbett has been in business here for years, and thinks too much of his reputation and honor to go into any scheme that might ruin both.

Poor Mike Farrell.

Mike Farrell, one of the oldest engineers on the Union Pacific road, was arrested yesterday on the charge of being insane, and is now confined in the county jail awaiting an examination. For years Farrell was a faithful and competent passenger engineer on the western division of the Union Pacific. About a year ago he was overcome by the heat while at his post of duty and has been troubled with mental derangement ever since. His delusion takes a strange form. Everything that moves on wheels is to him an engine. He will board a street car or coal wagon and urge the driver to "give her more sand," and inquire anxiously and with his arms outstretched as to the "orders" of every moving vehicle he sees. He has a wife and child in straitened circumstances. He will probably be sent to the asylum.

Ed. Kuehl's Remains.

Mr. Baumer, who went east with the body of Edward Kuehl, the fortune teller, returned yesterday from Buffalo, N. Y., where he had the body cremated. He says the operation took from about 10 o'clock in the morning until 3 in the afternoon. The remains—the ashes—are now at Drexel & Maul's, in a neat clayed urn, hermetically sealed. Mr. Baumer says that Kuehl never desired that his ashes should be placed in Wittig's saloon, and the idea originated from a serio-faculous remark of a bystander at the corner's inquest, when the announcement was made that the body was to be cremated; the funny man said the ashes ought to be spread on Wittig's grave. Mr. Baumer never for a moment entertained an idea involving such a sacrilege. He is in correspondence with the heirs with a view to buying a lot in the cemetery and burying the globular vessel and contents.

Up Go the Prices.

On and after Monday next all good lots in "BEAUTIFUL CLIFTON HILL" will be sold at the following prices: South fronts, $750. North fronts, $700. East fronts, $650. By buying this week you will get the full benefit of the advance. The above prices are from 20 to 30 per cent below the prices of corresponding property. There is not a lot in the whole tract bought from Mr. Creighton, but that will be worth $1,000 before the 1st of June. Street railroad is now BEING BUILT through Clifton Hill. They Called Her Names.

Mrs. Louise Fritz commenced a suit in the district court yesterday, against John and Christina Hollwig for $10,000 damages, for slander and injury to the character. The plaintiff alleges that on March 14 the defendants, in the presence of several persons, addressed her in the German tongue, calling her vile names and reflecting upon the character of the place she keeps. Therefore the damage.

AMUSEMENTS.

LOTTA AS LITTLE NELL. Another large audience turned out last night to see Lotta in "Little Nell." The performance was in every respect leagues beyond that of the evening before and Lotta was given a perfect ovation. She and several members of the company were called before the curtain. In no part could Lotta's versatility have been better displayed than in the dual roles of Little Nell and the Marchioness. The latter, particularly, fitted her like a glove and she seemed a veritable sprite of the gutter. Her impersonation throughout was an artistic triumph that was fully appreciated by the enthusiastic audience. The company did better work in many respects than on the previous night, although Dickens' creations have to be strong an individuality to be within the grasp of the average actor, yet through the characters, with one or two exceptions, failed to stand out with marked distinctness, the parts were acceptably taken. P. Aug. Anderson had the heavy part of Quilp and made it exceedingly ponderous. He was the sensual, brutal abortion that Dickens has depicted and did not modify the original in the least but made the part so realistic that his ex-ecution was a relief. Fred Lennox took the part of the imaginative Dick Swiveller with a good deal of abandon, and Bert Cooke was good as Kit. At the matinee to-day "Musette" will be played and to-night "The Little Detective."

Mayne Place.

We have a few lots left in Mayne Place south of Leavenworth street. These lots are being sold at less figures and on easier terms than lots in Hanscom Place, while they are the same distance from the city. C. E. MAYNE REAL ESTATE & TRUST CO., Northwest cor. 15th and Harney.

An Overdose of Opium.

The coroner's inquest held yesterday over the remains of James Gaskell, who died at the police station on Wednesday night, developed the fact that the death came to his death from the effects of an overdose of opium, probably unintentionally administered. The funeral will be held from Drexel & Maul's at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

BLACK WOLF!

Or Black Leprosy, is a disease which is considered incurable, but it has yielded to the curative properties of SWISS'S Specific—now known all over the world. Mrs. Bailey, of West Somerville, Mass., near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black eruption, and was treated by the best medical talent, who could only say that the disease was a species of LEPROSY.

and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay, masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers were red, three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration, and for several years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 125 to 60 lbs. Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of ointment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this black, and committed the sufferer to her all-wise Creator.

Her husband hearing wonderful reports of the use of SWISS'S Specific, he prevailed on her to try it as a last resort. She began its use under professional supervision, and in a few days the level of the poison in her system was so low that she became healthy, as though the blood was becoming pure and acted as a tonic. Her hair began to grow, until last February, every sore was healed; she discarded chair and crutches, and was for the first time in seven years a well woman. Her husband, Mr. C. A. Bailey, is in business at 17 1/2 Blackstone Street, Boston, will take pleasure in giving particulars of this wonderful cure. Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.
