N. Y. Plumbing Co. The new council meets to-night. New spring goods at Reiter's, tailor. George W. Thompson & Co., real estate. Additional Council Bluffs local on seventh page.

See W. C. Stacey & Co., No. 9 Main, for bargains in real estate. J. W. & E. L. Squires' abstracts are giving good satisfaction. Wallace Patterson and Frank Airy have received their new bicycles.

Alderman Lacy is preparing to build three houses at once on Third street. By the change in the police department Officers Dyer and Tamisea now go on duty today. J. T. Hurley, the well known rail-roader, is building a house on Broadway near Fifteenth street.

Squire's park addition is a sure investment. Pacific building will be built up with store buildings within a year. The United States courts meet next Monday with Judge Love and Judge Shiras presiding. The dockets are quite full.

Fifty-two lots were sold in Benson's first addition by C. J. Colby to parties in Galesburg and Princeton, Ill., since Friday last. Frank Levine has added to the attractions of his cigar store a large assortment of walking sticks, there being an endless variety of young and old. Some of the canes are very nobly.

There are reported to the board of health two cases of diphtheria, one case of scarlet fever, and five cases of measles. Contagious diseases do not get very much of a hold in Council Bluffs.

The institution for the deaf and dumb has used during the winter, 1,152 tons of coal as compared with 1,937 tons the previous year. Those who have attended the fires the past season have evidently been economical.

An attempt is being made to secure the release from jail of the colored boy Wilson, sentenced for nine months for stealing an overcoat. It is said that the boy is dying from consumption and that close confinement will shorten his days greatly.

The county physician, the district attorney and the sheriff have joined in a statement justifying the request for release. Charles Walker was yesterday arrested for assault on complaint of his father. The old man says he has been harassing the boy, although the fellow is big enough to care for himself.

He could not put up any longer with the boy's actions and when he tried to assume the mastery of his own home the young man pounced on him. Such is the story of the father, who seeks protection in the courts.

Jimmie McDermott, of the Ogden house, is making a marvelous record with his wonderful new wheel. It is probably the only bicycle of the kind in the west. It is called the "Fairy Antique," probably on account of its wonderful feather weight and its ancient look. The journals are as delicate as those of a watch and when it needs repairs none but a jeweler can attend to it. He is fast becoming an expert on it and will soon give exhibitions to introduce the new bicycle in the interests of the manufacturers.

There is a healthy change from the rage for progressive euchre clubs here. The later and the better is the forming of literary clubs and reading circles. A number of these have already been started here, and they are becoming quite fashionable. Many of the members are pleased to get a smattering of literature, and so long as it is the fashionable thing it will be popular.

Some earnest souls go into these organizations with a determination to make as much improvement as possible mentally, and to gain real culture and knowledge. Even with the most flimsy of moves, advancing some of the members of the new rage is certainly an improvement over most of the society rages.

One of those brought up before Judge Aylesworth yesterday charged with being drunk claimed that Officer Stevens had no business to arrest him as he was perfectly sober, having not even taken one drink. He begged to be released, as he was innocent of the great transgression. Judge Aylesworth, however, said that this was the case the officer had certainly done a great wrong in arresting him—a wrong which could not be passed over lightly. He would have to keep the man in jail as a witness against the officer.

He was therefore taken back to the cell room, there to wait until the officer, who is on duty nights, had had his day sleep and could appear in court. By the time the officer got around yesterday afternoon it had dawned through the befuddled brain of the victim that the idea of his being held as a witness was but a bit of the judicial humor which bubbles out at times. When confronted by the officer who arrested him he was willing to plead guilty, suddenly remembering that he did have a drink or two, and might possibly have been a little dazed.

Electric door bells, burglar alarms and every form of domestic electrical appliances at the New York Plumbing Co.

Kidnapped by Kids. A bold robbery is reported as having taken place in broad daylight in Garner township, the victim being a farmer, C. E. Julian. He is said to have been confronted as he was returning from a meeting of the Salvation army, and made to turn his pockets wrong side out, thus being relieved of about $6. There were three of the highwaymen, and from their appearance, though masked, it seemed that they were boys. It is reported that a gang of boys, who have been imbibing freely of Jesse James literature, have been committing depredations of this sort lately on several timid farmers. The juvenile gang will probably tackle the right man some day, and will then realize their foolishness. Julian is said to have had more money in the watch pocket of his pantaloons, but this was not shelled out.

New styles carpets and matting at Harkness Brothers.

March in Iowa. "A little wintry for this time of year." "Well, so it seems to me, but on the Rock Island train coming in this morning I met a man, a traveling man, who as we stopped at Earlham, remarked: 'Earlham! I tell you I'll never forget Earlham. I nearly froze to death here a few years ago. It was on the 28th day of March. I drove over from Winterset, and the thermometer was 14° below zero. I nearly died. Yes, sir, it was the 28th day of March.'"

No, it isn't so awfully wintry for this time of year in Iowa.

A new lot of jerseys just placed on sale at Harkness Brothers.

Protecting Home Labor.

The two assemblies of the Knights of Labor have united in a resolution requesting the city council to take action protecting home laborers. Their petition is to have all contractors doing municipal work agree to give the preference to workmen who are permanent residents of the city. In times past contracts have been let for city work, and the persons having the contracts have brought in their laborers from elsewhere, given them the work and the pay, while workmen living here have been obliged to remain idle. This is deemed poor policy for the city, as the money paid transients goes out of the city, or at least a large portion of it, while if placed in the hands of permanent residents the money would remain here, and be spent here. Such is the basis of this petition.

The Knights of Labor want the city council to put a clause in every contract for municipal work binding the contractor to employ Council Bluffs labor so far as possible. The request is made especially in regard to unskilled labor, and as to skilled labor that should be employed here when it can be found. The move is similar to that made by the Knights of Labor in other cities looking for home protection. The request goes so far as to have the council get such a promise from contractors before considering their bids on work, and afterwards incorporating the condition in the contract when awarded. The move is one which is backed by the workmen of the city and the request seems reasonable within the limits placed, of simply giving the preference to Council Bluffs labor.

Star stable stables of Council Bluffs. The largest stock of horses and mules west of Chicago, which will be sold at wholesale or retail and satisfaction guaranteed.

The Union Depot. "What do you think of the new union depot?" was asked yesterday of one of the general agents of one of the leading lines here.

"I think it will be built. I don't know about it's being any $400,000 affair, but I believe one will be built. You can put up a pretty good depot now for $40,000 or so. Our folks will run into it, and be glad to it, if it is built."

"Is the expectation of a union depot the reason your company does not build a better local depot?"

"That's just it. The other companies are in the same condition. There's not a good local depot here, except the Milwaukee, but what's the use of putting up new depots when the union depot will be for the purposes soon. If it had been for the proposed union depot our folks would have built before this. Yes, we stand ready to go into it, if it is not located in some far away place. We won't go on Broadway, neither will the other roads. Any good central point will catch us all. Yes, I believe the union depot will be built all right."

Call and see the stock of horses and mules at Star Stables before purchasing elsewhere.

The New Council. The new city council met last evening for the first time, the mayor and the old members, Keller, Hammer and Danforth, and the new members, Wells, Lacy and Metcalf, being present.

The new council proceeded to business with a vim, the new members taking hold like veterans. A caucus had been held in the afternoon, so that the election of officers was merely a formal carrying out of what had been informally agreed to.

Alderman Wells was chosen as the president pro tem of the city council. F. A. Burke was elected city clerk by acclamation.

John J. Tompkins was elected chief of the fire department by acclamation and unanimously.

A. E. Avery was in like manner chosen as street supervisor.

The mayor announced the following standing committees: Health and Public Grounds—Metcalf, Danforth and Keller. Finance, Claims and Printing—Danforth, Wells and Hammer. Judiciary—Wells, Keller and Metcalf.

Internal Improvements, Streets Alleys and Sidewalks—Lacy, Metcalf and Danforth. Fire Department, Gas Lights and City Property—Keller, Lacy and Hammer. Police, Health and Public Grounds—Metcalf, Danforth and Keller. Waterworks—Hammer, Keller and Lacy.

Petition of barbers for ordinance concerning Sunday. Referred. Petition of John T. Stewart for permit to park inside of his walk instead of outside on Bluff street. Referred.

Petition of property owners for parking and curbing Mynter street. Referred. Petition of property owners for storm and house sewer on Glen avenue, and for paving from Broadway to High avenue. Referred.

The annual report of the chief of the fire department was presented, a summary of which has already been given in the Bee. The number of alarms, including false and still, was only thirty-five, and the total loss, exclusive of the driving park fire, was only $5,000.

He recommended the purchase of 1,000 feet more of hose, and gave full inventory of all property on hand. Referred. Dr. Saybert and Dr. Cook made application for the position of city physician.

City Engineer Tostevin was not ready to report on the Broadway grade until further consultation. The council decided to visit lower Broadway and the levee as a committee of the whole Wednesday afternoon.

The council then adjourned until Wednesday night.

Supra Burke, who has for so many years served as clerk for the council, declares that this new council transacted more business last night in less time than any council in his memory.

Giddy Girls. Two girls, about seventeen years of age, who gave their names as Addie Pinkham and Nora McGuire, were last evening arrested by the police and taken to the county jail. It seems that the McGuire girl belongs in Omaha, and it is claimed that the young men, Koper and Peterson, who are now in jail in this city, induced her, under promise of a good position, to run away and come over to this city, and her friends in Omaha requested her arrest. It is further reported that the two girls as well as the two young men acted in rather an indiscreet manner in an Omaha hotel, and the McGuire girl's friends intend to prosecute the boys. The Pinkham girl is held more as a witness in the case, as it is thought that her parents who reside in this city would not prosecute the boys.

I hereby give notice to all concerned not to trust my wife on my account after this date, as I will pay no bills of her contracting. FRANK BOLWELL, Council Bluffs, March 21st 1887.

Literary and Social. No efforts are spared in preparing for the literary and social meetings at the Y. M. C. A. All who attend may expect a literary feast. A meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock and both ladies and gentlemen are invited to be present. Admission free; reserved seats the same.

PROGRAMME. 1. Music, flute and violin. 2. Messrs. Badoletti and Talley. 3. Answering questions asked last week. 4. Select reading. 5. INTERMISSION. 6. Instrumental music. 7. Debate upon an original subject, led by Messrs. Foxley and Jackson. 8. Miscellaneous.

GOING TO OMAHA. The school-going youth of Omaha have good cause for congratulation in the selection of that city as his temporary home by the noted vocal and elocutionary teacher, Arthur C. McKnight, of Washington, D. C., famous in years gone by as the "boy orator" of that city, although a great sufferer, physically, since the bullet of Jesse James pierced his body, which hopelessly ended his wonderful career upon the rostrum, is a living proof of the theory that genius cannot be conquered by human ills. He is a great teacher and his work with the young people of Council Bluffs, as shown at the grand public exercises given by the pupils at the close of the three months' lessons, completely demonstrated his rare talent and skill. In a series of free trials, which he usually gives in connection with his work, a rare chance is offered for healthful recreation, important though sadly neglected culture and for physical development.

Star stable stables for mules and heavy draft horses.

Work on the Levee. About fifty teams are busy on the new levee. The dirt is being piled up fast, and along the low places in the line there is already a fill of about five feet. No trouble is expected with high water at this point, but should the river have a freak it is not probable that it could overrun the levee even in its present condition. The work is being done to avoid any possibility of trouble from water on the bottoms, and not because it is deemed probable that any such trouble may come. The new levee will not cost but little, and with it there is no occasion for the nervous ones to talk about what might be.

The School Board. The board of education with its new members, Raine, Lawson and DeHaven, met last night and organized by the reelection of J. B. Atkins as president. The usual routine business was transacted. The monthly report of Superintendent McNaughton presented some interesting facts, showing that the enrollment of the public schools was steadily increasing, but what was more encouraging that the attendance was increasing in still greater proportions. The total enrollment two years ago was 2,793, one year ago 3,610 and this year up till now 2,838. For February, 1885, the enrollment was 2,146; February, 1886, 2,250, and this last month 2,481. The salary of Mr. Tyson as janitor was increased to $90.

An Average Company. The Stuart dramatic company opened at the opera house last evening. The company presented "Rosedale" in a fairly pleasing manner. Edwin Stuart took the role of Elliot Gray, the hero, and carried his part well. Lilah Stuart, as Rosa Leigh, made a pleasing appearance. They are neither of them wonderful, but show fair ability, and the support for the most part is good. The company as a whole is much above those usually appearing at such low prices in this city. The public is assured a week of fair entertainments at popular prices. To-night they play "The Bachelor."

Saved His Roll. Last night Policeman Unthank noticed Allen Jackson staggering along the street in a drunken condition and a young man who afterward gave his name as Charles Uhl, following him. The officer arrested both for safe keeping and Jackson was found to have about $10 in his possession which the officer there by no doubt saved for him. He will probably lose $7.00 of it this morning when brought before the police judge.

Personal Paragraphs. Charles Liseaman, of Sioux City, left for home last evening. Lucius Wells returned yesterday in time to qualify as alderman at large. C. J. Blanchard returned yesterday from Salt Lake, having had a delightful trip of ten days. Charles Price, special officer of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, has returned from a Dakota trip. John E. Ahles has returned from his European trip, enthusiastic as ever, wide awake, better in health, and fully up mentally. J. B. Ferree and A. G. Hatch, two Council Bluffs printers, have bought the Neola News, and will make it newsworthy there ever.

Henry Payne, special agent of the Continental Fire Insurance company of New York, was in the city on Saturday, and yesterday he sent a letter to J. L. Lutz, the agent of the company in this city, to close the sale of forty-six lots in different additions in this city which were purchased by him on Saturday.
