Be sure and see the artistic picture of Miss Belle Botsford, when you go to buy your ticket at Bushnell's for the concert next Thursday evening in aid of the hospital fund.
 Charles Allen was yesterday discharged, it appearing that he was not so great a disturber of the peace as William Bolingthought he was. Charles has been behaving himself quite well lately, and this time would not have got into trouble had it not been for others.

The following people will assist Miss Botsford at the charity concert to be given next Thursday evening: Miss Julia O'Neil, the Misses Merkel, Miss Kate Pusey, Mr. Marshall Teynor, Miss Nellie Hatcher and Miss Joyce of Manchester, England, will favor the audience with some recitations.

The police yesterday arrested two runaway boys, Curtis Cutler and Harry Willminger, Lincoln, Neb. The boys are about eleven years of age, and it is the old story of "wanting to see the world." They are now looking at it from behind the bars while waiting the arrival of friends to take them home.

The American Contractor, a trades paper of Chicago, gives numerous paragraphs to the buildings contemplated in Council Bluffs this season. It speaks of the new Catholic church, the new city hall, the buildings at Manawa, and the new union depot. It makes the prediction that the depot will be "one of the most imposing buildings west of Chicago."

There are several buildings on Broadway near Main street, that would be much more pleasant to gaze upon if the proprietors, who have allowed the same old fronts to remain in them the past twenty years, could be induced to put in new fronts to keep pace with the times, and not set back and see the younger men, with a much more limited bank account, do all the improving, without even a word of encouragement from the mossbacks.

The Missouri river at Pierre fell nearly eight feet in the last twenty-four hours, while at Sioux City it was reported at 6 o'clock last evening to have fallen five inches. At the Union Pacific bridge it raised from 17 feet, 6 inches at 6 o'clock yesterday morning to 18 feet last night.
 It takes about twenty-four hours for the water to run down from Sioux City.
 Civil Engineer Birkinbine, manager of the waterworks, said yesterday that the 18 feet was the highest reached this season. From reports from the upper Missouri indications are that a rapid fall will take place to-day.

THE NEW LEVEE GIVEN A TEST
 It Stays the Waters and Quiets the Nerves of the Timid Ones.
MUCH SEWERAGE ORDERED.
 The Improvements in the Union Pacific Yards Start Up—Col. Keatley's Sensational Theory of Lattimer's Disappearance.

Public Improvements.
 The new city council has taken hold of affairs with a determination to have the municipal improvements keep pace with private ones. Yesterday a hasty estimate was made of the probable cost of the sewers already ordered. The amount will reach nearly $50,000, figuring only on that which has already been ordered.
 Of course the most of this amount will be paid for by special assessments on private property, the city paying only for the intersections. The paving ordered will amount to at least $100,000. With such improvements on the streets it cannot be said that Council Bluffs is lacking in faith in itself. Property owners were never so confident as to the growth of the city and they are enthusiastically calling upon the city to go right ahead, make the special assessments and they will be relieved from the embarrassment of deciding which judge to obey. An attempt
 injunctions of Judge Aylesworth dissolved. Attorney Sims, who appears for the prohibitionists, will on the opening of Judge Thornell's court to-morrow morning file motions for the dissolution of the injunctions from Aylesworth's court. The law provides for the prohibitionists can ask to have the injunction dissolved, but Sims appears as attorney for the defendants, Shea and Reel, a rather peculiar position. He will probably be met by an at-tney for the city, and the views held by him, he will probably act promptly in dissolving the injunctions issued by the superior court. With these dissolved there will be nothing to prevent the city from carrying out the plan already set on foot by Judge Thornell. The opening of court this morning will see the climax reached. What new move will be made on the part of the defendants is not clear. It is reported, as already stated in the Bee, that if the injunctions are issued, they will be violated, and if Judge Thornell commits anyone to jail, the federal court will be appealed to to release on a writ of habeas corpus.

The Levee Tested.
 The rising waters of the Missouri reached the new levee Saturday night and went up two feet on its side, but there the water remained, showing that the levee was built none too soon, and that even in its present condition it is capable of protecting that portion of the city for whose benefit it was built. Yesterday the river was falling, and the citizens were everywhere cracking dry jokes, with every indication of unshaken confidence in the western part of the city, even the lowest of it being kept from any overflow. Even if the river should take another rise there is no danger of trouble, the contractor says that the water can come up three feet higher than in the wonderful rise of 1881 and still the city will be fully protected.
 The water could rise even more than three feet, but this would be a surely safe point. The levee, when completed, and when it becomes more solid with age and other improvements, will be still better and it seems that there can not be any possible trouble of any more of the kind. The cost of the levee is small, as it will not exceed $5,000.

Was Lattimer Murdered?
 Colonel Keatley appeared among his old friends yesterday. The new democratic daily, at Sioux City, having gone by the boards after a week's struggle with short breath, leaves him free to enter new fields. There is talk of reorganizing the enterprise, and going ahead with it, but Colonel Keatley says he does not care what they do with it, for he has had enough of it. The mysterious disappearance of the business manager, Mr. Lattimer, seems to have been the cause of the sudden demoralization of the enterprise, which aside from the moving along quite promptly, Colonel Keatley holds to the theory that Lattimer has been foully dealt with, and thinks he has been robbed and then put out of the way.
 This is a theory simply, as there are no clues by which there can be any satisfactory traces followed out. Lattimer was drinking, and had about $3,000 in cash in his pockets. While drinking he foolishly risked his wealth, and with such a temptation it is not improbable that some ruffian has quietly got possession of the money and disposed of Lattimer. It appears that Lattimer had no reason for this disappearing, and even if he was on a spree he would surely have been heard from by this time. Colonel Keatley says that inquires of all the conductors of trains running out of Sioux City lead to the belief that Lattimer has left the city, at least by rail. The theory that he has skipped of his own accord is the one most commonly accepted, but Colonel Keatley thinks the disappearance is not a voluntary one.

As Seen By a Visitor.
 E. A. Snyder, one of the editors and publishers of the Cedar Falls Gazette, recently visited this city. He investigated the situation closely and looked at the foundation of the boom. So satisfied was he with the condition and prospects of the city that he is planning to invest here some. He has had experience and made money in real estate, and hence is a good judge of booms.
 Since his visit to Council Bluffs he pens the following editorial for the columns of his paper:
 A short visit at Council Bluffs and a distant view of its large brother just across the "Big Muddy" gives the impression of a promising future in before them. The first contains about 35,000 inhabitants, and Omaha is about one-third larger. These cities, which have hitherto pulled against each other, are soon to be more closely connected by two bridges, the Union Pacific company being now busy in the construction of a new railroad bridge with foot, wagon and street car conveniences for crossing, while bids are now being received for the erection of what is to be known as the Broadway and Farnam street bridge at a cost of $500,000 to $700,000. The stock having been taken.
 It will be for foot, wagon and street car passage, bringing the two cities, now about three miles apart, into more intimate relations, supplying a long felt want, and must result advantageously to both.
 The bottom land between has been changing hands in tracts of $200 to $1,000 per acre, and is being laid off into fifteen to twenty thousand building lots, for which $300 to $1,000 each is asked. The demand for them will be great, and the construction of the new bridges and street car lines, giving mechanics and others in Omaha opportunity to build homes across the river, and Council Bluffs, less than a mile from their business, while they are now seeking high prices for lots here, five and six miles over the steps and bluffs surrounding Omaha.
 The "boom" is not off in these cities, but apparently slowing up for the "roads to settle." Improvements for this season have not been fully inaugurated, but there is a confidence in the fact that the plant is healthy and liable to greet the sun's bright rays most any morning. Real estate has witnessed a large increase in the price of homes, and many recent achievements, and owners may confidently assume that theirs is not a boomerang. Council Bluffs, in addition to a lively interest in the two bridges, is to have a large new Union Pacific depot near the business part of town; also several miles of extension of its motor line and connection by motor between the city and a beautiful lake, three miles below, where an abundance of fine beach for bathing is found. A large five-story brick for business houses, and many smaller improvements are to be made, in addition to the splendid government building and new court house—the best of our state—both in process of completion.
 The excellent public schools of Council Bluffs, with their 7,000 pupils and sixty-two teachers, prepared to continue as in the four years past, under the skillful superintendency of our former citizen, Prof. James McNaughton, whose ability and success deserved recognition and endorsement. The school property of the city, comprising fourteen good buildings, worth $1,000,000, put to good use, if we may be permitted to judge.
 One or two features may be named. In addition to the ordinary studies, a course of instruction in the elements of natural science to cultivate observation and give useful information is required in all grades for the benefit of those who are unable to attend school long enough to pursue these studies in the higher departments, but the visitor is especially attracted to the valuable museum of natural history in connection with the school, the result of the efforts of the present superintendent and teachers. It comprises 400 specimens of mounted birds, small animals and reptiles, and an equal number of geological specimens and shells. We think no school in the northwest can boast of such a fine museum.

 The educational interests of the Bluffs evidently have a hearty support, and the citizens, knowing a good thing when they see it, are making their city a desirable place for those who have children to educate. Prof.
 McNaughton and family are enjoying good health and deserved prosperity.

Hot Whisky Punches.
 The threatened injunctions against the saloons still excite much comment.
 There was little change in the situation yesterday. J. J. Shea, clerk of the county, had not issued the writs of injunction as ordered by Judge Thornell, of the district court. If he had he would have been in contempt in the superior court, for Judge Aylesworth, of that court, had granted injunctions restrain-ing Shea from issuing the writs ordered by Judge Thornell. Judge Aylesworth had also enjoined Sheriff Reel from serving the writs if issued. The probability is that the clerk and the sheriff will be relieved from the embarrassment of decid-
 solution of the injunctions from
 appears as attorney for the defendants,

"Nancy & Co."
 Arthur Rehn's company in Augustin Daly's "Nancy & Co." played at Dohany's opera house last evening to a good sized audience, but the next time "Nancy & Co." come to Council Bluffs the sign "standing room only" will have to be hung out. This is the first time for "Nancy & Co." in this city, and to say that the play was well received does not half express it. There was a continuous shower of applause and laughter from the beginning to the end of the show.
 Each and every member of the company took their characters well and taken as a whole the company is a fine one. They go to Des Moines this morning.
