Something of Interest and New to Many Readers. Boston Commercial Bulletin: Each keg contains $50,000 in clear gold. It is from the Bank of America, at New York, that the Bank of America, at New York, that most of the gold is shipped from that city. The foreign steamships sailing from this city now carry little or no gold, although the reverse was the case years ago. The shipments of gold are not generally on the bank's account. At a first glance persons might well suppose that when the demand arises for gold to send abroad the shipper would only have to send in his order for his hundreds of to send in his order for his hundreds of thousands to the sub treasury, where millions of specie are on deposit. But millions of specie are on deposit. But there are sufficient reasons why this plan will not work. 'The sub treasury can pay out its coin only to creditors of the government. With the bank of America the associated banks keep on deposit constantly an enormous sum of gold, sometimes amounting to $10,000,000. To the members of the bank association the Bank of America issues its own certificates against these deposits redeemable on demand. So deposits, redeemable on demand. So, when there is occasion for making a gold shipment, the com is prepared for that purpose in the rear office of that bank, here it is bagged and kegged and made ready for shipment. Kegs in which gold is packed—specie kegs, as they are called—are made of extra hard wood. They must have an extra iron hoop. Specie is not thrown loosely into a keg, nor, upon the other hand, is it carefully wrapped in tissue paper and piled up one coin upon another. The keg serves only as a protection for canvas bags, into which the gold is placed in the ordinary hit and miss fashion of pennies in a man's pocket. Into each keg goes $5,000, and ten bags hil a keg. In the interest of security each keg is treated to what is technically known among the shippers as the red-taping process. At each end of the keg, in the projecting rim of the staves above the head, are bored four holes at equidistant intervals. A piece of red tape is run through these holes, crossing on the head of the keg, and the ends finally meet in the center. At the point of meeting the tape is sealed to the keg's head by wax bearing the stamp of the shipper. Gold crosses the ocean very much as does every other kind of freight, without any special looking after. The average rate of insurance is about $2,000 on a shipment of $1,000,000. There are shippers who do not insure. Having to ship $1,000,000, they give it in different parts to half a dozen different vessels. It is a strict rule with some firms never to trust more than $250,000 at a time on any one ship. A certain party furnishes all the kegs for gold and packs them. The man who does this is a monopolist in his way. Shippers of large amounts always lose a few dollars by abrasion, but not exceeding sixteen ounces on a million dollar shipment. The only pro-tection to be found against tection to be found against abrasion lies in the shipment of gold in bars instead of coin. Gold bars are not

HOW GOLD IS EXPORTED.

A Curious Suit Against a Comic Opera Singer. Cincinnati Enquirer: The principal attraction at the People's theatre this week is a dashing serio-comic, whose name appears on the bills as Miss Ada Burnet. Her favorite song is the familiar "Dar's a New Coon in Town." It took the audience by storm Sunday night. To give the act more effectiveness, Miss Burnet, while singing the refrain, stopped and emphasized the line, "Dar's a new coon in town," by pointing directly to a colored man sitting in the front row of the first gallery. Naturally the audience followed the direction, and a rousing lanch went up, while the innocent victoria. laugh went up, while the innocent vic-tim of the prank tried to sink back out the matter until yesterday afternoon, when Miss Burnet met with an adventure which turned the joke on the fair serio-comic, and for the time being threw the troupe into consternation. While the matinee performance was in progress Deputy Sheriff George Draper suddenly appeared in the wings of the stage, and, calling Miss Burnet to one side, served a summons on her to appear and answer why she should not pay Ar-thur Rose $10,000 for injury to his feelings. It seems that Rose was the colored man who had been made so conspicuous during the singing of the song on the previous evening. Miss Burnet went through the legal formalities as bravely as she could, and was still in trepidation when an Enquirer reporter sought her yesterday afternoon. She had been singng the same song, she explained, for five years, and had frequently made it a point to pick out a mark in the audience, but never before had any one complained of what was simply intended as a practical Rose is a young colored man, twenty-three years of age. He lives at 53 Car-lisle avenue, and works for the Wini-frede Coal company. He was still greatly worked up yesterday when he stated his case to an Enquirer reporter. It was not so much the money he wanted as a balm for his lacerated feelings. His position is very clearly stated in the following pecition, which he filed yesterday morning in the common pleas court:

Plaintiff says he is a colored citizen of Ohio and of the United Scates, and a peaceable and law-abiding citizen, and the defendant is a specialty song-and-dance performer and a member of the Hall and Bloodgood Specialty and Bur-lesque company: that on Sunday, the 20th day of March, 1887, he engaged and paid for a seat in the balcony of People's theater, to witness peacably and to joy a play or performance entitled "Oxy-gen," given therein; that during said per formance the defendant came on the stage and sang a certain song know as "A New Coon in Town," and during said song she frequently while singing the chorus, "A new coon in town," did point her finger at plaintiff and call the attention of the audience, frequently, with the purpose of humiliating, annoymg, vexing and harassing the plaintiff did point and call the attention of the audience to this plaintiff, thereby intending to state and show that he was "a new coon in town," whereas this plaintiff says that he is a citizen of Cincinnati and has been engaged here in business for many years, and the action of the defendant was malicious, and done with the intention of heaping ridicule upon him and make him a point of unnecessary ob-servation very much to his discomfort and annoyance and to his damage in

A Nevada ne wspaper says that a citizen recently saw two Piute Indians dig a hole in a snow bank, go into it, and wrap themselves in a single blanket, preparatory to a night's rest. In the morning he saw no signs of the Indians, but a mound of snow marked the spot where they went to bed. He was sure that they had frozen during the cold night and prepared to dig out the bodies, but the first thrust of the shovel brought the duess to their feet with grunts of disgust. Instead of being frozen they were moist with prespiration.
