MASS MEETING

The Tenth Avenue Project.

This move still seems to be attended with many obstacles, difficulties and complications. The old ordinance was obtained only after a prolonged struggle, and it was so amended that it was not satisfactory. The time within which it had to be accepted having passed, the old ordinance is now of no account. A new ordinance has been prepared, which it is believed will be satisfactory, and this is the one which Aldermen Keller, Hum-mer and Danforth have opposed. Many of the leading citizens, those having large property and business interests, and who are connected with some of the most im-are connected with some of the most im-portant enterprises recently started, are very anxious that this ordinance should be passed. Many citizens have expressed themselves with hot indignation at the course pursued by these three aldermen, and a petition was circulated yesterday asking for a mass meeting to consider the mat-ter. There is talk of asking the three ter. There is talk of asking the three aldermen to resign. In fact there is much hot talk, and many rash words uttered. The recent city election, by which Aldermen Wells, Metcalf and Lucy were Alectmen Wells, Metealf and Lucy were chosen, was a clear expression of this city's sentiments in favor of such enterprises as Tenth avenue, and the three new aldermen are stoutly in favor of the ordinance. In view of this recent expression of the people at the polls it is difficult to see how these three aldermen, whose terms expire next spring, can very well be in doubt as to the wishes of

The following is the substance of the new ordinance, which the citizens should carefully consider in connection with the assurances of so many leading citizens assurances of so many leading citizens that several important enterprises are dependent somewhat upon its passage:

New Oil Order. The state board of health, through Secretary Kennedy, has instructed State Oil Inspector Blanchard as follows: "In accordance with a recent expressed opinion of the attorney-general, it has been decided that so-called 'Signal Oil' be hereafter inspected for 'flash-test' only. You are therefore respectfully requested to so instruct your deputy inspectors." Signal oil is used almost exclusively by the railroads in their lanterns and elsewhere and is a higher grade than that in general use by the people. The oil is required to stand a test of over 105 degrees before flashing, while the oil in ordinary use flashes at not less than 100 degrees. It has been the custom of the inspector to require a burning test or about 300 degrees, which practically excludes it from use for illuminating purposes, but it is only now required to undergo a flash test of over 105 degrees, and usually does not flash under 120 to 130 degrees. The only 800 degree oil is that used for lighting roads in their lanterns and elsewhere and railroad coaches, and is a pure carbon oil distilled to the fourth degree, "Sig-nal" oil is 20 per cent lard oil and balance

Slick Thieves. Matt Scanlan awoke yesterday morning to find that he had been the loser by the sly prowlings of thieves who had entered his residence on Vine street, not more than a block from the police station. The fellows had gained admission by means of a window which had been left unfastened, and which they raised so quietly as not to arouse those sleeping in the house. Mr. Scanlan's pantaloons were found in the hallway, but his pocketbook had been ransacked. There were a number of notes and other yaluable papers in the pocketbook, but these were not taken, the thieves preferring cash, of which they secured $75. The police have no clue from which to work up the case, and there is therefore little chance of the thieves being captured, or the money re-Three Wonderful Pictures.

At the art store of W. W. Chapman will be found for a short time three character sketches from Dickens. The subjects are "Mrs. Gamp," "Mr. Pickwick," and "Little Dorrit." They are engravings from the sketches of the great Barnard, and were until recently part of a famous art collection of this country. Being imported and as the Edition in England is exhausted, they cannot be duplicated at any price. They are thrown on the market by accident and are to be sold for a mere tithe of their real value. Lovers of line art should not fail to take this oppor-tunity of enriching their collections by the purchase of one or more of these rare

Another Hearing. Constable Pierce was recently brought here from Des Moines to show cause why he should not be fined for contempt of court in the matter of the seizure of the liquors of Huribert & Hess. Judge Love ruled in his favor, and thought that the federal court could not enforce its writ of replevin while the state court had the matter in hand. Another hearing of the questions involved has been granted, and will be had at Dubuque, on the 14th, when other liquor cases are to come up. Judge Brewer and Judge Shiras will be there with Judge Love, and it has been deemed best to have the full bench pass upon the matter, Fatal Sport.

A son of James Flynn, a young man and prominent farmer of York township, met with a serious accident yesterday. He and some neighbors' boys were trying their strength throwing stedge hammers. One of them threw the sledge just as young Flynn stooped to pick up an-other sledge, it striking him, crushing the top of his skull. He was still alive at last report, but his life was despaired of by the physicians, none of them being of the opinion that there was any chance for his recovery.

Death of Joseph Probstle. Last evening about 7 o'clock Mr. Joseph Probstle died quite suddenly. He had been ill only since Sunday. He had resided here over twenty-five years, and was engaged in the harness business at No. 215 Broadway. He leaves two sons, Charles Probstle, who is with J. H. and J. S. Collins, and William Probstle, who is in Washington territory. The funeral will be held from Morgan's undertaking rooms, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Distribution of Shad. A recent bulletin of the United States sh commission states that the total distribution of shad fry for the season of 1886 amounted to 90,000,000. As the en-tire number of shad taken for the market is less than 6,000,000, it will be seen, that, for every shad taken from the waters that, for every shad taken fron the waters this season, there have been artificially hatched and returned to the waters fifteen young shad. Assuming that the entire cost of production and distribution has been $20,000, the young fish have been produced and distributed over the entire United States at a rate of about $215 a million, or about 46 fry for one cent. Another interesting fact to note is, that, for the entire time up to and including 1882, there were produced eluding 1882, there were produced 200,000,000 young shad; while for 1883 alone, the total was over 90,000,000.

This indicates that was over $0,000,000.

This indicates that we are certainly approaching a position where the work may be regarded as profitable from a commercial standpoint. It is a Curious Fact That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonder-ful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite and giving tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.
