C. W. Partridge will have a hearing before Justice Barnett to-day, on the charge of selling a sewing machine which he had bought on monthly payments and not settled for.

Judge Aylesworth is to-day to examine into a case in which one man is arrested for the larceny of a dog. It seems that dogs are plenty enough so that one need not steal one in order to get a supply.

A young lad giving his name as P. Worth was found in an alleyway about 3 D'clock yesterday morning and arrested as a vagrant. He claimed to belong in Des Moines. Council Bluffs will board him for ten days.

A move is on foot to stop the wholesale seming of the lakes. Fish are being dragged out by the hundred and soon there will be an end to sport if those in terested in having the fish law enforced do not work speedily.

Charlie Liepold has a new pattern stop watch. It is a little daisy, only measur-ing six inches in diameter and three in thickness. He has ordered a pocket built in his Sunday-go-to-meeting vest in which to carry his time piece.

Wilson, the colored boy recently par-doned from jail here, has gone to his sister in Kansas. He was rapidly de-elining in jail here, being consumptive, and he would probably have soon died had he been kept there longer. The free air may prolong his days.

The Council Bluffs wire nail works were sold yesterday to satisfy the claims of creditors. Omsha purchasers bought the machinery up, but whether to be the machinery up, but whether to be used there or started up here is not known. The troubles seem to have been caused by lack of capital and of experi-ence with those managing the enterprise here. In the right hands the enterprise can doubtless be made to pay well. The new stone front of Kimball & Champs building on Broadway, next to the First National bank, is rapidly ap-proaching completion. It is one of the handsomest fronts in the city. Testerday the east side of L. Cirscht & Co.'s building which adjoins it, was found to be set-tling in front, and timbers had to be hur-riedly put in place to prevent damage until more permanent stays could be put in place. The men who started the boom here and who are doing the most to keep it going are the most enthusiastic support-ers of the Tenth avenue project. The men who have been sitting around for years, praying that the city never did and never would amount to anything, are unite unanimous acclust it. There are a quite unanimous against it. There are a few live men, very few, who are not in favor of the project, but there does not seem to be one of the chronic croakers who is not against it. It seems quite likely now that even i the Tenth avenue ordinance is passed it will not be accepted. The investigation before the railway commissioners a year before the rail way commissioners a year ago resulted in forcing the Union Pacific to agree to run up the avenue and estab-lish a freight depot there, if given the right of way by the city. The city has fooled along for months, and has varied the terms of the original agreement so often that it is now probable that the company may object to accepting it at all at this late day. The responsibility of delaying several important projects, if not of killing them who strongly resist the Tenth avenue project. If Keller, Hammer and Dan-forth are honest in their opposition, they must certainly be quite contident in the correctness of their own Judgment. If they are right, there are a great many shrewd business men, who are most ter-ribly "off." It may be that the two have better judgment than others, but it has not been shown in other matters.

THE DAILY BEE. | WATCHING AND WAITING The Interest in the Federal Court at Dubuque. THE PREACHERS MUST PAY An Insane Hospital Patient Roams Over the City - The Lucas Farm

Sold and to Be Platted-Kissell Held For Grand Larceny.

An Important Deal. Yesterday another large and important sale was made through J. G. Tipton, by which the well known Lucas farm was purchased by Mr. Henry Paine and others. Mr. Paine is the state agent for the Continental insurance company, and is traveling about much of the time. He is familiar with the real estate markets of Minneapolis, St. Paul and other places, and he is enthusiastic in his expressions of the belief that in no place are there such chances for big paying investments as in Council Bluffs. In this purchase there are associated with him some other eastern men. The Lucas farm, as most know, is located on the Island Park lake. The intention of the purchasers is to make this one of the most desirable and attractive features of this as a summer resort. They have already ordered more trees to be set out, and will plat and im-prove as rapidly as possible The park commissioners have already purchased a number of acres to complete the drives and public accommodations. The lake can be made one of the most pleasant resorts in the west, and with a slight expenditure of money. It is proposed to stop the outlet, so far as to keep a larger body of water, and this can easily be done. The gentlemen who have made this purchase mean business, and the citizens will heartily approve all efforts of the park commissioners to make the lake a desir-able resort. Mr. Tipton has been mak-ing several large deals of late, but this is

Watching For Wednesday.

The prohibition cases here seem to be hanging on the decision to be given at Dubuque to-morrow, where Judges Shiras, Love and Brewer, of the federal court, will pass upon the questions presented to them. If they decide that the cases involve federal questions, the cases will be allowed to go the weary rounds of the United States courts. This will take time, and it is predicted that the saloons will be allowed to run until such federal questions can be decided. Saloons which have been enjoined are remaining quiet, waiting for this decision. If it should be adverse to them, they will soon be cleared of their fur-niture, and transferred into other places of business, or vacated entirely. Some of the enjoined places are open, and lemonade, cigars, etc, are being sold. If the decision is at all favorable to their running regular saloons they will start up with all all kinds of drinks. Otherwise they will be shut up entirely. The saloon men say it does not pay to sell temperance drinks and cigars, while there is no lingering hope that the three federal judges may give a ruling favor-able to their cases, the saloon men them-

Bound Over With a Lasso.

Yesterday Fred Kissel had a hearing before Justice Schurz on the charge of larceny. Kissel seems to have a strong liking for saddles and bridles, and once before was charged with larceny of such articles. This time he is said to have stolen a lasso which young Owen brought with him from the west. The value of all the property taken was found to be $45, and Kissell was bound over to appear before the grand jury, bail being fixed at $400. In default of bondsmen he went to the county jail.

An Impatient Patient.

One of the patients at the Cottage hospital, a man suffering greatly with neuralgia, has become temporarily crazed. Yesterday morning he escaped from the hospital, and only partially dressed, made a run for the bluffs. After skipping through Fairmount park he went among the glens north of the city, where he was found by the police, who took him to the county jail. He will be kept there until he becomes a little more quiet.

St. Paul's Election. The annual meeting of St. Paul's parish was held last evening and the following gentlemen were selected as vestrymen for the ensuing year: D. C. Bloomer, Horace Everett, John T. Stewart, M. Duquet, E. H. Odell, Richard Green, Thomas Bowman, John N. Baldwin, W. J. Hancock, A. T. Rice and J. Y. Fuiler. Y. M. C. A. Election. The annual election of officers and directors of the Y. M. C. A. occurred last night. The following were elected: N. P. Dodge, president; J. N. Brown, first vice president; E. D. Stacy, second vice president; Will Officer, recording secre-tary; A. B. This is why the smell and taste of these pungent substances are so much alike, as everybody must have noticed, a good sniff at a mustard pot producing almost the same irritating effects as the incautious mouthful. When one is trying deliberate experiments on the subject, in order to test the varying sensitiveness of the dif-ferent parts of different substances, it is terent parts of different substances, it is necessary to keep the tongue quite dry in order to isolate the thing you are ex-perimenting with and prevent its spread-ing to all parts of the mouth together. In actual practice this result is obtained in rather a ludicrons manner—by blowing upon the tongue between each experiment with a pair of bellows. ## The Colts.

Rochester Democrat: Cadwell Colt, who started on the ocean race with the Dauntless, is the richest young man of his age in Connecticut, and with but one exception in all New England. He is the son of Samuel Colt, who made $2,000,000 in the manufacture of arms, I well remember Sam Colt as he was then com-monly called, and who at that time was a struggling adventurer. He had invented a torpedo and blown up a small vessel off the Battery, but it attracted but little attention. He also had the model of an improved pistol, but in this war not consid-ered of much value. He was very poor and could hardly pay board bills but in a few years afterward he was a millionaire. There were at that time two young Colts in this city, and both were wild. In addition to Sam there was his brother John, who taught bookkeeping. He had roved through the South, and he then and was the most harmonious one for a month past. The Tenth avenue ordinance was conspicuous by its absence, as it has been a regular attendant at almost every session of that body for seven months past. It is understood that it will again make its appearance at the next meeting, which is to be held to-morrow night, and that on this occasion will not be so obnoxious to certain members as heretofore. The resolution granting exemp-tion of taxes to the new foundry on Tenth avenue was recinded for the reason that under the ordinance they are compelled by affidavit to state that it is their intention to establish a manufacturing enterprise and that $15,000 will be or has been invested in the same, which affidavit must be filed with the clerk. The clerk was directed to notify the proprietors to comply with the ordinance, in which case the resolu-tion will no doubt be passed without a dissenting vote. Alderman Keller stated that he had re-ceived a telegram from Mr. McCollough, president of the company which has put in the new fire and police alarms, stating that his wife is sick, which will cause a delay in in the testing of the system, but as soon as possible will be here. Alderman Wells moved that when the

Lively Sales.

Mr. J. G. Tipton is getting to be an important factor in real estate circles. Yesterday he closed up several impor-tant deals. He sold to one combination of eastern parties yesterday property here to the amount of $13,000, the papers of which will soon be placed on the pub-lic record. Besides the sale of the Lucas farm, fronting on Island Park lake, as stated elsewhere, he yesterday sold to Lewis Paine, of Barnsville, Ohio, a house and lot in Mchanon, Cooper & Jefferis' important factor in real estate circles.

No Taste in the Tip of the Tongue. Boston Journal of Commerce: Strictly speaking, with the tip of the tongue one can't really taste at all. If you put a small drop of honey or oil of bitter almonds on that part of the mouth you will find, no doubt to your surprise, that it produces no effect of any sort; you only taste it when it begins slowly to diffuse itself, and reaches the true tasting region in the middle distance. But if you put a little cayenne pepper or mustard on the the same part you will find that it bites you immediately—the experiment should Origin of "The Old Folks-at Home." Augusta Chronicle: Once over the bar at its entrance from the guif the Suwanee river holds its way with a deep current; in places of forty feet, far up through the forests of the best hard pine in the state. It is the Penobscot of Florida. It has some good land upon it where plantations have heretofore been made, but after a while generally abandoned. The dark river has, too, its romance as being the river has, too, its romance as being the place which gave rise to a melody which, like "Home, Sweet Home," the affection of the heart will never let go. For it was here that a French family in the time of Louis XIV, came over and settled upon the Suwanee and made a plantation. After a while the father and mother and all did areas one displayed in the size all died save one daughter, who, dis-heartened and desolate, returned to France, and there wrote, adopting in part that negro dialect which she had been familiar with on the plantation in her girlhood, a feeling tribute to "the old folks at home" in their graves in the faroff country.

It was stated in evidence that on the night of January 21, after the complain-ant had retired to rest the defendant came to her room, dragged the bed-clothes from her face and kissed her twice. She threatened to alarm the household if he did not leave the room at once. He left, but the tollowing day at once. He left, but the following day he twice attempted to kiss her again in the school room. For the defense it was urged that the case was entirely trumped up. Notice of appeal was given.
