MISS KATE BENSBERG,

The Inter-State Commerce Law, St. Louis Republican: Perhaps there s no class of people who will be benefited by the inter-state commerce law to a greater degree than theatre-goers. The even and symmetrical fare, without dis-crimination of any kind, will keep the barn-stormers at home, and give first-class attractions the right of way. When dickers could be made with railroad agents, and so-called troupes transported at a nominal rate or on a contingent fee, the public were the sufferers. Now, however the cutrate business is gone, and as a result we may confidently hope that wild cat theatrical troupes will begin to dis-appear from their usual haunts. Only good combinations can afford to pay full rates, and as the law calls for a uniform, rate for all, the theatrical frauds will be apt to keep off the railroads. A long suffering public will hall the deliverance. Both the pockets of the people and the nerves of the people will be the gainers, and there is good reason to expect a revival of the excellent old stock-company system, to which we owe all the good that America has produced in the way of stage art.

before the Great Chicago Bargain Shoe store, 1318 Douglas street, attracted by the handsome display of foot wear. Inside the scene was a busy one. The store was literally piled full of goods, and the busy throng were elbowing their way impatient to be waited on. This is no ordinary shoe store. The person who will take a few minutes to investigate will find the fullest stock and the greatest variety in the city. They carry a stock of the following makes: Ludlows, P. Cox, Levi & Katzman, Sawler, Lewin & Co., Sulilvan, Mead & Bush, N. F. Smith, and numerous others. This store has earned its name of Chicago Bargain Shoe Store by the very low prices which they are making. The proprietors of this store have numerous other stores, and to supply all of them keep an ex-perienced buyer in the market all the time. Frequently manufacturers, in order to raise money, will sell a large lot of goods at a great sacrifice. These op-portunities are always improved by their buyer. The Chicago Bargain Shoe Store generously divides these large profits with its customers. The ladies will find at this store the greatest variety, finest quality and latest styled shoes and slippers in the west, for themselves and children. This store is enjoying a mam-moth trade. Woods' Great Offer.

A great offer in Omaha is getting to be a chestnut, and the phrase "gilt edged addition" falls with a "dull thud" on the ear. But a really cheap lot in a good part of Omaha is as truly a bargain as granulated sugar at 20 pounds to the $1. Just such a bargain is offered you in Riverside addition. Nearer than Bed-ford or Walnut Hill, right at the door of ford or Walnut Hill, right at the door of manmoth industries employing hundreds of hands, has broad streets, is level and sightly. These lots sell until May first for the nominal price of $125 per lot, $30 down and $10 per month. Just think of this as an opportunity to secure a nice cheap home. The sale of this property is phenomenal, 20 lots were sold in less than two hours. Call on Woods 1406-8 Cap. avc., who will show you the prop-erty free. This is surely a rare chance.

Remember that lots in Selinaville are $200 cheaper than any other surround-ing property. Loygren & Daizeit sole agents, 115 N. 16th St.

A Strange Coincidence.

Six of Omaha's enterprising young business men happened to meet at the same table at the St. Cloud Saturday. same table at the St. Cloud Saturday. One said, I have bought me a lot for a home on Harney st. in Briggs' Place. Another said, I am delighted, you will have me for a neighbor; I bought one in Briggs' on Farnam st. Another spoke up and said three of a kind is good; I will be with you, only I selected mine on Douglas street in the same addition. By Love said the fourth, will wonders never Jove, said the fourth, will wonders never cease; I'll be a neighbor to all of you. I cease; I il be a heighbor to all of you. I got on Dodge st, so if you all go back on me, I will be near the Home for the Friendless. By this time the table was in an uproar of laughter. THE LAW'S VEXATIONS.

MISS fort ter, MR. Lou MR. Strf SIG. fort Questions Now Affecting School Board, Teachers and Su-The p perintendent. As has already been stated in the BEE.

there is a division of sentiment as to when, And under the school law recently enacted, the present board of education goes out of exist-Prie can r Music Conce form ence. This uncertainty, it is feared, must be settled in the courts. As a consequence of this state of affairs many of the teachers are greatly disturbed with regard to the permanency of their situations. Those of them Bo who have not interested friends upon the board of education are compelled to see the TUI members in order to make sure of re-election. This, they claim, in ordinary cases, is work which causes both effort and anxiety. Yet, the uncertainty above Th referred to, makes some of the ladies feel that th is work may have to be done a second time. Suppose, they reason, the old board elect the teachers for next year, will the new board, or that under the new law, reject those 40 board, or that under the new law, reject those elected and elect teachers for itself. Some of the members of the board claim that, as they have heretofore, elected in June, teach-ers for the following school year, they may still elect them before returning, even in yiew of the coming of the new board. Other members of the present organization, how-ever, claim that the election should be left to the board contemplated by the new law. Just Und Prese the n the n Our

the board contemplated by the new law Just how the matter will be settled cannot now be determined. Under the new law which goes into effect on the first Tuesday in July, the board of education is authorized to hold two regular meetings, namely, on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. At one of these regular meet-ings in July, the superintendent is to be elected. The first of these meetings, how-ever, under the most liberal construction of the law, will be held by the old board, and the second by the new one. This will con-line the time for selecting the officer in ques-tion, to but one night. If he should not then be elected, the question suggests liself: When can he be elected? This may lead to a difficulty which can now scarcely be appreciated. Added to this is the fact that Mr. James' term expires on the Sth of next March. If there should be a question of that rentleman's succession, the board would ind itself in a difficulty which would require some oatside assistance to remove. Three months were spect in looking for a superintendent, when Mr. James was at length secured. Limiting the time of selecting a superintendent is consid-ered by some of the members to have been a wilful act on the part of some legislator or other individual. The original bifl provided for the selection of the superintendent is board so that the election might take place at "any regular meeting." When the biff was passed, however, it was found to read, "at any regular meeting in July." "These are a few of the difficulties which must be overcome in a short time by the members of the present school board. the board contemplated by the new law. Stock Yard Improvements.

Mr. O. H. Dorrance, for some days, has been engaged in designing plans for more tracks and switches at the stock yards, for the accommodation of the increasing business at that place. The tracks and switches are to he the property of the stock yards company, and it is thought will eventually lead to the organization of a transit company, the proceeds of which will go to the owners of the yards. It is now suggested that Mr. Doryards. It is now suggested that Mr. Dor-rance will be placed in the management of the enterprise, which will probably be done when Messrs. Paxton and MeShane, who are out of town, shall return. The stock yards are running a second and third survey from their grounds to the Missouri for the pur-pose of ascertaining the most feasible line for a sewer to drain their yards. The short-est line at present is apout 2,000 feet, and this pierces some of the intervening bluffs.
