REPUBLICAN WARD MEETINGS.

The Central Committee Appoints Offi cers For Friday's Primaries-The Ninth Ward Declares For Kierstead For Council.

Republican Committee Meeting.

The Omaha republican central committee met in Judge Stenberg's office in the city hall at 7:49 o'clock last evening. Chairman Gray took the chair. Thirteen members were present when the roll was called and in about fifteen minutes two more came in, so that there was a representation of fifteen out of eighteen.

The chairman stated that the occasion of the meeting was to act in accordance with the law relating to primary elections passed by the recent legislature. As the act was passed with an emergency clause it becomes of effect at once and the republicans therefore were entitled to take advantage of the safeguards which it provides for in nominating meetings.

One of the committee stated that it had been his observation that the previous meeting had been conducted as much by outsiders as it was by members of the committee, and he therefore moved that all gentlemen who were not representatives from the various wards should step outside the railing. The motion pre-

Tue law regulating primaries, as published in the BEE, was substantially read by the chairman, and, in accordance with its p ovisions, a motion to change the time of holding the primaries from 5 to 7 o'clock on Fr day afternoon to 12 to o'clock was carried

Mr. Redman moved that each judge and clerk of election should be compen-sated for his services on the day of hold-'ing the primaries to the extent of 21 Amendment to make it $1.50 was lost, as was the original motion, but subsequently a motion to pay each $2 was a Failure. A German named Gercke was in police court vesterday as complainant against Edward and Thomas Gladden, whom he charged with having assaulted himself and his son with bricks, and also beating and kicking him. The trouble arose from a little ball playing the defendants were engaged in. Gercke lives near the defendants and has a strawberry patch. It has been the custom of the Gladdens to play ball over the fence and when the sphere would get into his strawberry beds, he claims the Gladdens would folow it and tramp down his vines. On Sunday while the Gladdens were playing the ball flew into the berry patch. Gercke was there and threw the ball into an adjoining yard. One of the Gladdens thereupon assaulted him. He and his son attempted to defend themselves, but were struck by bricks and otherwise As a part of their defense the Gladdens, one of whom is an architect, pro-duced in court an elaborate drawing in colors, which purported to be an instantaneous photographic representation of the scene. The elder Gercke is shown to be armed with a blood-red knife and a brick, and the boy is depicted as a bloodthirsty monster armed with a brick and an ax. The ax is also blood-red.

The testimony did not bear out the picture. It was shown that neither of the Gerckes had a knife or ax, and that instead of Gladden being a terror-stricken individual, as he is pictured, he was decidedly the assailant. Both Gladdens were fined $10.

The Council.

The Salvation army had a sweet revenge upon the city council last night for a certain resolution recently adopted by that body prohibiting the army from parading the streets. Immediately upon the opening of the council meeting last night the Salvationists inaugurated a system of congregational singing in the adjoining room that made it almost impossible for the council to proceed with business. Mr. Ford offered a motion instructing the sargeant at arms to order the army to refrain from singing during the meeting of the council. Officer Turnbull, who was acting in that capacity, reported that he had requested the Salyationists to make as little noise as possible during the meeting of the coun cil but that they had paid no attention to the request. > AMUSEMENTS. THE MINSTRELS.

If there is one species of entertainment about which Omaha people are unanimous it is a minstrel performance. There was an uncomfortable crowd at the opera house last night to see the Thatcher, Primrose & West combination. Every seat in the house was sold long before the doors opened, and the result was that every inch of space was utilized from parquette to gallery, and even the boxes were sold. The performance was up to the highest standard of minstrelsy. The singing was melodious, the jokes mostly funny, and the specialties particularly fine. The burlesque on the National opera company was rather thin, but the average spectator was pleased with the entire bill.

PEOPLE'S THEATER. Howorth's Hibernica, in spite of the strong opposition, succeeded in filling this theater again last night. The audience was well pleased as they attested by frequent applause. The panorama of views of different places of interest in Ireland is alone worth the price of admission, they are realistic and true to nature and the effects of moonlight, lightning, etc., are very nicely worked. The specialty company is good, the dancing being a special feature, while the comedy of The Two Dans causes unlimited laughter. All who have not attended the performance of this talented company can pass a pleasant and entertaining evening any night this week at the People's.
